Winter Here!

At last we have some snow and we can put on our goloshes and step out in winter togs. For the past two weeks we've been wishing goloshes were in season, but not until the snow came did we make sure those same goloshes were leak-proof and ready for the snow that covered our lawns on Saturday. Our surroundings look cleaner with snow on the ground but whether it lasts or not we can step out with goloshes and fur coats, as of now. So bundle up your family and see if for one winter they can all be free of colds. It's the early start that really pays off in good health.

Sandman Out!

The sander made its first trip on Saturday morning for the snow was almost as slippery as ice. The last sleet storm that covered the roads the ice was left for the motorists to slip and slide on. One chap nearly lifted a hydrant off its base coming around a corner, and others were sliding into curbs which is none too good for a car. But now we won't have to worry when the sanders are able to keep our streets in walking condition.

Only Squirrels Left

The birds that were around have disappeared and even crumbs won't bring them back. The squirrel are still hopping around and the snow gave them a chance to hide their food under it for future meals. It is surprising how they can hide them and keep track of where they put them. With fur coats they don't mind our winters and stick around if the food is plentiful.

No Dim Bulbs

One thing about the fresh snow at this time of year is that it is lighter when people are going home from work. The white snow does wonders but we could also use more and better lights. Then there is the other side . . . it gets darker early and many have to walk in the dark all winter long. So, let's have better lights — lights are low and do some good Those dark corners need a little Christmas decorating with lights that really shed some light.

1955 OSCARS

Grace Kelly and James Stewart have been named the leading actress and actor of 1955 . . . in box office drawing power.

The annual poll of film exhibitors of the United States and Canada, selected "Mister Roberts" as the leading motion picture of the year. The exhibitors also selected "A Man Called Peter" as the best family picture, and "Country Girl", a picture with the best acting.

Household Hint

Meat loaf is less likely to stick to the bottom of the baking pan if you first lay strips of bacon in the pan. The bacon adds flavor, too.

Pretty Lindsay Bride

A lovely late fall wedding performed in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church saw pretty Dorothy Margaret McFadden of Lindsay united in marriage to Joseph Edward Bellush of New Jersey. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McFadden, 50 Sussex St. N., Lindsay, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Bellush, Whippany, N. J.

St Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay, was the scene of a lovely wedding at 2:30 p.m on Saturday, December 3rd., 1955, when Dorothy Margaret McFadden 50 Sussex St. W., Lindsay, became the bride of Joseph Edward Bellush, Whippany, New Jersey.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horatio McFadden, Lindsay, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Bellush, Whippany, New Jersey.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald McQueen, Mr. Robert Cutt played the wedding music and Mr. William Perry as soloist sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because".

Her jewellery was a single strand of pearls and she carried a cascade of white chrysanthemums and fern

Mrs. John Chambers was matron-of-honour and the bridesmaids were Miss Janet McFadden, sister of the bride, and Miss Lorna Pinkham, cousin of the bride. The attendants wore gowns of chromespun taffeta in similar style, fashioned alike on princess lines, the matron-of-honour, Peacock red, and the bridesmaids, teal blue. They wore crescent-shaped hats of the same material as their gowns, trimmed with veiling and carried cascades of yellow chrysanthemums.

The best man man was Mr. John Bellush and the ushers were Messrs. Richard Bellush and John McFadden.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Room. The bride's mother received wearing a gown of Royal blue lace, with corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted gowned

Camb. St. United Bazaar and Tea Lovely Social Event

In spite of the inclement weather a large crowd attended the annual tea and bazaar held in Cambridge St. United Church. Dr. Neal opened the Bazaar at 2:30 with words of welcome.

Receiving at the door were Mrs. H. B. Neal, Mrs. C. E Wright, Mrs. G. Simpson and Mrs. T. Jackson. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. W. Deyell, Mrs. C. Golden and Mrs. F. L. Weldon.

The tea room was beautifully decorated under the skilful management of Mrs. H. J. Williamson in Christmas accent from the lighted Christmas tree on the platform and the sprays of greenery and large cones to prettily decorated tea tables with snowy linen and various Christmas ornaments.

The centre table with beautiful lace cloth and most decorative centerpiece, the crystal candlesticks and lighted tapers added greatly to the attraction of the table with silver tea service. The delectable sandwiches and many dainty cakes made a truly delightful tea room. Pouring tea were Mrs. C. G. Frost, Mrs. A. W. Carew, Mrs. S. A. Flavelle and Miss E. Fallis. A group of ladies served tea to the many guests who came to enjoy this annual event.

The booths laden with many and varied articles for sale, included aprons, fancywork, knitted goods, also quilt. The talent table with its multitude of articles and the country store were all well-patronized and many purchases made.

The home bake table always a popular spot was a complete sell out. The table of attractive and cute articles made and displayed by the Junior W. A. did a thriving business as did the C.G.I.T. booth where a number of these young girls presided.

A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. McKinley, co-conveners and their staff of willing workers in the success of this years annual bazaar.

Protests Account, Reduced By $60

Town Clerk W. A. Allely was instructed by Lindsay's Council on Tuesday to investigate and see if all town vehicles are covered by insurance whenever they are operating outside the town limits.

This was urged by a report from the Board of Works "advisory committee" which told of a complaint received from Mr. E. N. Gregory who had employed the town grader at the transmitter site of his radio station for 30 hours, for which he was billed at the rate of $12 per hour.

It was pointed out that the work was done on a holiday weekend and the operator had to be paid time-and-a-half, tire trouble had developed, and the grader was not insured when operating outside of town.

The report said that Mr. Gregory's account had been adjusted to $10. per hour, which amounted to $300. It was stated that the cost of grading would have been much less had the county grader been used in this case.

Speaks At Contest On Saskatchewan And Alberta

Glenarm (PNS) —Speaking at an Oratorial Competition Linda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown, and a pupil of Miss Della Watson teacher at Glenarm School chose as her topic The Land of Eternal Change or Saskatchewan and Alberta's 50th Birthday and received high standing in her class.

Speaking on the highlights of this wonderful anniversary "these two provinces have changed much more in the last 50 years than our own province of Ontario. While our province was being populated only Indians and buffalo roamed the western prairies but the early explorers continued to bring back word of the unlimited possibilities of the west and the cry of "Go West Young Man, Go West," began.

"The first wave of settlers came in 1870 following the Riel Rebellion, then came settlers from every part of Europe. Some were drawn by fear, some by faith, some by ambition and some by greed. The one statement that can be applied to all of them and to all their descendants is that they have seen a very great amount of history in a very short time."

Some men who trembled or rejoiced at the hanging of Louis Riel were still alive this summer to tremble or rejoice at the fabously rich Gunner Uranium mine. Homsteaders whose first saleable crop was whitened buffalo bones, are now living in retirement on their oil royalties. Taxpayers who a half century ago had no real voice in their own government have lived to shake the country's whloe political structure. Half dirt farmers who had once no choice but to sell their wheat for as little as the grain dealer cared to offer and to buy their groceries and fuel at the price the retailers asked are to-day owners of a huge co-operative of elevators, stores and factories, even oil wells and refinery.

"From the start the story of the two provinces that were carved out of the Northwest Territories 50 years ago has been a story of the unexpected and unknown. It must remain so for at least another 50 years. Along with the settlement of the west comes the gopher. For more than 50 years westerners have been trying to control this crop eating rodent. They have chased him with dogs, clubs, and rocks and have tried to snare them, suffocate them with gas, but this one merely goes along whistling and raising 6 to 9 children every year and it looks as if they'll never get rid of hte gopher. The gopher belongs to the prairie and as long as he doesn't take over completely westerners will eagerly watch for his first appearance in the spring.

"The one thing that we easterners 'associate in is the Calgary Stampede. Here year after year thousands of people gather to watch or take part in one of the greatest shows on earth. To the people of Calgary and district the Stampede is more than a week's entertainment. It is part of their every day lives, a thing they have lived with and helped build all year, last link with their vanishing frontier tradition. Hotel reservations start pouring in a year in advance. After a week of entertainment, the Indians fold their tepees, rodeo riders catch their trains—welcome signs come down off the street, the drug store cowboys climb back into their business suits and fedoras. Calgary 's left with the end of all good acts."

"The west has offered much in the past, it still has many natural resources as yet untouched which remain for the future generations. May their next 50 years be as revealing as their last."

SHORT SHORT STORY

Dream of Youth

By JOHN ROWLEY

THEY were sitting on a bench in the park, the man and the woman, and the sun, shining through the pattern of leaves and branches above them, formed a network of light and shadows almost like some gossamer fairy lace.

The woman was about thirty-three or four, blonde with dimples, and a wide, good humored mouth. The man, who was about the same age, dark with good features and graying hair, leaned towards her.

"Do you remember, Jean, the first time we kissed?" he asked tenderly.

The girl laughed a little and there was a faint haze back of her eyes. "How could I forget," she said. "We were so young . . . and shy! I didn't know what I would say if you asked me . . . and I was on pins and needles for fear you wouldn't. They were good days, George. Happy days."

3-Minute Fiction

George reached over and patted her hand. "They were," he said. "They were wonderful days and I was so much in love with you. . . . It spoiled my appetite! To me you were the most beautiful thing ever come down to earth." He laughed, his voice deep and resonant. "And you're still pretty nice!" They were silent for a moment, each thinking the thoughts that these memories brought up. Finally the man laughed again. "Do you remember our last high school dance?"

The man, lost in thought, gazed out over the green expanse of the park. Far off he could see tall buildings rising out of a sea of billowy green, but he wasn't seeing any of that. Instead he was seeing a tall, old fashioned building in a small town a long way from the city.

"Well, goodby, Jean," he said.

There was a blare of music coming from the building . . . dance music, a number popular at the time. He saw couples getting out of cars and some arriving on foot. Inside, the huge door of what was the gymnasium swelled and heaved with couples packed close together.

He remembered the laughter and the music and something came into his throat and he wanted to cry. The woman sensed it too and she put a slender, graceful hand on his arm.

"Do you remember that dance. . . . our graduation dance? I can see you now. You had on a light blue evening gown that came all the way to the floor and you wore a corsage of some kind of white flowers. The light in your hair made it look all gold and you were the most beautiful creature in the world."

She laughed, entering into the spirit of the thing. "And Mr. Weeks, the assistant principal, asked me to dance and I let him have one dance . . . after all, he was the assistant principal."

"AND after the dance," he went on. "The rest of the crowd went down to eat, but you and I went to the little lunch counter around the corner and had some coffee and afterwards we walked home. It was exactly three blocks away. . . . I think I can remember every step . . . every depression in the sidewalk. And when we got to your house we stood on the steps a long time, not saying anything, just looking at the night . . . and everything was golden around us."

He paused for a moment, staring straight ahead. "And then you said you had to go in . . . and you kissed me. . . ." He laughed again and turned to look at the woman beside him. "I floated home on a cloud that night!"

She smiled and they sat there, silent, for a time, contemplating the memories they had conjured up out of the past.

At last they got up and the man looked at the woman beside him and smiled.

"Well, goodby, Jean," he said. "It was wonderful seeing you again, but I'll have to be running along now. I'm supposed to meet my wife in front of the Metropolitan in about 10 minutes."

She looked at her watch and gasped. "Me, too," she exclaimed. "Why, it's almost five o'clock and I haven't finished my shopping yet. I'm afraid my husband's supper will be late tonight. Good-by!"

They hurried off across the park . . . in opposite directions!

"... blinding snow kept him from seeing the little girl until she darted across the intersection."

[illegible] BY E. SNOOK

The By-line

BY BEN TOWNSEND

BUDGE, the old city [illegible] would put up with a lot from a green reporter and still keep him on the payroll. One thing he wouldn't stand for though. That was for one of his writers to get emotional over a story.

Several years back I covered a [illegible] story I've never gotten out of my mind. It was about that Johnson fellow, the guy who, on his honeymoon, murdered his wife in their hotel room. Sticking the gun in his coat pocket he calmly walked out of the room, pausing long enough to hang a small sign on the door knob. The sign read, "Sleeping. Please do not disturb."

Budge said he'd have liked to meet that chap. "He's the kind of fellow that makes a good newspaperman. That's the way you gotta be to go to the top in this business. Cold-hearted."

And I always thought Budge was as cold-hearted as any of them until that afternoon the reporter, yelling so as to be heard above the clack-clack clacking of the teletype machines said, "Take line three, Cork's got something on an accident."

The lanky fellow at the re-write desk rubbed a cigaret out with his foot and scooted his chair closer to the desk. He picked up the phone and spoke softly, "Hello, this you, Cork? Go ahead, spill the details." He scribbled a few notes on a sheet of copy paper, then asked, "What was that name again? Oh!"

He continued to take notes for a few minutes and then told the man at the other end of the line to phone in any new details later. Placing the phone in its cradle he lit another smoke.

He rolled a sheet of copy paper under the Underwood's platen. Blue cigaret smoke curled beneath his nose and he stared at the blank sheet of paper in the machine. His hands rested flat on the keyboard, their slim, skinny fingers toying nervously with the keys. Locking his feet around the chair's legs he scooted to a more comfortable position. His fingers hit the keys. The carriage jerked along. The lead began appearing on the paper.

"Elizabeth Ann Woodsawyer was her real name, but at Garfield grade school, where she was a pupil in the third grade, everyone called her 'Tish'. She was a popular student and tonight was to be the biggest thrill of her life.

"Tish, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Woodsawyer, 2201 Washington, was to play the lead role in 'The Waif,' the school's annual operetta.

"But the operetta has been cancelled, Superintendent J. W. Armstrong announced. 'Tish' died in Hill Memorial hospital at 1:12 o'clock this afternoon, twenty minutes after being struck by a car at Washington and Thirty-eighth street."

The re-write man ripped the copy from the platen with such force that the roller spun even after the paper was removed. He called to the copy boy and turning in his chair he shouted to Budge, "I'll hurry it up—just a few more paragraphs will finish the story up."

He ran his fingers through his black wavy hair, closed his eyes. In his mind he saw the copy he had just written and little beads of perspiration popped out on his forehead. Once more the typewriter keys hammered against the ribbon. The new paragraph began:

"E. George Thompson, 1842 Crawford, driver of the death car, told police that blinding snow prevented him from seeing the little girl until the car hit her as she darted across the intersection to join some little friends.

"Mr. Thompson told officers he rushed to the girl as soon as he stopped the car. He said 'Tish's' tiny hands gripped a package that was tied neatly with a bright red ribbon."

He yanked the paragraphs from the typewriter. The copy boy took them and walked away. The re-write man again faced the Underwood. It clattered loudly as he pounded the keys furiously to make the deadline now just a few minutes away.

"Patrolman Dave Timberton, an investigating officer, said the package contained a cigaret lighter and a birthday card. Across the card, in her child-like scrawl, 'Tish' had written, 'To My Daddy.'

"R. H. Kippenberger, proprietor of the Kippenberger Drug store, 3009 Washington, said she bought the gift in his store a few minutes prior to the accident.

"'She paid for the gift with 349 pennies. She told me,' the druggist said, 'that she had been saving the pennies out of her lunch money for several weeks.'

"The body is at the Martin funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made."

The re-write man got up from his desk and took the last page of the story to the city editor. He walked slowly back to his desk and bent over it. His fingers pressed into the back of his neck and his body shook with sobs.

Budge pulled the green eye-shade down over his forehead so I couldn't see his eyes. But he gave himself away when a tear fell onto the by-line he was writing across the top of the story. It made a wet spot on the by-line of Otis Woodsawyer.

EXPENSES ARE KEPT TO 5%

The Community Chest Campaign held in Lindsay this year was reported as being successful with the total costs amounting to only 5.07% of the $12,900 which was donated by people of the district. The report was given by campaign manager Reg. Cozens at the executive meeting held in the L. C. I. on Monday evening. Mr. Leslie E. Houck was chairman and he introduced the manager of the campaign.

THE REPORT

The Interim Report of the Lindsay Community Chest submitted last night, showed that from 2,291 contributions including pledges, the sum realized was approximately $12,900.00. The total campaign expenses to date were $659.63 or 5.07% of $13,000. These expenses included:

STATIONERY: The purchase of 5,000 record cards, 3,000 window envelopes, 1,500 permanent record cards, stencils, rubber bands, etc., worth $120.85;

ADVERTISING: Display cards, stickers, feathers, cartage signs, telegram, express, reflector tape, halftone and photograph, Warden advertising, Post advertising, $281.21;

CLERICAL WORK of Misses Ferguson and Taylor, postage and telephone $256.57.

The report was headed by the remarks that additional contributions and expenses between this date and that of the Annual Meeting will not likely be of very significant value.

Changes of policy adopted this year were (1). Use of Hydro Addressograph plates, which gave about 3,000 domestic and business names. Considerable typing time was saved by this method. Clerical work could be further facilitated if these cards were used by firms sponsoring payroll deduction plan.

(2) A new card was designed with all printing on front of same. The space for individual allocations was used only sparingly, for about 6% of total received. Thus Red Cross with 32 individual allocations was in amount of $146.50; V.O.N. with 35—$90.50; Salvation Army with 94—$242.50; Navy League, with 8 —$20.00; C.N.I.B., 44—$149.00; St. John Ambulance, with 12—$25.00; Recreation Centre with 18—$45.00, making a total of $718.50.

(3) Window type postage prepaid envelopes were adopted.

(4) There was no "Special Names" Committee.

Upon the conclusion of the report the chairman expressed the view that the work of the Chest was excellent this year and in view of the figures given, well over $13,000. will be realized when all contributions are in. It was duly moved that Mr. Cozen's report be accepted.

It was also moved and decided that $200. not requested at the May meeting shall be donated to the Women's Auxiliary of the Ross Memorial Hospital. Also it was duly moved that $50 be given to the Santa Claus Stocking Fund.

It was suggested that various organizations that haven't appeared before the executive should be advised to do so if they wish allocations to be made them.

Mr. J. G. Baldwin, Treasurer then gave his report which coincided with that of Mr. Cozens.

Rev. McQueen moved an expression of thanks to all who helped in the campaign. This was carried and the meeting adjourned.

4 Fingers Lost Levelling Saw

Haliburton (PNS) —While working with a buzz saw at his home Mr. Lee Roberts had the misfortune to lose four of his fingerns and possibly may have to sacrifice a fifth.

The table of the saw was slanting and Mr. Roberts took a crowbar to straighten it when it slipped throwing Mr. Roberts hands into the saw.

He was attended to at the Red Cross Hospital, one finger was badly mutilated and skin from the injured man's arm had to be grafted on the finger. Two fingers on each hand could not be saved. Mr. Roberts suffered from shock and a great deal of pain.

Mr. Roberts has been employed at the Haliburton Development and was to have returned to work in a few days, after alay-off. He had the saw for sometime and had experience in operating it.

Only 24.1% Of Electors Bothered To Cast Ballots; Count Over In 40 Minutes

Only 24.1 per cent of Lindsay's 5,492 voters turned out at the polls on Monday to cast their votes for the members of the 1956 Council. Of the seven men on the ballot, the man whom the voters decided should be unsuccessful was Mr. Harry Peirce. Exactly 40 minutes after the polls officially closed, all the ballots were tabulated, the votes counted and the show was over for another year.

An observer of the election declared that it is doubtful if there would have even been a 24.1 per cent vote if many of the candidates hadn't provided transportation to the polls.

The man who polled the greatest number of votes was Bruce C. Maidens with 897 votes. He was followed closely by the man who forced the election at the last minute on qualification night, W. S. W. Breese with 894 votes. Others elected were, in order, Jos C. Holtom, 865 Wm. McCrae, 813; Russell G. Lamb, 764; and Lloyd Found, 724; Mr. Peirce polled 666 votes.

Returning Officer W. R. Allely stated that to his knowledge the vote was one of the lightest in Lindsay's municipal election history, although there were no exact figures immediately available.

Defeated candidate Harry Peirce stated he felt the election interest was low possibly because no one had brought out an issue for the voters to decide upon, thus the greater majority of people were apathetic to the whole thing.

"I feel that there is a slate condition existing in Lindsay, and it is not good. This condition has been existing for two or three years. I will be watching the actions of Council during 1956, and may possibly throw my hat into the ring again next year."

Very few candidates were present in the Returning Officer's office while the votes were coming in. Russell Lamb, Joseph Holtom, and W. S. W. Breese were on hand.

Members Lindsay Lodge IOOF Establish Blood Donor List; Fenelon Rotary Sends $100

A blood donor list for the Ross Memorial Hospital has been established by a Lindsay lodge, and all eligible members have been typed and are standing by ready to give blood wherever and whenever necessary.

The RMH Administrator Norman Mutter announced that Lindsay's IOOF Lodge members will be available for blood transfusions and donation whenever there is an emergency. He said that this list was organized by Past District Deputy Grand Master Marshall Stevens of Lindsay.

Mr. Mutter said that this generous offer speaks extremely well for the Lodge since they have shown this remarkable example of non-rewarding public spiritedness seldom seen in these times.

"The Rebekah's" associate lodge already has given much to the hospital by renovating completely one of the rooms of the institution.

Mr. Mutter also informed "The Post" that a donation has been received for the Expansion Fund from the Fenelon Falls Rotary Club. The hospital board was pleased to acknowledge the $100 cheque given to them by this active service organization.

It was pointed out that the Fenelon Rotary has contributed much to their own community, and one of their outstanding efforts was the renovation and the upkeep of the popular Rotary Beach.

RCMP, CID, Investigate Omemee Postal Robbery

Omemee (PNS) —Police of the R.C.M.P and Ontario Provincial Police Criminal Investigation Department are investigating a break in at Omemee Post Office during the early hours of Saturday morning which netted the thieves considerable amount of cash, stamps and money orders.

Crowbars, stolen from the C.N.R. section house, were used to pry open the safe after a rear window had been jimmied open.

Postmaster Arthur Weir and his assistant, William Wedlock, came upon the damage as they reported for duty Saturday.

The tracks of three men were traced in the freshly-fallen snow along the railroad. A careful inspection has been made by fingerprint experts and developments are awaited.

Provincial Police at Lindsay report that the loss has amounted to about $160. in cash and over $1,200 in postage and unemployment insurance stamps. They say the safe was forced and pried open.

Compliment Paper

Unusual Situation Develops Here During The Election

An unusual situation developed in Lindsay's election Monday evening. About 4:30 p.m. "The Post" called the office of the Lindsay Water Commission and asked if it would be possible to use the telephone in the office to relay information back to the newspaper. "The Post" was told that Mayor Hick had reserved the office telephone to relay information to Lindsay's new radio station.

Surprised and interested to see if this were really the case, representatives of "The Post" dropped in at the Water Board office just as the returns were coming through. A check with Mr. Maurice Collins who was at the office telephone revealed that he was in fact phoning returns to the radio station. In the office with Mr. Collins was Mr. Robt Reynolds, superintendent of the town's water system, and hurrying across the hall from the town clerk's office with a handful of what appeared to be election returns, was Mayor A. E. Hick.

As one of "The Post" representatives left the scene, Mr. Collins kindly offered to place the phone at the paper's disposal, but other arrangements had been made by the newspaper which was covering the election returns with its own staff.

Our Own and Other Opinions

AN INTERESTING THOUGHT . . .

It was perhaps unfortunate in some respects that Mr. Watson J. Wood didn't qualify to seek election to Lindsay's Council because, judging from what he said at the Nomination Meeting held here last week, he is a man with some differently tenable ideas.

We were interested in his observations on the subject of apathy towards municipal affairs. It was Mr. Wood's belief that a sure way to make people other than land owners interested in local politics and the trend of taxation would be to have property taxes charged to the tenant by the landlord and made deductible from established rentals. This, Mr. Wood felt, would very soon make tenants conscious of the part municipal taxes were playing in keeping up his cost of living, especially if the landlord were to make it known that a reduction in taxes would result in a direct saving, rent-wise, to the tenants.

The idea appeals and we would like to hear more about it because there is every reason to believe that such a set of circumstances would make a marked difference in the degree of attention the average householder gave to municipal affairs. Demands would no doubt become more of a personal matter if tenants were acutely aware that it was they who were going to foot the bill for any extravagances.

IN THE INTERESTS OF KEEPING LAW AND ORDER AT THE ARENA

The decision of the Arena management to charge spectators ten cents admission has been felt necessary, the management explains, in order to discourage those who are going to the Arena, not for the pleasure of watching people skate, be of assistance to youngsters or for any good intent, but who go there to make a nuisance of themselves. Anyone who has ever attended public skating at the Arena will have been conscious of the problem which exists in controlling a minority of teen-agers in the town who feel it is their privilege to be destructive and annoying in a public place. If the admission charge, small as it is, will have the effect of discouraging the attendance of these troublesome individuals, it will serve a good purpose.

The management of the Arena has assured "The Post" that no parent or guardian wishing to accompany a child skating will be subject to the levy, nor will any charge be made people calling for their wards after skating. On the other hand the management points out that those who really enjoy watching people skate are not apt to object to the token admission charge.

SAFE DRIVING DAY . . . .

Thursday was safe driving day in Ontario, a day set aside to impress upon drivers the need for care while in the control of a motor vehicle. This, in itself, is a good thing and even though it saves but one life it will have been worth the time and energy put into it. It is likely, however, that the day will have spared a number of lives and possibly many injuries resulting from traffic accidents which otherwise might not have been the case.

While we endorse all efforts to contribute to the safety of our motoring public, we believe equal emphasis must be placed on related factors. The pedestrian, for example, must be educated to be alert, taking all possible precautions for his or her own safety. A tall order indeed but one which can be filled, at least in part, if sufficient effort is put into it.

Reference was made the other day to the bearing that parking lots for beverage room patrons was having on traffic accidents. It was suggested that there shouldn't be accommodation for motor vehicles adjacent to beverage rooms because when drivers left the beverage rooms they were in no fit condition to drive. This seems to be good logic and certainly not even the most confirmed tippler can honestly say he is as capable behind the wheel with the "one beer" tipplers are prone to admit having imbibed, as he is without any alcohol content. Who would deny that access to beverage rooms should be as difficult as possible for drivers in the interests of safety?

There are many factors involved in contributing to safety on our streets and highways, all of which must be weighed by the individual and acted upon as conscientiously as possible. There is no law which will alibi our own conscience if we know in our hearts we have been guilty of negligence and responsible for a traffic accident. If we truly act conscientiously then every day will be "safe driving day." Therefore, since the hours the average person spends "behind the wheel" are relatively few, is it asking too much that they be spent with due care?

MIGHT DEFEAT ITS OWN PURPOSE

The Letter-Review of Fort Erie, Ontario, disagrees with a suggestion by Monsignor M. M. Coady of St. F. X. University, Antigonish that "socialization of power" would bring "electrification to every section of the Maritime Provinces and bring about their economic regeneration."

Monsignor Coady's optimism concerning the supposed blessings of 'socialization' or socialism is surprising only because it is so naive. Experience elsewhere in Canada shows that where power production is a government enterprise both the quality of the service, and the price of the product may be far inferior to that offered when production of electric energy is under private enterprise.

Nor is it likely that given subsidized electric power every hamlet in the Maritimes would suddenly blossom forth with new industries. Industrial growth and expansion depend on many other factors which this retired St. F. V. Professor has chosen to ignore.

As for 'economic regeneration' the chances are that it would take the form of more job opportunities but rather of a crushing burden of taxation which would drive still more people from the Maritimes into Central Canada in search of employment.

VOTERS GET WHAT THEY DESERVE

That was a timely address which George Hees, M.P. for Toronto Broadview, delivered before the Junior Board of Trade last night, and one that every voter in Metropolitan Toronto should take to heart. "Our state of political morality, efficiency and effectiveness is exactly what the people require it to be," he said. "A politically apathetic public breeds bad government."

The people of this area have been shocked by some examples of low political morality and bad government that have recently come to light. They were shocked, too, by revelations of past inefficiency in The Star's civic improvement series.

But as Mr. Hees indicated, the people get the kind of government they deserve. Political apathy encourages inefficiency and corruption. Unless the public studies election issues and exercises its right to vote, it can only be expected that conditions will get worse.

CAMPAIGN

Decorated speeches, prettied up with frills
Promises sworn to, with —"I you's" — "I will's";
Hand-shakes, smiles, intimate "Dear Helloes,"
"Hi there ! ! " — How's things?" and, "How are you's?"

Strangers meet their representative face to face,
And before they know it, so quick is the pace
That they are bosom pals, and satellites
Who give their votes; to set the world to rights.

The "Great" man knows the woman's worth,
So from the clouds comes down to earth;
Wisely knowing circumstances alter cases
He insists on kissing sticky babies' faces.

Into workshop, and the factories din,
He enters with a lowly sheepish grin;
The worker feels that "he" has favored "him";
The "Great" man thinks another vote, is in.

Then when all the votes are cast and counted,
The election fires damped and outed;
"The moving finger writes;" written on those pages,
You asked for it; now pay for it in taxes.

ONE MAN'S MEAT . . . .

One man's meat is another man's poison. That is a proverb with which we are all familiar and the accuracy of which is generally recognized. It is not often, however, that it is so graphically illustrated as in a news story from Winnipeg this week.

Canadians interested in the grain trade, it was stated, are waiting expectantly for Argentina's harvest to get under way next month. South of the equator, of course, it is now summer and Argentine wheat is developing.

If the crop is good, it will increase Canada's problem, make it more difficult for this country to market her surplus of wheat. But if the crop is poor, then the export demand for Canadian-grown wheat will be brisker.

Somehow, though, it seems difficult to hope for a crop failure in Argentina. A much better solution, but a much more difficult one, would be for the nations of the world to devise some method whereby so-called "surplus" supplies of wheat could reach the hungry in many lands.

WHAT "BAN OVERTIME" MEANS

Bob Drake, an ex-Communist who has had the courage to expose Communist conspiracies during the twenty years since he "saw the light", has now revealed in "The Recorder" of London, England, the truth behind the current world-wide campaign which Communists are conducting against "overtime."

Last December the Communist-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions held a meeting in Warsaw. It issued a directive to all West European Communist centres, calling upon them to rally the workers of those countries to wage a more relentless fight against all schemes for increasing productivity. This was an extension of the Cold War to the workshops of the West Then on June 5th of this year a meeting of shop stewards of the shipbuilding, engineering, and electrical trades, was convened in Birmingham. In attendance was the Communist shop stewards leader, Dave Michaelson, who had been given the task of stepping up the Communist attack on British industry.

Then in August at the Conference of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering, Frank Foulkes, the Communist President of the Electrical Trade Union, did everything he could to sabotage overtime.

Bob Drake says there are two reasons why the Communists are now attacking overtime. First, as admitted by all the experts of industry, cutting overtime will mean a dislocation of production continuity, thereby considerably raising costs. Second, a cut in overtime means a drop in worker's earnings. Both these things the Communists want because they must have a disgruntled working class to agitate so that industrial strife will be continuous. The "changed atmosphere" which the Geneva Conferece was supposed to introduce has had no effect at all on Communist conspiracies within free countries.

FIRST SNOW

With the first fall of snow we are reminded that the interests of adults and those of children are sometimes irreconcilable.

To youngsters the first snow of the winter is a festive occasion. It means glorious tumblings and seeing your breath and sliding down steep slopes on sleighs, on cardboard or just on the seat of your pants. For dad, on the other hand, it means getting home late for supper through snail-like traffic or being stuck in his own driveway. Mother dreads the first snow; for her it is a mad scramble to find galoshes and rubbers for everybody and a time of mopping up oozy puddles of slush on the kitchen floor.

But it is not really snow that the grown-ups object to. What they mind is the passing into dim forgetfulness of their own private dream of hard, crackling snow, of cutters and horses and buffalo robes in a time that has gone.

Extension Course Program Planning Sponsored By W.I.

Bethany (PNS) —Through "The Extension Services For The Homemaker" arranged by the W.I. Branch and Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, a short course in "Program Planning" was held in Bethany with morning and afternoon sessions.

Mrs Elton Armstrong of Newmarket was the guest speaker and gave many constructive ideas for Program Planning in all societies. "Every group should follow Parliamentary procedure. Parliamentary law is the science relating to the government of deliberate bodies. It embodies the rules of procedure as they have been established by usage. This usage is founded on common sense and reason. The following order is desirable: The President calls the meeting to order, continuing with the opening theme song, motto and roll call reading and approval of minutes; statement of treasurer; communications and bills; report of standing committees; unfinished business; new business; regular program; social hour and the National Anthem Meeting should begin on time. Encourage prompt dispatch of business and avoid lengthy meetings". Mrs. Armstrong suggested the appointment of a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers before annual meetings in order to avoid a lengthy business session and outlined the proper procedure in conducting election of officers; also advising to turn over to a committee any business that would involve lengthy discussion and that could better be handled by a committee.

"Women's Institute workers should always keep in mind their motto 'FOR HOME AND COUNTRY' and their program should be arranged to help women acquire sound and approved practices for greater home efficiency; to discover, stimulate and train leaders; to develop a more abundant life in rural communities and a deeper appreciation of the things near at hand; to develop better, happier and more useful citizens"

"In planning programs each community has a need Find that need and the material you have to work with, then, form your plan of action. Make programs worthwhile for every woman. Institute women, through their meeting and Extension Courses have something in the way of a University education, studying Agriculture, Canadian Industries, Home Economics, Health, Citizenship, Education, Historical Research, Current Events, Public Relations and Community Activities.

"Too many programs appear merely as a hodge-podge of things to do and hear, without any thread of continuity on which the assorted items are strung. A well-planned program has a definite goal. It sets out to lead the members along a clear path to a known destination. It is wise to plan a year's program in advance and have printed folders distributed to every member. The folder should as far as possible give the complete picture of a society's activities for the coming year. It is most important that the items listed should be interesting, instructive, varied, and with some appeal to the imagination. Make Mottos and Roll Calls tie in with the program. Every program should have something for every age group represented in the membership. Every woman should be made to feel she has a part in the meeting

"Never let your group degenerate into a social get-together, or develop into a money-making social group. The primary aim of W. I. work is Adult Education of members by study, demonstrations panel discussions and by reading. There are many channels of learning and the field of study is unlimited." Mrs. Armstrong urged all women to know more about municipal affairs; to exercise their franchise; to study the needs of the local schools and how taxes are distributed; also to be ready to serve on school boards and municipal councils.

Continuing, Mrs. Armstrong said "Women's Institutes should be both practical and progressive. At the end of the year every Institute member should feel she has learned something she did not know, or know how to do before. Her life should be enriched and her vision broadened. She should be a better wife, a better Mother, a better Homemaker and a better Citizen because she has been an Institute member. Homemaking is just as much a profession as teaching or nursing and through Extension Services For The Homemaker, the Women's Institute branch helps to make it a profession "

In conclusion, Mrs Armstrong said "Through service in our homes and community we achieve our greatest happiness. If we make ourselves serviceable, humbly and without boast, it is like putting an extra deposit in the Bank of Character "

Throughout the meeting the meeting the ladies discussed some of their local problems with Mrs. Armstrong giving many helpful suggestions The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. Thomas Jennings, president of Bethany W.I.

A Beauty Tip

In choosing perfume or cologne, let the attractiveness of the container be secondary. Fragrance should be chosen for its scent alone. Raymond Barbas, head of a famous Plain-coloured chiffon is used for says. "keep your eyes wide open when you choose your clothes, but shut them tight when you select perfume. Then your scent sense will never deceive you."

Santa's Pack

The newest things for play put the children to work.

Look over the toy counters now filled with the contents of Santa's pack, and you'll see such so-called playthings as vacuum cleaners which work, dust mops, brooms, pots and pans. Also baking kits, tool kits, carpenter's benches, picture framing kits, and even a miniature vegetable garden, complete with seeds and soil.

First, let's look at some of the work toys for the feminine side of the family. There are refrigerators, supermarket shopping carts plug-in coffee pots, sets for making doll clothes, embroidery sets, jewelry kits, cake mix sets, tapestry weaving or needlepoint sets, a rug weaving kit with miniature loom, and sewing kits of every shape, size and price.

Also for the little girl . . . a doll furniture set, in which she glues together and finishes the furniture herself; and a home decorating set. This latter item, consists of four unfurnished rooms, playhouse size, and the materials for making furniture upholstery, curtains, and wallpaper.

There's also a kit for the little girl who wants to mix her own perfume.

The work toys are just as plentiful for the boys. There are plastic brick building sets, car polishing kits, a kit providing the materials for making a pair of moccasins, a mechanics' tow and fix-it set, a picture framing kit, tool kits complete with tools that work, the usual kits for making toy airplanes, trucks, battleship or ocean liners. And, there's a miniature radio station, which actually broadcasts.

There are barber kits for the boys . . . beautician's kits for the girls.

Even with all these new work-and-play toys, there is one item which perennially leads all others in sale — the doll.

This year, it'll be hard to tell which is the doll and which is the child —the doll is so lifelike. Some walk, some talk, cry, kneel to pray, have hair that can be washed and curled, and even blow their noses. One manufacturer is out with a doll with a fever, for the child who wants to play nurse. Another doll has a shower of its own that works.

Here are some facts about toy buying from the U-S Toy Association. Boys get more toys than the girls.

More than one-third of the toys bought cost one dollar or less. The average toy price is three-dollars and 18 cents.

Children from two to six years old . . . will receive about one-half of all the toys purchased.

Red Heads

Gentlemen may prefer blondes and marry brunettes . . . but an informal international survey taken at the United Nations shows it's the redhead who wows em.

The survey was taken among diplomats and other men who toil at the U-N headquarters . . . in moments of relaxation when conversation among men, even there, turns to women.

During the talk, the word used to describe an unusually good-looking brunette was "pretty." An equally lovely blonde earned the word "beautiful." But a good-looking redhead won the adjective "luscious."

Nice Prospect

Here's a prediction that will make all women wish they were 20 years younger.

It was made in Rochester by an official of the National Association of manufacturers, and it concerns the home of 1975.

Said the spokesman. "The home 20 years from now will be practically dust-tight, pollen free, and destruction proof. It will be heated and air-conditioned by solar energy. All interior walls will be moveable, and interior color schemes will be changed by lighting effects. Kitchens will be completely automatic with cookers that make meals in minutes and washers that clean dishes in seconds. And radio, television, and hi-fi will be piped to every room".

Golden Rule Series

A series of books designed to help combat juvenile delinquency will be published soon.

The books will be known as the 'Golden Rule Series', and will be published on January third by the American Book Company in cooperation with the Palmer foundation.

The foundation says the books, for fourth, fifth and sixth graders, include stories, biographical sketches, poems and social dramas stressing values such as good citizenship, courage, fairness, honesty, patriotism and unselfishness

Full of Vim and Vigor

America's National Potato Chip Institute says potato chips are rich in protein, calcium, phosphorus, iron, Thiamine and riboflavin, niacin and ascorbic acid or vitamin C.

New Gloves

Longer gloves — to go with fashion's new long, lean look — have replaced the "shortie". Lengths among the new gloves vary from the four-button to 12-button, although the in-between length of eight-button seems destined for the greatest popularity Many of the new gloves simply pull on . . no buttoning necessary. The longer gloves are worn rippled, just above the wrist, when used with the close-fitting sleeves of fall and winter clothes. Or, wear them smoothed out to their entire length when sleeves are short.

Skirts Shorter?

Sheer fabrics and shorter skirts now show up in resort clothes being sent to stores across the nation.

The pastel dresses and printed bathing suits that startle chilly Christmas shoppers are forerunners of spring wardrobes.

Printed chiffon is a frank favorite for simple short evening dresses. Plain-coloured chiffon is used for shirtwaist dresses and semi-tailored blouses.

Skirts measure at least 15 inches from the floor on the average model and often a 16-inch hem length hikes the skirt to a point just a bare two inches below the knee. The change has been so gradual from the 13 and 14 inch hem lengths that shorter skirts won't cause any startled exclamations. But they'll start a flurry of hem-raising of last year's spring clothes.

Button Up!

Winter's here with snow and all but we're hoping it isn't going to close in. One little fellow had his sleigh out and seemed to get a kick out of just pushing it in the snow. There were a few snowballs thrown but as yet there hasn't been enough to make a fort. The kiddies are dressed warmly these days and mothers are wise to start early to keep them fit for the cold ahead Many of them wore goloshes and scarves which is wise when it gets frosty.

Gifts For Christmas

There is still time to do a little knitting for Christmas. If you want to get it done in a hurry you might like to crochet it. Even a scarf will be nice for one on your list. A crocheted purse with beads sewn on afterwards will bring you a special note from Aunt Myrtle. It's fun to be able to make gifts yourself and you can start with a scarf and end up with gloves, sweaters and toques Or you might like to knit a doll's outfit for some little girl. Crochet work, works up quickly and you might surprise yourself with a gift for someone. A toque is always a welcome gift for a young lady or lad and a scarf to match will really be appreciated. We saw a pair of gloves that had been crocheted and they were really smart. They had two tones of green and they looked cosy. Scarves crochet up quickly and there is lots of time to make one or two before the 25th.

Shop . . . Early

Remember it is going to be more difficult to shop as the stores get crowded for the Christmas trade. The longer you put it off the articles you want will be harder to get. Mornings are the best time to shop for there are many people who prefer afternoons to shop. As they say: "The Early Bird Catches The Worm"! So, get busy and have a few days to rest before the Christmas rush.

Crochet A Sweater

We saw an adorable child's sweater that had been crocheted by hand. The stripes went up and down the sweater giving it a pretty ribbed effect Why not try it for one of your gifts.

Children's Welfare

An Ottawa veterinary surgeon has strayed from the field of animal care to child care. Dr. Archie Kassirer and his wife Eva have edited a book called "What's What For Children". It deals with the cultural and educational aspects of bringing up a child.

Kassirer was asked why a vet was dabbling in child care. Said the 38-year-old Ottawan. .

"Because we have three children and we belong to the Citizen's Committee on children." The committee is a non-profit organization.

Three years ago, the Kassirers edited a 78-page booklet on children's welfare and interests. The booklet, containing the frank and helpful views of child specialists, was an immediate success in Canada and overseas. Orders came from England, Germany, France, Japan and China.

Kassirer says . . . "We—myself, my wife and the committee— realized the urgent need for a comprehensive guide on the subject.

Dr. and Mrs. Kassirer and the C-C-C tracked down Canada's experts in the juvenile fields of music, art, games, books, films. They even found two architects to contribute a chapter on special designs in homes for families with children.

The 24 authors list more than two-thousand books 200 recordings, 200 films and 300 toys . . . suitable and unsuitable for children of various ages.

The new book, which sells in Canada for 25 cents, answers questions like . . ."

"Should I give my 3year-old nephew an electric train for Christmas?"

It quiets the fears of parents who think junior must be odd because his artistic efforts look like nothing on earth. The art section advises. . .

"Don't be alarmed. His peculiar efforts don't even show lack of artistic talent."

Sir Ernest MacMillan has some reassuring things to say about musical talent. He points out that the little girl who won't do her piano practice isn't necessarily unmusical. MacMillan says the tin whistle and the harmonica have their place in musical training although, he adds, "they can only go so far."

Editor Kassirer has written a chapter on pets. He says . . . "Even animals can help children."

Piano Replaced

A Nova Scotia girl's hopes for a musical career literally went up in smoke last spring when a forest fire ravaged her home and destroyed her piano.

Today, 16-yearold Nancy Myra has a new piano . . a gift of the Queen's County Music Festival Association and the Halifax Musicians' Association. Nancy won top honors this year at the Queen's County Music Festival.

This past weekend, the President of the Halifax Musicians' Association. Percy Belyea, travelled to the Myra home at Mersey Point near Liverpool to present the new instrument.

JAYWALKERS BANE OF LINDSAY POLICE

Girl Collides With Truck On Highway

Lindsay was completely accident-free during Safe Driving Day, with no incidents having been reported to police, who were out in full strength checking on drivers and pedestrians. Chief of Police John Hunter stated that he and his men appreciate the co-operation and courtesy extended his department by the motorists of town, and especially the careful way in which they handled their cars.

"I only wish I could say the same about the pedestrians," he stated. "A large number of persons were observed and checked by police for jaywalking, crossing the streets against the traffic signals, and crossing in the middle of a block. There could have been a serious accident because of this, had it not been for the extra precautions taken by the motorists."

However, the Provincial Police at Lindsay unfortunately were called out to investigate the one accident which marred Safe Driving Day in the district.

About 4.20 p.m. Thursday, Jane Annette Miglec, 16 of R. R. 3, Lindsay was in collision with a car after she had alighted from a bus about a mile-and-a-half north of town on number 36 highway.

According to police reports, she had left the bus, walked around to the rear of the vehicle and out into the path of a Lindsay-bound Department of Highways Vehicle driven by Wilbert Dickinson of Port Hope. Police say that Mr. Dickinson swerved his vehicle in an effort to miss the girl but the right-front fender struck her and tossed her to the ground.

McArthur's Amulance was summoned and the injured girl was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital where she was treated by Dr. M. E. Gorman for concussion and lacerations.

94-year-old Friend Sends Congrats On 100th Birthday; Friend Still Licensed Driver

A letter of congratulations has been received by "The Post" extending hearty wishes to a district man "Billy" Anderson who recently celebrated his 100th birthday. The letter is from an old friend of his now residing in Manitoba, Mr. Dan Hawe, who is 94.

Mr Hawe apparently is a very remarkable man for his years and from his interesting letter can be depicted a colourful and fascinating career.

He states that for a number of years, he and Mr. Anderson were close neighbours in Manvers, but they parted when Mr. Hawe moved to Manitoba in 1889 to become a prairie farmer. He says that through the years he became moderately successful farming and in 1920 took up residence in the village of Benito in the Swan River Valley.

There he carried on business as an auctioneer and subsequently received an appointment as Police Magistrate in and for the Province of Manitoba.

It was just last October that Mr. Hawe left Benito and took up residence in the "Eventide Home" in The Pas where he mingles with some 65 men and women all over the age of 75 years.

He mentioned a remarkable thing in stating that he still holds his license to drive an automobile, and uses a typewriter when corresponding (his letter was very neatly typed indeed).

"On the 15th day of June, 1955", he continues, "I celebrated my 94th natal day and have hopes of reaching the 100-mark that Billy Anderson has celebrated."

The issuer at the Motor Vehicles Branch in Lindsay says the new plates which are now in stock, will go on sale on January 3rd., 1956.

Encourage Children To Read Stressed By Librarian

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —"Encourage your children to read", and you will introduce them to a world of magic and unfailing enjoyment", said Miss Irene, Brown, librarian of Fenelon Falls Public library, at the November meeting of the Home and School Association, during Young Canada Book Week.

Miss Brown explained that the special week is sponsored by the Canadian Library Association to promote interest in good literature and encourage good reading. T.V., radio and movies are a poor substitute for books, of which there is a wealth available at the library. Miss Brown said "that a good book should be tolerant and unbiased, and suggested that parents should read the classics aloud to promote understanding, and also because a shared book is a shared experience and your contagious enjoyment will be passed on to your children".

Another highlight of the evening was the demonstration lesson in reading taught by Mrs. Watson to the following Grade One pupils: Margaret Copeland, Catherine Brandon, Stephen Patterson, Ricky Dancey, Richard Mitchell, Tommy Bradbrbooks, Bobby Allen, Susan Quibell, Hugh Thompson, and Mary Shosenberg.

Mrs. H. McIntyre presided for the meeting which, following "O Canada" was opened with prayer by Mrs. Wm. Patterson. The attendance shield was awarded to Mrs. Watson's room. March 9tth was selected as the late of the Fun Fair and the committee members were read. As a preview of good things to come it was announced that Thor Hansen will speak in February and an October date is being reserved for Pete McGillen.

Mrs. Max Brandon gave a very splendid report of the Regional Conference of the Home and School Association held in Peterborough, with the theme "Leadership around the Clock" and Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, accompanied by Miss Jessie Hetherington favoured with a delightful solo "He" A picture of Prince Charles and Princess Anne donated to the primary room by Mrs. J McIntosh, a former resident of Fenelon Falls was presented by Mrs. George Palmer, and accepted on behalf of the school board by Mr Wm. Allen.

DIDN'T SEE OFFICER, COURT TOLD, MAGISTRATE SKEPTICAL, $25, COSTS

"There's no reason why you couldn't see the policeman, since he's about four feet wide," said Magistrate R. I Moore in Court on Wednesday, when he convicted a Cannington man of a charge of careless driving and fined him $25 plus $20 costs.

The charge arose earlier this week when P. C. Bill Bowes of the Lindsay PD was directing traffic at the intersection of Kent and Albert Sts. during the five o'clock rush.

Constable Bowes stated in Court that he had stopped traffic proceeding east and west on Kent St., and that one or two cars were already stopped west of him. He said he was facing the cars and was starting to bring the traffic off Albert St., onto Kent when a car, driven by the accused, proceeding east on Kent passed the line of stopped vehicles and would have struck the officer had he not quickly dodged to one side.

P. C. Bowes noted the license number of the car, and it was located later in the evening on Kent St. Constable Bowes showed the Court the white gauntlets and other luminous equipment he was wearing at the time and an Arsenal employee who was a witness said the police officer could be seen clearly for an entire block.

The accused, in giving his defense, said he hadn't observed the policeman and that he had been in a hurry to get to a local place of business before the closing hour.

Dr. R.M. Parker Outlines Aims, Hopes Behind New Departure

Lindsay's "Senior Public School", a new departure in education for the town has been declared officially open. Although the school has been in operation since the beginning of the fall term, it was not until last night that the man who first urged its establishment and who pioneered it with fellow members of the school board, was given the honour of declaring it officially open. That man is Dr. R. M. Parker, veteran member of the School Board.

In addition to opening the revamped school officially, Dr. Parker outlined to a capacity crowd estimated at over 400 the working of the school, the board's hopes for it and the goal towards which it was working. For the benefit of those who were unable to attend here are some highlights of his remarks:

"It is most gratifying to your Public School Board to have such a splendid attendance on this occasion. Not only so but it is proof evident that the parents and citizens of our town are interested in the methods of education and the welfare of the children.

"Education has taken on a much broader meaning, since the days of Edgerton Ryerson when the three R's were considered the chief scope of the curriculum. I presume to believe that there are some here to night who got their schooling under a similar curriculum on hard straight seats and high desks with your feet dangling in the air and a curve in your spine Nevertheless, such primitive scenes and developing methods and curricula developed some very notable citizens. Those were the horse and buggy days; days that were not so jampacked or so strenuous Days when the challenge to young people was not so great; events did not follow events so rapidly. The demand for well-trained, specially qualified workmen, women and professional people was not so acute as of to-day.

"Though we learn through the five senses, schools in general use two only . . . HEARING and SEEING . . . In fact it is doubtful that seeing is not somewhat neglected. The kinds of experiences we have had, determine the kind of people we shall be. The methods of instruction and the subject matter of instruction determine the impressions of the view from the mountain top for the adolescent. They determine to a great degree whether the pupil leaving school at sixteen is going to be of benefit to himself and of value to the community.

"It was with this in mind that your Public School Board determined to establish a Senior Public School for our pupils entering adolesence.

"The hope of this advanced and progressive institution is that we may develop the imagination and resourcefulness for CREATIVE THINKING and PROBLEM SOLVING at a high level.

Changing Values

"It is desirable to have a new environment and a new type of educational procedure for pupils entering adolescence at approximately 12 years of age. Students in that age group possess a wide range of abilities and interests which differ greatly from younger pupils. During this period many students develop strong vocational interests while others are interested in academic subjects and interests and present notable ability for academic development.

"Heretofore the curriculum was designed for academic training only, in preparation for more advanced mental training and development; entrance to university being chiefly kept in mind. It is a fact that a small percentage only, of pupils in Grades V11 and V11 are interested in continuing studies in our High Schools or collegiate institutes and 5 per cent only continue and enter a university from collegiate.

"A survey of schools throughout our Dominion by an appointment commission a few years ago, revealed the startling fact that approximately 80 per cent of students leaving school before graduation did so because they were not interested in the course of study. Students were obliged to take subjects that were, not only uninteresting, but of no apparent use or future benefit to them.

"Now, being cognisant of the fact that many of our Grade V11 and V111 pupils will not continue beyond grade V111 (and that 80 per cent of students have not found our school system of interest), your School Board determined to do all in their power to change this situation as far as Lindsay is concerned This matter has required much study visitations to schools of the nature we believed most suitable to the task ahead of us and many days and I may say nights of planning. During the days of incubation of the plan we fought a few battles, encountered many skirmishes, suffered several ambush attacks but lost no personel. To-night your Public School Board is proud to announce the birth and establishment of a MODERN SENIOR PUBLIC SCHOOL.

"Our educational system has been turned to a matter of "Pouring in" information and at examination time have the pupil spew the same information on an examination paper. The student with a retentive memory and a good nervous system did very well, but the poor chap who became nervous at the time of examination failed regardless of his ability or potential for the future. A parrot might do the same thing . . memorize and repeat. Thanks to the good judgement of some of our present day educators the folly of such a system has been pretty well corrected. The trend is to have the pupil work out a set task under guidance, . . . do research work; seek for himself and get the information to develop the solution from references, etc. This develops the student's power to help himself, makes him independent in thinking and action.

About Homework

"This brings us to the subject of Home Work, and just here I should like to put in a "plug" for the students. Sometimes I feel firmly convinced that the Department is endeavoring to crowd too much material into Grades VII & VIII. So much to be done and so short a time to do it. However it is generally conceded that home work in Grades 1 to IV is absolutely taboo. In fact the teacher who gives home work in those grades is openly admitting her weakness as a teacher. It is a different matter with grades VII and VIII. These pupils have reached the age where they may and can most profitably spend a reasonable amount of time in home study. The fly in the amber is that each teacher feels that the subjects she teaches are the most important and when there are six or eight teachers to assign home study, each giving an ½ hour of the dos it becomes a burden and a bore and often results in tears and discouragement and may develop a disgust or abhorance for school in general. I am sure that all our students will accept a reasonable amount of home study from each instructor who must assign such work but, teachers, let us be reasonable and moderate in assignments.

"Now I have said something of the students . . i.e. The LEARNER and also made reference to the curriculum in the Senior Public School, and, since, as I have already stated, the endeavor of the Senior Public School is to develop the imagination and resourcefulness of its students for CREATIVE thinking, and PROBLEM SOLVING at a high level, we must have teachers who who are mentally, physically and emotionally equipped for their important work. Your School Board believes that our school is well equipped with such teachers. Our teachers are moulding the type of citizens we shall have to-morrow; no profession is more important in that essential work for all walks of life are dependent upon a good basic education in the first twelve years of schooling.

The Three Rs

"Now ladies and gentlemen our Senior Public School is well equipped to teach and train the pupils in the three Rs too, Oh yes, and perhaps give a better training in them than you got. It is equipped to teach the pupils to use their hands and co-ordinate their brain power in Manual Training and in Home Economics. There is training in special subjects, social activities, and studies, industrial arts and crafts Art, physical education, music, science and agriculture and speech.

"As part of the Developmental Reading Programme, there is a branch called Remedial Reading. This is of great benefit to students having academic difficulties, or those who have not learned proper reading habits for it has been found that if a student cannot read with understanding he is unable to do arithmetic problems, spelling, composition, grammar or literature and loses interest in these subjects.

"These and many other valuable avenues of training are available in the Senior Public School.

"It is not the hope or intention or is it the purpose of the Senior Public School to graduate trained mechanics from the Mannual Training classes nor is it the aim of the staff to turn out fully accomplished Home Economic students but we do hope to learn the traits of our students and having done so to prepare them to meet the challenge of life which they must inevitably do with minds better developed than ever has been done before, in Grade VIII.

"It is with a feeling of victory attained, of having bridged a "chasm deep and wide" over which our young adolescent students may pass that I ask you all to assist me in declaring the Lindsay Senior Public School officially opened on the 30th day of November 1955.

Pair Stand Aside, See Car Smashed

An Omemee man and his friend narrowly escaped serious injury or death Wednesday and the late model car they were riding in was completely destroyed when it was struck by a speeding CNR train at the Bethel crossing south of Omemee.

Acording to Provincial Police, Harold Marshall of Omemee and a friend had been about to cross the tracks in their car about 8-10 p.m. when the vehicle stalled. In the urgency to get the car moving again, the driver is reported to have snapped the ignition key off in the lock, and at this point observed the beam of hte train's headlight bearing down upon them.

Fortunately the occupants were able to leap from the car and stood to one side as the train collided with the car which is reported to have been carried one-third of a mile along the tracks before the engineer, James Cline of Wellington St., Lindsay, was able to bring it to a stop. The train was a westbound CNR extra, and the accident took place about one-and-a-half miles west of Best Station on the Bethel line.

P. C. Ji mPlumbtree of the Lindsay OPP Detachment investigated and reported that the car was a total wreck.

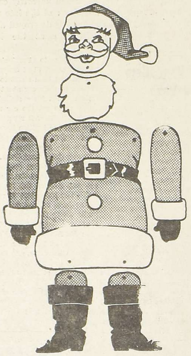
Puzzles & Pastimes from SANTA'S BAG OF TRICKS

SANTA'S LEARNED TO CHA-CHA



IT isn't easy to keep apace of Santa. He seems to be growing livelier and quicker each year. For instance, this year he has not only learned to cha-cha, but does a number of other dance steps that practically no one has ever seen or heard of. You can see what we mean by building the following Christmas toy. A small box, piece of heavy cardboard and some string are the only materials necessary.

Paste the diagram of Santa at left to the cardboard. Color various pieces appropriately, of course; then cut them out. Punch small holes where black dots appear.

Fasten pieces together with short pieces of string or thread, knotted or tied to a button on each side. (Paper fasteners may be used, if you prefer.) Suspend figure from box (as shown below).

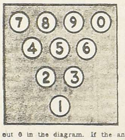
Santa will go into his act when the box is shaken or jiggled from side to side.

If available cardboard is too light, small weights may be fastened to extremities with tape.

A rather tight connection is necessary where Santa's head, beard and chest are fastened. All other joints should be relatively loose.

STRIKE OUT: A Wits Tester

By B. C. Kaufman



TO score a Strike-Out in the diagram at left, that is, to succeed in crossing out all of the numbers, you must find the correct numerical answers to the definitions below:

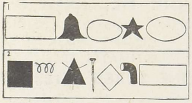
For instance: if the answer to No. 1, is 0, cross out 0 in the diagram. If the answer to No. 2 is 4315, cross out 4, 3, 1 and 5. Answers may have as many as five digits.

Today's set-up:

1. The —— Wise Men.
2. December is the —th month.
3. Love means this much in tennis: ——.
4. This number is the same right side up or upside down: ——.
5. If Santa has eight reindeer (Dasher, Dancer, etc.), cross out 4578; if not, cross out 4069.

Answers: 1. Three. 2. One two (twelfth). 3. Zero. 4. Nine six (or vice versa). 5. Four five seven eight.

Initial View of St. Nick



INITIAL letters of the shapes shown above will form words which will describe at least two of the various types of Santa Clauses inevitably encountered at this time of year.

What are the shapes given, and what do the initials spell out?

To start you off, we'll tell you that the shape at left in number 1 is an oblong.

Answers: 1. oblong, bell, egg, star, ellipse—obese; 2. square, loops, equilateral, nail, diamond, elbow, rectangle—slender.

Solution: Thirty-eight thousand five hundred twenty-two square feet.

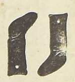
STRINGING YOU ALONG WITH A FIREPLACE



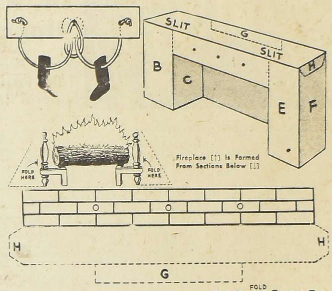
THERE'S a string attached to the fireplace at right, which, if you choose to make the most of it, turns the hearth into a wits-testing puzzle.

Mount drawings on stiff cardboard and color them. Cut out segments and assemble as shown (right).

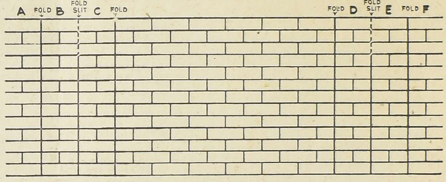
Pass a piece of cord (more than three times length of fireplace) through holes in mantel; attach stockings and knot ends as indicated. Toes may point in either direction.

Object of puzzle is this: to maneuver stockings so that both are contained on the same loop—without cutting or untying cord.

(A solution is given elsewhere in the page.)



Fireplace [↑] Is Formed From Sections Below [↓]



Word Juggling

JUGGLE the letters of these three words and come up with one word:

1. Tiny tiger. 2. The slat.
3. Roast mules.

Answers: Integrity, stealth, somersault. Other answers may be possible.

Calling Time

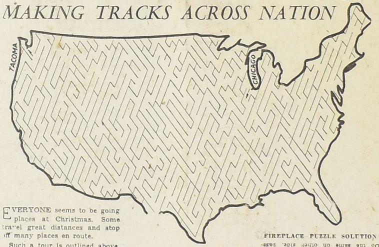
MAKING TRACKS ACROSS NATION



EVERYONE seems to be going places at Christmas. Some travel great distances and stop off many places en route.

Such a tour is outlined above.

Chicago is the starting point. Tacoma is the destination.

How long will it take you?

FIREPLACE PUZZLE SOLUTION

Solution: Enlarge the center loop so that one sock can be passed through it. Run the center loop along the loop on which the sock was, thread the loop through the hole, pass over the knot and then pull out. Do the same on other side, passing the stocking through the loop, etc. The center loop can now be drawn through the hole and both stockings will be together. Reverse this process to form the original three loops.

This Makes a Nutty Race

A BOWL of unshelled nuts, some teacups and spoons can provide some hearty laughs via the following Yuletide pastime:

Line up guests, place a teacup full of nuts in front of each, give each a spoon, and place a row of teacups opposite them. At "Go" they start to move the nuts from one teacup to another, using only the spoon. If a contestant drops a nut, he has to pick it up with the spoon, unaided by his free hand.

Adventure in Geography

IT'S as far from Witt to Pitt as from Kitt to Mitt.

It's as far from Sitt to Bitt as from Ditt to Mitt.

Mitt is on a straight line north from Sitt to Pitt.

Mitt is on a straight line east from Witt to Bitt.

Kitt is 8 miles north of Witt and 8 miles west of Pitt.

Ditt is 6 miles south of Bitt and 6 miles east of Sitt.

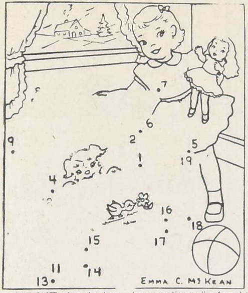
How far from Witt to Sitt?

How far from Pitt to Bitt?

Hint: Draw a diagram.

Solution: The hypotenuse of a right triangle whose legs are 8 and 6, is the square root of 8 squared plus 6 squared or 10. Therefore PB is 10 and WS is the same length.

Preparing for a Full Measure



SARAH JANE, above, has been so good recently that she's expecting a full measure of gifts from Santa and she's readying a place to put them. To find out what's missing from the picture draw a continuous line from dot 1 to dot 19. Where two numbers are beside one dot, use the dot for both.

Afterwards, you may wish to color the drawing appropriately.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE SOLUTION

3 MINUTE FICTION

Common Ground

By Mildred Kelso

THERE was a strange ache deep within Martha Morrison as she followed David out of the real estate office building where they had waited most of the afternoon. It wasn't, she told herself sternly, regret. It was, rather, the pain in David's eyes as he answered the agent's questions. To be so close to David and to know that she herself had caused that pain—

Wind struck them as they stepped out into the street. Swirling eddies of sand stung their cheeks, and the roar of pounding water filled their ears. "The lake," Martha cried. "There must be a gale out home." Blindly she started to run towards their pick-up.

Slowly and with leaden feet, David followed. "No need to hurry now," he said, climbing in beside her. "It will be dark when we get home, and by morning the pears will all be on the ground."

Martha threw him a frightened look. They had counted so on those pears. The pears were to have paid off the last of the mortgage.

It was at breakfast that she had told David of her decision. "I can't live here any longer," she had said. "Without neighbors it isn't home any more."

It was at breakfast that she told David of her decision.

"W-e-ll," David assented, "I suppose we don't have much in common. They don't farm nor raise fruit—"

Martha's heart ached even then for David as he went into the yard. She knew how close to his heart was this small tract of land. David had taken the rocky hillside which sloped down to the lake and upon it he had built an orchard.

It had been a long pull, waiting for the trees to bear, but the loving concern of their neighbors had made it easy. That was the way it had been, before the rich people had discovered the neighborhood and it had become "stylish." Since then, one by one, their old friends and neighbors had dwindled away. "Better sell too, David," they had urged. But David had been stubborn.

Things had been harder then for Martha. She missed her friends with an aching loneliness that could not be quieted. Until today she had told David that she could stand it no longer. And so they had driven into town to the real estate office.

THERE was a truck in their orchard—no, it was a station wagon. And there were figures moving about in the gathering dusk.

A woman was kneeling beside the station wagon carefully emptying pears out of a picking bag. "There," she said, "that's the last of them."

Men, loading boxes of pears into the station wagon, turned to greet them. "Guess we're trespassing," one of them said. "But you folks weren't home and this gale came up. We decided we'd better get your pears picked before it got dark."

"We found all the equipment in your fruit shed," another man explained. "Guess it was nosey, but we couldn't see you lose this swell crop. Most of us didn't know much about picking fruit, but Sue here bossed the job. She saw that we did it right."

They could only stare then at Sue Streeter, who lived in the big house up the hill. Sue, her face streaked and dirty. "You bet I made them do it right," she said. "I wasn't raised on a fruit ranch for nothing."

She walked over to where Martha stood goggling. "The others are down at the house," she said. "Your house. We took the liberty of going in to make some coffee. We knew you wouldn't mind. After all," she said matter-of-factly, "we are all neighbors."

For a moment Martha stared, then understanding washed over her like a wave. That was the answer, stated so simply by this woman with the tired face. "We are all neighbors," she had said. And that, Martha realized, was their common ground.

"Oh," she cried, "hurry. I must call Mr. McLean right away. We nearly made a terrible mistake."

URGE FREE PARKING FOR YULE SEASON

Don't listen now but....

Are you hearing music on your telephone today?

Something new has been temporarily added to the telephone service of a number of Lindsay subscribers. Reports have been reaching "The Post" lately of musical prologues to the dialing operation. According to those reporting, they hear music when they lift the receiver from its cradle and occasionally they pick up what sounds like a radio station identification announcement.

Mr. Bruce Symonds, manager of the Bell Telephone Co's offices at Lindsay says the added something will not be a permanent feature of their service. He says the music is the product of Lindsay's radio station . . . CKLY . . which is encountering a little transmission difficulty. In shop parlance the phenomenon is called "cross talk" and will be eliminated before long, Mr Symonds explains.

By way of reassurance, Mr. Symonds says phone subscribers need not fear that their conversation can in turn be picked up by radio station or privately-owned receiving equipment. It seems it's one-way entertainment, the radio station providing.

Spectators At Arena To Pay 10¢ Admittance

People attending the Lindsay Arena as spectators on public skating night will be called upon to pay ten cents admission. This is announced by the Arena management.

Ald J. C. Holtom says the ten-cent levy is being made to deter loiterers from going into the Arena. He says considerable trouble has been experienced recently from free hangers-on who aren't interested particularly in watching skating, but who are allegedly responsible for certain damage to the premises. Dressing rooms and toilets have been damaged by these undesirable visitors, the chairman of the Recreation Committee declares.

Mr. Holtom says parents calling to pick up their children after skating will not be subjected to the admittance levy since they would not be classed as spectators.

Mr. Holtom says the manager of the Arena . . . Mr. John Lamb . . . reports on his return from a conference of recreation directors at London, that he learned most other Ontario arenas charge spectators for watching public skating.

The chairman says the step could be retracted if the Arena committee so desired at any time.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Wrath killeth the foolish man and envy slayeth the silly one.—Job 5:2.

Hatred hurts the hater more than the hated. Envy is the most universal sin, it caused the first murder. We should rejoice in prosperity of others. If we are God's children our inheritance will be boundless. We can afford to wait.

Mr. & Mrs. R. Lawler Honoured By Friends Ere Leaving Lindsay

Before leaving Lindsay recently to reside in Toronto, Mrs. Ralph Lawler was the recipient of gifts by her friends and wellwishers.

Her neighbours residing on Francis Street and vicinity where she lived for many years gathered at the home of Miss Adams, 19 Francis Street. After the group had been entertained by Mrs. Bertie, by showing very interesting pictures in colour of her travels through Northern Ontario during the summer, a dainty lunch was served. Mrs. Lawler was presented with a beautiful coffee table. Her friends all joined in wishing her happiness in her new home.

Mrs. Lawler was also entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sexsmith, 76 King Street, where another group of her friends had gathered and after lunch surprised her by presenting her with a magnificent oil painting All joined in wishing her God-speed and the very best of everything in the days to come.

Finally, Mr. and Mrs Lawler were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Blewett, 10 St. Paul Street, where friends had gathered. After games had been played and while refreshments were being served, Mrs Lawler was presented with beautiful ends and Ralph a Ronson silver table-lighter.

Allan in his inimitable style spoke briefly expressing regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Lawler from Lindsay, where they had so long resided and were so well-known and highly respected wishing them happiness and prosperity in the future.

All friends joined in these sentiments.

Commissioner Ham Speaks At Citadel

Captain George Wright of the Lindsay Salvation Army Citadel has informed "The Post" that the guest speaker at three services this weekend will be Commissioner Francis C. Ham, who is already known to several in town as he has visited Lindsay previously.

Commissioner Ham was a member of the Salvation Army's Supreme Command and has attended the High Council in 1946 and 1954.

He joined the Army in 1910 and since then has had many and diversified field appointments. He has been vice-president of the Christian Social Service Council of Canada and also the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance.

In 1945 Commissioner Ham was appointed territorial commander for Central America and the West Indies. Government officials of the various British Colonies and Central America Republics recognized this work by valuable and practical support.

Organizer For Social Credit Addresses Meeting

Omemee (PNS) — Social Credit politicians addressed a fair-sized meeting in Coronation Hall benefiting from the attendance at the nomination meeting.

A Provincial organizer introduced the main speaker, Bert Leboe M.P. for Caribou riding, B. C. who analyzed the fundamentals of his party and cited Alberta and British Columbia as instances where the Socials were giving good government. He also noted that the Social Credit government had retired $65,000,000 from the provincial debt of B. C.

Well aware that the majority of his hearers were either supporters of Liberal or Conservative governments. Mr. Leboe did not come to castigate any government but did not believe that people should go on thinking negatively. "Just because things aren't done is no reason why they couldn't be done. They have been done in B. C. and Alta."

He felt there was too much of the "let George do it" attitude nowadays. "Social credit support is rapidly increasing in Ontario yet the party is given the "silent" treatment by the press of the old line parties. Just returning from a tour of N.B. where he had addressed 26 meetings and "found that the Con. Govt. there was not filling the desire of the people who had defeated 17 years of Liberal regime."

"Social Credit has so many things to offer. We offer a new type of political program and apart from any party "pork barrel". The Alta. govt. is organized from the rank and file of the common people. Not one professional man holds Govt. office. We are opposed to any type of socialism or communism but pledged to protect the individual's rights in free enterprise. Social Credit offers a freedom with security. An outmoded financial policy is robbing our senior citizens of their just rights. Citizens who had given the best years of their lives are barely existing on a frugal pension of $40 per month. The high cost of illness is plunging many into debt as medical and hospital costs rise. In B. C. patients pay $1 per day and the govt. the rest."

Touching on the surplus of apples, butter, wheat, cheese, etc.while other parts of the world are hungry he asked, "Is Canada going to continue to produce ourselves into the poor house?"

"Two railroads run parrallel across Canada with cars half laden when one would do; yet the railroad ties have to be replaced regularly whether used or not. It is about time that Canadians got control of their own financial system. We have the best banking system in the world, yet we are so deficient in our system that we find credit unions and finance companies springing up everywhere because the banks are getting away from the people."

Mentioning the road policy of the B. C. Govt. he said that contracts for road building there had dropped to two-thirds of cost compared to that of the previous coalition government."

Would Suspend Parking Meters, Appraise Worth

Free parking in Lindsay has been urged by a businessman who feels the holiday season would be an ideal time to test the real value of parking meters in facilitating traffic.

The businessman, who is not averse to publicity but who says he doesn't want to take all the credit for what might be a good idea says it would be a nice gesture to Christmas shoppers in the town. Other centres, he points out, have adopted modified forms of free parking for the season . . . In one city, businessmen whose stores have parking meters in front of them have clubbed together to hire a "Santa Claus" who will go along the street putting money in the meters which have "run out." This lasts for the week preceding Christmas.

"It would be a wonderful opportunity for us to see just how useful these meters are," he declared, adding, "we have been told how wonderful they are, and they do bring in some revenue it is true, but do they really do the job they are supposed to . . . facilitate traffic, and provide parking accommodation for a greater number of people?"

They'll Be Higher From Now On

Omemee (PNS) —The high cost of barbering has apparently caught up with Omemee residents, according to a report from that centre.

Residents in the community have learned that effective the first of December haircuts will cost 75 cents instead of the previous 50 cents.

Children too have been affected by the town barbering prices. The report says that children's haircuts now cost 60 cents, a hike of one dime per haircut.

Too Many Turkey Rolls, Definitely Illegal, Crown Attorney States

Assault Case Said Result Of "Roll"

Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan told "The Post" Monday he feels there are far too many "turkey rolls" in Lindsay, and he pointed out that they are definitely an illegal operation.

Another Lindsay man stated too, that he remembers when "turkey rolls" used to be a lot of fun, but that in recent years they have developed into a big-time gambling arrangement. He said that he could not understand why the police weren't tipped off when the rolls were being carried on in public halls throughout the town.

Mr. Jordan indicated the section of the Crimial Code of Canada which would apply to persons operating such a scheme.

Secton 179-E, reads, "Everyone is guilty of an indictable offense and is liable to imprisonment for two years who conducts, manages, or is a party to any scheme, contrivance or operation of any kind, by which any person upon payment of any sum of money or the giving of any valuable property, shall become entitled under the scheme, contrivance or operation, to receive from the person conducting or managing the scheme, or any other person, a larger sum of money or an amount of valuable security than the sum or amount paid or given, or to be paid or given, or by reason of the fact that other persons have paid or given."

Mr. Jordan said that the police department has the authority to raid such activities and charge the operators with running a lottery.

One member of a local law enforcement agency in Lindsay said today that it was becoming apparent that "turkey rolls" and other types of raffles were getting out of hand. He said that he has seen and heard of men attending these functions, spending $25 or $30 and consuming considerable spirits, with the outcome of possibly winning a turkey.

Chief of Police Hunter said today that he had no comment to make on the matter and that he would take any directive to act on orders of the Crown.

ASSAULT CHARGE SET OVER

A Lindsay man appeared in Court on Monday charged with assault occasioning bodily harm against another man, but the case was adjourned until Friday to enable the acused to secure legal counsel.

According to police, the charge had been laid on Friday night when the offense is alleged to have occurred at, or in the vicinity, of a a "turkey roll' held at the Armouries.

The plaintiff appeared in Court with his arm in a sling and a plaster bandage on his head.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Behold I will rain bread from heaven for you. —Gen. 7:12.

Without rain there would be no bread. Desert rainless regions produce no bread. God distributes his rains generously. Three fourths of the earth's surface is water, and there are two hundred miles of air drawn from the sea. The balance is delicate and efficient beyond our understanding.

The People Write:

He Views It Differently

December 3, 1955
109 Glenelg St. W.
Lindsay Ont..

Sir:

I have just finished reading your Saturday December 3 Editorial, — "Let's have a thumping good turnout at the Polls."; Evidently your thoughts jive with the feelings of one candidate. I admire the man very much, a learned gentleman and a man who is not afraid to say his piece.

I must also say that usually your Editorials contain excellent matter pertinent to serious issues.

However, under the circumstances I find that I cannot agree with either of you gentlemen; i.e. that I feel at this time that no election is necessary. There could of course be something wrong with my thinking. I do agree in general with all the principals involved. Nevertheless, let us analyze the situation and deal only with the case under discussion—Lindsay.

In the first place then:—Evidence proves that the Lindsay electorate are satisfied and happy with the present council. If they are not, kindly account for the apparent contentment of the folks on nomination night.

Secondly; the candidates who did qualify were nominated by certain members of council, signifying their approval and recommendation of such candidates.

A member of my committee was in touch with the City Hall during the whole evening of Qualification Night.

Mere minutes from the closure he reported over the 'phone "That it appeared a foregone conclusion that there would not be an election this year."

My committee, including myself, were in complete agreement that, it would not be in good taste on my part to force an issue where evidently none existed.

If the good people of Lindsay are satisfied that the administral affairs are good and efficient, why waste time? energy? and money? Circumstances being what they are; why upset the town, disrupt schools, business and industry by forcing the electorate to go to the Polls evidently against their wills?

To my mind anyway,—'tis folly.

I have faith in democratic people everywhere, that should their freedom and way of life be challenged, we shall hear from them, and in no uncertain manner.

Yours truly,
Watson J. Wood.

Consider Zarfas' Talent For Lindsay Exhibition, Union Problems Threaten

1955 Attendance Up By 2,000 But Net Loss Also Said Higher

Members of the Lindsay Central Exhibition Board have been mulling over the possibility of having producer George Zarfas stage the show for the 1956 Exhibition, but it was learned that a few technical snags are almost preventing this from happening.

Manager F. W. Wilson told "The Post" that the unions are creating a problem for the Fair Board, since it has been learned that union musicians and union performers must be employed either on stage or as stand-bys. Mr. Zarfas, it has been learned, is a non-union producer, and specializes in "local talent" theatrical efforts.

It was also learned that although the attendance at the Fair this year was some 2,000 above the previous year, the net loss increased from $2,400 to approximately $3,000. It was explained that it is due to an additional $1,500 more than the previous year being spent on the vaudeville. $1,250 extra for a draw, and an additional $500 spent for bands at the grandstand show.

One member of the Fair Board, in commenting on the possibility of having Mr. Zarfas produce the show, said that it seemed to him "that whenever the Board spends too much money they 'run for cover' and plan for an amateur, less expensive stage show."

He said that it has also been suggested that Mr. Zarfas be asked to present a "Pageant" composed of local performers, but this, it was learned, would also be impractical because of the necessity of hiring union stand-by crews and musicians.

This board member said it was his opinion the drop in revenue at the 1955 Fair was due to the fact that so many people were investing. on time payments, in homes, cars, TV, and other items, and could not afford to attend fairs and theatres the way they did a few years ago.

Homeowner Hailed To Court For Appropriating Property Of Tenant, Found In Error

A Lindsay homeowner appeared in Court Monday charged with theft by a former tenant of a house he owns. The charge was laid by the tenant, a young Lindsay man, when he alleged that the landlord had seized a bicycle and other property in lieu of settlement of some alleged damage the tenant was accused of having done prior to moving from the premises.

According to the tenant, who gave testimony to the Court, the house in which he and his family had resided was in an almost uninhabitable state and that he and his family had moved away during the last week of November, although the rent was paid for the full month. He said that he had moved some of his furniture and when he returned the next day to get the balance, the house had been locked up, new locks and hasps had been placed on the doors. He also stated that he learned the landlord had taken a bicycle and other property of his, since the landlord claimed the tenant had broken a front window, put a hole in one wall, had not shut off the water, and had permitted the furnace to go out.

Attorney for the accused, D. M. Thomson asked the tenant a few related questions and was told that the hole in the wall had been there since the day he had moved into the house; the window had been broken by a Hallowe'en pumpkin; he could not shut the water off because he had no wrench; and that the furnace wouldn't operate properly.

It was learned that the accused had called Bailiff Percy Mark and was told that he could enter the empty house to protect his property, but was not advised that he could seize any property within. Mr. Mark told the Court that he urged both parties to get together and straighten out the matter instead of having it brought before the Court.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Thomson that the owner was in "distress" and had seized the property, Magistrate R. I. Moore stated that the owner had "no right to enter the building and seize any property, since the rent had been paid up."

His Worship also disagreed with the suggestion that the tenant should have given one month's notice before vacating, as he ruled the circumstances were not average, since testimony showed the building as being "non-habitable."

Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan suggested to the tenant that under the circumstances he may wish to drop the charge, which the young man agreed to. His Worship ruled there would be costs of $16 which both the defendant and the plaintiff would split.

safer driving reduces insurance costs

Ontario Drivers collectively set their own automobile insurance rates. It is the number and cost of automobile accidents which determine insurance rates. If accidents and their costs increase, then automobile insurance rates must inevitably increase. But, when greater care and caution on the part of motorists results in fewer, and less costly, accidents, automobile insurance rates can be reduced.

...that is why

In 1956 most automobile insurance rates will be reduced —on the average six per cent for private passenger cars and 10 per cent for commercial vehicles, with decreases up to 20 per cent in some cases. The actual change will vary from area to area and between one class of insurance and another.

...1956 rates will be lower

Effective January 1, 1956, motorists generally will benefit from the following changes:

- There will be many reductions in basic rates.
- Drivers qualifying for the three-year claims-free class will get 25 per cent discounts from basic rates as opposed to 20 per cent in 1955.
- A new two-year claims-free class will be established and drivers in this group will benefit by 15 per cent discounts from basic rates.
- Under-25 married car owners will be placed in a lower rating classification than formerly.

SPEEDY OVERTIME PLAY GIVES LAKEFIELD 4-3 EDGE ON REGENTS

Both Fast, Clean Hockey By Evenly-Matched Teams

Lindsay Regents and Lakefield Lumbermen battled through seventy minutes of fast wide open hockey at Peterboro last night. The Lumbermen hung on to gain the win scoring two in the overtime session to Lindsay's one.

Both teams played fast clean hockey throughout with little to choose between them in the first two periods as O'Connell and Red Wasson turned in terrific games. With a 1-1 count at the end of the first period, and a 2-2 tie at the end of two. The Regents turned it on in the third and for the first fifteen minutes kept the play consistently in the Lakefield end. Only sensational saves by Red Wasson kept the Lumbermen in the game. The Regents missed several chances also by ineffective shooting.

Lakefield came back strong in the last five minutes and O'Connell came through in fine style to end the regulation time at 2 goals each.

Lakefield scored early in the overtime and played defensive hockey to protect their lead. The Regents tore in on numerous occasions, but were unable to score. With twenty seconds to go Montgomery fired the clincher on a breakaway rush Parker finally beat Wasson with two seconds left.

Coyle from Twist opened the scoring for the Lumbermen at 9:12 of the first period and it was not until 16:27 that Tommy Hutton tied the count when Growden drew the goalie and cleared to Hutton.

They continued at a fast pace in the second period and early in the period O'Connell beat Montgomery from in close when he coasted in alone from the blue line. A couple of minutes later Davis broke through for the Regents but Wasson stopped the shot and dumped Davis as he drove in.

Coyle again put Lakefield one up at 13:10 of the second period only to have Parker, Crawford and Growden score the neatest goal of the night. Parker got the draw on the centre face-off cleared to Crawford who drew the defense and flipped to Growden at the open corner at 13:45.

Lindsay took over in the third period and even when short-handed on two occasions, nemmed the Lumbermen in. Sinclair and Hennessey sailed in on Wasson to no avail. Orlie Crawford broke in the clear only to lose control of the puck Lakefield were tagged for two minors around mid-period and the Regents ganged the Lakefield net to no avail. Towards the end of the period the Lumbermen gained control and two pile-ups in front of O'Connell were successfully held off. With a minute to go Mucker kicked out three in a row when two attackers had him cornered.

Birch broke the tie after 45 seconds of overtime and the Lumbermen played two and three men back. At 6:37 Neil Wasson was chased for boarding but the Regents were unable to take advantage of the penalty. Montgomery from Coyle and Heffernan at 9:40 wrapped up the game, but once again Parker, Crawford and Growden bounced right back with Wimpy scoring at 9:58.

Parker, Crawford Growden, Teel and Hennessey went well both ways for the Regents plus a star to both goal keepers. Montgomery was the best for Lakefield along with Coyle with two goals and an assist.

Omemee Wins From Bobcaygeon

REGENTS SWAMP BOWMANVILLE, 9-3 WIN PACED BY J. GRAHAM

Jack Graham paced the Lindsay Regents to a thrilling 9-3 win over Bowmanville Barons at Kiwanis Arena Friday evening. Playing his fourth game in as many nights Jack fired four goals and assisted on a fifth to lift the Regents to the decisive win.

Playing coach Al Burns possibly set up the winning effort in his pre game instruction when he detailed the centre ice man to dig the puck out of the visitors' corners and the wings to be in position for a pass-out.

As the game developed, the visitors' defense gave their attentoin to the men in scoring position which on several occasions permitted the centre man to work in on the goalie.

Goalss by Graham and McGill gave the Regents a 2-0 lead in the first period as they consistently out-hustled the Barons sufficiently to impair their shooting accuracy.

In the second stanza the Barons revived somewhat and matched Regent goals by Graham Sinclair and Parker. A couple of newcomers to the Barons, Depeu and Wilson and veteran Gilhooley scored for Bowmanville.

The third period was all for the Regents as they added four goals without reply by the Barons as O'Connell came up with a solid effort and the Regents were full value for the winning margin.

Friday evening, the league-leading Barons seemed unable to do many things right as the Regents fore-checked like fiends. Two of the four third period goals were scored by Graham when he relieved defending players of the puck inside their blue line and fired counters past a surprised Pallister. Tommy Hutton netted the other pair. The first of Tommy's goals was a beautiful effort all the way as Hutton, Teel and Corley broke clear with one defenseman between them and the Barons' net. The attackers executed a tidy bit of passing that drew the defenseman out of position and set Hutton in position at the open corner.

Ron Teel as well as Jack Graham was playing his fourth consecutive night, the pair having played for the Junior Indians at home Tuesday evening, played for the Regents at Peterboro Wednesday evening, played in Newmarket with the Indians Thursday evening and helped the Regents to their second win Friday night.

Over the route the game was clean fast and very pleasing to the over five hundred fans on hand.

Both teams played aggressive hockey with the poke check in many cases replacing the body checking. Lou Hennessey Jr., was very effective in helping to kill off the eight penalties awarded the Regents. Gerardi, usually top scorer for the Barons was their hard-luck man Friday evening as he missed point blank shots on the open corner at least five times during the game and drew the Barons first two penalties, midway in the third period.

Jack Graham opened the scoring for the Regents at 2:36 of the first period. Murray Davis carried into the Bowmanville end and dug the puck out to Lou Hennessey at the blue line. Lou's slap shot rebounded and Graham tucked it away.

Ross McGill made it 2-0 midway in the period when he fired from the corner and bounced the puck between Pallister's feet off a defending player's skate. Pallister had previously robbed the Regents when Corley and Teel got a breakaway during a penalty to Williams.

Gerardi missed his first golden opportunity when Hooper drew O'Connell and passed to the open corner at 11:45, and the same thing happened again at the 16-minute mark when Gerardi's shot went over the net. Orlie Crawford received a minor for boarding when he squeezed out a Bowmanville attacker at 16.57, but Lou Hennessey moved up and repeatedly broke up the Baron's attack.

Bowmanville rallied somewhat in the second period and in the early stages tested Mucker severely as he stopped five or six point blank shots in quick succession. Crawford was thumbed for hooking at 2:30 and again Hennessey took over breaking up the attacks and permitting the wings to check the puck carrier.

Graham scored his second goal at 5:40 of the second to put the Regents 3 up. This time McGill dug the puck out to Williams who caromed a shot to the other corner. Graham worked clear of two defenders and flipped a back-hander by Pallister.

Don Sinclair added the fourth goal just twenty seconds later when Graham stick-handled through the middle and passed to Sinclair at the goal mouth.

Bowmanville again put on the pressure as play opened up and Green was thumbed for tripping. O'Connell had a busy time until Ron Teel broke in the clear, out-skating his pursuers, but Pallister smothered the shot.

Depeu scored the Barons' first goal, just before Grant's penalty expired, on a pass from Hooper.

Four minutes later the Barons moved the count to 4-2 when Gilhooley scored on a breakaway with Marshall after Pallister had been showered with rubber by the Regents.

Parker got that one back in just over a minute later when Growden and Corley worked a three-way pass to Wimpy who made no mistake. The Barons scored their third goal just before the period ended when Wilson flipped the disc over O'Connell after he stopped shots by Burgess and Deeth.

Graham scored Regents sixth goal and his third early in the third period when he dug the puck out of the corner, and finding his wings covered, fired a back-hander from the side that caught the top corner. A minute and a half later Hutton, Teel and Corley executed an effective pass pattern to give Pallister no chance.

Lindsay received their sixth and seventh penalties shortly after and the Barons were tagged with their first. Although playing short-handed the Regents continued to carry the play.

Graham racked up his fourth goal of the night, again unassisted when he followed in and took the puck from the lone defenseman and fired from close range.

The Regents scored their ninth goal in the late seconds of the game when Al Burns cleared to Corley and Hutton and Tommy flipped Corley's rebound over the line.

The Regents were really up for Friday evening's win as they out-shot out-hustled and out-played the usually potent Barons. The Regents go to Bowmanville for a return game this Wednesday evening and meet Orono here Friday night.

SHORTHANDED JUNIORS ZEROED 5-0 BY WHITBY ON MONDAY NIGHT

Whitby Jrs. defeated a hard playing, willnig team in Whitby last night by a score of 5-0. Lindsay who had only six players, one goal tender and two players of the minor hockey league, who came up for the game, fought a hard game with no relief for 13 min. and 23 sec. when Ward of Whitby slipped one in to start the scoring, in the first period.

Lack of substitutes for the Indians was the hazard of the game as three Lindsay players were called to play a 60 minute game with no rest other than between periods. The Whitby Jrs. played a fast passing and defensive game using 3 lines, four defencemen and two subs, but werenot able to break up Lindsay's checking and attack on their goal.

George Kemp played a superb game between the pipes by defending his goal from 67 shots, to Whitby's 21. Kemp, who did everything but stand on his head to stop them was the outstanding star of the game. Jack Spratt, Bill Kelly, Bill Hennessey, Jack Williams were the stars for the forward attackers. Spratt who seemed never to tire, fought and back-checked the Whitby team into a near crack-up as Spratt broke up play after play of the Whitby team as they tried to put pressure on.

Kelly of the Indians put on a burst of fast rushes showing that Whitby were going to work for this game. Penalties were low with Lindsay drawing four to Whitby's five.

The coach of the Indians stated after the game that he was not sorry to lose as it was expected, but it was hard to see a willing six hockey players put everything they had into a game with no reliefs, and who even after the fifth goal still surged on the Whitby team.

"It was a shame to see six young hockey players who play hockey for the love of the game have to face a team with no reliefs when Lindsay is noted throughout Ontario as being a powerful hockey town.

"It seems that the younger generation of hockey players to-day in Lindsay, have more interest in good times and money for playing, if they decide to play."

The coach of the Indians stated that sooner than see Jr. hockey fail in Lindsay, he would ice a team if it consisted of Midgets from the minor hockey teams.

Hard On Cars

If someone would discover another method of keeping the ice off the roads our cars would last longer. The salt they put on the roads splashes up and rusts every bit of metal under it. If someone would only come up with a new idea cars would last longer. One can get their car sprayed underneath, but it only helps protect it for a short time. Some day a bright person will come up with a solution to this yearly hazard.

Soup Weather

Soup at this time of the year is ideal. You can use it for lunch or supper and there are more kinds of soup than we can name. Some people mix two or more kinds, but any experimenting you do should be done with care. But soup is a cold weather food and there are so many soups on the market you couldn't possibly get too much of one kind. It's so handy to have around and it tastes good for a snack or for the first course of any meal. Try a mild soup going to bed and you'll sleep like a top. If there is a cook in the house, the hme-made variety surpasses them all

Fill The Bin

It gives one a nice feeling to have the winters' fuel in and whether it is a cold or warm winter it is there if needed. It's better than getting a little at a time for it is sure to run out just when he snow gets deep and you have to plough your way into the cellar. So, sit back and enjoy yourself if you are lucky enough to have the whole winter's fuel stashed away in the cellar.

Good Neighbours

It's a good thing our neighbors get their papers out early or we'd forget half the time. One doesn't mind taking them out if they are sure of the day, but missing out on the day means bringing them in the house again. So, if you are one who can't remember, you might try taking a peek to see if your neighbours have them out.

Summer Touch

For the buffet supper you might like to have during the Christmas festivities don't overlook the lovely red tomatoes that are in our shops from the sunny south. Scooped out and stuffed with chopped meat or canned tuna, you can make a substantial meal with a few potato chips to serve with it. It is so tasty and everyone will like it. Any ingredient that is out of season is always welcomed in the winter. Make good use of these tomatoes for salads too.

Household Hint

Freshen shredded cocoanut by soaking it in sweetened fresh milk a few minutes before using.

Thomas McCamus

Famous Curler Passes

One of the first to settle in New Ontario and a former Bobcaygeon druggist, Mr. Tom McCamus died in his 96th year at his home in New Liskeard.

An ardent curler during his younger days in Bobcaygyeon, Mr. McCamus was one of a team from that town which won the Ontario Tankard. He brought his love of curling with him to New Liskeard and soon had his friends interested in playing with him there.

The famous "tankard" game was played in 1893 against Oshawa with 22 ends with a tie that had to be played off. Mr. Mossom Boyd, gave a complimentary banquet in the Rockland House with all members present. Mr. Boyd the president congratulated the rinks, and a speech was made by Mr. J. Read. Wm. Gidley and the two skips also spoke at this historical gathering.

Mr. A. E. Bottum of Bobcaygeon is the only surviving member of these distinguished rinks. Mr. Bottum was a hardware merchant for many years.

Carter - O'Reilly Nuptials . . .

The altar and sanctuary of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was beautifully decorated with pastel baby 'mums and palms, for the wedding of Pauline Mary, daughter of Mrs. Joseph P. O'Reilly and the late Joseph P. O'Reilly to David Ernest Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Carter, of Oshawa.

They were united in marriage by Rt. Rev J. V. McAuley, who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Rev. Father Quesnelle presided in the sanctuary.

The bride, who was given in marriageb by her uncle, Mr. Frank O'Reilly, was radiant in a floor-length Empire gown of ivory satin. The skirt was shirred in deep gathers at each side and the scalloped neckline was accented with silver net insets and rhinestone. Her lace-edged train-length veil was held in place by a tiara of silver beads and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with streamers of white satin ribbon and red rosebuds. Miss Yvonne O'Reilly, sister of the bride, was gowned in blue net over satin with lace panels, and small bolero of patterned lace. Her headdress was a wreath of matching coloured flowers and she carried an old fashioned nosegay of baby 'mums.

Miss April Carter, was flower girl and looked sweet in a floor-length gown of pale pink flowered marquisette over satin with colonial bonnet and nosegay. The groom was attended by Mr. John Potje, of Kitchener. Ushers were Mr. Joseph O'Reilly, brother of the bride and Mr. Nelson O'Keefe.

The wedding music was played by Miss Ruth Shannon and guest soloist was Mr. Stafford Crowley who sang three very beautiful hymns; at the Offeratory "Sweetest Mother", at Communion "O God of Loveliness" at signing of Register, "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling"

Following the wedding a breakfast was held at the New Royal Hotel dining room, where the bride's mother received guests in a two-piece mink brown ensemble with matching accessories; her corsage was of pink rosebuds and fern. The groom's mother also received, gowned in a two-piece avocado green ensemble with gold and brown accesesories; her corsage was of gold baby 'mums.

Following an informal reception at the home of the bride, the happy young couple left on a trip to Ottawa and Montreal. For going-away the bride chose a turquoise blue chromespun taffeta dress with hat to match and a natural beige coat. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will reside in Oshawa.

Guests who attended from out-of-town were from Toronto Oshawa, Peterborough, Kitchener, Kirkfield, Whitby and Bowmanville

In winter, keeping windows open "a crack" at top and bottom will prevent moisture from condensing on panes.

MURTHA - FARRELLY WEDDING . . .

A very colourful wedding was celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, recently. The Rt. Rev. Monsignor McAuley officiated at the ceremony with Nuptial Mass and Solemn Blessing.

The contracting parties were Miss Helena Farrelly, daughter of Mrs. Mary Farrelly and the late Philip Farrelly, Kingscourt, Cavan, Ireland, and Michael Fergus Murtha, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Murtha, Lindsay.

The smiling couple above, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fergus Murtha, are shown leaving St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, following their recent wedding. The bride, the former Helena Farrelly, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Farrelly and the late Philip Farrelly, of Kingscourt, Cavan, Ireland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Murtha, of Lindsay. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. McAuley officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Philip Hughes, of Chicago, looked chaming in a white floor-length gown of slipper satin, the fitted bodice having an insert of mother-of-pearl and sequins in the yolk of nylon net. Her floor-length veil, with scrolled embroidery, was held by her tiara of mother-of-pearl beads and sequins to match. She carried red baby roses and 'mums with streamers of fern and ribbons on a white mother-of-pearl missal.

Miss Teresa Cooke, friend of the bride, was maid-of-honour, wearing a ballerina-length gown of pale blue tiered lace over taffeta and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white 'mums with matching headdress.

The bridesmaid was Miss Shirley Quibell, niece of the groom, and wore a ballerina-length gown of pale pink lace over taffeta and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and white 'mums with matching headdress.

The best man was Harold O'Keefe friend of the groom, and Gordon Bissette acted as groomsman. The ushers were Nelson O'Keefe and Martin McCarthy.

The organist was Miss Ruth Shannon and Mr. Norman Bissette was soloist singing "Ave Maria" during signing of the register.

The reception was held at the Legion Hall, where Mrs. Mae Quibell, sister of the groom and Mrs. Philip Hughes, cousin of the bride, received the guests. A unique feature at the reception was the three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in the Irish colours for the bride.

The afternoon, enjoyed by all, was spent in music and dancing, featuring many traditional Irish songs and dances, while refreshments were served.

The happy couple motored to the United States for their honeymon. For travelling, the bride chose a Donegal tweed suit with olive green velour hat and tan accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Murtha took up residence at 173 Ardmore Avenue, Lindsay.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Behold there came wise men, . . . saying we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. —Mat. 2:1, 2.

The Christ had long been expected. His greatness grows as the centuries pass. We have seen greater signs than the Magi saw. The regeneration of whole nations that followed him.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 60

Mrs. G. Jamieson Hostess For WMS Christmas Meeting

Glenarm (ENS) —Members of the W.M.S. of Glenarm held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Jamieson with a splendid representation for their Christmas meeting.

The ladies in charge of the meeting were Mrs. James R. Nesbitt, Mrs. Wesley Black and Mrs. Will Nesbitt choosing the Worship Service as prepared by Miss Agnes Dickson in the "Glad Tidings" of special interest as Miss Dickson was so well-known in this community. The theme "God Tidings of Great Joy—to all people" with the president, Mrs. Clifford Hargrave as leader.

Christmas hymns were used throughout the meeting accompanied by Mrs. Victor Webster on the guitar and the prophecies regarding the Saviour were taken from the Book of Isaiah with Mrs. James R. Nesbitt and Mrs. Mac Murchison reading the chosen chapters in the Old Testament passing to the New Testament where all these prophecies were fulfilled. Mrs. Wesley Black read the Christmas Story of the birth of Jesus in St. Luke's Gospel.

Leila Black read the minutes of the November meeting, also called the roll which were mostly all answered with Christmas quotations in mind. The minutes of the meeting were approved by Mrs. Fred Webster after which Mrs. Joe E. Nesbitt gave the treasurer's report reporting the splendid sum of $28.30 received from the Home Helpers department with Mrs. Wm. McInnis as their leader. Mention was made of $12.90 received when the patches were removed from the travelling apron. Mrs. Black kindly donated the apron earlier in the year to be used for this purpose. Mrs. Nesbitt also read the list of expenditures covered by the expense fund after which a letter was read from the Lindsay Presbyterial executive in regard to vacancies in the Presbyterial.

The president extended thanks to the ladies participating in the panel discussion held at Kirkfield and also informed the ladies the programmes were arranged for each month and the ladies responsible for each month. Mrs. Stuart Morrison, Mrs. Inglis Jamieson and the Presidents of the two societies arranging the list for 1956.

Mrs. Will Nesbitt gave a Christmas reading —"A Miracle for Christmas". Rev. W. Jackson was present and following the singing of Joy to the World" closed the last meeting of the W.M.S. for 1955 with prayer and guidance for the New Year. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Jamieson and her helpers and Mrs. Hargrave extended a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the Society for her hospitality.

The President and White House Aspirant

President Eisenhower smiles broadly as he leaves Walter Reed Army Hospital after a check-up. Doctors told him to reduce his work schedule.

Adlai Stevenson Democratic Party contender for the presidential nomination, had a smile of another kind. Here he proudly displays his bag of three ducks shot during an early morning outing at Jerome, Ork. Later he was guest at a barbecue dinner.

SHORT SHORT STORY

Home Run

By

GROVER HEIMAN

MARY'S eyes had been serious as Matt turned to go into the clubhouse and he knew she was going to say something. He didn't want to listen, but he waited.

"I wish you would quit baseball and go into business with Father," she said, twisting her gloves in her long fingers.

"We've talked about this before, darling. Hundreds of times. I thought it was a closed subject."

"I'm reopening it, Matt. I've worried sick night after night."

"We'll talk about it after the game," he said wearily and the old anger grew large in his chest. Why this again!

They had been married less than a year and it had been the same story since spring training. Sure he had been lucky to get her. Or was it lucky to marry a girl with a cool million?

3-Minute Fiction

The cheers of the crowd that greeted the Red Legs when the team poured out of the clubhouse was music to his ears.

Here were his people—the fans. Rich and poor, they had one consuming interest and he shared that interest. Baseball was king in this square of grass circled by stands and myriads of faces.

The game rocked along as a pitcher's duel. Matt worked a fast double play in the top of the eighth to nip a Greenie rally and the stands went wild. Matt glanced at Mary, but there was no sign of elation.

The Red Legs needed this win to move into first place, but the outlook was dim when the first two batters swung three times and then came back to the dugout. Matt chose his bat and took his place at the plate.

Mary was still on his mind and he watched the first ball slant in and faintly heard the umpire call a strike. The next pitch was a strike and Matt gave the bill of his cap a jerk and leaned closer. Slow burning anger boiled up then and he was eager for the next throw. He wanted to hit it with everything he had, wanted to hurt the ball because he was hurt. It came and he swung.

The solid crack of the bat told the fans and they rose as one to cheer. Matt looked over his shoulder after touching second and grinned. A home run and the ball game. He noticed the two girls sitting next to Mary, on their feet and cheering.

MARY was waiting for him at the clubhouse. He wanted to hear her say it was a good hit, but her face was clouded in thought. She took his arm and they walked to the gate. A mass of humanity met Matt, and he had to halt. He autographed the ball and then books, tickets and anything else they shoved into his hands.

A tousle-haired boy standing on Mary's side turned a freckled nose to the boy standing beside him.

Two girls on their feet and cheering.

"Boy!" he murmured in awe. "Matt Johnson. That's what I want to be—a ball player like Matt."

They ate dinner and conversation was sparse. Matt wasn't happy, not with Mary feeling this way. It looked like a choice—Mary or baseball. He knew it would be Mary, but he loved baseball. The bank job with Mary's father would drive him crazy. If only she could understand!

As he paid the check he heard a man at a nearby table saying to a woman in a turban:

"That's Matt Johnson, one of the greatest second basemen in the game. That guy is a credit to the game and to the country. Really a clean sportsman and the idol of a million kids. . . ."

Matt took Mary's arm and they departed. He didn't want to hear more. In the car he made up his mind. It would be better to break with the game now than later. In another month he knew he wouldn't be able to do it. He knew it because he knew himself.

"Mary . . . about baseball . . ."

She put her finger over his lips and kissed his cheek. "I've been a fool, darling. A selfish fool. I realized it when you hit the home run and when the fans wanted your autograph. And the way they cheered. Those boys by the car, what they said, and the man in the grill. You can't leave baseball, Matt. You are baseball."

Arthur L. Tremeer

Little Britain (PNS) —The villagers learned with much regret of the passing of Arthur L. Termeer in his 76th year and beloved husband of Louie Jenkins which occurred at the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay on Tuesday, November 29th. Only confined there a short time his demise came as a severe shock to the entire community.

The late Mr. Tremeer was born and raised here and resided at Little Britain and vicinity all his life until some two years ago when he and wife disposed of their home in the village and moved to Lindsay where they have been residing until his demise. By occupation the deceased was lineman for the Little Britain Telephone Co., and also carried on an electrical business for several years.

Mr Tremeer was of a cheerful and jolly disposition and was highly respected citizen and his unfailing courtesy and kindly personality endeared him to his neighbours and associates. He was one of the oldest members of the Little Britain I.O.O.F., and was a member of the United Church, was interested in all that made for the betterment of the church. He also was much-interested in sports and assisted in all the community activities.

Beside his sorrowing wife, the former Louie Jenkins of Little Britain he is survived by one brother, Herbert and a sister. Mrs. E. J. Broad both of Toronto. He was predeceased some time ago by a daughter (Jean). The former Mrs. Gordon of Port Perry and a son. Bruce of Toronto. Another son died in infancy.

The funeral was held from the Mackey Funeral Home in Lindsay on Friday afternoon, December 2nd. where friends and neighbours from near and far gathered to pay their last respects. The service was conducted by Rev. Harold Neal of Cambridge St. United Church, assisted by his former pastor, Rev. J. R. Trumpour of Little Britain United Church who paid high tribute to the deceased and left a message of comfort with the bereaved.

The pallbearers were: George Greenway, John Jenkins, Frank Tremeer of Little Britain; Allan Rich of Oakwood; Lawrence Tremeer of Cresswell and William Tremeer of Lindsay. Interment was made in the family burial plot at Little Britain United Church Cemetery. The numerous and beautiful floral tributes were silent tokens of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

PERSONALS

(News for week ending Dec. 10)

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kitson and children of Dunnville spent a recent weekend at the home of her mother Mrs. Elgin King and also visited his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Netherton, near Lindsay.

Sarah Reeds

Reaboro (PNS) —After several months of declining health Mrs. Thomas H. Reeds passed peacefully away at her home in Reaboro on Thursday, December 1, 1955 in her 80th year. Her passing cast a deep gloom over the community where she and her family were so well and so favourably known.

Mrs. Reeds was formerly Miss Sarah Pritchard the youngest of the family of two girls and seven boys of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pritchard of the Franklin district. On March 28, 1906, she married Thomas Reeds of Reaboro and she and her husband lived on the farm, now occupied by a son, Robert, until five years ago, when they retired to the village of Reaboro.

Mrs. Reeds will be remembered by a host of relatives and friends for her love of flowers and of beautiful sunsets which she enjoyed from their farm home for so many years. The memory of her quiet unselfish Christian life is sweet and precious to her loved ones, over whom she exercised a strong Christian influence. She was a faithful member of Reaboro Baptist Church and was a true friend and a good neighbour.

Left to mourn her passing are her sorrowing husband and four sons, Malcolm, Stanley, Lloyd and Robert and four grandchildren, John, Martin and Paul Reeds and Gregory Reeds, also one brother, Mr. Wallace Pritchard of Aberdeen, Washington, U.S.A.

The largely attended funeral service held at Mackey's Funeral Chapel on Saturday was conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. C. Smith who brought a comforting message for the bereaved and enjoined all to trust and serve the Saviour, whom the departed sister had trusted and served.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Moore, Herbert Thurston, Louis Soles and Wm. Veals of Reaboro; Robert Nugent of Lindsay and Leslie Pritchard of Cavan. The beautiful flowers were tokens of the love and esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery "until the day break, and the shadows flee away".

Relatives from a distance were Prof. and Mrs. Lloyd Reeds of Hamilton; Mr. Wm. Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pritchard of Cavan; Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief of Fraserville; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pritchard of Hull, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. Darling of Toronto; Dr. W. R. Reeds, Beaverton; Mr. Stanley Lyons, Mrs. Gerald Dyer, Mrs. Sadie Clute, Mrs. Lillie Roebuck and Mrs. Mina Parnell, all of Wyevale.

Mr. Lee Sparks has returned to his home at Detroit, Michigan after spending a few days at the home of his mother, Mrs. Florence Sparks and other friends here.

The many friends of Mrs. George Baines are glad to see that she is able to be home again after being confined to the Ross Memorial hospital in Lindsay for several days where she underwent an operation and that the same proved to be successful.

Friends of Mrs. Gordon Downing (nee Barbara Ayres) are glad to hear that she was able to resume her duties again in Lindsay last week after being on the sick list and confined to her home for some time and also the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

Some extensive improvements are now being made in connection with the Little Britain Memorial Arena and the tender of Mr. George Heatlie has been accepted by the committee in charge in regards to the caretaking and ice making. Mr. Heatlie has commenced his duties and expects to have skating etc., in the near future.

Mrs. Robert Leighton is spending the winter months, at the home of Mrs. George Hardy in Oakwood after spending the summer with Mrs. William Dixon at Manilla.

Nine Goals and 20 Points Picked Up By Horton-Dawson-Finlay Front Line

Lindsay Junior Indians scalped Midland Shoemen 10-4 last night in a bang-up hustling game. John Horton set up the Lindsay win scorin five goals and Dean Dawson was close behind with three. Bob Vickery and Dick Finlay added to the route with a goal each. Armstrong was top man for Midland with two goals and two assists.

The Horton-Dawson-Finlay line picked up nine goals and twenty scoring points in the contest as the Indians worked the poke check to perfection against their bigger opponents.

The Indians led 2-1 at the end of the first period. They protected their lead with a 5-3 score at the end of two. Midland scored early in the third period to narrow the gap to one goal for the second time in the game. Midland ran into two penalties a minute apart and the Indians capitalized with two quick goals and never looked back. They added their third a minute later and had the Shoemen on the run.

Nineteen minor penalties crept into the contest but were the run of the game variety such as interference, hooking, slashing and tripping. Lindsay drew a pair of penalties thirteen seconds apart early in the third period but Midland's over anxiety and spectacular goaltending by Jack Spratt outlasted the penalty.

Dawson, Horton, Finlay and Vickery and Kelly were effective on the attack while the whole team turned in a close checking effort defensively. Bill Hennessey and Jack Williams bore the brunt of the Midland attack defensively in fine style breaking up the Shoeman's formations with well placed poke checks repeatedly, and Jack Spratt, although missed on the attack, played terrific goal.

John Horton opened the scoring at 15.03 of the first period with a elbow high shot from the right boards. Lindsay carried the play up to that point as a dozen or more hard shots missed the Midland net. Bob Vickery set Horton up for his second goal just thirty seconds later.

Armstrong scored for Midland at 1854 after Spratt stopped three shots in succession from a scramble. Growden for hooking and Hennessey for kneeing were absent at the time.

Midland's big centre-man Armstrong gave the Lindsay fans a few anxious moments at the start of the second period when he scored in just 55 seconds. Dawson however got that one back at 1.25 on a passing attack with Horton and Finlay. Finlay passed to Dawson at the open side for his second goal at 13.41 and again Armstrong struck back setting up their husky defenseman Ring, a minute later.A minute after that Dick Finlay slapped in Horton's rebound for a 5-3 count and still a two goal edge.

Armstrong started Midland off again at 4.54 of the third period with Simms netting the rebound but Spratt lowered the boom from then on as the Indians rattled home five unanswered goals.

Dave McCall was chased for interference at 8.37 and Power for charging at 9.40. The Horton-Dawson-Finlay line promptly took over with Horton sniping a pair by the time Power returned from his penalty.

With both sides at full strength, the Kelly-Campbell-Vickery line clicked for the Indians eighth goal one minute later.

Duggan in the Midland net turned aside a bucket full of pucks in the following five minutes as the Indians scooted around the big Midland defense. Shortly after when Midland mustered an attack, Finlay cleared to Dawson at centre ice and Dean skated in unmolested, scorching a ten footer to the top corner. Finlay picked up his seventh assist in the last second of play passing to oHrton for goal number ten.

Coach Don Hibbs came up with a hustling line-up last evening with several new players on hand. Bob Vickery, Ted Campbell, and Noel Lucas played their first game last evening and after one previous practice and showed good possibilities. Over all they proved to be proverbial giant killers as the Midland team out-weighed them by plenty. The will to win and play the puck however was a far greater advantage than weight and the Indians were full value for the win.

They go to Newmarket Thursday evening and play the Smoke-Rings back here Friday evening. If they play against Newmarket as they did against Midland they should have a good crowd on hand Friday evening to see a really hustling and goal scoring team in action.

Lindsay Choir Presents Concert

The people above who comprise the choir of Queen Street United Church presented a choral concert on Sunday which has become an event looked forward to by many as a musical highlight of the Christmas season. Organist-director Harry J. D. Moss says a very fine program was prepared and carols and anthems by Thiman, Hollins, Pietro Yon and many other composers were featured. Among them is the oldest Christmas carol in church music . . . . the original words having been written by Prudentius (343-413 A.D.) and later translated and set to music in the 12th century. It is the 12th century translation which was heard on Sunday. Those who make up the choir shown above are: Back Row—left to right: Messrs. W. Barnsley, K. Thurston, T. Quibell, A. Piel, G. Hick, C. Eason, S. Brandsma, A. Rolefson and R. Spence. Middle Row—left to right: Misses L. Cook, V. Powers, L. Jewell, P. Humphries, D. Hargrave, Mrs. A. Wilson, B. Widdis and M. Nugent, Mesdames R. Vickery, H. Moss, V. Fallis and B. Hart. Bottom Row—Mrs. J. Joyce, Miss J. Hargrave, Mr. H. Moss, Misses B. Parker and B. Quibell. Two members of the choir were unable to be on hand for the picture-taking event. Soloists Sunday were Mrs. A. W. Wilson and Mr. Gordon W. Hick.

L.O.B.A. Celebrates 20th Birthday

Janetville (PNS) —The 20th birthday of the Janetville L.O.B.A. Lodge, was celebrated when a large number of members and friends, gathered in the local L.O.L. Hall.

The charter members who were present, noted the changes that had taken place in the 20 years during which time a number of highly valued members had passed away, and others had left the community to make their homes elsewhere, but with many new members, the lodge is still most successfully carrying on.

Progressive euchre, with 10 tables being played, was enjoyed, when at the conclusion of the ten games played, it was announced that Mrs. Emery Shea of Fleetwood and Mr. James McGill of Janetville were the prizewinners, and Mr. Owen Walker, carried away the door prize.

During the evening as the result of a draw, Mrs. George Elson received a beautiful wool blanket in shades of blue, Mr. Jack Jackett, a pair of pillowcases, which had been made and beautifully embroidered by Mrs. B. Muirhead, and a pretty pansy doily, the gift of Mrs. Harold Mxon, by Mrs. Roy Porter of Lindsay.

An interesting feature of the delicious lunch, which was provided by the lodge ladies, was the fact, of four beautiful cakes adorning the table, on each of which glowed five candles. These were later blown ut by the present W.M. Mrs. M. Wright and the new W. M. for the coming year, Miss Irene McGill. All voted the evening to be one of the mst enjoyable anniversary celebrations in the history of the lodge.

Claims Canada Has Some Insulation Against Recession

Toronto, Dec. 13 —(BUP)— James Stewart, President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said today the Canadian economy has developed "some degree of insulation" against recessions in other parts of the free world.

Stewart told the Bank's 89th annual meeting in Toronto that this insulation had resulted from "The diversity and depth of our industrial evolution."

However, he said, the "breadth and extent of the upsurge in United States business conditions this year certainly played an important recovery" from last year's slow-down in business activity.

He predicted capital and consumer spending next year would continue "in an upward direction" during 1956, although capital spending on new housing might decline in favor of greater industrial expansion.

Inoculation Objected To By Some Families

A meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Verulam was held in the Municipal office on Thursday, December 1st, with Deputy Reeve, Mr. Kennedy presiding and Councillrs Messrs. White Ward and Sheriff in attendance.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed on motion of Mr. White and Mr. Ward.

Correspondence was read from Mr. Weldon regarding Miss Hill being accepted as a resident and advising that the High School debenture in the amount of $7,936.93 should be paid by December 1st; also from the Department of Planning enclosing plan of Subdivision part of Lot 9, Concession 2, Township of Verulam.

Dr. Thomas addressed Council regarding his duties as Medical Health Officer. One problem he has found is that a few families still object to having their children inoculated. He stated that it takes about five trips to each school to have the children properly done. In many of the larger centres it is compulsory that all be done before entering schol. He presented his bill for vaccinations, inocluations and first aid kits, $170.75

Mr. Earl Pitts addressed Council requesting approval of a plan of subdivision of part of Lot 9, Concession 2, which he had recently purchased from Mr. Hazel Thurston. It showed division into 28 lots with a roadway through the centre, but no provision for any connection to the adjining road a few hundred feet to the east at Greenhurst. The Council members expressed the opinion that if at all possible provision should be made for this, if only to accmmodate the road machinery and garbage collection and arranged to visit the location either on or before the next meeting.

Council adjourned to meet again on December 15th at 1:30 o'clock.

5-1 Barons Verdict, 11 Local Penalties

Bowmanville Barons, smarting from two set backs last week, lashed out at the Regents at Bowmanville Wed. to gain a 5-1 verdict.

The Barons capitalized on minor penalties handed to the Regents to count all five of their markers while Lou Hennessey's goal at the five minute mark of the first period was all Heath in the Barons net allowed to pass.

The Regents swarmed all over the Barons in the first period and missed at least four good scoring chances. Over the route the Barons served five penalties while the Regents were tagged with eleven.

At the end of the first period the teams were deadlocked at one goal each. Hennessey scored unassisted at the five minute mark on a screened shot. Bill Williams tagged with a tripping penalty when Dickens collided with him at centre ice at 8.03 and Hooper set up the tying marker on the following face-off, Gerardi scoring the goal. Max Yourth scored fro mErnie Dickens at 9.40 of the second period with Davis serving a high sticking penalty. Gilhooley hit for two more near the end of the period at 16.40 and 17.10 while Hutton served a holding penalty. Hamilton from Marshall and Bird completed the scoring at 18.20 of the third period with Green and Davis serving time.

Ned Vitarelli reefreed the game, the fourth Regent game in succession for the Peterboro official.

Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec has decided not to get into the current controversy over the naming of the CNR's new hotel in Montreal. Present plans call for the name to be The Queen Elizabeth but some Quebecers feel that it should be The Chateau Maisonneuve in honor of the founder of Montreal. The hotel is still in the early construction stage and only part of the 20-storey steel structure has been erected.

Sewage Digester Conks Out, Natural Wear, Tear . . Engineer

Modern Detergents Thought Damaging

Members of Lindsay's Council were advised at Monday's meeting that the digester at the Sewage Disposal Plant isn't in operation and has not been for some six weeks. Due to the wearing out of parts in the pumping system, it has been necessary to stop this service until repairs are completed. In the meantime, all of Lindsay's sewage is being by-passed to the "beds" belw the hill from the Plant, not far from the river's edge

It was pointed out by Engineer J. N. Timberlake that the replacement of parts and most of the repairs were being done by a firm representing the manufacturer, at no cost to the town.

Mr. Timberlake told "The Post" this morning that this temporary shut-down was in effect a natural condition due to certain moving parts having worn out, and that at the present time he hopes to have the unit put in better operating condition within a few weeks.

When asked what causes such breakdowns, Mr. Timberlake said there was no fixed reason, but that he was of the opinion that the new chemical detergents were hard on the equipment, as well as some other materials that find their way to the sewage disposal plant He said that the pelice and fire departments are extra precautious about letting gasoline and oil get into the sewage as this had a damaging effect on the equipment as well.

HALIBURTON REEVE IS ACCLAIMED

Church Filled For Choral Concert

The Queen St. United Church was filled to capacity for the Twilight Carol Service held on Sunday afternoon.

The choir under the direction of organist Harry J. D. Moss, presented once again this choral concert, a musical highlight of the Christmas festive season.

The presentation of carols and anthems drew the highest commendation from the audience

Choral numbers feautred were those of such great composers as Pietro Yon, Hollins, Reimann and Thiman and many others. The 12th century translation of the anthem "Of the Father's Love Begotten", with original words by Prudentius 343—413 A. D. was a superb rendition. Soloists in the choral concert were Mrs. A. W. Wilson and Gordon W. Hick.

The setting of beautiful lighted and decorated Christmas trees and motifs added a note of seasonal enchantment to the occasion. Through the courtesy of Mr. Jasper Forman the outstanding presentation was broadcast.

Rev. William J. March was in charge of the services and read the Christmas Message as found in St. Luke 2: verses 1—20. The closing chorus of "And The Glory" (Messiah) by Handel was a grand finale to this very fine choral programme.

Interesting Term Forecast

There will be no election in Haliburton for the office of Reeve of Dysart Township. As the result of a nomination meeting held on the weekend, only one man was nominated and he is Mr. Walter Noice, who, after his qualification, has been elected reeve by acclamation. Mr. Noice is a veteran newspaperman.

At an earlier nomination meeting, four district men were nominated, but none chose to qualify for the office, thus another nomination was forced.

Members of council for Dysart Township include Elizabeth Nicol, William Emerson, Clarence Horsley, and Holly Sisson. Mr. Sisson was acclaimed to office.

The interest shown in the Haliburton elections this year, according to one official, is undoubtedly due to the possibility of incorporation of the village, which comes up for review and analysis in 1956. There are two camps drawn up on this issue, both of which say they are determined to do everything possible to see that their petitions are studied and acted upon.

Town Pays "One Mill" Arrears; County Cooperation Is Urged In Passing Expansion Account

Reserve Account May Be Used To Pay Demands Not Budgeted For

One of the final pieces of legislation enacted by the 1955 Council in Lindsay was to authorize the Town Clerk to issue two cheques which totalled $19,966.38 as full payment to the Victoria oCunty High School Area Board in connection with the "one-mill" owed by the town for 1953, 1954 and 1955. This amounted to $13,566.04.

The second payment, for $6,400.34 was to the County of Victoria for the town's share of the $21,000 expansion to the Home For The Aged.

Mayor A. E. Hick reminded Council that the court of appeal, in connection with the one mill owing the HSA Board, had ruled that the town must pay, and that the $13,000 would bring the arrears account up to date. Arbitration proceedings have been authorized to determine the future of the one-mill levy which has been a contentious issue.

There was some discussion with regards to the Home For The Aged payment, as Mayor Hick felt that the County Council had not co-operated with the town when they were asked to defer this account to next year. He reminded members that the figure had not been set by County Council when the town struck its 1955 budget, and that when Lindsay was assessed for this $6,400.34 it had not been budgeted for.

"It seems to me," said His Worship, "that the county is always after the town to co-operate with them, and I feel that we always do. But this co-operation business should work both ways. We asked them to defer the assessment but they turned it down.

"It is not fair to the people of Lindsay to expect us to pay an assessment like this without our having planned and budgeted for it.

It was agreed that a letter would be sent with the payment to the County pointing out that the Town is of the opinion that County Council has been unfair in their dealings with Lindsay, and requested closer consideration and co-operation in the future in their dealings.

WHERE IT'S COMING FROM

Town Clerk W. R. Allely told "The Post" today that although the nearly $20,000 had not been budgeted for by Council, he did not expect there would be much of a problem in acquiring it.

Mr. Allely said that although he had no idea how much each of the town's accounts would have in their surplus by the end of the year, he estimated that they might total about $10,000 or more. He said that there is an accumulated town surplus of about $38,000 which can be used if necessary to pay the difference.

He also pointed out that at the end of 1954, the town's surplus was $48,000 but the tax rate had been reduced by one mill from this surplus.

Playing Hockey, Ice Gives Away

Tweed, Dec. 13—(BUP)—Two school boys who crashed through thin ice on a pond near Tweed, Ontario while playing hockey drowned last night before help could reach them.

Rescuers struggled for almost an hour to reach 11-year-old Peter Armstrong and 12-year-old John Ackey, who skated after a puck onto thin ice in the middle of the pond while playing hockey with half a dozen other youngsters.

The children were being supervised by their teacher, Marvin Walker, and he with the help of two other men were unable to rescue the boys with a rope and ladder. The ice continually collapsed under their weight.

The bodies of the boys were recovered in eight feet of water with grappling hooks a few minutes after they disappeared. Employees of the Department of Lands and Forests and a hydro crew tried for three hours to revive the boys but were unsuccessful.

Mr. Alex McLaren, who has been in the plumbing business in town, was chosen from the ten applicants for the positoin. His duties with the Lnidsay Fire Department will commence the first of the year.

It was pointed out that of the ten applicants, four were from out of town and were thus disqualified. Mr. McCrae said that it was a very close decision between Mr. McLaren and another man, but the fact that the man selected has had three years experience as a volunteer fireman, was what finally helped the committee make its decision.

Council was told that Mr. McLaren would discontinue his present work at the first of the year.

Mr and Mrs. Charles Cutts and family, who had been visiting Mr. Ernest Stacey, returned to their home in New Hamburg on Sunday.

Federation Speaker Declares Victoria County Farmers Enjoy World's Best Prices For Hogs

"We in Victoria county are now realizing the best prices for our hogs in the world . . . higher than any place in Ontario, Canada, and the world at large. Regardless of what commodity group or groups you belong to in the Federation, all should attend and vote on the issues at hand."

This statement was made by Mr. Charles Newton, a director of the Ontario Hog Producers Association who was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Victoria County Federation of Agriculture held in the Town Hall, Lindsay, on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Newton has farmed near Barrie and has had a wide experience in Agricultureal, Co-operative and Marketing Organizations.

Mr. Walter Reeds was chairman for the meeting. The minutes were passed in the ordinary way. The secretary's report and financial statement were given and discussion followed.

Mrs. Ross MacKay, Dunsford, chairman of the Women's Work reported that two well-attended meetings had been held. She is preparing now a constitution for Zone Four. She also suggested monthly meetings for the Executive of the Federation.

It was decided that a letter will be sent to Mr. Hugh Davidson, President of the Federation in condolence of the death of his mother.

Mr. Reid Roadhouse spoke of the work of the Farm Forums, stating that there are 11 active forums in the County. A motion was put through that expression of appreciation be made to Premier Frost for his support and help in revising and adding to the marketing legislation

Guest speaker F. C. Newton gave an instructive message, telling of the formation and development of the Hog Producers Association. He stated that the Victoria Hog Producers Asociation has made a grant to the Victoria Federation of Agriculture and that the Provincial Government has done a wonderful job in the Revision of The Farm Products Marketing Act.

"Through proper sales agency," he continued, "we are now realizing the best prices for our hogs in the world—higher than any place in Ontario, Canada and the world at large. Regardless of what Commodity group or groups you belong to in the Federation," advised Mr. Newton, "all should attend discussions and vote on issues at hand."

Mr. Clayton Taylor presided for the election of officers for 1956. The following slate were elected:

President—Hugh Davidson; Vice-Pres.—Grantin McKay, Executive Committee—Mrs. R. MacKay, Mrs. Reid Roadhouse; Directors — Roy Morrison, Glen Webster, Wallace Martin, Les Rae, Mrs. Cecil Black and Albert Clancy.

Other speakers were Mr. Worsley and Mr. LeRoy Brown, who gave explanations and suggestions regarding the work of the Federation and told of plans for activities for the coming months.

Our Own and Other Opinions

ARE WE INVITING TROUBLE BY BUILDING OUR SUPERHIGHWAYS?

These days when governments are talking about their progress in the construction of super highways it is interesting to note certain scientific findings coming to light in this connection.

A New York Times writer, Bert Pierce, has unearthed the following information relative to superhighways as revealed by United States' experience with them:

> The accident toll attributed to driver drowsiness is higher in the winter than in the summer. One of the main reasons for this is that car windows generally are kept closed on cold days and the warmth inside combined with lack of fresh air helps to dull the senses of the man behind the wheel and makes him more susceptible to fatigue on long trips. This is particularly true on turnpikes and superhighways, where there are few traffic lights and other elements that relieve monotony and require a driver to stay alert.
>
> Findings of the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administrators indicate that on the superhighways, where for mile after mile there is no variation in the traffic pattern, the driver often comes under a spell comparable to that exerted by a professional hypnotist.
>
> "The removal of hazards and the ease with which a motorist can speed along a modern highway have created the impression of monotony," Charles M. Noble, chief engineer of the New Jersey Turnpike says. "It might seem that unless obvious hazards exist to excite him, the driver will not be sufficiently stimulated to be alert or stay awake if tired."
> Mr. Noble adds that there is "every reason to suspect" that half of the fatal accidents on the New Jersey Turnpike in 1954 were the result of this dulling monotony."

Doesn't it appear as though our hard-earned money is being put to poor use if it is contributing to the construction of superhighways, if superhighways are contributing to accidents? Is it possible, too, that if some grandiose plans for the construction of further superhighways were shelved, Ontario's vehicular license fees could remain at the 1955 level? Surely no government would be so determined to pursue its plans if it has knowledge that they are not in the interests of the people.

Writing from personal experience, it is a fact that motoring on very straight stretches of improved highway right at our own back door has a mildly hypnotic effect. One becomes very relaxed driving at a good clip and drowsiness, especially after a day's work, is not unusual. There is something about a hilly, curving road (not necessarily excessively so) that keeps one alert and stimulates driver-interest.

A CORDIAL WELCOME TO CKLY LINDSAY

Last week at the Canadian Legion Hall an event occurred of historical interest to Lindsay. We refer to the opening of Lindsay's radio station which operates under the call letters of CKLY, is found at 910 on radio dials, and has a power of 1,000 wats.

In welcoming the radio station to our midst, we welcome the venture in more ways than one. We anticipate a good influence on the community resulting from its service in the field of communications. It will, we trust, have the effect of uniting the community to a degree greater than has been heretofore possible and make available a variety of entertainment in the home pleasing to the ear and beneficial to those within range of the radio station's programs.

The competitive spirit which it brings to the area business-wise is, we believe, in the best interests of the competitors. Anything which reasonably stimulates us to do our best is a desirable element and competition should do just that. Apathy, indifference and blind intolerance to mention but a few undesirable characteristics in the development of a community are not likely to find fertile soil in a healthy competitive atmosphere.

WHERE ARE THOSE FABULOUS WAGES WE HEAR SO MUCH ABOUT?

Whenever people start talking about United States and living conditions over there, the conversation generally gets around to wages before too long. It has been contended for many years that United States' working people are in a much higher income bracket than Canadians who earn their living by "the sweat of their brow."

An article appearing in "The New York Times" recently under the caption "Unemployed Find Aid Is Inadequate" reveals a few facts concerning the amount of remuneration received by a group of Pennsylvania working people which may give a new twist to future conversations along the line referred to above. Here are the pertinent excerpts from the article:

> "WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—A pilot study of a group receiving unemployment insurance showed that they had spent substantially more for food, shelter and other items in the family budget than they drew in benefits.
>
> "Duquesne University made the study of 400 beneficiaries in Pittsburgh in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security. The United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security financed the survey.
>
> "The 400 claimants in the study were receiving benefits under the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law. It provided a maximum payment of $30 a week when the study was made. The maximum there is now $35. One hundred of the claimants were single and 300 were members of four-person families. Two hundred and thirty were chief wage earners.
>
> "Almost all claimants reduced expenditures after they lost their jobs. The survey showed that the weekly benefit checks represented less than 60 per cent of these reduced expenditures for most single claimants and less than 45 per cent for most families when the chief wage earner was out of work..
>
> "Analysis of the Duquesne survey showed that before job loss, average weekly earnings of claimants before taxes had amounted to $63 for single individuals and $76 for main wage earners in four-person family groups. The average weekly earnings for all claimants was $71."

Have our conceptions of American wage standards been another case of "far away fields"?

A QUICK LOOK AT ... QUEEN'S PARK

From a syndicated article by Don O'Hearn, no CCFer incidentally, which appeared more or less fully in the Sudbury Star, the St. Catharines' Standard, The Oshawa Times-Journal, and other provincial papers.

Unless the Liberal party wakes up provincially it is going to die a slow death in the wake of the CCF. At least that is the opinion of some observers here.

It is nearly five months since the election, and there is no sign the shock of further defeat did anything substantial to awaken the party.

For the last half dozen years the Liberals have been in a comatose state, from which they have made some show of coming alive only at election times and other very rare intervals.

In between these very occasional signs of life they probably have been as dead a group as politics in this province has ever seen. As one example, in the whole life of the last Legislature there wasn't one opposition bill presented from the Liberal bench.

A check would probably show this is the only time in history there has been such a dismal record.

Premier Frost may keep the Conservatives in office in great strength, but it still is a question how far he would go without Alec MacKenzie and his professional organizers on Bay Street and the solid strength of the party's voluntary organization behind him.

Provincially the Liberals have no such organization which amounts to anything. They have some people supposed to be doing the work. But they are only going through the motions.

The CCF, in contrast, is a very lively party from the viewpoint one gets of its operations here.

This stems primarily from the activities of one man: leader Donald MacDonald. But nevertheless the picture is there.

The fact is that for a one-man show, Mr. MacDonald is carrying out a mammoth task.

He is organizer, leader and publicity man rolled into one. And he is doing such a good job that in each category he is doing better than the whole Liberal organization.

The buildings see a lot of Mr. MacDonald. The province sees a lot of him. And the press hears a lot from him.

He is always on the go, and he usually has a statement ready on any issue of importance.

The impression inevitably is left that the CCF is an active party, and this is going to win it votes. Votes which it will take from the Liberals.

EASY DOES IT!

We are now in the midst of that time of the year when nights are longest and days are shortest. We are also entering that season when spirits are high and we tend to become a little less careful when we move about absorbed with thoughts which pertain to the coming yuletide and distracted by the affairs of the moment. And with these things in mind an appeal is made to all who read this paper to take it just a little bit easier . . . . . try to avoid hurry when crossing streets, driving cars or engaged in any other activity which might in a moment of inattention have tragic consequences.

Haste is still the cause of much waste . . . Why be wastefully hasty when we can "Make haste slowly . . . " Easy does it!

LET'S DOUBLE UP NEXT YEAR!

It was a pretty cold afternoon for Lindsay's second Santa Claus parade but that didn't stop a big crowd from turning out to see it and to listen to the carol singing by the school children. Both the parade and the carol singing were enjoyable but there seemed to be a lack of audible appreciation from the spectators. Perhaps many thought it was too cold to indulge in applause, although dancing a little jig and slapping the hands together used to be considered ideal warming up exercise for those standing for some time in the cold.

Lindsay has a reputation for being somewhat undemonstrative while attending parades or other functions but we have never been convinced that this is because its people aren't appreciative spectators. We feel the problem is one of leadership . . . . they need to be encouraged to give expression to their appreciation. As you are aware, a good leader can make even an indifferent audience burst forth with a round of applause and we have seen this done so skilfully that we have, on occasion, found ourselves whacking our hands together enthusiastically despite the fact that we had just made up our minds the performance wasn't worth much physical exertion by way of appreciation.

In Saturday's carol singing demonstration and the parade there was plenty to commend . . . the floats, though few, were good; the bands were well turned out and playing uder the handicap of cold which is never too pleasant; Santa Claus was one of the best to be seen anywhere . . . and there's no doubt all those who took part would have appreciated a burst of applause to encourage them. Next year, all being well, let's double up on the applause to make up for any shortcomings this year . . . How about it?

MR. ATTLEE RETIRES

The retirement of Mr. Clement Attlee from the leadership of Britain's Labor Party brings to an end a most distinguished and useful career in politics. Without regard to party, all will hope that Mr. Attlee may enjoy many happy years of leisure. Bestowal of the earldom by Her Majesty is a richly deserved honor.

The new peer, as everyone knows, is a mild and modest man with no pretensions to Churchillian power as orator or leader of men. Yet he was Prime Minister of Britain for six years and the events of his term of office will forever be memorable.

He served Britain in both World Wars. In the first he was a soldier. In the second as Deputy Prime Minister, he was the right-hand man of Prime Minister Churchill. His great services in rallying the Labor Party and the workers of Britain to the cause of victory at all costs, and his good work as an administrator, were acknowledged by Sir Winston.

Then in 1945 he led his party to its first decisive success in a general election. In the next six years he conducted, or perhaps presided over, a social revolution which, whether one likes it or not, is embedded in the history of Britain and is irrevocable. It is to the eternal credit of Mr. Attlee that the great changes of that period were peaceful and parliamentary. He will be celebrated, too, by future historians, as the Prime Minister who gave independence to India and Pakistan.

As a political leader, his greatest achievement was the preservation of his party's unity. He was remarkably successful in keeping the wild men and the moderates in the same fold. It was a proof of the good sense of British Socialists that for twenty years they loyally accepted the leadership of Clement Attlee, a quiet and gentle man of good heart who was never a doctrinaire Marxist though always a champion of the ordinary man's right to a decent life. —The Globe and Mail.

2nd December 1955.

To The Editor,
The Lindsay Daily Post.
Dear Sir,

It was with interest that I read of the observance of Safe Driving Day in Lindsay. However, apparently the Safe Driving idea had not penetrated the heads of some of the drivers of dump trucks along the Peterborough Highway on the edge of town, who pursued their relentless dash up and down in order to chalk up as many loads as possible during the day. And whereas in town (according to the Lindsay Police) it was the care of the motorists which prevented accidents, on the Peterborough Highway at the present time (and for some months past), it has been the nimble footedness of the pedestrians which has kept down the number of accidents. It would, I feel sure, make most significant reading if it were possible to tote up the number of dogs and cats which have fallen prey to these truck drivers this year.

And while the Town of Lindsay was chalking up such a wonderful record, one of the worst pieces of bad driving was seen on the Peterborough Highway. Pulled to the proper side of the road, one car had been pushing another, and the front car having started, the two drivers got out, and with the help of a hitch hiker, were endeavouring to disconnect the two bumpers. A truck had come up behind the two cars, and as it was unable to pass because of another truck coming in the opposite direction, the truck driver pulled onto the shoulder of the road, on the inside of the two cars and started to pass. One of the car drivers, having disconnected the two bumpers, straightened up and stepped back to open the door of the car and stepped straight into the side of the truck. Fortunately the only damage was a patch of black grease and mud on the back of a coat, but had the driver stepped back a second sooner, the front of the truck would have hit him and injuries might well have been serious.

So, what I would like to know is, since when were truck drivers exempt from the most elementary rules of good driving; i.e. since when was it safe for a heavy truck to pass on the inside of cars stopped on the proper side of the highway, endangering persons who also are on the inside of the cars? Since when was it safe driving for any vehicle to do so? Were these drivers briefed on Safe Driving Day?

Just Another Driver,
Ola Mona.

English Goods

Many children are wearing what the English call the peajacket. They are warm and well-buttoned and ideal for our winters. More and more English clothes are coming into Canada and mothers find they get good quality and excellent durability in these coats from England. Many Canadian stores stock them and they are ideal for Canadian winters.

Start Early

Christmas is creeping up on us and every day we think we'll get started on those gifts. If you can't make up your mind about some on your list be sure and take a trip through our shops and you'll come up with just the right thing. Don't leave it too late or all the nice things will be gone. There is still time to do some knitting if you hurry. Better put on your goloshes for there is snow in the offing. Do not catch a cold and ruin a good Christmas.

Crocheted Gift

If there is a man on your list you might like to crochet a nice scarf for him. Instead of crocheting across, try crocheting lengthwise for a super scarf. Use a double crochet and put a fringe on each end. Make it all white or use color for the outside and white for the middle. If you want to go fancy you might like a striped scarf. Gloves can be crocheted using the "up and down" method. Make the little finger and thumb a darker shade to make a very attractive glove.

Inexpensive Decorations

If you are short on decorations for the Christmas tree try some multi-colored lifesavers strung on a string. The lights from the Christmas tree will make them sparkle. Let the children do it and they will like to be in on the decorations. Gay balls of yarn will add to the tree and especially bright colors. And don't overlook plastic straws for they can be made into all sorts of "curly-kews" for the tree or windows.

Christmas Tricks

Tinfoil can do wonders to help the glitter at Christmas. It not only does for wrapping but it can be used in little balls on the tree or cutouts will glitter on the tree or table. Line a small dish with foil and put a candle on top. You won't have to dig out the wax on your dish. But don't overlook the colored straws either for they really glow with a little light on them.

Getting Closer

Christmas carols are in the air and children can be heard singing them as they go to school. The junior classes get a real kick out of them and they don't confine their singing to their classrooms. We were wakened one morning with a reedy voice singing "Jolly Old St. Nicholas". It's a wonderful time of the year for holidays are in the offing also. Sunday school classes are getting ready for their concerts and people are shopping in every spare moment for Christmas. Our shops are taking on a real Christmas atmosphere and it is pleasant to shop with all the lovely decorations they have. Time flies so don't leave your gifts 'til the last and have to rush.

Popcorn Trees

Don't overlook the popcorn trees you can make for Christmas decorations. Even if junior nibbles on it, it will first serve its purpose as a decoration. There are ways and means to stick them together and cranberries can be used to decorate them with. The best way is to get the young fry interested and they can do a fine job with a little help. They taste just as well as they look.

Direct Line To Santa

One youngster has a wonderful time playing at the telephone, as he asks for Santa and then starts in on his long list. The dial phones are ideal for them for they can lift the receiver without annoying the operator and it amuses him for some time. The special little boy we are thinking of has ordered one of Santa's reindeers so we'll have to wait and see if he gets it.

Ways and Means

Freezers are such wonderful things and especially at this time of year yhen every woman is busy trying to shop and feed her family at the same time. She can cook things ahead of time and store it in the freezer for future use. The Christmas turkey may already be in the freezer all stuffed and ready to pop into the oven. Plum puddings taste better for standing a bit and the freezer will keep it as "fresh as a daisy" until you want to reheat it and serve. Christmas dinners have come a long way with the times and one doesn't have to wear themselves out on Christmasday if they do most of the work ahead of time. Enjoy Christmas this year and make it a real holiday for everyone including the cook.

Make It Easy

There should be some delicious ice-cream concoctions especially for Christmas this year. Ice-cream is glamorized now and there are some bricks you can buy that would be ideal to serve after the first course of turkey and all the trimmings. If you want a plum pudding by all means have one but don't feel you have to. Mince pie is nice but if you are counting the calories then eat sparingly or skip it for a few grapes or ice-cream. If you do have plum pudding for dessert, the ice-cream or waterice would come in handy for supper. Women do not slave like they used to for Christmas, so why not prepare ahead of time and whip things out and surprise your guests no end.

Winter Bulbs

Be sure and put some pebbles at the bottom of your plant when you are planting bulbs or other flowers. Some broken tile at the bottom does wonders for drainage. Don't force them too much or they will be tall and not as healthy as the shorter ones. If you have dwarf tulips you don't have to worry so much. If you space your planting you may have them well into spring.

Tuna and Potatoes

The next time you make scalloped potatoes, try adding flaked tuna for a super supper dish. It is mild and goes with potatoes like ham and eggs. If you are in a hurry you may boil the potatoes a little to soften them and from there on you need nly tuna and any flavorings you chose. It's a mild fish and even people who do not care for all kinds of fish like this dish. If you want it for supper you can use the left-over potates if you wish.

Throw Them Crumbs

The birds are still around and we saw six on a tree looking a bit on the frigid side, but very much alive. They didn't look at all starved, but very plump and contented. Don't forget to feed them or they may get mad and go south.

For Christmas Dinner

Christmas fowl is already on the market in some shops and from now on the poultry will be plentiful and you can pick and choose until you get just the kind you want. It may be turkey, chicken, duck or wild pheasant or partridge. The last three you'll have to get out of yur own freezer. Many hunters do keep their wild birds until Christmas, but most of us are satisfied to eat them while they are fresh. And some of us never are lucky and simply have to buy the Christmas meat from our shops. We tried to get some idea of the price fowl would be this Christmas but there was nothing definite as yet. We expect there will be lots of fowl for everyone

Santa Arrives

The Santa Claus Parade was a great success and the crowds thronged to get a good view of the lovely Christmas parade with its variety of clowns, skaters, majorettes that made it a real success. Everyone felt it was too short, but that was because it was so very good, they would have liked to see more. The clown was well done, but none of us could name him. It was very successful and old and young love a parade and especially at Christmas time.

Sleepy Cherub

One little girl at the parade nearly fell asleep. Her mother must have bundled her up and brought her there before she had her afternoon nap. Her pretty eyes were full of sleep and even Santa scarcely brought a smile to her face. Wait until she grows up and then she will really welcome Santa into our midst.

Christmas Travelling

Residents who are going out of town for Christmas will be anxious to have fine weather for their trip. Winter travelling is fine when the weatherman is kind, but it can be snowy and not so nice. It doesn't look now as if it will be too kind to motorists, but the weatherman may change that and bring us fine weather and especially no ice to contend with.

Household Hint

A bit of grated lemon rind in the pastry adds flavor to pumpkin, sweet potato, or carrot pie. Mix one-half teaspoon of the grated rind in with the shortening when making the pastry.

Attendance Of 115 At Baby Band Party

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —The Annual Baby Band party of Fenelon Falls United Church was held in the Sunday School Room, with an attendance of 115, which included mothers, their babies and interested friends.

Mrs. George Palmer, Baby Band superintendent, welcomed the guests and brought greetings from Mrs. Free, Presbyterial president and Mrs. O. Gorrell, Presbyterial Baby Band Secretary who were unable to be present. Mrs Palmer recommended that the mothers read World Friends, "It Takes Time to Grow" and "Toward a Friendlier World". She explained that the Mite box offerings this year will be a part of the $4,000 to be given by the United Church W.M.S. to the work among Canadian Indians.

As one busy mother to another, Mrs. Wm. Patterson spoke to the ladies in "A Mother's Duty Towards the Church". She urged the mothers to be more diligent in Church attendance, to plan their Sundays around the church servcie. "Do not send your husband and children go with them, and you will derive a most worthwhile uplift." She reminded mothers that their greatest influence is during the first ten years of a child's life, when it should be moulded in a pattern for good, "and remember", she concluded "the closer you get to Jesus the bigger He gets for you."

Mrs. Roy Jones thanked Mrs. Patterson for her encouraging uplifting talk. Mrs. Ruth Sims, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. Haney sang a lovely solo especially for the adults "In Shady Green Pastures" and later "Birds Are Singing" for the children.

Mrs. D. A. Scott, who has been interested in Baby Band work for many years and who organized the Band in Fenelon Falls, 19 years ago, with 24 babies enrolled spoke briefly stressing the importance of the Band and good beginnings, "Bring Up A Child in the Way he Should go and when he is old he will not depart from it". Mrs. Scott presented two Life Memberships, one to John Stanley Parkhouse in Germany, which was accepted by his grandmother, Mrs. W. B. Brandon and one to Nancy Anne Vanatter, which was accepted by her mother, Mrs. Jack Vanatter.

Fourteen little folk who graduated from Baby Band to Mission Band were presented with their certificates by Mrs Palmer and welcomed to Mission Band by Mrs. Wm. Allen. They were: Donna Lee Bryans, Bonnie Allen, Judith Styles, Ronald Eason, Nancy Jnes, Gloria Goodhand, Paul Ellery, Paul Griffin, Linda Palmer, Danny Yearwood, Judith Jones, Wesley McRobbie, Larry Dancey and Sharon Field.

Following the singing of a hymn Mrs. Earl Vanatter closed the party with prayer, after which a delicious lunch, with ice-cream for everyone was served by members of the Evening Auxiliary.

Must Consult Me, Says Mayor Of Raffles

A grave warning to the world is issued by famous scientist

Sees growing population threat paralleling bomb

A famous scientist has issued a warning to the world

Dr. Vannevar Bush says men must learn to hold down the population of the world. Even if man manages to avoid nuclear and biological warfare, says the scientist, man still is headed for "catastrophe" unless serious thought is given to the ever-increasing population. He may have enough power supply, but the food supply is another matter.

It has been estimated that at present rates the world's population, now two-and-one-half-billion, will hit five-billion in another 50-years.

Bush issued his warning in his last annual report as president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Premier Frost Officially Opens Lindsay's Radio Station CKLY

Premier Leslie M. Frost officially opened Lindsay's new radio station CKLY Thursday evening in ceremonies at the Legion Auditorium. He congratulated the Gregory family at some length, and especially the president of Greg-May Broadcasting, Mr. Neill Gregory, who introduced him.

Bringing greetings from the Lindsay Ministerial Association was Rev. S. D. France, of the Cambridge Street Baptist Church; from the Town of Lindsay, Mayor A. E. Hick; from the County of Victoria, Warden Sherman Moore; as the Federal representative of Victoria-Haliburton, Clayton Hodgson, from Canadian General Electric, G. Flood and Monsignor McAuley, of St. Mary's Church, who summarized in pleasing manner what he believed and hoped would be the role of a radio station in the community.

The entire show, the first live remote control broadcast of the station, was cordially emceed by co-owner Herb May, with the assistance of Jaff Ford, efficient programme director, Ralph Errington, announcer, and Bill Gregory, engineer.

Entertainment was provided during the course of the evening by Malcolm Bradt and his Kawartha Rangers, with June Marshall; Francis Taylor, Tony Diepbrink, Edgar Smith, William Perry and Margaret Wilkinson. Miss Wilkinson and Mrs. Laura Wheldon acted as accompanists during the evening.

Numerous congratulatory telegrams were received and read from the former broadcasting associates of Mr. May and Mr. Ford.

On behalf of the management and staff of CKLY, Mr. Bill Gregory presented Premier and Mrs. Frost with a portable radio.

The official opening ceremonies climaxed introductory events which have marked the advent of the radio station at Lindsay. Last Saturday afternoon an estimated 1,000 people are reported by station officials to have made a tour of the broadcasting studios. A highlight of this occasion was the receipt of a beautiful Christmas corsage from the Parish Workers of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lindsay.

Uranium fever is spreading through the Kuskville, Quebec, area. Hundreds of prospectors roamed some 27-thousand acres with ticking Geiger counters. Officials in the staking area — about 30 miles northwest of Ottawa — say many of the claims will yield fruitful quantities of uranium. —BUP

Touch of Humour

"It ain't necessarily so!"

A touch of humour was unintentionally injected into the radio station opening ceremonies here last week. After Premier Leslie Frost had finished delivering his address which was a pot-pourri of science, eulogies and politics, Mr. Francis Taylor sang "It ain't necessarily so!" Mr. Frost was featured speaker at the official opening of Lindsay's radio station CKLY.

Mr. Allan Gillis Discussion Leader

Powles Corner (PNS) — Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. Oscar Brokenshire, the topic for discussion was "Is local government effective"?

Mr. Allan Gillis as discussion leader asked the question "Do you think local government in rural areas is serving any useful purpose today and why?" As the local government includes school boards, townships, counties, etc., the forums impression was "that if it was not active in the community all that friendly spirit would be entirely lost, and our young people travel to other interests".

Violet McNeil

Haliburton (PNS) —The funeral of the late Mrs. Violet McNeil of Fenelon Falls was held on Friday from the Baptist Church, Highland St., Haliburton.

Mrs. McNeil was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs Ephriam Parish pioneer settlers in East Haliburton. Formerly Violet Parish she was born and raised in Haliburton.

She spent her married life in Fenelon Falls. She was a loving and kind mother, fond of her home and she lived a quiet life. Her long illness was borne with patience and she passed away peacefully.

Rev. W. J. Robertson of the Haliburton Baptist Church conducted the funeral service and spoke on "In my Father's house are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you".

The late Mrs. McNeil leaves behind two daughters to mourn her loss. Flowers sent were beautiful and bore messages of love and sympathy. Her brothers were Messrs. Charles and Eddie Parish who also survive. The funeral was well-attended and the remains were laid to rest in the Haliburton Evergreen cemetery.

Street corner "dis-chord"

Racket, some call it, while more polite Describe it as "cacophony of sound"

"Cacophony of sound," was the way one confused person described the intersection of Kent and William Sts. at noon Thursday.

What stirred the remark, he said, was the collection of many sounds that were being hurled at him from several directions. Four loudspeakers on the hydro poles at the corners were blasting forth Christmas carols, at a volume loud enough to almost deaden any auto horn that might be sounded, and another large speaker suspended in the doorway of Lindsay Hardware pouring forth "dulcet pear-shaped tones" of CKLY, at an equally high volume.

He said it was not too clear in his mind exactly what was going on, "since the organ and chimes of the carols did not seem to blend too sweetly with the "rock and roll" and the twang of a guitar."

One lady, who was attempting to cross the intersection appeared to be somewhat confused, as when she had reached about the halfway point, the "music" ceased, and a loud voice said "STOP" and then continued on with a commercial. At that one point, possibly due to the reflection of sound off the buildings, it was impossible to tell where the sound was coming from, and thus it seemed that the lady thought she was being called to by a police officer or by someone warning her of some hazard.

One office worker said that she was finding the "racket" was affecting her work, since she can't concentrate on business and still be pummelled with a mixture of 'sacred and profane" music coming into the building.

The opinion of some people near the corner was that "everybody likes some Christmas music at the appropriate times, but not when it is hurled at you in opposition to other forms of music."

"We'll be (nearly?) Home For Christmas," Lindsay's Assessor Writes From London, Eng.

"We'll be (nearly?) home for Christmas," says Lindsay's Assessment Commissioner Harold Baty who wrote a letter this week to "The Post" telling of some of the activities he and his wife have entered into, and some of the sights they have seen while Mr. Baty is enjoying a three-month leave of absence in the United Kingdom. Mr. and Mrs. Baty will be arriving in New York on December 23rd aboard the Saxonia.

Here is Mr. Baty's letter:

London, England
29 November, 1955

Hello There,

I suppose you had about given me up as hopeless. Well I had not forgotten, but as you may well imagine we have had a pretty hectic time. We have in fact covered some 1,600 miles by car visiting in Essex, Rutland and Sussex. And of course we have done the rounds in Good Old London Town. So far we have seen 6 theatres and only one was below par.

"On Thursday we leave for a week in Devon and then back to London for our last week and three more shows. We learned only yesterday that our sailing on the 21st Dec., has been cancelled because one of the ships has been taken out of service so now we are bookd on the new "Saxonia" to sail on the 15th. Dec.—one week ahead of time. Most disappointing since we were looking forward to having Christmas on bard—now we arrive in New York on 23rd. Dec.

The weather has been just wonderful, only two days or part-days since we landed and I see in the press today, a drought has been declared, i.e. 15 days without rain. The fields are wonderfully green and the trees only shed their leaves last week.

We had the pleasure of lunch with Major Armstrong, the Agent General and his wife, two weeks ago. I attended the Building Trades Exhibition last week—most interesting.

Things in general are most certainly humming over here. Building of homes and office buildings and factories is at a high level. There is a general tendency to decentralize from London. On the whole there does not appear to be much change in London.

We are enjoying the wonderful facilities and helpfulness of the English Speaking Union Club. They have grand premises at Dartmouth and Concord Houses in Charles St. in the West End—most convenient. I have also had the pleasure of attending a number of Rotary Clubs in different parts.

I trust all goes well and quietly in the Old Home Town and that it will not be too cold by the time we get back. My wife is making slow but steady progress. My kind regards and best wishes for Christmas to all.

Sincerely,
Harold B.

Earl Kennedy Is Commended For Carol Broadcast Here

Mr. Earl Kennedy of Earl Kennedy Electric is the recipient of many compliments for his contribution to the carolling broadcast service at Kent and William Sts. Many of these compliments were inadvertently overheard while attending the official opening ceremonies of radio station CKLY, Lindsay, last week. Mr. Kennedy has in years past, been responsible for installing the oft-praised carol broadcast system at St. Paul's Anglican Church

Incidently, a mutual arrangement seems to be working out in Lindsay's downtown area now in connection with the timing of loudspeaker transmissions. Thursday Lindsay Hardware Store and the Earl Kennedy broadcasts vied for positions in hearer's ears with a cross-fire o "rock and roll" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing". Alternation seems to be the order now.

Magistrate Ponders The Fate Of Youths Who Appeared On Attempted Theft Charge

Judgment was reserved until a later date on three Lindsay youths who appeared before Magistrate R. I. Moore on Friday charged with attempted car theft. One had pleaded guilty to the charge while the other two said they were not guilty.

According to a statement given police by the youth who elected to plead guilty, he and the two charged with him had attempted to steal a car from Victoria Motor Sales on William St. S., after he had told his friends that it was necessary for him to get to Toronto to report to the parole officer. He said that one of the group stood on the sidewalk while he and the other tried to start a car by means of tinfoil on the ignition wires. He testified that they started the car once, but that it stalled and they were unable to get it started again.

A Crown witness told the Court that he, in company with the brother of one of the accused, had seen them at the car lot and warned them away. He said that he later followed them in his car and saw them at the Graydon King used car lot on Victoria Ave. N., and yet later on Kent St, near the hospital.

Another witness, a girl, who said she was the girl-friend of the youth who pleaded guilty, stated that the trio had planned on stealing a car while sitting in a local restaurant on the night in question, but that she was not with them when the alleged actions took place

The trio each had independent trials, although one was called to testify in each case.

Another youth, who also is on parole, told the Court he was unemployed because he had been fired from a local plant when the management learned he had a record. However, Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan disproved this when he showed that the accused had falsified records when he had obtained employment and the firm had later discovered this.

The same accused also denied the evidence given against him by the Crown witnesses and as His Worship pointed out tried everything possible to shift all the blame on the youth who had pleaded guilty and who "was taking the rap for the bunch."

Magistrate Moore listened to the pleas of defense counsels M. J. Cunningham and I. E. Weldon and commented that he was very reluctant to find any of the accused guilty since they would have to serve out the jail terms for which they were on parole.

One of the accused was demanded out of custody, and the other two will be kept in custody until next Friday.

Agree To Sell Parks Land At $35 Foot

Sewage Works To Be 80% Responsibility Of High School Bd.

After another discussion which lasted almost an hour in an effort to get the correct wording for a motion, Lindsay's Council this week agreed on the terms by which they would sell a specified portion of land to the Victoria County High School Area Board for expansion of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

It was agreed, on motion of Alderman Breese, that the town sell to the HSA a portion of land extending 45 feet north on the Adelaide St. frontage. This 45 feet is to include the 12 feet of park property already built upon by the High School, and to extend approximately 300 feet easterly to the property line on the campus. The 45-foot frontage will be sold to the Board at $35 per foot.

On the matter of the $6,600. sewage work which will be required, it was agreed that the HSA should pay 80 percent of the cost and the town to pay the balance, with the right to have this sewer available for town's use at any time. It was pointed out in the motion that the construction of the new building and any other work was all subject to the rider that "providing this allow for suitable economic construction."

Alderman B. C. Maidens told Council that he would have nothing to do with the whole thing unless a formal agreement was drawn up by the town solicitor to cover the matter.

"We'll have another 'one-mill case' on our hands if we're not careful. We want to be sure that no other part of Kawartha Park is used, that the park is not used for truck passage during construction, and other points. Everything should be in writing. We've had far too much trouble with verbal agreements."

It was agreed by Council that an agreement would be drawn up covering all the stipulations, and would be presented to the High School Area Board.

Manilla Minuettes Meet At Home Of Melva Philp

The second meeting of the "Manilla Menuettes" was held at the home of Melva Philp, and opened by repeating the verse on the front of the members' pamphlets. The roll call was answered by a good food habit.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Isobel Stevenson invited the girls to her home for the next meeting.

Mrs. Wilson led in an informative discussion on milk, meat and meat alternates. Mrs. Lawton demonstrated how to make cream of tomato soup, supper dish and white sauce. Everyone did what they could to help get it ready and everyone enjoyed eating it.

All were pleased to welcome four new members from Cresswell at this meeting. The meeting closed by all repeating the Mizpah Benediction. Mrs. Philp served a dainty luncheon of cookies and tea.

Mayor A. E. Hick alleged Friday there are raffle tickets on sale in Lindsay in many prominent places, which are allegedly being sold illegally. He alleged that one Look in a local business place was selling tickets for a turkey. His Worship stated that the organization which was offering the tickets, had not obtained the permission of the Mayor, which, he says, must be done, according to the Criminal Code.

It was learned that the Code provides that no raffles of merchandise for a charitable purpose with the value of the merchandise being over $50 may be held without the articles first having been offered for sale, and without the permission of the Mayor being given.

Mayor Hick pointed out that only once or twice has he given permission for such raffles, and in the case in question, he had not been consulted.

The organization which is allegedly offering the tickets for sale is a highly reputable unit within the town. The mayor said he felt those responsible might be unaware of the requirements of the law in this connection.

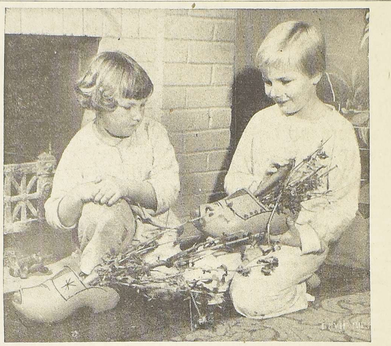
St. Nicholas Calls



Tuesday night was one to remember for children in Montreal's Dutch community. It was the night when St. Nicholas calls to place toys in the wooden shoes of good children. Heather Jean Rodney get their shoes ready and bait them.

Here Paula Karpas, 4, assures St. Nicholas that she has been "very, very good".

Accidental Death, No Blame Attached Urge Improvement

"I would suggest that the blame for the death of John Patterson rests on those responsible for not providing adequate street lighting in their town."

This comment was made by Crown Attorney J. A. Bradshaw of Peterborough when he was addressing the coroner's jury Tuesday night in Lindsay, which was inquiring into the death of Mr. Patterson on November 25th, when he was struck by a car driven by Miss Ola Cook at the corner of Kent St. W. and Sussex.

The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death and attached no blame either to the driver of the car nor to the deceased. They brought in a strong recommendation that the lighting on Lindsay's streets be improved. The jury agreed with the further suggestion of Mr. Bradshaw that the emergency was not created by any individual.

Those who gave testimony at the inquest included Mr. Stan Bright, Lindsay photographer who took a series of pictures of the area where the accident occurred, PC Wm. Mosley, who investigated, Chief John Hunter, Miss Curtis, who was a passenger in the car, Mrs. Patterson, widow of the deceased, Miss Cook, driver of the car, and Mr. Percy Mark, who told of a strret lighting survey made in 1951.

Dr. W. R. Crowe was coroner, and Mr. Bradshaw acted in place of Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan.

Free Parking Idea Poses Problems--Merchants

Fears Predominate Among Some Surveyed On The Suggestion

Some Feel Store Staff Would Gobble Up Space

Many of Lindsay's merchants have expressed the opinion that the suggestion of free parking on Kent St. would have its purpose defeated by the merchants and their employees themselves by parking all day and preventing others from taking advantage of the opportunity.

A check made Thurs. by "The Post" indicated that the storekeepers were very interested in the suggestion, and most of them had definite opinions to offer.

Mr. GORDON MAYES, (Neill's Shoes) "I feel the plan would hinder shoppers rather than help them. The idea in itself is good and I would like to see it tried but not at Christmas.

Mr. KEN JOHNSON, (Johnson Jewelery) "The idea would not alleviate the parking situation one bit. Parking meters are installed to relieve the Kent St. situation, and there would be nothing but confusion if they were not in use. I also think that every clerk who has a car would park on the street at nine in the morning and stay there all day. I am not in favour of the plan.

I also think that the $10,000 parking meter revenue should be used for the motorists for new parking lots. The money should not go in the town general fund, for if the motorists money had been set aside, there would be no need to issue debentures to build the parking lots. With these lots, meters would hardly be necessary on Kent St."

Mr. PHIL RANSON (Crest Hardware) I believe the privilege would be abused by people, particularly the merchants, taking up a parking space all day. I don't think it's a very good idea."

JOSEPH LEITH (Leith Shoes) "Provided the storekeepers don't take up all the space, it might be a very good idea to try out. It's a very nice gesture too."

M. COURTEMANCHE (Court's Music Centre) "It certainly would show the Christmas spirit, but would the people be happy when they can't find a place to park?"

Mrs. M. JACOBS (Jackson's Dept. Store) "If people use their discretion about parking, I would be in favour of it. It would show a very nice feeling on the part of the town at Christmas time."

Mr. HILL (Leslie's Shoes) "It's an experiment that might prove interesting, provided the merchants and their employees didn't take up the spaces all day. I think it might be good to try out.

The suggestion, which was put forth by Alderman B. C. Maidens from a "Post" editorial, will be discussed further at next Monday's meeting of the Council committees, and it is expected a decision will be made at that time.

Fifty-Fourth Wedding Anniversary Celebrated By Bethany Couple

Bethany (PNS) — Mr. and Mrs. Alex. H. Monk celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary and during the day were guests with their eldest son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Monk, of 190 Dumble Ave. in Peterboro. Flowers, gifts and many cards were received to commemorate the happy occasion.

In 1901, the Rev. Thomas Brown performed the ceremony which united in marriage Alexander H. Monk of Fleetwood and Ethel M. Howden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howden, of Bethany. Miss Luella Howden was bridesmaid for her sister and Arthur Mayes of Lindsay was the groomsman.

Recalling their wedding day, Mrs. Monk says it was cold and blustery with snow piled high in drifts, and for a time it was feared that the groom, who was driving the six miles from Fleetwood by horse and cutter, might not be able to get through. The train carrying guests from Lindsay and Omemee was delayed by the storm.

Their first home was on a farm in the vicinity of Fleetwood. Later, they moved to Bethany where Mr. Monk was employed as fireman in a sawmill, long since torn down, which was operated by Ross Staples, Frank Galbraith and L. Hartley. He recalls that at the time, 75 cents was considered a good wage for a day's work.

In 1910, Mr. Monk went into business for himself and opened a harness, boot and shoe repair shop. Forty-five years later, he is still actively engaged in the same business, and for the past 10 years has been the local agent for Colonial Coach Lines.

He has been widely known as a local preacher, Sunday School superintendent and Bible Class teacher in the United church for over 30 years. He is the present truant officer for the schools of Manvers township and for several terms he served on the local school board as secretary-treasurer. He is also an active member of the Bethany Community Band.

Through the years, Mrs. Monk has shared her husband's interests, daily assisting in his store. A devoted wife and mother, she has also found time for many community activities including that of president and secretary of the W.I.; president of the W. A. of the United church and a teacher in the Sunday School. She is also a life member of the W. M. S.

It is regrettable, that illness during the past year has forced her to discontinue many activities outside her home.

Four sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Monk. Bertrand, the eldest, resides in Peterborough and represents a well-known milling company; Harold, the second son, has been manager for 29 years of the Grand River Branch of a Detroit Hardware company. A veteran of the last war, he served for three years with the American army in Africa and Italy. Roy, the third son is a farmer in the Sunderland area, and Karl, the youngest, chose radio for his vocation, and for some time was associated with CHEX in Peterborough. He is at present, Manager of the Sarnia radio station.

Bethany and community are pleased to add their congratulations on this occasion.

S. R. Pitts Is Appointed To High School Area Bd., Was Its One-Time Critic

After a complicated vote, members of Lindsay's Council have agreed that Mr. S. R. Pitts will represent them for the next three years on the Victoria County High School Area Board. Mr. J. W. Deyell retired this year after completing 18 years' service to the town on that Board. Mr. Pitts was the man who severely criticized the HSA this year during teachers' wage negotians and took the board to task for providing what was labelled as elaborate equipment for Home Economics training.

After the first reading of the by-law to provide for an appointment to the HSA, Deputy-reeve Ada Greaves immediately nominated Mr. Pitts, which was seconded by Alderman Holtom.

Alderman Breese made an amendment to the motion nominating Mr. Tom Quinn to the position This was seconded by Alderman Lamb.

Mayor A. E. Hick proposed retiring Alderman J. A. Harrigan, who declined, saying that he would not have the time to serve, and that he was of the conviction that the person selected to serve should be someone who has children attending the High School.

With Reeve Richard Butler in the chair for the second reading and the vote on the amendment and the motion, he called for a show of hands which was found to be confusing, so he ordered a standing vote.

Voting on the amendment, it was found that four members favoured Mr. Quinn and four opposed. Mr. Butler then cast his vote in opposition, thus defeating the amendment.

Voting next on the original motion for Mr. Pitts' appointment, the entire Council arose in favour. Mayor Hick pointed out that it was in order for those who voted in favour of a defeated amendment to vote for the original motion.

Miss Greaves said that Mr. Pitts had told her earlier that he was willing to serve on the Board if he was appointed.

Some members appeared undecided as to how they would cast their vote, and two of them decided by a toss of a coin.

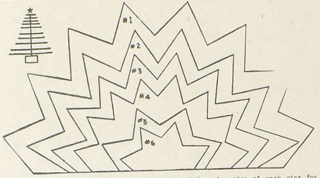
CHRISTMAS in CRINOLINE

WHAT is the well dressed Christmas tree wearing this year? Here's a suggestion for a decorative miniature—crinoline. Construction details are as follows:

Materials: 1 yard white crinoline; 1 white candle (8 inches long); 1 candlestick holder; 1 box small gummed colored stars; 2—2-inch gummed stars.

Trace each star from half-patterns below. Cut full stars from crinoline. Cut two each of Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5; one each of 2 and 6. (Additional cuts, large or small, may be added as desired in keeping with symmetry. Sufficient material is specified for a number of extras or for use with a larger candle.)



Cut circular holes at center of each star for mounting on candle. Keep these holes slightly smaller than diameter of candle at point at which they are to be placed.

String crinoline stars on candle, starting by fitting largest on first (slide stars down from top). Graduate sizes to smallest at top.

Paste large colored paper stars together over wick at top. Red, green, gold or silver stars are suggested. Denote with small stars.

Remember, only a half-pattern for crinoline stars is given here. You may wish to cut complete paper patterns of stars first and copy these on material before cutting.

Entire tree may be made from paper if so desired. Substitute paper tube for candle.

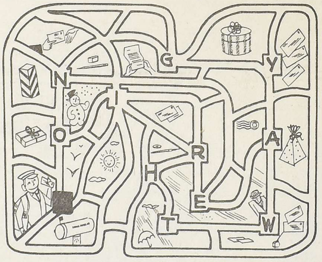
Give Your Tongue a Test

Santa's sporty souped up sleigh suddenly slipped sideways.

ONE RIGHT WAY TO COVER IT



THERE are twelve stops on Ira B. Happy's mail route and they are miles apart, up hill and down dale. Their relative positions are indicated roughly on the map above.

Mr. Happy must follow the exact route prescribed by postal authorities. This route is the best and fastest, if not the shortest, to visit each of the twelve places. Mr. Happy often remarks that there is only one right way to do a thing, which may give you a clue to the route he follows.

Starting at the black square at lower left, go to each stop only once and along roads that do not cross each other and spell out the route the mailman takes.

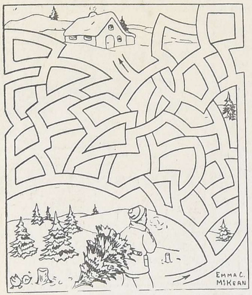
Answer: Mr. Happy begins at the black spot and makes the stops in the order that spells out "One right way."

Sweet Thought

MINE host was mixing a chocolate drink. One cup had three ounces of milk, the other three ounces of chocolate syrup. Mine host transferred one ounce of the syrup to the milk cup and mixed well. Then he transferred one ounce of this mixture back into the goblet of syrup. Now which cup had the most of its original contents?

Answer: Each cup had an equal amount of its original contents.

HE'S HEADING FOR HOME



ONE thing those who venture forth to cut down their own Christmas tree must remember is not to get lost. The woodsman above, for instance, is now attempting to find a path that will lead him home. Which path must he choose and how long will it take him to find it? That is for you to decide.

Arrows show where to start and finish the journey.

Puzzles & Pastimes

Testing Your Get-Up-and-Go Sense

YOU'VE started from home to Grandma's, a distance of 10 miles. Half way, you note you have averaged 30 mph., and realize you must speed up the old bus to keep your appointment for dinner. At what rate must you travel the rest of the trip to average 60 mph.?

Answer: It requires 10 minutes to go the first five miles. To go 10 miles at 60 mph requires 10 minutes. So you CAN'T average that rate.

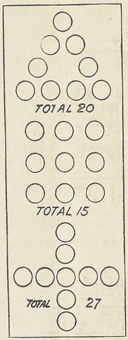
9 on a Match



LET'S suppose that each of the figures above represents a set of Christmas tree lights. In order for each set to light, the bulbs therein must be placed in a certain order. Bulbs in each set are numbered from 1 to 9 inclusive. In the triangular set, they must be placed so that their numerals will add up alike on all sides of the triangle. In the square set they must add up alike in rows, columns and diagonals. In the cross, they must add up alike from top to bottom and from side to side, although in this instance some of the bulbs are interchangeable.

Totals are indicated.

Answer: Triangle—at peak 5, and around the three sides clockwise, 7 6 2 9 1 8 4 and 3. Square—top row, 8 1 6; middle row, 3 5 7; bottom, 4 9 2. Cross—horizontal 3 6 9 7 2; vertical 6 4 9 8 1. Other answers are possible.

Magic You Can Do

PLACE two small stacks of cards on a table—one containing four 7's; the other, a collection of seven miscellaneous cards. Ask a friend to select and examine one of the stacks while your back is turned.

Wait for him to state that he is ready. Then, faking a short period of mental anguish, inform him that he has selected the "7 pile."

Whichever pile he has chosen your statement is correct.

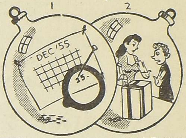
Yuletide Party Perkers



THOSE who are preparing a list of Christmas games may wish to add the following. These are games that take some slight advance preparation.

1. Ring the Date: A page from the calendar—the month of December—is needed for this game. Pin or tape it to a piece of wood or wallboard. Insert a large hatpin or nail in December 25. Stand or suspend the board in a convenient spot and have guests throw jar rings to ring the date from 6 to 8 feet away. Each guest is given five rings.

2. White Elephant Gift Swap: Ask each guest to bring something he does not want, wrapped as a gift. It might be a last year's gift for instance. Gifts are stacked and guests asked to make a selection. If, upon opening a gift, guest finds he cannot use it, he may rewrap same and swap again.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE SOLUTION

SHORT SHORT STORY

A Haven For Mannie

By

ANNA E. WILSON

WIND, broad-shouldered Joel said, was just air in motion; all wind was the same. But Mannie, putting a tired hand to her head, pressing it against that spot of pain above her eye, decided that Joel must be wrong. There were all kinds of wind; but the worst was this wind that blew for days until it got into your head and burned a tight band about your forehead.

Joel came in to dinner. "It must let up soon, Mannie. It's never blown this long before."

"It'll never stop, Joel."

3-Minute Fiction

Joel's kind, blunt face looked worried. "We've got a good start here, Mannie. You like it here when the wind doesn't blow. Maybe running away isn't the solution. Maybe any other kind of life would have drawbacks too, Mannie. Seems like we might find a better way."

"You can't stop the wind, Joel."

When Joel had gone, Mannie washed the dishes, the pain above her eye becoming each moment more unbearable. She reached for an aspirin, thinking of Joel, and stopped. It did no good to say the wind wouldn't blow tomorrow, there'd be the next year and the next.

Joel could sell the ranch and get work in a factory. She could see him in 15 years, his shoulders stooped, his hair thinner and the swing gone from his walk.

Joel wouldn't blame her, but he wouldn't be happy. Joel would never be happy anywhere away from the prairie. That was what made it so hard, so impossible for her.

She looked out and nowhere was there anything but sameness, nowhere except that old bluff, bordering Dead Man's canyon, a deep cleft sheltering a slough.

ROANIE was surprised at being saddled so early in the day. He jumped as spurs dug into him and he swung around and headed into the wind. When Mannie came to the bluff she reined in Roanie and sat looking down into the canyon. It was narrow, steep with few footholds.

She slid down from Roanie and looked down to where a thin sliver of light, water, was barely visible—it was quiet down there—the wind could never reach you. She began to climb down, her feet slipping on the shale and stone. She rolled down the last 20 feet ignominiously.

She lay quiet on a tiny beach, relief seeping through her. The sun was warm and she relaxed and slept, like a limp rag on the sand.

WHEN she woke clean-eyed, clear-headed, the sun was slanting against the wall. It was time to get back. She could stand the wind now; she could stand anything. She glanced upwards and caught her breath. Nowhere was there a single foothold.

She proceeded cautiously, examining the walls, coming at last to a shelving cave. Above the entrance was printed in rough letters: Windhaven.

Joel would never be happy away from the prairie.

Windhaven. Someone had been here before her. Someone had come here to escape from the wind, just as she had come.

She advanced farther into the cave and her foot struck a light object—a comb that some woman might have worn. If a woman had come here years ago, she must have had some way of getting back. Mannie hunted furiously.

It was simple when she found it. A rough hair rope, hidden by the side of the boulder, exactly the same color as rock and shale. She seized it eagerly and began to climb. She reached the rope's end and found it anchored securely by a huge rock, invisible to those above. She pulled herself over the rim of the canyon. She heard a nicker farther along and rounded a curve to find Roanie grazing.

She rode him with the wind behind her—but it was no longer a fearsome thing, something from which there was no escape but in flight. Windhaven—she had only to climb down the canyon to sleep securely on the small, dry beach. Why they could spend whole days there, she and Joel.

Disgrace To Ask Police Staff To Work For $25 Weekly--Ald.

Ald. J. A. Harrigan says he thinks it is a disgrace to expect a person to accept a responsible position in Lindsay's police department at $25 a week. His observation resulted in authorization being granted Ald. Maidens to make salary adjustments to three junior members of the force. Chairman Maidens stated that he expects to be able to make some suitable adjustments in that division when the budget for 1956 is prepared.

ONE WAY STREETS

Reeve R. Butler asked alderman Maidens what the reaction has been to the one-way streets on Ridout and Kent E. and he was told that there have been some complaints from this in the district, and that there has been one letter received. It was decided that anything further on the question would be referred to next year's Council.

"Open Houses" Set Record In Lindsay

Something of a record in "Open Houses" was established in Lindsay this week . . . three of them. The third and the one which has not been mentioned until this moment is that of "Fred Smith Appliances" on Lindsay Street south.

Mr. Smith says he would like as many people as possible come and see a shirt ironed blindfolded in three minutes flat ready to be tucked away in the dresser drawer or handed to "Dad" so he can put on a fresh front at the office. Also of interest to homeowners will be the presence of Mr. Geo. Simmons of Coleman heating equipment who, Mr. Smith says, will be pleased to discuss heating problems.

The other two open houses are being held at Hick's Flowerland today and the one marking the opening of Lindsay's new radio station.

This Isn't Santa Claus, But . . . .

No, this isn't Santa Claus, but if he succeeds in his current efforts, he may play Santa Claus. His name, well it's Mr. J. F. Belz, and he's 82 years of adventuresome manhood. Aided by his years of perserverence, Mr. Belz is very active uranium prospecting about two miles north of Gooderham, and from the benign expression on his face it can be seen that he is quite happy about the semi-hermit life he has been leading there for the past two years. The other day Mr. Belz made one of his rare visits to Lindsay to purchase some clothing, but before hurrying back to his lonely cabin, dropped into the offices of "The Post" to have his picture taken. When asked about his white, flowing beard, Mr. Belz said that he started it about 15 years ago, and that it grew for 13 months and then stopped. Asked why he grew the beard, he simply replied, "I just got tired of shaving." Mr. Belz is a native of Lapeer, Michigan, but he says that for some years he was a milkman in Detroit. He later bought a farm at Oakland, Mich. and he and his wife raised a famliy of 10 children. Misfortune struck the farm, after they had worked it for 26 years, when he related, taxes were increased from $25 to $1,870 since 1927. He then sold off most of the land to pay taxes and gave the balance to six of his children. "I haven't seen a doctor in over 40 years, and I'm as healthy as a horse," says Mr. Belz. "My cabin, which is on the two lots I bought in Monmouth Township, is 26 x 18 and during the winter I spend much much of my free time reading books." Asked about his philosophy of life, Mr. Belz says he has none. "I just take what comes. I smoked for 40 years, but one night it made me dizzy so I quit. I take the occasional glass of beer, once or twice a year. That's about all I ever have time for, since it looks like I'm on the verge of a good uranium strike." Mr. Belz states that he firmly believes his work will pay off soon, as he has some people very interested in his land.

Epidemic Hits Lindsay Area!

Club Members Most Susceptible--RMH

An epidemic has struck the Lindsay area! . . .

But wonder of wonders, although it is contagious, its effects are reported to be good instead of harmful. The epidemic is called "hospital improvement fever" and hospital authorities say those most prone to the disease seem to be members of service clubs and organizations.

Latest organization to be "bitten by the bug" is the Lady Hughes Chapter IODE who have completed two projects at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

About one month ago, the chapter decorated an upstairs room, not only repainting the walls and ceiling, but providing new drapes, and are now waiting to have the floors done. The same chapter has also painted the children's ward in attractive pink shades.

Members have also donated a chrome kindergarten set with matching musical rockers.

Hospital Administrator Norman Mutter has stated that the RMH's Board of Governors are appreciative almost beyond words for the fine work done by this and other local groups members of which have taken over and are making the redecoration of the hospital a personal thing, which they have felt was needed for the comfort of those who must be confined there for awhile.

A Russian radio broadcast says Soviet scientists have detected signs of thunderstorms on the planet Jupiter.

Plans For Christmas Arranged By Queen St. Evening Auxiliary

Mrs. F. A. Codlin opened her home on Lindsay Street South for the regular meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of Queen Street United Church.

The president, Mrs. Louis Johnston opened the meeting, the members' purpose being repeated in unison and followed by the singing of "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life". Mrs. Lloyd Found was at the piano.

The secretary, Mrs. W. Ferguson read the minutes and the roll call was answered by the visits to the sick and shut-ins. Other secretaries gave reports of their departments.

It was announced that a special effort is being made to secure subscriptions for the "Missionary Monthly". It was decided to send Christmas cards to girls who have moved away and to shut-ins in Lindsay.

It was decided to have the Christmas meeting held jointly with the Senior W.M.S., at the church on December 20th. A nominating Committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Codlin, Mrs G. Henry and Mrs. Earl Thurston to bring in a slate of officers for 1956.

Mrs. Found and her group were in charge of the Worship Programme. Hymn "O Word of God Incarnate", was sung, followed by the reading of part of the tenth Chapter of Luke, which told the story of the rich young ruler. This was by Mrs. Guy Littlejohn. A discussion followed and prayer. Mrs. Earl Thurston read Scripture from Luke, which gave the text of "Humility" for the discussion which followed.

The offering was then received by Mrs. Craig Eason.

Mrs. Found then presented the film entitled, "Strangers in their Own Land". This told of the Canadian Indians who must make a great adjustment when they leave their reservations and come to town and cities to live. The pictures depicted the story of such a family—a man and wife and two teenage children.

A discussion followed. Rev. Mr. March told the members present of the opportunity of broadcasting the eleven o'clock church service, over C.K.L.Y. every five or six weeks as a service to the shut-ins.

The group decided that they would phone the shut-ins of our church whenever services are being broadcast. Also the group were asked if they would sponsor one or two programmes each year by paying the fee of twenty-five dollars.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Codlin for her hospitality in opening her home for this meeting.

The meeting was closed by the singing of "O Master of the Working World" and the Benediction.

Lunch was served by hostesses, Mrs. Gordon Henry and her group and a social half-hour enjoyed.

Ladies Beware!

Those Waxed Floors Can Be Dangerous

Mount Horeb (PNS) —While preparing an evening meal last week Mrs. Grant Hickson received a very painful burn.

Mrs. Hickson was preparing a hot meal and when her husband came in for the meal she turned to the stove to pick it up. In doing so she slipped on the waxed floor and fell on the hot stove. She put out her right hand to try and save herself and in so doing burned the ends of all five fingers as well as a very deep burn on her arm between the wrist and elbow.

The injury will keep her from her work in Westclox of Peterborough. Her friends hope she will not be laid up too long.

THE CECIL SMITH CHOIR PRESENTS CONCERT TO CAPACITY AUDIENCE

Woodville (PNS) — Again Mr. Cecil Smith hit the top in musical entertainment with his choral concert. The choir was perfectly trained and it was a real pleasure to listen to the exquisitely-blended voice in the choruses.

The Junior quartette were wonderful, and in "Dry Bones", appeared in fearsome costumes of skeletons. George Reed in the "Bachelor's Dream" dozed peacefully on the porch, while in his dreams passed in review scenes of college days, courting days, storybook ball etc., with figures of the past in old-time costumes appearing appearing on the stage. The theme of the "Story Book Ball" was sung by Barry Thorpe and the children in costumes from Humpty Dumpty; Tom, Tom the Piper's Son, complete with pig; Little Red Riding Hood and many other characters passed in review.

Sam Newman sang the solo "He", in his usual pleasing manner. Marne Thorpe, Gertie Lillico, and Marylin Kelsey with Bruce Douglas on the guitar supplied the modern songs.

The theme of the second part of "Bachelor's Dream" was sung by Reta Heard, and the wedding of the "Painted Doll" took place with Joan Trebelco in a beautiful old-fashioned white beruffled gown as the bride and David Murray as groom. Wayne Pointen with a huge collar on backwards was impressive as the minister.

George Reed and Ethel Murray to the strains of "Old Grey Bonnet" rode across the stage in a one-horse shay pulled by a spirited steed, the product of the fertile imagination of Stan Murray and was the subject of much hilarity.

Dr. Poiten made sweet music on the cornet with "The Lost Chord" and "The Rosary". Many of the acts were accompanied by music from the choir, which was partly concealed by a filmy curtain.

Towards the close of the concert Ann McArthur and choir sang "Day is Done" and "You'll Never Walk Alone". Two numbers which were especially well-done.

The concert closed with the "Lord's Prayer" by Geo. Reed and the choir. Geo. Reed taking the solo parts in a very able manner. Filling in while changes of costumes and stage were made, were little humorous numbers with some good-natured fun poked at town council and voters.

The stage properties were the product of the imagination and ingenuity of Mr. Will McPherson, Orin Thorpe, Walter Russel and their helpers. Howard Campbell was the impressive master of ceremonies. The costumes and curtains were made by several of the ladies. All in all it was a musical concert which swung along smoothly and entertainingly.

Mr. Smith and his choir and aides are to be congratulated on again coming up with a fine evening of music, which was appreciated by a capacity crowd.

Half An Inch Of Fleecy Snow Really Bogs Torontonians Down Lindsay Announcer Tells Audience

The people of Toronto will never have to worry about being called "snowbirds." At least that's the impression radio announcer Herb May conveyed to the audience who watched and listened to him emcee the official opening program of station CKLY at Lindsay last week.

Mr. May told the audience that anything over half an inch of snow literally drew a blanket over Toronto and no one would dare venture out until the skies cleared and the sun whittled the drifts down a bit.

Santa Claus Parade Draws Huge Crowd

Kent Street Lined, Pack Armouries For Santa Claus Parade Here

Lindsay's Police Department found it necesary on Saturday afternoon to close off a section of Kent St. at the Town Hall so that the crowds of people who turned up for the carol service and the Santa Claus parade could be accommodated.

The massed choirs of Lindsay's Public School children and the children of St. Mary's Separate School sang favourite carols for a half-hour before parade got underway, they made a lovely sight as they raised their voices in song, their faces rosy from the crisp winter air.

The Santa Claus parade, which was heralded by a large red banner carried by two costumed men, greatly outpaced last year's effort and although short in length, was long in quality.

The Lindsay Kinsmen Boy's Band played in their usual fine style, headed by their troupe of majorettes wearing the smart new winter costumes. There was a beautiful float entered by the Lindsay figure Skating Club which depicted a scene in lollypop-land.

The Royal Canadian Army Signal Corps Trumpet band presented an outstanding display of military musical precision during the parade, and later at the armouries as well, where they played operetta selctions from Victor Herbert.

An "animal" in the parade, mistaken by some for a camel turned out to be a good old Canadian cow, slightly browned by the hot sun last summer.

Santa Claus arrived by sleigh, accompanied by a group of his hleppers, and his hearty "Merry Christmas" and jolly laughter rang along the street as the children called to him and waved from the arms of their parents.

When the parade returned to the armouries, there was a line-up from the Sussex St. entrance to Kent and for a short distance east on Kent. But when the doors were opened, the children and their parents experienced little difficulty in reaching the dais where Santa sat, and on either side of him, a group of Lindsay's bankers passed out plastic bags filled with candy, peanuts, and apples.

It was commented on by one parent that this year there was not the crush and confusion which had been evident last year, and that it appeared to him that this parade and the festivities were well organized.

KUDOS FOR COPS

Many people in Lindsay have been heard to comment over the weekend that members of Lindsay's police department displayed exceptional courtesy and performed small services that did not go unseen.

P. C. Fred Hill, on duty in the armouries was observed acting "beyond the call of duty" when he noticed, as several times, a small child, unable to see Santa through the crowds, was weeping. Constable Hill was quickly on the job, hoisted the child up in his arms, and the emergency was over. This was seen to happen many times, and busy parents took time out to comment on his thoughtful actions.

P. C. Ross Bailey had the job of keeping the crowds back as the parade passed along the streets, and although the groups pushed their way forward to see the approaching parade, Constable Bailey had the "king-size" job of keeping the path clear. He did not, however, appear to lose his temper and issue stern orders, but all the while asked the crowds to "please move back a little . . . thank you."

The politeness of this police officer did not go unobserved by the crowd, and they responded to his pleas quickly. Officers on point duty also had things well under control.

One humorous incident was observed during the carol singing . . . . accompanist William Perry was seen playing the piano with his gloves on, and from the quality of the music they did not appear to hamper him too much. Prof. W. E. Fletcher did a magnificent job of leading the massed choirs in the penetrating cold.

The event was organized by the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce.

Broadcast To World

Vatican City, Dec 12—(BUP) — The Christmas Eve Mass to be celebrated by Pope Pius will be broadcast to the world.

ELDERLY MAN RECEIVES HELP

An 83-year-old resident of the Home for the Aged took a dizzy spell and collapsed on Sunset Court Monday. He was assisted to a nearby home and later taken in the police cruiser to the county residence. Supt. R. Cross of the home advised that medical attention would be sought for the man, a former railroader named Mr. Samuel Whittaker.

All But One Householder Admitted Doors Were Open

A rash of housebreaking occurred in Lindsay over the week-end, and according to Chief of Police John Hunter, this form of crime is most unusual for the town, since the perpetrators take a great risk in being caught by the occupants of the homes. In the cases at hand, all four homes entered are reported to have been occupied at the time and all but one householder admitted frankly "the door wasn't locked."

It was reported to police that a total of about $86 in cash was stolen from the homes which had been left unlocked. However, one person said he thought he had actually locked his door before retiring for the night. The offenses are believed to have taken place between midnight and 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

Three of the places entered were east of Lindsay St. S., and the other was west of Lindsay St. S. Chief Hunter said he feels the owners' names should not be publicized since it might cause them some embarrassment and may make people reluctant to report such incidents.

It was reported in one case that the occupant awoke when he heard someone moving around but he thought at the time it was one of his own family.

Chief Hunter stated that if the doors had been locked in these cases the noise of entry being forced might hav awakened the residents and the thief would have been frightened away.

'This is a very unusual type of offense," said the Chief "Many criminals will attempt to rob stores and shops, but few have nerve enough to enter a house, especially one that is occupied."

The Chief advises that if any person has any information on these robberies that might be of assistance to police, it will be kept in strict confidence.

Teens and Twenties Second Meeting

The second meeting of the North Verulam Teens and Twenties Supper Club was held at home of V. Tiers Eleven members answered the roll call with one of Canada's Food Rules. Among the things discussed in the business section was a theme song for the club. The one submitted by C. Walker was accepted.

The leaders gave brief outlines on the values of milk, fruits and vegetables in the diet. The remainder of the evening was spent making cream tomato soup, croutons and a scalloped vegetable dsh. The dishes made with cookies were a delightful late supper, which was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Dent's Name Was Omitted But Picture Praised

Mr. George Dent, widely-known Lindsay photographer has been done an injustice, but he hasn't complaineod about it. In Friday's issue of "The Post" an excellent picture of Queen Street United Church choir appeared but there was no credit line given. It is customary to state beneath photos the name of the photographer and this was omitted in this case, but better late than never and in this case the name was "Dent Studios, Lindsay." Incidently many people have commented on the clarity of the picture.

Lindsay Doctor Enjoys Holiday In Bermuda

Dr. W. C. Blackwell says Bermuda a grand place for a holiday. The widely-known Lindsay doctor has been vacationing there following surgery at Lindsay's Ross Memorial Hospital.

Staying at Pink Beach, Dr. Blackwell writes "The weather is like early September at home . . . Expect to return to Lindsay a week before Christmas.".

A tantalizing description of Pink Beach imprinted on the card sent by the doctor reads: "The crystal clear ocean at Pink Beach, known as John Smith's Bay is an invitation to enter the tonic waters. The briskness of the ocean is truly perfect and everyone entering cannot fail to feel invigorated and refreshed."

Lose Everything, Exploding Stove Blamed For Fire

A Minden family was made homeless while they were away from home on Sunday. Fire which broke out around 10:30 a.m. completely destroyed the frame home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warburton and family, R. R. 1, Minden.

The family is reported to have been away from home at the time and a daughter who lives nearby requested to coal up the fire on Sunday for them. Speculation is that the coal stove blew up, setting fire to the home. The Minden Fire Brigade was unable to prevent total destruction.

Neighbours and friends in Lindsay are reported to be rallying to the family's assistance.

Riot

With what presumptuous arrogance
And peccable pedantry;
Could such scurrilous circumstance
Rob decency of sanity?
Why should people cause a rumpus
And shake the strong and mailed fist;
Why make themselves impetuous
And brand the mark of anarchist?
Should such rioting prove a theme
That education missed quite out;
We must it then redeem
And turn it round about.
Education must not tumble down
Or leave one scrofulous place; —
We must teach them, that to wreck
a town
Brings nothing but disgrace ! !
Now wise council must prevail,
To heal this cankerous sore —
Such acts condemn; we dare not fail
Though strong medicine be the cure.
Certainly there is some serious wrong
That seethingly boils up;
When the cream of our youth goes
wrong
To sup from the lawless cup.

Magician Entertains At LOL Turkey Supper

Reaboro (PNS) —Magic filled the Reaboro Community Hall when Mr. Ted Bradshaw, Peterborough Magician assisted by his wife, Marion, entertained the members of the Loyal Orange Lodge and their families by performing several intricate magic tricks.

Following a bountiful turkey supper served by the men, the ladies and children gathered in the upper hall while the members of the Lodge retired to their lodge room for the Installation of Officers.

Mr. Victor Sloan was in charge of the program and was ably assisted by his son, Jimmy in showing several comical films which were thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

When the Ldge meeting was over Worthy Master Jay Harper introduced Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bradshaw and explained that Mr. Bradshaw was one of Canada's best Magicians.

Ted Bradshaw expressed his pleasure in being present and explained first the props of a magician climaxing this by producing a beautiful white rabbit out of his hat. He followed this by a demonstration of a silk worm cane producing numerous colored silk handkerchiefs by saying a few Chinese magic words over the can. Another trick performed with much art and skill was what the magician called greatest watering vase in China and was to have been used by a famous Chinese magician called Chen. Mr. Bradshaw by saying Chinese words seemed to prduce water from this vase indefinitely at different intervals during the performance which caused much amusement. Several members of the audience were then asked to help display some of the magic, and among these were Johnny Reeds, Mr. Gilbert Jones and Mr. Elwood Smith. Later the Worthy Master Jay Harper was called to the stage and after placing a paper hat on his head, the magician asked Mr. Harper to keep placing milk-filled paper cups tier on tier on his head which produced much laughter from his fellow members when he failed to keep the cups from falling over. A most interesting and clever trick involved in the cooking of a cake into which such ingredients as celery carrots and tops, fluur, eggs and shells were used and then cooked in one of the men's hats and when taken from the fire, revealed a lovely sponge cake cut in pieces which Mr. Bradshaw passed around to the audience. In conclusion, a beautiful bouquet of white flowers were changed into red roses.

Mr. Victor Sloan tendered a hearty vote of thanks to the Bradshaws for the splendid performance they had given to the members and families of the Loyal Orange Lodge A very pleasant time was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

2 Hurt In Spectacular 3-Car Pileup At Omemee

A spectacular three-car pile-up on Number seven highway, three miles east of Omemee late Friday night resulted in two men being painfully injured and three cars extensively damaged.

According to the Provincial Police at Lindsay, two east bound cars driven by John Nemeth, Peterborough and John Rintoul of Bracebridge were approaching a westbound car driven by John Herlihey of Downeyville. They say that one of the cars crossed over the centre line and a head-on collision resulted. The second eastbound car, driven by Mr. Rintoul was unable to stop and collided with the rear of the Nemeth car. Mr. Rintoul's car went into the ditch.

Police say that Mr. Nemeth suffered a fractured right arm and lacerations. A fractured jaw and cuts were sustained by Mr. Herlihey. Mr. Rintoul escaped injury. Dr. Earle of Omemee attended the injured at the scene who were removed to St. Joseph's and the Civic Hospital in Peterborough.

Constable Ralph Tremills investigated.

INTERSECTION TANGLE

P. C. Jim Hall of the Lindsay OPP investigated another accident at the intersection of County roads 19 and 21, two miles east of Cambray over the weekend.

He reports that one car driven by Alfred Tier of Fenelon Falls and the other by Angust Dunbar of Victoria Road. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $200 although there were no personal injuries suffered.

Worthless Cheque Artists Victimize 4 Merchants

Although a warning was issued to Lindsay's merchants by Chief of Police John Hunter regarding the cashing of personal cheques for unknown persons, four storekeepers were recipients of worthless cheques over the weekend.

The Chief said that although the amounts were under $100, the crime is a serious one. He alleged that three of the cheques were forgeries and the other was false pretences. One of the forgeries involved the name of a man who has been dead for some years.

The Chief also said he was of the opinion that three of the offenses were related, but he will have this confirmed when the report is received from the RCMP handwriting experts at Ottawa who have been called to assist.

It is reported that in all cases, the merchants did not know, and had not been acquainted with, the persons who cashed the cheques. Chief Hunter said that besides the warning which he had asked the press to print, (Saturday's "Post") he, his officers, and the Chamber of Commerce officials had called on all of Lindsay's shopkeepers warning them of the danger of cashing personal cheques of strangers, especially since it is the Christmas season.

CHARGE ONE

It was learned today that Lindsay police have charged a Peterborough man with attempted false pretences in connection with the cashing of, and the attempted cashing, of certain cheques in Lindsay. Chief Hunter stated that these and other charges probably will be laid as soon as further information is received by his department.

It was thought "Practical farmers should keep simple records as receipts and expenditures so that reference may be made at any time". "By keeping these simple farm records, we would know if there is a profit or nt at end of year, also for income tax purposes".

'The advantages of keeping more detailed and complete farm records would be:- "The farmers would keep a certain line of stock." "If no will was made, the records would know whether it was profitable to help settle estate."

Work Among Eskimos Subject Of Talk By Miss H. Sowden

Blackstock (PNS) — Adverse weather conditions prevented many from attending the Annual W. A. Bazaar of St. John's Anglican Church. In spite of this, however, the afternoon proved a most successful one. The special speaker for the afternoon was Miss Helena Sowden from England, the subject of her address was the newly developing program between the church and the Govt. in regard to the education of the Eskimo.

In introducing Miss Sowden, Mrs. Nicholson recounted some of the important positions held by the speaker since her entry into Canadian work many years ago. After her training at Mount Hermon College, London, England, she completed her studies at the Deaconess Training House in Toronto, (now the Anglican Women's Training College). Her first appointment was to the Hay River Indian School, which at that time was the most northerly Residential School in the McKenzie River Diocese, and of which she became Head Matron.

Following her return from furough in England in 1936 Miss Sowden was sent to establish and take charge of the new Residential School at Aklavik, which was built to accommodate 100 children from the Arctic coast. During the war she served with the Y.W.C.A. War Service Personnel in Canada and England, escorting on her way to England a group of wartime evacuees and was subsequently in charge of Nursery Nurses in Training under the Church of England Children's Society. Folowing service with the Grenfell Mission on the Labrador Miss Sowden was asked to take charge of the new experiment projected jointly by church and Govt. at Coppermine in the central Arctic. This took the form of a Tent-Hostel in connection with the education of Eskimo children during the months April to Sept. when the parents are away hunting. On the success of this experiment depended the development of the enterprise in other parts of the Arctic.

The main purpose of this project is to provide Eskimo children, who are Canadian citizens, with the opportunity of education in their own home environment, rather than has been the case hitherto of a long-term residential system in places far distant from their homes.

Miss Sowden showed a series of excellent coloured slides, illustrating how the work was done at Coppermine during the past summer, accompanying these with a highly informative and fascinating description of both Eskimo life and the present task being attempted amongst them, from which could readily be seen how many and varied are the difficulties and problems entailed and yet how worthwhile is the task as visioned by the church and Govt. in their joint endeavour to serve the far northern citizens of Canada.

In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, Mrs. J. A. McArthur expressed the appreciation of all present for the address which had been of such educational and geographical interest. At the request of the President, Miss Eva Parr, the bazaar was declared open by Miss Sowden who was then presented with a Christmas corsage made by the girls of the Junior Auxiliary.

Regents Make It Two-In-A-Row Over Orphans, Score 5-3

Two Third Period Goals By Teel Breaks Up Knot

Lindsay Regents made it two in a row over Orono Orphans at Port Perry last evening as Ron Teel fired two third period goals to post a 5-3 win. This win ties the Regents with Lakefield for fourth place and a win Wednesday evening at Port Hope would break the knot.

Last night's game was another wide open effort with both teams eager for a win. Regents took an early two-goal lead on goals by McGill and Davis, but the Orphans tied the count before the first period ended. Wimpy Parker scored the only goal in a ding dong second period and Ron Teel made it 4-2 on a break-away sizzler early in the third to soften Orono's drive. Mortimer put Orono within striking distance midway in the period, but Teel came up with a picture goal five minutes later to wrap up the contest.

Regents first counter was another corner to blue line to point pattern as Tommy Hutton cleared to Williams at the Orono blue line and McGill parked the rebound. A couple of minutes later Jack Graham stick-handled around the defense, drew the goaler and passed to Davis for the marker. Welch from Armstrong and Robinson from Dean West tied up the count however, late in the period.

The second period was a goalie's contest as O'Connell and Gearing matched efforts with Mucker the winner. A Crawford to Growden to Parker passing effort had Gearing buffaloed at 18:31 in the period.

The Orphans came back strong to open the 3rd period and were giving the Regents plenty to do to protect their lead. At 3:55 in the period Ron Teel broke loose and racketed down left wing, firing a sizzler from inside the Orono blue line catching the top corner. This slowed down the Orono attack somewhat until past mid-period, when Welch, Armstrong and Mortimer got through with the former Muskie tipping it in.

At 17:14 of the period Ron Teel again came through scoring the niftiest goal of the night. With Orono winding up for another attack on the Regent citadel, Teel relieved the Orono player of the puck in their own end, cut in on Gearing, faking a shot, and flipped the rubber into the net after Gearing went down.

Although referee Crombie handed out thirteen penalties, seven to Orono, only two goals were scored during penalty time. McGill's first period goal was scored with Robinson doing time and Mortimer's final goal came with both teams a man short. Crombie followed his usual pattern with seven first period penalties, three in the first minute

Charges Midland Refereeing 'Unsportsmanlike'

Coach Will Not Ice Juniors There Unless Certain Changes Are Made

Locals Lose 5-4 After Fast Game

Midland Jr. "C's" defeated the Lindsay Indians Thursday in what is described as "a wood-chopping game" in Midland. The game got off to a good start with both teams playing a fast clean game, with both teams bearing down from the start.

The Indians played a fast passing game with three breakaways which did not tally goals for the Indians. Dawson, Spratt, and Pearson had a breakaway in the first period, but were rushed, and failed to put the rubber behind Duggan of the Midland team.

Lindsay put in a wonderful first period, backchecking and forechecking into the Midland territory, until Midland made a two-man break and opened the scoring with Armstrong of Midland blinking the red light at 10:25. Lindsay then put on a surge of power and at 12:18 Danny Pearson assisted by Kelly made a fast passing play to even the tally one all.

Midland opened the scoring in the second period with Simms of Midland rapping in two goals at 8.10 and 15:25 to put Midland in front 3-1. The second period was a close checking game by both teams until Midland players started to take advantage of Ref. Feltes, Barrie and flailed their sitcks around the Indians' heads and legs until the Lindsay lads could hardly stand up from the terrific beating they were taking from the Midland team, whose star player was the referee, according to spectators.

The period ended with Midland 3 goals to Lindsay's 1.

The third period had some good signs with Spratt and Kelly showing some wonderful hockey playing with Pearson setting up Spratt and Kelly for a goal apiece to tie the score 3-all Midland came back and put the fourth behind Kemp to lead 4 to 3 at 15:05.

Lindsay then put on the pressure with Hennessey driving one from the blue line to tie it up 4 all. Midland came back and at 17:03 put in the fifth goal to lead 5-4 and the game ended the same.

On their return to Lindsay, the coach of the local team said that he was highly critical of the sportsmanship and playing ability of the opposing team. He also stated that he would not ice another team against this opponent unless the quality of the refereeing was greatly improved.

Orphans Drop Game 8-2 to Regents, Growden Sets Pace With Two Goals

Bob Growden came up with two goals and three assists to pace the Lindsay Regents to an 8-2 triumph over Orono Orphans at the Kiwanis Arena Friday evening. The Regent win Friday spoiled Orono's chance of tying Bowmanville Barons for top place in the league.

Regents were full value for the win as they outshot and outhustled the close-knit Orono attack.

The loss could prove expensive for the Orphans due to a second head injury to their star forward Ray West. According to Orono's Dane Found, Ray suffered a serious head injury several years ago and for several seasons played using a protective helmet Recently contrary to his doctor's wishes, he continued in hockey without the helmet. Friday evening with Jr. West serving a penalty, Ray broke in the clear at the Orono blue line and raced in on O'Connell. Mucker turned his shot aside and Ray in pursuing the puck, slipped and fell into the boards head first. Saturday reports indicated a good recovery and it is hoped he will be able to continue in his favorite sport.

Friday's game proved an enjoyable thriller for most of the near to five hundred fans on hand. Ron Teel opened the scoring in the first minute of play and the one goal lead stood up through the period.

Goals by Corley, Crawford, Davis and Growden set up a 5-2 lead at the end of the second. Yearwood and Welsh scored for Orono

Green, McGill and Growden, added the convincing counters in the third period and produced a final score which pretty well indicated the play.

While the Regents bolstered their scoring averages, only fine work by O'Connell and Gearing kept the count down as both teams played wide open with end to end rushes setting the pattern.

Regent players ability to work the opponents' corners by one player only kept them in position to break up the Orono attack and they had to resort to shooting the puck into the Lindsay end. The Lindsay defense covered up well and frequently cleared to their forwards for breathtaking breakaways.

Regents took over play from the opening whistle and Vic Corley carried into the Orphans territory, passed to Hutton who fired and Ron Teel cashed the rebound in just fifty-four seconds of play.

Throughout the remainder of the first period, both goalers came up with sparkling saves.

Early in the second period, Orono made a bid to get back in the game. During a ganging attack Grant Green cleared to Corley with one Orphan back. Vic swooped around the defender and triggered a sharp back-hander between Gearing and the post.

Just over twenty seconds later Wimpy Parker carried to the defense, and passed to Growden at the right boards. Bob cut in on the net and faked a short as he eased the disc to Crawford at the open corner for a 3-0 lead

Yearwood got one back for Orono a couple of minutes later when Byrne set him up at the crease. Regents got that one back in the midst of a line change when Graham layed a pass through the Orphans defense for Growden's shot. Davis trapped the rebound and back-handed the counter in one motion. Mortimer broke in the clear at centre ice shortly after, but O'Connell smothered his drive as he refused to make the first move.

Murray Davis and Jack Graham worked the puck to Growden who fired a blazing eight-footer to the short side at 13:30 and a 5-1 count. Orono waited until the final second of the period to score what proved to be their last goal in the contest, Welsh scoring from a scramble with Armstrong and Mortimer at 19:59.

As in the first two periods, the Regents scored early in the period. During a Lindsay ganging attack Parker trapped Growden's rebound in the corner and cleared to Grant Green at the blue-line. Green golfed the puck goalward and into the net when Gearing's view was blocked.

Ross McGill scored in like fashion three minutes later when he slapped the puck from near the boards part way out to the blue line and Gearing fanned on the bounce.

O'Connell came through brilliantly near mid-period when McGill and Davis received minors twenty seconds apart and Mucker and three defenders stood off the barrage.

Bob Growden scored the tenth and final goal of the game at 14:10 of the third period when Parker again cleared to Green at the blue line and Growden tucked in the rebound.

The last two minutes of the game were rather hectic as referee Vern Buffey handed out seventeen penalty minutes to three players.

Homebuilders Give Their Views

December 9th, 1955.

The Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post,
Lindsay, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

Members of the Lindsay Home Builders' Co-Op are seriously perturbed by an article of December 8th., stating that the project had "foundered".

The statements contained in the article were attributed to Alderman Wm. McCrae.

Mr. McCrae has been contacted and has stated that he has been completely misquoted in your article.

The facts are as follows:

(1) The Lindsay Council "has" done their part.

(2) The project has "not" fallen through.

(3) The financial situation is better today than it has ever been and not by any stretch of the imagination can it be termed "shaky".

(4) Ops Township resolved by minutes as long ago as April 4th to provide the money for water and sewer services. It was subsequently discovered, through no fault of the Co-Operative, that a by-law had to be passed. The by-law has not yet been passed but the Co-Op are not aware that it has been "refused".

(5) Ops Township is fully aware that the Co-Op has never exceeded 15 members since negotiations started.

The Members of the Lindsay Home Builders' Co-Op request that you give this letter front page publicity together with some editorial comment as to how Mr. McCrae's statements were misquoted under so damaging a headline.

Yours faithfully,
K. R. Misner
President Lindsay Home
Builders' Co-Operative.

Ed. Note:

"The Post" is naturally pleased to be able to present the above letter from the president of the Lindsay Home Builders' Co-Operative relative to an article appearing in Thursday's issue dealing with this enterprise. It feels impelled, however, to note that it has, since receiving the letter, contacted Mr. Wm. McCrae (Lindsay Alderman) who says he was not completely misquoted as alleged but that he was misquoted only in paragraph two of the article referred to which reads as follows: "Mr. McCrae said that now that Lindsay's Council did its part, it seems that the whole project seems to have fallen through and that Ops Township Council viewed the situation as being financially "shaky". A further check with the reporter who recorded the statement reveals that he made an unfortunate error in transcribing his notes and the statement quoted should have been attributed to Mr. Elwood Smith, clerk of Ops Twp. The error is regretted. This newspaper also feels it is expedient at this time to print excerpts from the minutes of the last meeting of Ops Township Council and they follow:

Excerpts From Minutes
Ops Township Council Nov. 1, 1955

"By-law 1115 to raise and provide for $18,000. for sewer and water main extention on part of Lot 20, Con. 4 Ops Township was introduced.

"Moved by Mr. Reeds, seconded by Mr. Buckley that proposed water main and sewer by-law 1115 be shelved for Council of 1956 to deal with.

"Motion did not pass.

"Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Windrem that bylaw 1115 be read a first time. . . Carried.

"Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Windrem that bylaw 1115 be read a second time . . . Carried.

"Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Windrem that committee rise and report without amendment.

"Motion lost with only two supporters. (four are required).

Special Meeting November 12th

"Seven members of the Lindsay Home Builders Co-Op were present and discussed their problem with Ops Council in regards to supporting bylaw 1115.

"After three hours debate on the case, no solution could be arrived at."

Rev. W. Jackson W.I. Speaker

The November meeting of the Islay-Zion W. I, was held at the home of Mrs. Laurenson with an average attendance. Roll Call "Lest We Forget", a verse of remembrance was well-answered by nearly all.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. It was decided that the 50 cents spent usually on the Christmas exchange be turned into the secretary and sent away in aid of "Care" for food at Christmastime. It was suggested that the W. I. take one of the meetings to the County Home a Lindsay. This was left over to decide at a later meeting.

Rev. W. Jackson of the Presbyterian Church of Fenelon Falls and Glenarm gave a splendid talk on "Remembrance Day". Due to the lateness of the afternoon Mrs. Gilles' report on the Convention at Toronto will be given at next month's meeting.

Mrs. V. Webster and Mrs. A. Jones conducted the program. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Persuade Him

It is a wise woman who gently persuades her husband into new clothing styles. Men can get in a rut and it is every wife's duty to see that he doesnt stay in it too long. It is much easier for the wife if her husband has lots of clothes and she doesn't have to be constantly washing out one or two shirts at a time. Clothes wear longer if they are plentiful and not always in the wash. Some men like to be well-stocked but actually every man should keep up his wardrobe even if he isn't a "dandy" for it is cheaper in the long run to keep a good supply on hand.

Plenty of Dolls

Don't tell your young daughter, but any father can pay as high as 400 to 500 dollars for a doll for his little girl. Yet, you can buy a very pleasant little doll for a dollar. For ten dollars you can buy her a beauty. The nicest part of it is that even the poorest parent can find a doll he can well afford that will delight his youngster for Christmas. No child should be without a doll this Christmas for there are many reasonable dolls just waiting to amuse a little girl.

Egg Whites For Crispness

In case you don't know this little wrinkle about Christmas cakes you might like to try it. For a white fruit cake if you add the egg-whites beaten fairly stiff and added at the very last your cake will have a lovely crusty look yet it is easy to cut through. If you have already made yours you might like to write it down for next year.

There is a new gadget on the market for girls who are afraid that they might be scared screamless. It's a small automatic screamer, made in the States which up to now has manufactured only fog horns and fire alarms. All a frightened girl has to do is press a little valve in the gadget and the alarm goes off. It's a bit expensive, but it lets forth an ear-splitting sound 25 decibels louder than most fire alarms. It sounds like a good idea, for when one is frightened they often lose their voice. However, a good strong whistle might do the same trick.

Household Hint

Here's a household hint that comes from the "Calgary Herald."

Eliminating those guests who say goodbye for 15-minutes with the door wide open will cut fuel bills five per cent more than storm windows would.

Beauty Tip

To correct a hollow back and jutting seat, stand with the feet about one-foot from a wall and press the whole length of the spine against the wall. Gradually move the feet toward the wall keeping the spine flat. Repeat regularly.

Lovely Setting At Cambridge United For "Shining Candles" Christmas Pgm.

A silver screen bathed in blue light, surrounded by white and silver tipped greenery, formed a beautiful setting for the Christmas pageant "Shining Candles" at Cambridge Street United Church Sunday evening.

From the moment the red and silver robed Prophecy entered until the entire candle bearing cast of 37 excited singing the triumphant "O Come All Ye Faithful," the congregation was transported to a scene of colour, beauty and revernce. Centered around the manger scene and using as its theme "The Light of the World is Jesus", the pageant progressed from the appearance of the Angel to the Shepherds who lighter their candles from Faith, to the wisemen who received their light from The Spirit of Giving", to the six little children who, on receiving their light from Love, worshipped at the Manger singing sweetly "Jesus Bids Us Shine". And so the light lit by the star spreads over all the world to the far lands of China and India.

The musical setting for the drama was ably provided by the Junior and Senior choirs under the direction of W. E. Fletcher, the numbers enhancing the setting and creating a most beautiful atmosphere by their beautiful rendering of the well chosen carols.

The large cast included Her May as Narrator, Mac Fairfield as Prophecy, Donna Burton as Mary, Jim Harrigan as Joseph and Marywynn MacDuffee as the Angel. Helene M. Anderson directed and created and designed the costumes. The setting was created by Mrs. K. MacDuffee, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. S. Peel and Mrs. S. Lonie. Lighting by Morley Greaves and Don Anderson.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Isaac loved Esau because he did eat of his venison, but Rebecca loved Jacob. —Gen. 25:28.

A father might admire the skill of his son, but a mother is apt to value other spiritual qualities. It takes the training of both father and mother to bring out the essential good qualities of a son.

Christmas In Jail Chief's Promise To Drunk Drivers

A stern warning has been issued to all motorists by Chief of Police John Hunter in connection with driving during the holiday season after having been drinking alcoholic beverages. He stated:

"Don't wait until Christmas Eve to need the warnings given by the police department, newspapers, and radio stations all over the country. During the past several years, probably due to the stern admonitions the police department has made public through the medium of the press, few accidents actually occcur on Christmas Eve, but it is during the few days prior to Christmas, following office parties, etc., when most tragedies occur.

"There are many causes for these pre-holiday accidents. The main cause being driving after consuming varying amounts of alcohol. There is greatly increased traffic plus a larger number of pedestrians, with many of these being elderly people unaccustomed to heavy traffic, who may become confused

"Drivers and pedestrians alike are apt to be pre-occupied, as the flurry of minor accidents has already indicated. I hope that everyone has a good Christmas, not marred by an unwanted event.

"The police do not like charging people, particularly at this holiday season, as it is usually the family who suffers most. But it is the responsibility of the police to keep the streets and highways safe, and in Lindsay everything possible will be done to prevent accidents.

"All officers will be working extra duty during the week. Any driver who disregards the warning and is found behind the wheel "under the influence" will be charged with driving while intoxicated, and not the lesser charge of impaired driving.

"Driving while intoxicated carries a minimum penalty of seven days in jail. No bail will be granted, and the offender will find himself spending Christmas in jail."

Rotary Holds Crippled Children Christmas Party

Members of the Rotary Club of Lindsay held their annual Christmas Party on Tuesday night for the crippled children of Lindsay and district, where a delicious turkey dinner was served to the members and their 18 guests by the Rebekah Chapter.

The banquet, held ta the IOOF Hall was officially called to order by vice-president Bruce Symonds, and was then turned over to the chairman of the evening Gordon Mackey and his assistants Bob Magahay, Percy Hill, and Marion Rudd, supervising nurse for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

The guests were called for at their homes by the Rotarians, and following the party were returned by the members.

During the entertainment portion of the evening, films were shown by Mr. J. G. Gauvreau, and then a charming puppet show was presented by a Peterborough organization under the direction of Miss Anne Edmondson.

Santa Claus arrived and he distributed gifts to all the excited children. Carols were sung by three of the guests, Richard Bruce, David Tully and Bobby Thompson, and then the entire group joined in with a medley of popular Christmas carols.

Members report that they were most impressed with the beautifully given benediction by Rev Dr. Harold B. Neal at the close of the evening.

Christmas Mail Out In Front Of Last Year

Over 43,900 letters or Christmas cards have gone through the Lindsay Post Office in one day of the Christmas rush. This exceeds last year's peak," states Postmaster Aubrey Warner.

"But this week, we expect, will be the heaviest day yet. Toronto post offices worked all day and night Sunday, thousands of Christmas messages were mailed on the weekend and there will be mail in from England and foreign countries," he continued.

We just received 13 locked bags of mail off one train and the immensity of the operation behind the scenes was shown a representative of "The Post" on Saturday afternoon.

Thousands of letters taken from the slots were amassed on a long trough-like table. Here five men were sorting them into town and out of town bundles, arraying them with the stamped corners in the same position. 33 extra men are on the staff for the Christmas rush, 15 of these are extra letter carriers. The other 18 are extra to the regular staff of 23 in the Post Office. This makes at present a staff of 41 working at top speed in the Post Office. After the tons of letters from the slots are faced up and separated—the town from the out of town, the town mail is put through the A B C sortation for streets and then goes to the carrier. The out-of-town mail is sorted into A B C sortation for town, etc. and then passes to the regular dispatch, where experienced clerks separate it into straights and runs. It then goes east, west, north and south to destinations far and near. On the trains the Railway Post Office clerks re-sort this mail into different branches. Incidentally all first class mail up to 8 ozs. goes by air in Canada. The ordinary cards are segregated and sent by ground service. The parcels are sorted into labelled bags for local or out of town points.

Thus is seen the terrific amount of work involved in handling the tons of Christmas mail. Few realize that for two cents so much service is given . . . It is of course the mass handling that makes this rate possible.

"All in all", Mr. Warner states "due to the co-operation of the people in mailing early, everything is running very nicely.

"If the people will separate their mail into town and out-of-town bundles face up, and drop these bundles still tied into the slots, much help will be rendered the staff and the highest peak of efficiency will be attained with greater ease and speed to ensure delivery before Christmas."

Sandra's Sanatorium

By A. A. O. GILMOUR
WNU Features.

SANDRA MARLOW stood at the kitchen door and gazed in silent horror.

Prince was eating the shrimp!

The afternoon had gone badly enough. The Woman's Club, duly assembled at Dr. Dick Marlow's brick cottage, was lukewarm; particularly when she tried—timidly—to discuss Granville's need—a modern sanatorium.

Perhaps with refreshments—hard come by in these days of shortages—they'd be relaxed enough to listen—to consider; perhaps to plan how funds could be raised.

She snapped her fingers.

The dog buried his nose between his paws and moaned penance. She felt a quick glow of pride at his instant obedience to her signal.

Sandra forced herself to an engaging smile—and bore the heaped platter toward the women.

When the shrimp pile had dwindled to one or two morsels and the celery hearts and the olives disappeared, and when coffee steamed fragrantly in translucent Spode cups, Mrs. Burnet-Wayne leaned toward her. "I'm sorry, child," she said kindly, "but we have so many things to do. And we do have a hospital at Lumbarton—only thirty miles away—"

Sandra nodded, her face expressionless. Next year perhaps — and all the time it would take the women to get through working on their husbands. . . . She snapped her fingers twice for emphasis. "But, of course, Mrs. Burnet-Wayne!" Before Granville's social leader, Sandra's smile was submissive.

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne sipped coffee graciously, "Next year, perhaps—besides Dr. Marlow is still so young. . . ."

She glanced about her, rose, and made her way to the kitchen. She stopped at the door. Her fingers trembled, grasping at the jamb for support. Her chest constricted in a low, shuddering moan.

Sandra stared. "It's Prince!" her voice was strangled, "I—I fed him some shrimp—before—" Her eyes closed. She gestured weakly toward the kitchen. "Look!"

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne sailed past her in full panoply. At the door she came to a full stop.

Prince was a shapeless blob on bright lineoleum; his legs stiffly outstretched. His eyes were half shut. His tongue had slipped from his lax jaws. It curved, wetly limp, to the floor.

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne uttered one word. She whispered it with a hiss of quickly drawn breath—"Ptomaine!" Granville's social leader swayed like a staggering sloop.

Sandra dashed for the telephone. While she got her husband's number she issued swift orders. "Warm water. The mustard's in the cupboard, second shelf."

Finally, she heard the doctor's quick voice. "Hurry," she told him urgently, "the shrimp!"

"Eh?"

"The shrimp! Prince ate some before I served it to the club. He's—he's stretched out on the floor."

Richard Marlow's voice was incisive. "I'll be right out."

They waited. No one spoke. Mrs. Burnet - Wayne moaned faintly. Silence fell on the room. Sandra came back, her hand at her waist. She closed her eyes and said, "O——oh!"

They heard the whine then. Prince, ears cocked, eyes bright, scratched energetically at the kitchen door.

"Why — why," Mrs. Burnet-Wayne gasped, "he's alive!"

Sandra recovered her composure. "And we all thought we were sick."

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne was not to be stopped. "Suppose we had been—with no facilities for treatment. . . ." She considered this a long moment. "Child," she said sternly, "you should have pressed the sanatorium project more forcefully. I shall handle it myself from now on . . . personally!"

The Woman's Club was adjourned when Dr. Marlow arrived. Sandra gave him a brief explanation. Prince lay worshipfully at her feet. "And so," she finished, "with the Woman's Club back of it, darling, I think Granville's going to get a sanatorium." She snapped her fingers, twice.

Obediently, Prince rolled — a shapeless blob. His legs were stiffly outstretched; his eyes half closed. Limply wet, his tongue slid from relaxed jaws to the floor.

Season's Smallest Crowd Sees Two Sporting Teams Turn On Full Pressure

Lindsay Regents and Cobourg Lumber Kings battled through seventy minutes of wide open hockey last evening at Kiwanis Arena and settled for a 4-4 tie. With the smallest crowd of the season on hand, no doubt due to the cold, both teams dished up their best with both goalkeepers having a busy evening.

Vic Corley of the Regents opened the scoring early in the first period only to have Cobourg tie the count in the last minute of the period.

Cobourg added a pair near the fifteen minute mark of the second period and the Regents got one back in the last second of that period, Crawford scoring.

Both teams turned it on in the third period and, with less than five minutes to go, Crawford scooped a third try over the Cobourg net minder to tie the count at three all which score held through regulation time.

After a brief rest the battle resumed as play flashed from end to end. At 5:30 of the overtime Lou Hennessey golfed the tie breaker past Ogden to put the Regents ahead 4-3. At the seven minute mark O'Connell robbed Cobourg on a screened shot. The Lumber Kings pulled their goaler for the following face-off sending out six attackers and twenty-one seconds later tied the score again at 4-4. The Regents maintained the offensive during the remainder of play but were unable to beat Ogden.

Lindsay Regents were most effective defensively last night as they repeatedly killed off penalties without allowing the visitors a shot on goal. The Regents back checking and effective poke checking saw attack after attack by Cobourg shatter at the Lindsay blue line. The Regents however, were able to carry play right to the goal mouth only to be beaten by Ogden.

Corley's opening goal came at 2:45 of the first period with Cobourg's Jacklin just out of the penalty box and Dowle serving time. Donlevy was chased at 7:51 for tripping and again the Regents stormed around Ogden without much success. McGill was penalized for cross-checking at 10:35, Burns for elbowing at 12:50, and Williams for kneeing at 13.00 in the period and only once during the three penalties were the Lumber Kings able to get a shot on goal.

With the first period in the last minute Dowle picked the open corner from a scramble at 19:34, Wilcox and Jacklin receiving assists.

Play continued in the second period at a terrific pace and when the Regents tired briefly well on in the period, Cobourg struck for two goals in less than a minute. Boucher potted Crowley's rebound at 14:37, and Rochetta scored from Doherty at 15:24.

Down 3-1 the Regents bounced back and at 19:59 while the defense tied up Parker, Crawford picked the loose puck and fired from close range.

Orlie Crawford scored his second goal of the night to tie the game up at 15:26 of the third period. Ogden stopped shots by Growden and Parker going down to make the saves and Orlie flipped the disc from the edge of the crease. In the last minute of the third period the Regents peppered Ogden with pucks without avail.

In the overtime session the teams took turns in putting on pressure and both O'Connell nad Ogden made several terrific stops. During a Regent attack Graham fired from the left boards near the corner and Corley glanced the rebound to Henressey, inside the blue line. Lou golfed a sizzler into the far corner just vacated by Ogden before he could reverse himself.

Just over a minute later with Cobourg attacking Cobourg appeared to have fired the equalizer from the blue line, but O'Connell grabbed the screened shot as it headed for the bottom corner. On the following face-off with three minutes to go, Ogden was called to the bench and the Lumber Kings packed six attackers inside the Lindsay blue-line.

The Regents gained the face-off and appeared to have the puck out of danger. The puck was recovered near the Lindsay blue-line by Cobourg and the tying goal scored from a pile-up around the Lindsay net.

Christmas Service Held At Dunsford

Dunsford (PNS) —On Friday night Dunsford United Church Sunday School held its Annual Christmas Service. It was not a concert, but a Christmas Worship Service with a filmstrip entitled "O Holy Night". Mr. Max Kennedy, superintendent presided and Mrs. Madden was at the piano.

The program was introduced with piano prelude —"The First Noel", an opening carol "O Come All Ye Faithful" prayer and scripture reading.

The lights were then turned off. A Christmas story "If I had Not Come" was told by Mr Madden and the remaining part was presented in four divisions, The Holy Night; The Holy Birth; The Star of Hope and the Light of Life.

The solo "O Holy Night" was well rendered by Mrs. Lawrence Kennedy and as each of the 33 pictures were shown on the screen, a brief scripture message was given by the pupils and older members of the school.

Many who attended felt that it was appropriate to have the secular eliminated and the true meaning of this Holy season stressed.

Of course Santa appeared at the close and every child received gifts.

Samuel D. Smith

On the evening of November 16th 1955, Eden Mariposa again lost one of its elderly people in the person of, Mr. Samuel D. Smith in his 74th year, youngest son of the late Donald N. Smith and Sarah Cameron. Though in failing health for the last two years he had at all times been able to enjoy the company of friends and was able to be in his church quite often.

Mr. Smith was of a quiet nature loving his church and home, spending his time there. Dearly loving his family and especially his grandchildren with whom he spent many happy hours.

A member of Eden United Church for a number of years, filling different offices, being Elder for a number of years and the last while being honorary Elder. He was able to be out to Thanksgiving services November 6th enjoying both the morning and evening services, but on November 10th he was stricken with a heavy stroke and in spite of medical and loving care he gradually got weaker, passing to his Heavenly home.

He leaves to miss him very much his wife the former Cora Gillies, three sons and one daughter, Adrian of Hartley; Esler, Woodville; (Phelma) Mrs. Harold Jewell and Vernon of Eden; 12 grandchildren and two great grandsons.

Service was in Eden Church where Rev. Mr. Little spoke words of comfort, reading two favorite hymns, "The Day Thou Gavest Lord is Ended" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". Basing his remarks on the 14th Chapter of John, especially "In My Father's house Are Many Mansions, I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself" A dearly loved passage.

Pallbearers were five grandsons. Messrs. Smith Jewell, Glen, Gary and Hugh Smith, Murray Fee and one nephew, Allie Smith.

The flowers were many and beautiful, showing the love and respect for the one departed and silent sympathy to the bereaved family.

Claim Freezing May Bring Cheaper Bread

Scientists report that commercial freezing may soon give us cheaper and better bread.

Commercial bakers have been showing increasing interest in the freezing process. And U-S government research workers, co-operating with the refrigerating industry, are working on practical methods for large-scale bread freezing.

The widespread use of freezing could bring bread prices down for several reasons.

Freezing keeps bread from going stale. And there would be less waste in the marketing of bread . . . fewer loaves returned to the bakers from markets. Costs also would be reduced because bakeries could do more work in the daytime and less at night.

Expensive night operations are necessary now so bread can be rushed from the bakery to food markets with the least possible loss of time.

Experiments show that break keeps best when it's frozen as soon as possible after coming out of the oven. Quick defrosting is also the best method of keeping the bread in top condition.

And research shows that if the freezing and thawing are handled properly, the thawed-out bread won't go stale any faster than ordinary bread . . . either on the grocer's shelf or in the home.

Research experts say when fresh bread comes out of the oven, moisture is spread evenly through the loaf. As time goes by, the moisture begins to evaporate through the crust, and that's what makes bread go stale.

Quick freezing keeps the moisture distributed evenly through the loaf, just as it was fresh from the oven. And experiments show it will stay that way for between four and seven weeks if the frozen bread is stored at zero temperature. —BUP.

COUNCIL QUICKIES

Here are some brief items from the final 1955 meeting of Lindsay's Council:

TOWN'S INSURANCE

A letter from the town's insurance agents on the matter of the coverage of town vehicles operating out of the confines of Lindsay was read to the members. It was explained that all town vehicles are covered fully when operating in Canada or the United States, but not in Mexico.

Alderman Maidens quipped that the Board of Works had better be careful if they plan on sending any of their trucks to Mexico.

INAUGURAL MEETING

Alderman B. C. Maidens moved that the inaugural meeting of the 1956 Council be held in the Town Hall on the evening of Monday, January 9th., at 8 p.m. The motion was seconded by Alderman McCrae and passed by Council. It was pointed out that since the first Monday of the year would be a holiday and the day after New Years. "We'd be too full of . . . turkey to be in the mood for a Council meeting," said Mayor Hick.

REQUEST FROM HSA BD.

A letter from Mr. Jasper Forman to the Town was read requesting that a detailed cost breakdown of the proposed new $6,600 sewer through Kawartha Park to service the LCI and its expansion be submitted. Mr. Forman also requested other pertinent facts on its function and peration. Council agreed to supply this information and to have the Town Engineer meet with the HSA and the architect in an advisory capacity, and to render any assistance possible.

A "MUST" FOR COUNCIL

Mayor A. E. Hick presented a new book just purchased by the town entitled "Canadian Municipal Government" by Grant Crawford. He requested that all members of Council read this book, since it tells in detail all the duties of each member of Council, and tells of how a municipal government should operate. His Worship suggested that the press might well review this book so that comparisons might be made between the ideal town government and that of Lindsay. He said that he thought it would be found that procedure is well followed by Lindsay's Council. Alderman J. C. Holtom placed the first bid on the book.

FIRE HALL SUPPLIES

Alderman J. A. Harrigan recommended that the 1956 Council make arrangement for supplies for the Fire Hall be purchased through the Fire committee instead of the Town Property committee. He said that he felt the Fire Committee was in close touch with the department and could thus know when expenditure could rightfully be approved.

The Season of Sunday School Parties

About 80 boys and girls were in attendance at the Christmas party for the Senior Sunday School Group of St. Paul's Anglican Church, where they were entertained with a banquet, motion picture films, and the mystifying performances of magician Reg. Hart, of Lindsay. The party was held in the Marsh Memorial Hall, and was the fourth to be held for this group over the past years. The group was supervised by the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. Hesketh, John and Peter Lyons, Miss Helen Robertson, Miss R. Robbins, Mrs. R. Bools, and Mrs. R. Graham.

The above picture shows the happy faces of the children as they watched the performance on stage. Mr. Hart has been a magician for the past 10 years. He first studied magic as a hobby. He donates his talents to all churches, clubs and Christmas parties which are presenting programs for children. At the rear of the audience can be seen Rev. Hesketh, (standing) and Mr. Hart (seated to the right.)

Mother Of Two Charged With 5 Counts Forgery, Say Husband Is Jobless

A Wilberforce mother of two young children, whose husband is unemployed has been arrested by Lindsay Police and charged with five counts of forgery; four of uttering a forged document; and one of attempting to utter a forged document. She was arrested while allegedly attempting to cash a worthless cheque in a Lindsay supermarket.

Chief of Police John Hunter said today that his investigations have led him to believe that recent developments may aid in clearing up a series of worthless cheque incidents which have been "plaging" Lindsay merchants since the middle of September.

Chief Hunter said Tuesday that apprehension of the Wilberforce woman was made due to the alertness of the manager of a large Lindsay supermarket who had remembered the name and signature on a worthless cheque he had seen in the police office some weeks earlier. It was learned that the manager immediately summoned the police and P. C. Wm. Mosley arrived and made the arrest.

"Warm-ups" came cheaper When gasoline 25¢ gallon

It didn't used to be so heartbreaking to warm those "gas buggies" up a few short years ago.

The prices of gasoline over the past 18 years have increased 20 cents per gallon in Lindsay, it was learned when glancing through some old accounts from the year 1937, which had just been unearthed. Labour was considerable cheaper as well.

A gasoline bill from W. E. Baker and Sons shows that gasoline in that year cost 19 cents plus six cents tax. Nowadays in Lindsay, a gallon of gas, as any motorist knows, costs either 42 or 45 cents, depending on the grade preferred for the vehicle.

Another itemized bill for labour shows that the hourly rates ranged from 10 to 30 cents. One man, according to the bill, worked for nine hours and was paid $2.70. A less experienced man worked on another job for 99 hours, for which he received $1.90.

The account in question required a total of 30 hours work, and the total labour cost was $7.84.

"Lindsay-a happy town in which to live" Slogan for 1956, Says Mayor At Christmas

Lindsay's slogan in 1956 will be "a happy town in which to live", says Mayor A. E. Hick in his Christmas message to the townspeople Tuesday. Here is the text of his message.

"It is a distinct pleasure to bring to the citizens of Lindsay through the medium of this newspaper my second Christmas message as your Mayor.

"The Christmas Season is a joyous one — a time for friends and loved ones —a time to express appreciation for many acts of kindness during the year.

"I have enjoyed serving you as your Mayor. I have had many pleasant associations with the Council, the members of our many Boards, the Town Employees, the organizations of the Town and the Citizens generally. I have found everyone most conscientious, serving well tc make Lindsay a better place in which to live. May I sincerely thank everyone who has played a part.

"We are indeed a fortunate people. One has only to compare our standard of living — our way of life with less fortunate countries — who do not have the rich resources that we are blessed with.

"Our form of Government which has developed and improved over the centuries is a stable one — not changed by the whim of a dictator grasping for power, but by the will of the people.

"I was gratified the other day to read a report by medical authorities that Lindsay was rated "a happy town." Our slogan for 1956 and the future could well be —"Lindsay — a happy town in which to live."

"As one assesses our Town you can't help but think that we have a bright future ahead of us. We have every facility for pleasant and gracious living along with a productive and friendly population.

"I have every confidence in Lindsay and its citizens and predict a bright future for this fine Town which we all hold in such high regard.

"I said at our nomination meeting that the year 1956 would be one of planning for the future by the Council. We must prepare now for the growth and expansion that is going to be ours. Our sights must be raised to look beyond the horizon and envision a Lindsay of the future — a happy town — a pleasant place to call home.

'At this time, I would like to compliment the Chamber of Commerce, the business firms and the citizens for their many fine Christmas decorations. Our festive streets are an inspiring sight.

'My sincere wish for all our citizens is that you have a Very Merry Christmas and a bright and prosperous 1956.'

Official -19 Here, Minden Reading -28, Car Springs Shatter

Monday night in Lindsay, the mercury dropped to the lowest point that it has reached in two years, according to the Domniion weather office. It was officially 19 degrees below zero in Lindsay, but as compared to the temperature in Minden, it was relatively warm. At 7.30 a.m. the thermometers in Minden recorded a frigid 28 below . . . so cold that in one case the springs on a man's car literally disintegrated when he went over a slight bump in the road.

In Lindsay reports as to the degree of cold reached during the night show great variation. One man on King St. said his new thermometer read 20 below, while at the Town Hall the police department recorded 18 below.

Garages and service stations with tow trucks were kept on the hop this morning answering calls from mororists who found that their cars refused to start after sitting out in the cold all night.

It was none too warm in Lindsay at eight o'clock this morning either, as the thermometer was sitting at a cold 16 below zero. At noon today the temperature was unofficially 11 above.

Fire Chief Suggests Ways Of Avoiding Fiery Christmas

Lindsay's Fire Chief Alex Wylie has issued a Christmas letter to the people of the district with suggestions for avoiding a fiery Christmas season. The chief urges everyone to take time out to read what he has to say.

Here are Fire Chief Wylie's suggestions for making this a safer Christmas.

"The Christmas season is one of greatly increased fire hazards. Failure to observe normal precautions or momentary forgetfulness have taken disastrous toll at this season during past years. The following suggestions for fire prevention, if observed, will greatly lessen the special hazards existing at this time.

"Candlelight and fireplaces are used more extensively at Christmas season and should be well guarded and carefully watched. Open flame lighting, as as candle, if permitted at all, should be only where fixed holders are used. All such flames should be kept well away from flammable decorations, Christmas trees, window curtains, tablecloths or other flammable materials, and should be kept under constant adult supervision. These precautions should also be observed for candlelight services where the candles should be well removed from decorations and away from where the public will pass. It is most preferable to use fixed electrical systems with specially designed electrical candles.

"An evergreen Christmas tree dries out rapidly in a warm room and should only be kept from immediately before Christmas until the needles begin to fall It will remain more fire resistant if the base is cut diagonally and kept in a pan of water. The tree should be located away from any open fire and well-supported. Electric bulbs should not touch any part of the tree itself.

"Smoking habits are particularly important at this time of year because of the quantities of wrappings and decorations that might become involved. Extra care must be exercised in the lighting and disposal of matches, and in the discarding of cigarette butts. Loose paper wrappings should be immediately disposed of in metal cans with covers.

"Christmas concerts and Christmas tree parties should be well supervised and emergency fire equipment should be provided at an easily accessible location. Fire extinguishers are most effective of pump tank or soda-acid types or a length of garden or fire hose sufficient to reach any part of the area about the tree and ready for instant use. Exits should be unlocked and unobstructed at all times that the building is occupied. In case of fire, CALL THE FIRE DEPARTMENT IMMEDIATELY.

"I trust that you will do all in your power to make this Christmas a fire safe one in your home and Community, by bringing to the attention of your friends, the Safety Precautions which they should take to combat the extra hazards existing a this time of year.

"Children are the usual victims when tragedy caused by fire strikes at the home. Let us all help to attain this year a MERRY FIRE SAFE CHRISTMAS FOR ALL."

Fenelon Falls Organizations Catch RMH Renovation 'Bug'

Two organizations within the village of Fenelon Falls have contributed substantially to the "renovation of rooms" program of the Ross Memorial Hospital. The Rotary of Fenelon Falls and the Women's Institute of Fenelon Falls have each contributed $100 to the RMH to be used for the renovation of patients' rooms within the institution. Another gift of $75 was also received from the estate of the late Samuel D. Hall, the annual portion of the $3,000 bequest given the hospital.

At the regular monthly meeting of the RMH Board of Governors, it was also made known that the economic situation of the hospital is rapidly becoming much stronger, as was indicated in the treasurer's report.

At the end of November, 1954, the hospital deficit, before depreciation was $9,221. But at the end of November this year, there is a surplus of $465 before depreciation.

After depreciation, the hospital deficit has decreased by almost $10,000 in one year. It was $19,769. at the end of November last year, And at the present time, the deficit, after depreciation is $9,985.

The Board of Governors attribute this change to the financial picture to good administration, and overall efficient operation.

THIS SURE DOESN'T LOOK LIKE THE WAY TO WIN CUSTOMERS . . .

The other day, in the wake of a suggestion that consideration be given to complimentary parking accommodation in town during the week before Christmas, we stood and watched while a policeman tagged a car which was apparently beside an unpaid parking meter. It wasn't the policeman's fault that the motorist was getting a parking ticket, he was only enforcing the conditions of the bylaw covering such things and generally speaking it has been our experience that these officers are as lenient as they can be without subjecting themselves to accusations of being lax in the carrying out of their duties. However, as we observed the incident we could only conclude that it didn't look like the way to win customers and create friendly feelings towards the town. What do you think?

LINDSAY'S CHRISTMAS ATMOSPHERE

The merchants of Lindsay have done a remarkably good job of attuning their places of business to the Yuletide season. Numerous citizens have been heard to remark about the many extremely attractive Christmas decorations which are beautifying Lindsay shops this year.

Lindsay's Chamber of Commerce has endeavoured to help foster the festive atmosphere by having attractive pine trees placed at intervals in the main shopping centre and by erecting a huge Christmas tree outside the Town Hall. The manager of the Chamber gives credit to Mr. S. R. Pitts, its president, for figuring out an effective way of supporting the big tree. Added to all this is favorite Christmas music being broadcast at the intersection of Kent and William Sts., courtesy of Earl Kennedy Electric.

These features, coupled with the customary helpfulness of the merchants and their assistants are apparently appreciated by the numerous people who make Lindsay their shopping mecca judging by the contagious spirit of goodwill prevailing.

GOOD THINGS ENDURE

By an unusual coincidence there are two funds performing a humanitarian work in North American communities which have been in existence for exactly the same length of time. These funds render a service to those in dire need in their respective areas of operation and it is a significant tribute to the integrity of those directing these funds that they have endured for 44 consecutive years gaining in respect and support. The appeals we refer to are the "Neediest Cases Fund" New York City and the Santa Claus Stocking Fund, Lindsay.

We were particularly impressed with the closing remarks in a "New York Times" editorial launching the "Neediest Cases" appeal in that city last week and it may serve to inspire those who are supporting the Lindsay appeal. Here are the comments which attracted our attention:

"Some things we cannot do. We cannot prolong a life beyond its natural term. But a great deal we can do. We can make lives a little more worth while. We can make the neediest feel that they have friends, even though they may never know the friends' names or what they look like.

"We might let our minds play with some chance encounter in years to come. Perhaps there will be a meeting on the street, a passing by, of two individuals who do not know each other, yet who are linked together because one gave and the other received. In such a case we might even ask ourselves which was the needier, for there is a need to give as well as a need to receive. Giving and receiving, if each acts in the proper spirit, we come closer to the dream of human brotherhood.

FARMERS BUILD ROADS

Ontario had toll roads years ago and we may be coming around full circle. Yet with all the talk about superhighways there is precious little consideration given to the owner of a farm. The farmer is building and maintaining tens of thousands of miles of roads and bridges at a small fraction of the money being spent on the comparatively tiny percentage of provincial highways.

Look at Normanby Township in the southwest corner of Grey County. With a total annual budget of less than $60,000 the five Normanby councillors (all farmers) build and maintain 150 miles of roads. This includes grading, ditching, building bridges and culverts, buying graders and trucks, snowplowing, and overhead.

These township roads and bridges are passable enough to serve buses on the winter school runs.

But look what happens when the Township asks the Province to take over a piece of road. Costs are not merely doubled or tripled, they are multiplied ten or twenty times.

Ths year, for example, a road in Normanby Township was designated the Mount Forest Bypass Development Road 330.

Rebuilding was according to specifications provided by the Ontario Department of Highways. The road was only two and one-tenth miles and did not have a single bridge or culvert, but the project cost $30,000.

This was half as much money to rebuild about two miles of road as the township spends on complete summer and winter maintenance and building of 150 miles of roads and bridges.

Township councils are building and maintaining roads on an economical basis, as the above figures should indicate. But 50% of the cost of these township roads and 20% of the cost of these bridges is born by the property holder.

In 1956 with the increased taxes on motor vehicles, we feel some consideration should be given to the property holder in the township.

Is there any real reason why the farmer should be so heavily taxed for roads?

DON'T BURN DOWN YOUR HOUSE

Keep your holiday happy. A Christmas tree can cause a roaring blaze in your home before the fire department can be called—so, be careful.

Keep the tree outdoors until decorating time. Place it in the home so that it does not block any exits and is not close to a source of heat.

Don't risk using frayed cords and broken plugs. Use proper fuses. Use flame-proof decorations.

Remember it's going to be a long winter and we could name 50 fire hazards that will be present in some homes after the holidays are over. Here are 22 of the most common aids to a disastrous fire.

1 Electric drop cord hung on nail.
2 Soot in chimney.
3 Rubbish in attic.
4 Loose brick in chimney.
5 Radio or TV antenna not properly grounded.
6 Unstopped or paper-covered flue.
7 Stovepipe too close to ceiling.
8 Curtains too close to stove.
9 Use of improper electric fuses.
10 Matches within reach of small children.
11 Inflammable cleaning fluid.
12 Automobile with defective fuel or ignition system.
13 Electric iron connected and not in use.
14 Oily rags or waste, polish and paints left in disorder.
15 Cord wood not piled properly.
16 Ashes in wooden container.
17 Sagging smoke pipe, defective joint.
18 Unprotected floor boards above smoke pipe.
19 Unprotected boards above furnace.
20 Fireplace not sufficiently insulated.
21 Fireplace without fender or fire screen.
22 Electric wires under rug.

CHRISTMAS BARGAINS

Christmas shoppers are finding out that a $5 bill doesn't go very far—in Canada. But in Korea or India, it would look after a child for a month. And in Greece, it would buy enough flour to see one through the winter.

These philanthropic bargains are offered by the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada, which has its office at 48 Sparks Street in Ottawa. The committee is conducting a Christmas appeal for the modest amount of $110,000, which will be used to relieve suffering in depressed areas of Europe and Asia. But with that modest amount, it can do much.

Through the USC's foster parent scheme, a Korean or Indian child can be "adopted" for $60 a year. This amount will provide him or her with food, clothing, medical care and basic education. In Europe, a child can be "adopted" for as little as $15 a month. One dollar will place twenty-five pounds of flour in the hands of hungry mothers and children.

Many a Canadian family will spend $60 this Christmas to buy prseents for their children. Some will spend that much on one child alone. That is their right. But they could do it with an easier conscience if they remembered these other children, for whom so little can do so much. And in the end—say, twenty years from now—their own children might have reason to thank them for it.

BRING BACK CHRIST TO CHRISTMAS

For several years now a number of organizations in Canada and the United States have been campaigning at this season of the year for a return to the true spirit of Christmas.

In Truro the Catholic Women's League has been spearheading the campaign for the past few years and have been receiving much co-operation from other groups.

Again this year they are sponsoring a crib making contest in the schools, plan to erect a manger scene on the church grounds and hope to interest merchants into providing window displays of a religious nature.

The campaign throughout the continent and in other parts of the world is gradually getting support from many people who look with dismay at the "over-commercialization" of the season and the debasement of the spirit of giving. Down in New Zealand as the result of the campaign last year, so-called "comic" and other irrelevant types of Christmas cards have disappeared this year.

Parents can assist in the campaign by teaching their children the old, but ever new, carols and telling them the story of the Star in the East, the Three Wise Men and the birth of The Christ Child in a stable in Bethlehem.

At the present time the Press and other media are supporting a Safe Driving campaign, with particular emphasis on elimination of drunken or impaired driving. Motorists can do their share in making Christmas what it should be by realizing that gas and liquor don't mix.

All in all, if people would only forget about giving or getting gifts of equal value, but instead give with the right spirit; if they would not, in many cases, run themselves in debt by buying beyond their means; if they would gather as a family group without liquor but with festive spirit; if children were taught more about the story of Christmas and less about Santa Claus——then Christmas would truly be Christ's birthday.

GREETINGS ON THE PERIPHERY

Most people send out some Christmas cards, and a surprising number of people send out a large number of Christmas cards. If they are orderly souls they have a list of those people from whom they received greetings last year, and they try to meet its demands this year. In such a list there is always a hard core of tried and true friends who must receive cards. But apart from this hard core there are those people, little known, distant, not seen for years, and altogether, peripheral to the circle of acquaintance, who create a problem: should they be sent cards or not?

If the increase of these peripheral people is not kept within bounds their number mounts to alarming size. Yet, sure as eggs is eggs, if you cut some of them off the list you will receive cards from them shortly after. What is to be done?

Our solution is a new form of greeting card, which might be called the Package Card or Heavy Duty Greeting. It could contain some such message as 'Christmas Greetings and New Year Good Wishes for the next Five Years,' or 'A Decade of Christmas and New Years' Happiness to You.' It might even be possible to get a card which read 'Happiness to You Through All Eternity.' The recipients of such cards would know that they were not to expect another Christmas card for some considerable time — if ever. Just outside the circle of intimacy, on the periphery of acquaintanceship, they would know that we loved them, and wished them well, and also that we did not intend to go on saying so, year after year.

Odds And Ends

There is still time to make little gifts for the Yuletide season. One of the easiest things to make is doilies you crochet yourself. Make them thick enough to keep those hot plates from getting through to the shiny table and spoiling it. If you start now you might have several finished before Christmas pops up. You might like to crochet a pillbox for some young lady on your list. Both of these work up quickly and you can make a pattern that is simple in two colors. If you want an inexpensive gift you might try making some Christmas candles for one of your friends. For the big size you can mold it in a butter carton and you'll have a chubby candle that will do wonders for your table center

Let Them Help

Let your children decorate cookies for you and they will take more interest in Christmas cookies. Mix up several colors in butter icing and let them use their imagination in decorating. Give them a tool that will help them to keep it from smearing all over and you may get a surprise at the talent they will display. Have some raisins and colored candies to help make them with an air of Christmas. It will keep them quiet while you mix up your cake.

Put It Out Of Sight!

Sometimes it doesn't pay to make your Christmas cake too early. One mother was lamenting the fact that she made her cake in November and thought it would mellow the right amount by Christmas. Well, she was just like old mother hubbard for first thing she knew there was none. A nibble here and there and it gradually evaporated. She said she didn't ice it thinking the children wouldn't like it without the frosting but she was dead wrong. So, if you want to have Christmas cake for Christmas you'll have to hide it. Make it at night when they are all in bed and hide it away where they won't find it. It's the only ways and means of keeping it for Christmas.

Xmas Centerpiece

Attractive Christmas touches are rosy red apples with big white candles stuck in the top. Dig a hole in the stem and use singly or mile them like a Christmas tree. Hold apples in place with toothpicks. Place on a bed of greens and you will have a centerpiece or single apples for place settings. The apples can be eaten after the meal and junior will like that.

Make It Yourself

If you spend all your money on gifts and wonder what you can do for decorations here is a tip. Buy some sheets of tinfoil and make red or silver Christmas trees. Paste or better still use tape to keep them together. The tinfoil is stiff and will make smart trees A couple on the mantel and one for the table will give your home a real Christmas atmosphere. If you prefer the red tinfoil then use it and decorate with small glass balls. Wrap candies in red tissue paper and place them around the bottom of the tree.

Lawn Decorations

If you have a nice evergreen tree on your lawn, be sure and decorate it and add glamour to your home and welcome your Christmas guests. Everybody who passes will enjoy it too, so feel lucky if you have an evergreen to decorate.

CKLY Opening

In spite of the snowstorm CKLY opening came over the air in fine style last Thursday night. For those who couldn't get out to it, it was interesting to hear it over the air. The storm didn't seem to harm the reception in the least.

Need A Little Co-operation

From now on our stores will be jammed with people shopping for Christmas and it might be a good idea for some of us to try shopping in the morning to give the stores a break. Some people can't get out to shop early, but those who can could help our stores out by doing so. It gives the clerks a chance to serve you better if you co-operate with them in this way. If everyone chooses the afternoon to shop then they can't expect to get as good service. Give the merchants a break! They will serve you better.

Winter Came!

On Friday, everyone was thinking of getting out their snowshoes for the snow gave the town a very wintry look. It sort of sneaked up on us during the night and by morning there was quite a covering of snow. It meant that mothers had to get out junior's warmer clothes and snow suits for winter really came to us with a vengeance. The children love it, but some of the oldsters would gladly have waited until they did their Christmas shopping. You just can't talk to the weatherman and get any satisfaction so we'll just have to take it when it comes.

Green and Red

Don't forget to add a stuffed olive slice to some of your open-faced sandwiches for Christmas. A few leaves of cress around it will give it a very special Christmas air. Cover a round of bread with any kind of finely chopped meat and put a slice of olive in the center or a string of them slightly overlapping around the edge. If you have some turkey left over use it and get compliments from your guests. If you have a plant of chives in the house you can use these for the greenery It's amazing how much one can eat when the food is especially glamorized without too many frills. Just the right amount is best.

Smart Trick

The aprons the Cambridge St. United Church ladies were selling at their bazaar had not only a pocket, but a hanky to match. Both apron and hanky were trimmed with red and it was linen too.

Nice Gift

One of the nicest gifts a husband can give his wife is a new setting for her diamond ring She may like to add another stone or she may just want to have two small diamonds at each side. It is wise to have your stones checked for looseness of the stone or the claws may need replacing. It's a nice gift and any woman will be glad of such a gift.

No Help Needed

Our shops are full of the most exciting things for girls and any man can find several he would like to give his best girl. The new jewelry is glamorous and has a new look we haven't seen before. If it's for the wife then just take a look at some furniture and she'll be pleased with something new for the house. You can really find more things for women than men so do some window-shopping and acsually quiz her about the different things in the windows. A few trips of looking and you can almost sum up what she would like. You may have difficulty making up your mind, but any woman knows the right gift without any difficulty. She has a whole year to make up her mind and you can count on getting a broad hint as to the gift she wants. Our shops are full of lovely gifts so shop around until you find just what you want.

Mad Rush

Have you all your Christmas gifts bought and ready for mailing? Not many of us have but that last minute rush is coming closer. It sort of sneaks up on one and then there is a great rush to get the last of the parcels off. It really pays to get them off in good time but somehow the time slips by and we're rushing to the post office and hope they won't be delayed. We are all more or less like that but it is far easier to do them early and have lots of time to buy and mail them to their destination.

Half A Tree

Whether it is small or large a tree is almost a must in many homes. If your living room is small by all means get a small tree, with Mirrors, half a tree looks like a whole one. You simply cut off all the back branches and stand the tree against any wall space paneled with a mirror. The tree looks full size and the mirror's reflection also accentuates the lights, glass balls, and other trimmings. Yet it takes only half the space of a whole tree.

Easy Dessert

One of the easiest desserts at this time of the year is made with sliced apples, frozen berries or strawberries. Since apples are plentiful this is how you make it. Butter a pudding dish and slice apples into it Then take enough corn flakes to cover the top about two inches with, butter (small amount to make it crunchy) and a quarter cup of brown sugar. Mix these three, cornflakes, brown sugar and tablespoon of butter and cover the top and bake. Serve with light cream. Other fruits can be used but apples are so plentiful and they do make a delicious pudding. Some like a sprinkling of cinnamon with it but you have to like the flavor and many prefer just the sugar.

Beauty

Some women are afraid to use a hair brush on freshly washed hair. But there is no need to worry for when properly done it helps to prolong the set. Always use a bit of stay-put cream to keep your curls in and they will shine and stay in place longer.

Could Be!

One little boy in town insists he hears Santa and his reindeers every night now. Apparently these visits are premature but the little fellow is sure of his statements. Of course it could be his father doing the jingle act but it won't hurt the little fellow to think Santa is doing his rounds to see if every little fellow is asleep. Santa likes to surprise children with his gifts and so he waits until they are all in bed before he checks on them. So, the little fellow is likely right and Santa is keeping his eye on those who go to bed early.

Take The Hint

Reading about the two children who drowned at Tweed reminds parents of their responsibility of keeping their children away from our own river. A bit of ice looks very inviting to children who do not know the risk they take in getting near it. We have had drownings in the past but we don't want more of them. It's up to the parents for young children never realize danger when it comes to fun. We noticed there was some ice near the town dock and it will get thicker as time goes on. That is when these accidents happen but one can't put a high wire fence around to keep them out. Forewarned is the only solution and parents should stresss it and make sure we have no drownings to mar the holiday season.

Job Well Done

We noticed where they had a burning ceremony of the mortgage of the Orange Hall in Haliburton recently. It must give a community a great deal of pleasure to see the last of the mortgage and from then on all is rosy. It's a wonderful achievement in any town or village and they deserve credit where credit is due. We, in Lindsay share all these lovely spots to our north and we can't help but feel elated at the progress these places are making.

Left His

After reading about the breakins last week we looked out the window and there were some large footprints in the snow alongside of the house. The owner of the prints walked down the side of the house and then hopped over to the neighbors house leaving some clear footprints. He apparently was foiled for nothing was taken. Here's hoping they don't like our neighborhood.

Accolades Handed Out By Council

At its final meeting of the year for the 1955 Council, accolades were handed out by the Mayor and other members of Council who represented departments, Alderman J. A Harrigan, who retires this year was honoured by Council, and many kind words were expressed for the work done during the year by the press in Lindsay.

"Although we don't always agree with what we find in the papers about ourselves,' said Mayor Hick, "I must admit that they have done a fine job of keeping us on our toes, seeing that we don't spend the town's money improperly, and telling the people what their Council is doing. I would like at this time to pay respects for myself and Council to the press of Lindsay."

Mayor Hick then paid tribute to the members of Council during 1955 who "have worked hard and cooperated to the utmost, having given their best at all times"

In speaking of Mr. Harrigan, Mayor Hick pointed out the newly-decorated Council Chambers will "remain a monument to Alderman Harrigan's 'genius' who was able to get so much for so little. He has obtained excellent value for the town."

"I have enjoyed serving with Alderman Harrigan who has been a good councillor. I hope that next year he will think of us as we work into the late hours of the night on town business, since he appreciates the problems facing those who serve on public bodies."

Alderman Harrigan replied to the Mayor with thanks, after which His Worship paid tribute to the work of Town Clerk W. R. Allely and deputy-clerk B. Bate as well as the entire staff of the Town Hall.

Alderman W. S. W. Breese told the members of the co-operation he has received from the T[illegible]gineer and the Board [illegible] employees pointing out tha[illegible] staff changes have not made the service suffer by any means.

Town Engineer J. N. Timberlake responded for the Board of Works stressing the fact that for a town the size of Lindsay, the Board is most fortunate in having employees of a "superior" calibre.

Thanks to the members of Council for their co-operation was also given by Reeve Richard Butler who spoke as "the member who has served on Lindsay's Council for the greatest number of years."

Warn Contractors No Gifts For Highways Employees

Toronto, Dec. 15 —(BUP)— The Department of Highways has warned Ontario contractors not to give Christmas gifts to highways employees.

The Department also issued a warning yesterday that all department employees will be dismissed if they accept favors from contractors.

The warnings follow recommendations made by J. D. Woods and Gordon Limited who investigated the department following highway scandals.

British Actor Presents Program To School Pupils

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —Mr. Frank Crawsaw, a talented, experienced actor presented a programme of very high calibre in the Fenelon Falls High School to the students and teachers of the Public and High Schools. The following account of this excellent performance was written by Clinton Brumwell, as Grade XII student:—

"The students and teachers of Fenelon Falls High School were were entertained by Frank Crawcaw, a well-known British actor, returning to England after touring many Canadian schols

He is known as "the man with a hundred faces", and his voice control enables him to enact very effectively many interesting dialogues. Among the acts he presented were portions from Dicken's Christmas Carol and Shakespeare's Hamlet. He recited "The Highwayman", in which he played the leading role, and also the first speech which Winston Churchill gave as Prime Minister of Great Britain.

"In closing he reminded those present that clear articulation and the ability to speak are characteristics worth acquiring as they are characteristics of the most popular leaders and prominent men of the world.

May Use Hormones To Increase Number Twin Lamb Births

Hormones may be used to increase the number of twin lamb births in the future.

; Scientists at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, injected a hormone into the ewe four days before breeding at a normal heat period. The treatment increased the number of multiple birtths, especially the number of triplets and quadruplets.

Naturally, the average birth weights and weaning weights of the lambs were lower and the mortality rate to weaning was higher than usual This reduced the number of surviving lambs to near normal.

A second experiment now being tried indicates that a lower level of hormone injection will give more twin births than normal, but will not produce the larger number of triplets and quadruplets. With twin births, the mortality rate is not so high.

Collects $4,000

Widely-known Lindsay Woman Has Given Over Twenty Years Working For The Bible Society

A widely-known Lindsay lady, Miss Alice Kerr Gibson, has to her credit the collecting of some $4,000. in local canvasses for the Bible Society.

"I have a very worthwhile recompense of a glad and glowing feeling within', she stated, "and have enjoyed this work to the full over a period of more than 20 years. Yes, I feel that I have in some small measure shared in the great work of placing the Bible in the hands of many peoples, the world over."

And, Miss Gibson has proof of her work in that she has kept over the long period of years receipts of her bank deposits to the credit of the Society.

Miss Alice Kerr Gibson, lives at present alone at the northly limit of Albert Street and on the western side. This year as always she has spared no time and no effort in this zealous work of the true Christians and has practically finished her canvass.

She has never been paid to do this canvass, only in the sense of the deep satisfaction she derives in doing what she considers a worthwhile work.

It will be recalled that her father —Gavin Alured Gibson and brother Alured Edward Gibson lived with Miss Gibson until their decease.

Gavin Alured Gibson, an Oxford graduate and military trained came to Canada and in the Dunsford area met and married Miss Alice Kerr. He brought her to Lindsay as a bride and built the Albert Street home where two daughters and one son were reared. Mrs Margaret W. Ray was the other sister. Tragedy shrouded the happy family when the mother, Mrs. Gibson, met a tragic death when she was attacked and killed by a cow Her body it will be recalled was found in the ditch at the corner of Albert and Pottinger Streets by Mrs. Bramwell Tompkins.

Miss Gibson has in her possession an interesting history of her mother's family, the Kerr family in Canada. This record tells of how three Kerr brothers and one sister, James, Sam, Mark and Abigail, sailed for the shores of Canada from their native Belfast Ireland about 1835. The crossing was not made aboard a luxurius liner that touched shore within four days, but peculiar of those days 120 years ago, the crossing was made aboard a schooner that did not touch land for 18 weeks or the equivalent of four and a half months.

The passage was very trying. Storms, followed repeatedly by more storms, lashed the vessel, sweeping gigantic waves over its decks. It was necessary at this point to lighten the cargo. Accordingly the passengers had to cast some of their most treasured possessions into the sea, articles that were the only connecting links between the home they had so recently left and the home they had hoped to carve out of the Canadian forest.

Also not a few of the passengers proved themselves to be poor sailors with the result that they succumbed to the torments of the sea and wrapped in a shroud were lowered over the side of the vessel to rest in the fathomless depths of the mighty Atlantic.

Although he was surrounded by all these handicaps, that irresistable character, Dan Cupid, was at work James, who was then only eighteen years of age, met on board a Scotch lassie by the name of Mary Jane Kennedy. Mary was only sixteen but love blossomed and shortly after their arrival in the "Land of Promise", she and James were married.

Mark, the eldest of the three brothers, said farewell to his brothers and sisters at Montreal, where he remained and taught school for many years.

The others travelled further inland and when they had reached Cavan Township, Durham County, they settled. The St. John's Church and Cemetery, Ida, were situated on land which was part of the original Kerr farm.

Later, the two brothers, James and Sam moved to Lindsay, where they bought the land on which the present Court House stands. It is understood that logs that formed part of the original house erected on this property were unearthed here some years ago.

In the meantime their sister Abigail married William Corley, who owned the farm, which since has undergone a change and become the property of the Lindsay Golf Club; where instead of swinging forks as the Corley's did, golf enthusiasts swing golf clubs.

It was about this time that Sam, not wishing to be outdone by his brother and sister, chose as his bride Liza Blackwell of Omemee. She was a native of Ireland.

With the rapid growth of Lindsay the brothers sold their farm and in place Sam purchased a bakery and James a hotel in the East Ward. No bridges spanned the Scugog in those days, so anyone wishing to cross the river to or from the East Ward had to tread lightly on planks, that floated on the surface of the rapid stream.

Neither James or Sam, however, remained in business a great many years for the urge to return to the land was too great for them to resist, with their families they moved to newly-purchased farms. James located in Ops while Sam was across the boundary in Emily. James was the father of eleven children and Sam the father of twelve.

John, a brother of Mrs. Gibson was a son of James and many well remember his daughter Margaret. It is interesting to note that he operated the white swing bridge, south of the town for twenty-two years.

Sam's daughter Susan became Mrs Swain and was the mother of six children.

Mr. John Kerr had in his possession an heirloom in the form of a chest, brought across the Atlantic by his Uncle Mark At Mark's death, this chest was sent from Montreal to his sister Mrs. Corley. When she passed on, her daughter Abigail became the possessor. It was not until Abigail's death that John fell heir to this treasured heirloom.

The chest is three feet in width and constructed of solid cedar, that is to say that there are no splices. The handles, it is interesting to note, were made of flax, grown on Mark's fathers' farm, in the County of Belfast, Ireland.

TV Turns Spy For Post Office

Peterborough, Dec. 15 —(BUP)— Peterborough's Post Office is to get a closed circuit of T-V cameras to detect pilferers and loiterers.

Postal authorities in Ottawa say the new Post Office building in Peterborough with Canada's first mechanical sorting machine lends itself to experimentation.

The electronic system will cost 50-thousand dollars. Originally it was planned to have observation posts sbut plans for these have now been scrapped.

What happens to a city when one tenth of population jobless 88 consecutive days?

Oshawa provides some of the answers

Oshawa, Dec. 15 —(BUP)—What happens to a city of more than 100-thousand when one-tenth of the population is out of work for 88 successive days?

The city of Oshawa, Ontario found out today as the strike of 10-thousand General Motors of Canada employees continued their strike started September 19th to enfrceo demands for higher wages.

Company officials estimate the strike so far has cost every striker more than 800 dollars while the United Auto Workers Union has spent 125-thousand dollars a week just to supply the strikers' families with food and fuel.

The International and local union will pay workers who man the picket lines 20 dollars in cash as a Christmas bonus. This will be the first money the strikers will have received since the walkout started.

City officials say the strike also has had an adverse effect on real estate dealers, insurance businesses as well as merchants throughout the city. Local businessmen say the walkout has had "a terrible effect" on some businesses while others have been relatively unaffected."

Jewellery, drug and real estate firms complain they have been very hard hit by the strike and bank managers say many young couples are falling behind in mortgage payments on their homes.

The grocery appliance and car dealers in Oshawa report —however -they have not been "too badly hit" by the strike. They said sales are down from this time last year, but the union assistance is maintaining a fair shopping trade.

With about 40 per cent of the working force of Oshawa out of work, some businessmen say it may take two years for the economy of the city to return to an even, prosperous keel. They fear the worst effects are still to come as the walk-out drags n.

At Bobcaygeon Delayed When Tree With Vital Starting Nail Felled

Construction of the new $190,000 bridge at Bobcaygeon, which is now underway, was reportedly delayed for some time because of a tree which had ben chopped down during the year.

According to reports, the engineers, in laying out specifications for the new bridge had indicated a starting point by driving a nail into a tree. But when the crews arrived to begin work, the tree was missing. It was reported that it took a group of engineers a number of days to determine a starting point all over again. No one seems to know who authorized the tree cut down.

The new permanent bridge already has had the footings sunk, which are of cedar logs filled with cement and stone. In the meantime it is reported that a temporary Bailey Bridge is being constructed, and should be ready for use by next week. The new bridge, according to contract specifications, is scheduled to be opened in June, 1956.

The construction work is being done by Blythe Construction of Toronto, who incidently, built the old bridge at Bobcaygeon.

It is expected that the removal of the bottleneck at this location on a busy highway will greatly assist in keeping the heavy summer traffic moving at a consistant speed.

Firemen Red Hot On Hookup, Burn When Fire Call Fizzles

Members of Lindsay's Fire Department in answering the summons of the automatic alarm system at Sylvester Steel last week, quickly sped to the scene and was hooked up in short order ready to fight a fire that didn't exist.

The alarm was received about 8.15 p.m. and the crew under Chief Alex Wylie's direction, were within a few short minutes, hooked onto the hydrant and had the equipment all ready for action. However, it was learned that the alarm was for nought, since the system in the building had apparently gone into action for no particular reason.

Chief Wylie explained later that after he had thoroughly searched the premises and found no fire or smoke, and no sprinkler heads in operation, he thought the alarm was rung in automatically due to a drop in water pressure in the sprinkler system.

Say Hog Price Support Program Looms Ever-Nearer

Toronto, Dec. 16 —(BUP) —The Meat Packers Council of Canada predicted today a federal hog price support program "looms as an ever-nearer possibility".

The council said in a news release that Canadian hog markets this week "have been pressing more heavily on government floor levels than at any time this fall"

The council said the reason for the price decline was due to heavy hog marketings, which reached a seasonal peak of 148-thousand, 700 hogs last week, resulting in domestic demand reaching "the saturation point"

The council added that a price support program appeared inevitable because the blizzard which swept across the prairies this week, while delaying hog deliveries, will eventually mean a flood of heavier hogs to eastern markets.

Just the difference

Highway employees operating on that stretch of Number 35 between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls were doing an excellent job of sanding the highway on Thursday. Their work made just the difference between hazardous and reasonably safe driving conditions.

Glove Wet With Polish Bursts Into Flames . . . Treated At Lindsay

Mount Horeb (PNS) —Mrs. David Magahay had the misfortune to receive a very severe burn to her left hand. Mrs. Magahay was applying a well-known brand of liquid stove polish to her living-room stove when the kid glove she wore for protection became wet with the fluid and burst into flames.

Mrs. Magahay was alone at the time so she went to the sink and put out the flames with cold water. This built up steam inside the glove After removing the glove she started for her nearest neighbour for help.

She met Mr. Magahay who was returning from another neighbour's. He immediately applied First Aid and then rushed his wife to Lindsay where Doctor M. E. Gorman applied treatment at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

The burn will keep Mrs Magahay inactive for some time. Her friends and neighbours sympathize with her and sincenrely hope healing will be rapid.

Upturned Faces . . .

Child Bitten By Dog Here But Bite Said Defensive

Anti-rabies Serum Arrives Here

One child in Lindsay was reported to have been bitten by a dog on Wednesday, but it has been learned that the animal was not infected and that he inflicted the bite in order to defend himself. It was reported that the child had been striking the dog with a stick at the time. The rabies scare in the district it has been learned, has prompted a large number of pet owners to have their animals inoculated as requested by the police and the Department of Lands and Forests.

A large supply of the serum arrived in town Thursday, and all dog owners who take advantage of this inoculation will receive a tag for their pet as well as a certificate stating that the animal has been inoculated and is therefore immune from rabies.

The police department have commenced rounding up stray dogs found in Lindsay, and they urge all pet owners to keep their dogs tied so that they won't be picked up with the strays.

Chief Hunter drew attention to a town by-law which requires all dogs to be tied, but which has not been fully enforced. However, he says that during the present emergency, this by-law will be enforced to the letter in an effort to eliminate any possibility of rabies spreading through town.

"The Post" has learned that district farmers are keeping a watchful eye on their cattle, since rabies can spread "like wildfire" through a herd, and would thus cause all the herd to be destroyed. Farmers are urged to keep strange animals away from the cattle where possible

Swamp South Of Lindsay Uncooperative As Road May Yield Cranberry Crop

Mount Horeb (PNS) —South of Lindsay on No 35 highway is what is known as the "LONG SWAMP". For years the Department of Highways for Ontario has tried in vain to keep the road, Highwqay 35, in passable condition Ton upon ton of earth has been added to the road only to disappear out of sight at the least suggestion of rain. At last the Department has built a new road west of the old highway and in a very short time this new road will be open for traffic. The old highway will be abandoned to "Mother Nature," or so every one thought but one man, Mr. H. Russell, who is a man with a vision.

Mr. Russell formerly lived on No. 7A Highway a mile west of "Galloway School" and a few short years ago he went to Nova Scotia to work. While there he lived near the famed "Cranberry Bog" of that Province. Now he has returned to his old home with a vision. Mr. Russell has bought up a large stretch of land on both sides of the "Long Swamp" and is now preparing to make a "Cranberry Bog" comparable to the "Bogs" of Nova Scotia. This project will be watched with great interest. "Mother Nature" unlike human mothers, does not force unnatural work upon any of her family and a road was plainly not what "She" thought best for the "Swamp". Will the "Bog" be her idea of fitness of things? All will watch and Mr. Russell has the hopes and best wishes of everyone in his venture.

"The last 10 nights . . .

Toronto, Dec. 15 —(BUP)—Ontario Highways Minister James N. Allan appealed today to "everybody to make this a safe as well as a Merry Christmas and New Year" in the province.

He warned that "nearly always, the last 10 days and nights of each year have been one of Ontario's worst perids for traffic accidents."

Allan said that during that period in 1952, 39 persons were killed on Ontario highways. In 1953 the total was 45, but last year the death toll was cut in half.

He added that last December's record of improvement in lifesaving was encouraging," and he appealed for an all-out effort to further reduce the holiday season death toll.

STOP Before Turning Right, Chief Warns Of Crackdown

Lindsay's police department is going to crack dwn on motorists, failing to come to a complete stop before making a right turn at a red traffic light, and who fail to give sufficient consideration to pedestrians.

Chief of Police John Hunter says he has seen a number of Lindsay motorists who do not consider the rights of the pedestrian, and who fail to obey the law regarding turns at traffic signals. He points out that before a car makes a right turn on a red light, the car must be brought to a full stop And when making a left turn, the pedestrian traffic must be considered.

"Some people make their own interpretation of the Highway Traffic Act convincing themselves that if they slow down and shift into second gear, that is all that is necessary,' says the Chief, "but if that is the type of law they wish, they should take it up with the Attorney General. In the meantime they must obey the law as it now stands."

Chief Hunter pointed out that should an accident occur involving a right turning vehicle and a pedestrian, the motorist will possibly find that he doesn't own the rad after all, since more consideration would be given to the pedestrian under the law

"Signal lights were welcomed by the elderly people in town, but with the way some drivers are acting, it is still not safe for these people to try to cross the road."

"Let this be a warning to all drivers . . . charges will be laid against all violators."

District Councillor Charges Nominations Were Improper, Alleges 'Clique' Operating

School Area Trustee opposes nomination meeting. Robert Cammack of Head Lake attended the council meeting of Digby, Laxton and Longford, with a complaint regarding the manner in which the nomination meeting was conducted. This complaint dealt with candidates who were allegedly nominated for school area trustees without presenting themselves at meeting, without a written consent, and in one instance without a verbal consent. A majority in Council indicated that as far as council was concerned, they were satisfied with the procedure. The returning officer, openly admitted that he had no evidence direct from the candidates, but later stated the candidates were eligible in that he was satisfied A heated debate followed during which Councillor Gilmour is reported to have admitted that he had told the complainant he knew it was wrong on the nomination day. Cuncillor Bailey is reported to have said later he was in a bit of a stew which apparently boiled over, but Cammack charges that township affairs, are run by a clique, some in council and some out and hopes that authorized people can right the wrongs.

Station Reports Regular Listeners Toronto, North Bay

The manager of radio station CKLY in Lindsay, Mr. Herb May reports that he is amazed at the coverage the new station is getting, and that he hears from listeners from distant points that he did not expect the station's signal would reach.

Mr May said that there are regular listeners in North Bay and in Toronto, but that due to a freak in transmission, the station was actually heard one evening in Saskatchewan.

Explaining this, Mr May stated that this was caused by a "skip" wave. Apparently the signal from the transmitter had struck a cloud, and due to certain atmospheric condition, it reflected back to earth in Saskatchewan. This occurrence is fiarly common in television transmissin with local viewers having reported watching Florida or California stations some times.

Provincial Police at Lindsay as well as the other detachments throughout the province are now issuing windshield stickers to automobiles who have successfully passed police inspection at road blocks set up on Ontario's highways. The stickers now in effect, are brown in colour, and will be effective until January 1st.

Cpl. Ken Denniss stated today that after January 1st, a different colour sticker, black, will be issued and will be effective until April 1st. The stickers will change every three months.

Cpl. Denniss pointed out that the "Operation Live" program instituted last month, will be kept in operation indefinitely, and all motorists who venture onto the highways and county roads will be subject to a thorough check into the condition of their vehicles. If they pass the test, the sticker will be issued to be placed on the windshield .This will enable the motorist to avoid delays if and when he comes upon another roadblock set up by Provincial Police.

It was pointed out however, that after the first of January, all cars will have to be checked again, and again after the expiration of three months.

"It may be inconvenient in a sense," said Cpl. Denniss, "but in the long run, this enforcing of safety regulations will save lvies, as the figures to date have proven."

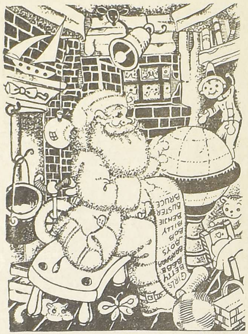
SANTA'S CONCERNED WITH B's



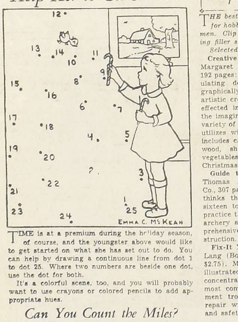
AS SHOWN at left, Santa makes a point of going over his gift list from A to Z before making his final rounds. So far he's on the B's, and by coincidence the room in which he is at work is filled with objects whose names begin with the letter B — bells, boots, etc.

It makes an interesting race to see who can find the most B-objects within a specified time. Each person will need a pencil and sheets of paper, of course, and someone should act as timekeeper.

At least 20 B-objects are in the picture.

Answers: Bicycle, books, board, boat, balloon, bricks, beams, bench, bed, ball, bear, basket, butterfly, button, beard, boots, buckle, bell, box, bow, etc.

Help Her to Get Started



TIME is at a premium during the holiday season, of course, and the youngster above would like to get started on what she has set out to do. You can help by drawing a continuous line from dot 1 to dot 25. Where two numbers are beside one dot, use the dot for both.

It's a colorful scene, too, and you will probably want to use crayons or colored pencils to add appropriate hues.

Can You Count the Miles?

TWO brothers, John and Henry, live on islands outside a certain city. When either goes to the city he goes by the way of his brother's place. John's distance to the city thus is 2½ miles; Henry's distance is 3 miles. Should John go to his brother's place by way of the city he would travel 1½ miles. How far do the two brothers live from each other?

Answer: The brothers live 2 miles apart.

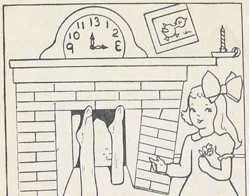
Nutty Problem

THERE are at least two kinds of nuts that do not grow on trees, and you've probably eaten both of them. Can you tell, within 30 seconds, their names?

Answer: Doughnuts and peanuts are two. Peanuts grow like potatoes.

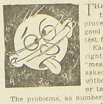
What's Wrong With the Picture?



THINGS are topsy-turvy generally these days, so our artist has gone along with the idea. She has incorporated at least 15 errors in the drawing above to purposely test your powers of observation. How many can you find inside of a minute?

Answers: 1. No. 13 appears on clock. 2. No. 3 is backwards. 3. Lower half of clock face is missing. 4. Clock's hands are same size. 5. Picture hangs crookedly. 6. One side of picture frame is missing. 7. One side of mantel is too long. 8. Candleholder is suspended in air. 9. Left side of fireplace is too long. 10. Part of fireplace is crooked. 11. Dog is upside down. 12. Sides of girl's hairdo differ. 13. Bow is misplaced. 14. Half of girl's collar is missing. 15. Sleeves differ. 16. Skirt is uneven. 17. Shoe and sock are missing. Etc.

MEASURING UP TO CHRISTMAS



THERE aren't many better times than Christmas to prove that everyone isn't a good judge of size. Here's a test for a party pastime.

Each of the problems at right requires a mental "measurement." You are asked to guess the answer without actually measuring or taking a count.

The problems, as numbered, l. to r., are these:

1. If this tree were as high in feet as it is in inches, how tall would it be?
2. Which candle is exactly one inch tall from base to tip of flame?
3. How many dark stripes on longest cane?
4. How many links compose this chain?
5. How many pennies show in jar?
6. How many inches of yarn have unravelled?

Answers: 1. Approximately one and one-half feet high. 2. Candle at extreme left. 3. Twelve. 4. Fifty. 5. One hundred and forty-nine. 6. Approximately thirteen inches.

WINTRY DAY TESTER

BLANKS in each verse below are to be filled with words made from different combinations of the same five letters. How quickly can you fill them?

The x x x x x are covered thick with frost,
The snow is on the hill,
And down the x x x x x of all our necks
Runs many a little chill.
Such as the shivering x x x x x shakes
"Tho' all the woods are still."

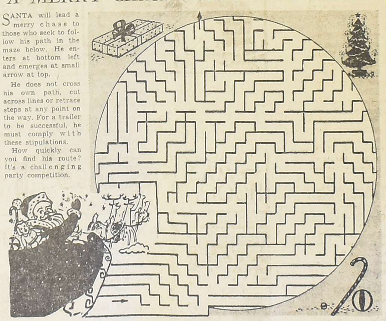
Answer: The missing words are panes, napes, aspen.

A MERRY CHASE FOLLOWING SANTA

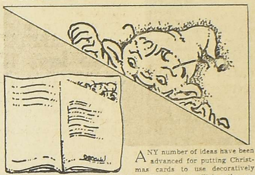
SANTA will lead a merry chase to those who seek to follow his path in the maze below. He enters at bottom left and emerges at small arrow at top.

He does not cross his own path, cut across lines or retrace steps at any point on the way. For a trailer to be successful, he must comply with these stipulations.

How quickly can you find his route? It's a challenging party competition.



MAKE-IT FUN WITH MAIL



ANY number of ideas have been advanced for putting Christmas cards to use decoratively during the holidays. Here's one utilizing the envelopes.

Corners of the latter, cut off triangularly as shown above, provide serviceable bookmarks. These fit snugly over the upper corner of a page.

Those who desire to decorate their bookmarks may wish to color and cut out elf's head shown.

Magic for Your Party

MASTER this in preparation for contributing it when guests get around to doing tricks:

Hand a number of pennies to one of the spectators. Ask him or her to place an odd number in one hand and an even number in the other (each hand must contain at least one coin). You then explain that by a simple calculation you will foretell which hand contains the even number of coins and which the odd number.

Ask the spectator to multiply the number in his right hand by an odd figure and the number in his left hand by an even figure, and then tell you the product of these. If the result is an even number, the even number of coins is in the right hand; if it is odd, the even number is in the left.

Grandpa's Bird Concern

GRANDFATHER used to raise turkeys for the Christmas market. He sold them for what were nice prices in those days, we can surmise.

Among grandfather's papers this bill was found: $ -67.9-, for 72 turkeys. The first and last digits that obviously represented the total price of these fowls are replaced here with blanks, for they have faded and are now illegible.

What are the two faded digits and what was the price of one turkey?

Answer: Since the total number of cents must be divisible by 72, it must be divisible by 9 and by 8. In order for the total number of cents to be divisible by 8, the number formed by the last three digits must be divisible by 8. Therefore the last digit is 2, because 8 goes into 792 even. To be divisible by 9, the sum of the digits of a number must be divisible by 9. The sum of 6, 7, 9 and 2 is 24, so the first blank must be 3 in order to make this sum 27. Thus the total bill is $367.92, and the price of one turkey is $5.11.

SHORT SHORT STORY

Luck Of the Irish

By DEE RANDALL

3-Minute Fiction

ANN and Terry were young. They were in love. That's why the sky looked bluer, the clouds looked whiter as they lay arm in arm on the fresh green grass.

"Just think," said Ann. "Tomorrow at this time I'll be Mrs. Terrence Patrick O'Halloran."

"Sure and the O'Hallorans were always lucky," Terry exclaimed, mimicking his grandfather.

After the wedding it was grand fun going together to the little white frame house they had selected. Most of their savings had gone into the modestly furnished little place. But it was a home. Theirs.

Then Marianne was born. A sweet pale baby but so delicate. It took a great deal of skimping to meet all the expenses.

They lived simply and Ann knew how to get the most out of everything.

Right in the middle of this economical but ecstatic heaven of theirs a thunderbolt crashed.

Terry lost his job.

But youth is not easily discouraged. Terry set out to find another job. He was eager to work. He was sure to find something better.

His enthusiasm wavered however after several weeks. Too many, "Sorry, young fellow, but we're not taking anyone on."

Back home evenings with Ann though, he was optimistic. "I've got a good prospect tomorrow," he would say, and Ann's answer invariably would be:

"Don't worry Terry. We've still got a little money in the bank."

Terry thought to himself, how little it was.

ANN tried to keep her worries from him too. She didn't tell him that there was going to be another baby, until it was impossible to keep it a secret any longer.

He took her in his arms. "Ann darling, it's wonderful." But he couldn't keep the note of despair out of his voice as he said, "if it's a boy, I hope he's a better success than I am."

Their money dwindled down to nothing. Debts piled high. They lost their little home.

They moved to a smelly, dank tenement. But they weren't discouraged yet. The future surely held something good for them.

But Terry gradually declined; pulled himself into a shell. Ann was sweet and kind. Terry misunderstood. He thought she grieved. He brooded. There was only the one way out. Suicide. It would look like an accident.

GAS would be the best way. He planned the whole thing stealthily. He knew he was a coward. But he had to do it. He couldn't bear to see Ann go on this way any longer.

It was the way he always had loved to wake up.

The $1,000 insurance would mean Ann could go to a hospital when the baby was born. After that . . . he couldn't think of any more.

His opportunity came quicker than he had expected. That night Ann said she was going for a walk in the fresh air.

She kissed him goodbye, then went out, telling him to take care of Marianne. "I'll take a nap," he said, "my head aches."

Alone, he went to the kitchen. Turned on the gas. Then laid down exhausted. He dozed off.

He didn't know how soon after, but it seemed like an eternity, Ann was gently stroking his head. It was the way he loved to wake up in the morning.

It all seemed so unreal. Ann was excitedly waving a paper in front of him. "It's from your firm. They want you back. Things are picking up. You'll take old Jim Blake's place. And there'll be a $10 raise."

Now Terry was sure he was dreaming. "The gas . . ." he said.

"Oh, how did you know?" questioned Ann. "I didn't want to tell you but we can have it turned on tomorrow. They were really very polite, waiting until after supper time."

"Yes," said Terry, "the O'Hallorans were always lucky."

Population Of 20,000 For Town No Wild Estimate Premier Frost Tells Party Followers Meeting Here

Says Haliburton U-Camp Canada's Second Largest

Premier Leslie M. Frost, in addressing the annual meeting of the Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative Association on Friday, reiterated a statement he made last week referring to the inevitable growth of Lindsay and the surrounding district.

"This part of Ontario is going to see a very great change in its physical set-up. It is inevitable that we will have a population of 20,000 or more in the foreseable future. This is no wild estimate . . . it is fact."

Mr. Frost was addressing the large gathering in the Canadian Legion Hall for the first time officially since his re-election as premier of Ontario, and he took the opportunity to express his sincere thanks to those who had worked hard for him while it was necessary to be out of the riding.

"The election results were most gratifying, but with such a vote of confidence come, weighty responsibilities. I should like to commend Clayton Hodgson who has always assisted me. The problems of the ordinary citizen, after all are of paramount importance . . . it is the way of life . . . the betterment of our standard of living . . . these are the things that count. Mr. Hodgson has assisted me and helped me to see the people and to discuss their problems.

"It is a privilege to serve the people of Ontario and Canada, whether it be the older stock, or the newer Canadians who are adding to the Canadian tapestry certain cultures and customs. Our party is the people's party, without regard to race, colour, or creed, and this is the original party of the great Mr. MacDonald.

SECOND LARGEST IN ALL CANADA

"These are days of fabulous alterations and changes, and I might point out that Haliburton now is the scene of the second largest camp in Canada of uranium production. One concern is investing 10 million dollars for work with nuclear energy, based on this uranium. All this will change the background of Haliburton completely, and their mines are already making headlines in the financial sections of the great newspapers.

FACING ONTARIO

We in Ontario are faced with a water shortage and a pollution problem due to possibly 150 years of development, all of which causes some embarrassment to our six neighbouring states. This problem involves plans and approaches that are all new which have to be tackled. I can forsee that Ontario's population will be doubled within the next 50 years, so that will provide great objectives for the next two generations, and will require the skills of scientists and executives.

"All these things are the pattern of tomorrow. As for the future . . . we will need courage, vision, enthusiasm, and generous doses of good, common horse sense. And with these we can look forward to the betterment of our people.

"As for the party . . this is an old party that has had much to do with the good of the province. In meeting challenges like this, it can only be done by the men and women of the province who have confidence in our way of life."

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And she brought forth her firstborn son . . . and laid Him in a manger. —Luke 2:7.

Jesus of Nazareth by his birth and life exploded every ancient notion that greatness is born in palaces. His birth was the explosive force that brought democracy to this world.

4-H Speaker Says Club Benefitted Her As Much As Training In School

Oakwood (PNS) —The Annual banquet of the Victoria County Shorthorn Breeders' Club, with its presentation of special awards and door prizes, was held in the Community Hall, Oakwood, with members present from Omemee, Dunsford, Cameron, Valentia, Seagrave, Cambray, Little Britain, Brechin, Beaverton, Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon. Over 200 sat down to a bountiful turkey dinner with all the trimmings catered by the Oakwood W.I. Table decorations of a Christmas nature added greatly to the setting.

Community singing was led by Misses Marilyn Scott and Beverley McIntyre with Mrs. Ken Scott at the piano, using Christmas selections. Music furnished by them, also interspersed the more serious nature of the meeting. Mr. Hugh Stewart, of Lindsay, also favored with some selections, accompanying himself on the Hawaiin guitar.

The president, Mr. Wilbert Thorne of Omemee briefly extended a welcome to the guests, especially to the members of the 4-H Clubs who occupied the central table in the Hall in a body, and asked Agr. Rep. LeRoy Brown of Lindsay to introduce guests at the Head table: President Mr. Wilbert Thorne of Omemee and Mrs. Thorne, Mr. W. H. Merry, representing Dominion Shorthorn Association of Merrybrook Farms, Milton, with his wife and daughter, Miss Katharine Merry; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jenkins, Mr. Clayton Hodgson, M. P., Mr. Roberts, Manager, Toronto Dominion Bank, Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Faulk, Manager of Bank of Commerce, Little Britain; Mr. Hugh Revell of the Royal Bank, Lindsay; Mr. Maurice Freeman, Mr. Lynn Feir, Agr. Rep. for Ontario County, Mr. E. H. Stoltz, Fieldman for Shorthorn Association from Aurora and Mrs. LeRoy Brown who was seated by her husband.

Mr. Feir, spoke of the four 4-H Clubs in Ontario County —Udney, Beaverton, Uxbridge and Brooklin, referring especially to the two former ones, making special mention of the members of the Udney Club who won the championship in three steer class at Lindsay Exhibition.

Five boys of the Beaverton Calf Club who had previously been presented with special pencils were also mentioned. These pencils purchased by the Ontario Shorthorn Association, are donated to the Agr. Reps. of the various counties, to be presented to each member of the 4-H Clubs who have Shorthorn calves. While Mr. Maurice Freeman read the names of the 26 boys in Victoria County who were eligible for the special pencils, Mr. Merry presented them to the boys. These boys were members of Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Dalrymple, Omemee and Oakwood Calf clubs.

Special prizes were presented to the boys who scored the highest number of points in calf judging. These prizes donated by Victoria and Grey Trust Company, Silverwoods, Toronto-Dominion Bank of Lindsay, Royal Bank of Lindsay, Montreal Bank of Lindsay and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, of Little Britain, which donated the gold watch to the one who had the highest number of points. High scores ranged from 897 to 939 points out of 1,000 points. Ernie Jenkins of Little Britain won the gold watch with 939 points; 2nd highest Douglas Graham, 3rd —Mac Gowanlock, 4th —Jim Gowanlock, 5th —Grenville Webster and 6th —John Sims.

Mr. Clayton Hodgson spoke briefly, saying that he was born on a farm, and that Agricultural Industry is the basic industry in Canada.

The guest of the evening, Miss Katharine Merry of Milton was introduced at some length by Mr Stoltz, Fieldman for Shorthorn Association of Aurora, who told of some of her achievements, which was climaxed by winning the Queen's Guineas class at the Royal Winter Fair in 1954 —grand champion over all breeds with a Shorthorn, ending with the statement, "A very nice girl".

Miss Merry who has been a 4-H member for the past six years, said at the outset of her speech, that she though she had derived as much from 4-H work as she had from school. Every member of the Calf Club, is compelled to judge two classes of cattle at each meeting, and give oral lessons for what they had done. Secondly they learn to preside over meetings. The 4-H programme starts in late April or early May. The May meeting is an organization one. Other meetings are held at different farms, and they exhibit calves at Fall Fairs.

Katharine had the privilege of going to Manitoba in 1954, and visiting the various 4-H Clubs in that prvince. She showed colored slides of some of the clubs and rallies which she had attended at that time. The 4-H Fairs in Manitoba are like the meetings in Ontario, but in addition they have Rallies, when many of the individual clubs meet together in competition. Not only are there Calf Clubs, but sewing clubs, swine clubs, garden clubs, food clubs. At these rallies each club wears uniforms and carries a banner while they march led by a band. Uniforms and banners are made by themselves. The T. Eaton Co., of Winnipeg donate gold watches to the five top ones. Girls model their own clothes, which are judged by choices of patterns and materials, the suitability of these as well as how they are modelled.

Pictures shown, were of rallies at Stonewall Fair, Roland, Carman, Brandon, Dauphin, and Portage La Prairie. These pictured parades, girls in front of the grandstand at the evening performance modelling their clothes, judging steers, judging swine, judging potatoes and radishes, a fashion show etc. She stated the calves are not as well finished as those in Ontario, and also that there are no rallies in Ontario, while in Western Canada they extend into Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The 4-H Emblem is a four-leaf clover —the first leaf is "Head". Hunger is the greatest problem of the world today, and the farmer needs lots of preparation, brains and skill of a high order as well as education. The second leaf —"Heart" —means religion and faith, to face a future without fear. We must have faith in God and ourselves. The third leaf "Hands"—These mean work. People are trying to find an easy way out, the more we put into things, the more we get out of them. She illustrated this by two stories, one of which was of three men who were working —the first when asked, "What he was doing", said, he was cutting stones —he was working with his hands. The second man said that he was shaping stones. He was working with his hands and head. The third said that he was helping to build a great Cathedral. The fourth "H" stands for "Health",—Head, Heart, Hands and Health". She quoted the 4-H pledge,- "I pledge my head to clear thinking, My heart to greater loyalty, My hands to larger service, My health to better living, For my Club, my community and my country."

Mr. Robert Parkin moved a vote of thanks to Miss Merry —the winner of the Queen's Guineas, for her very fine talk, and Gwen Stokes on behalf of the organization, presented her with red carnations.

Presentations of gifts were made to the ladies for serving, the entertainers and booster prizes to the 4-H Calf Club members who did not win a major award, and a number of lucky door prizes.

The annual meeting of the organization will be held at the Agricultural office in Lindsay. 1955 officers were: President —Wilbert Thorne; Vice-President —John Sims of Cameron; Ross Flett of Oakwood; Secretary-treasurer —Mr. Milton Jenkins, chairman of banquet committee assisted by Lloyd Fowler and Charlie Short.

"Patience - - -"

It has been said "patience is a virtue" and it can be said too, that some possess it even in this hasty age.

Over at Fenelon Falls on Thursday a man was standing quietly gazing out of the window of the "Country Fare" candy shop. Other customers were either waiting or being served as quickly as the proprietor could fill their orders and in the course of events a conversation was struck up with the man who was enjoying the winter landscape as he waited. It developed that he had been waiting an hour to be served, but when it was suggested that he take another's turn he politely declined observing that a little longer wait would do him no harm. The man was Rev. T. S. Gault, formerly of Bethany, new rector of the Anglican Church in Fenelon Falls and he had been hearing a good deal about the products of "Country Fare". Mr. Gault was a chaplain with the Armed Forces in World War Two.

MP's Job Not Part Time, Hodgson Says

Mr. C. W. Hodgson, M.P. for this riding told a gathering of Progressive Conservatives here on Friday afternoon that the job of being a Member of Parliament is not a job that can be done as a part-time measure.

"It requires 100 percent of your time, and if any man hoped to become a member, he must expect to have to give up his other work in order to do the job as it should be done."

Mr. Hodgson told the party members that he has found that the most satisfactory way to keep the party within the riding tightly integrated, is to have small gatherings in each community, and to make these people aware that their government is interested in them and in their problems.

He said that only last week he had invited a group of members to his home in Haliburton, but had told them to bring along anyone who was interested in discussing the activities of government.

"Over 90 showed up," he stated, "and that is what I call co-peration".

Mr. Hodgson, in concluding his brief address, said that "I have no worries about Toronto's politics. They wil be PC just as long as Les Frost wants to be Premier."

Upon the urging of Mr. Hodgson the Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative Association has selected a number of members to represent the riding at the annual federal meeting to be held in Ottawa in January.

Included will be the president of the local association, Mr. Neil Ferguson, Professor A. W. Baker, Monty Robson, of Fenelon Falls, S. R. Pitts, F. Monroe, of Sonya Hilliard Ferguson, Mrs. Hugh Rogers, and Mrs. Heels.

"Rich in mercy"

The Saviour whose birth we are about to commemorate is Lord of all; and rich unto all that call Him in truth —Rich in Mercy, rich in love, rich in Grace. Oh the unsearchable riches of this Grace. Thanks be to God for the unspeakable gift of His love. As high as the heavens above the earth, so great is His Mercy toward those that love him.

His eye goes to and fro throughout the whole earth to show Himself strong in behalf of those that fear Him. Who is a pardoning God like this and who has Grace rich and free?

What we have felt and seen with confidence we tell and publish to the sons of men. The signs are infallible.

Christmas Tree Lights, Wreath Stolen In Town

Police describe the theft of Christmas decorations in Lindsay Friday as "despicable" and although the value of the missing property is not what is termed as great, the chief says, the principle of the thing and the lack of apparent morals is what troubles the department.

About noon on Friday a report was received at the police office of the theft of a string of Christmas tree lights from a tree which had just been decorated and left in a hallway outside an upstair apartment

The apartment is located on Kent St. W., above a store and police say that someone entered the premises during the day, while the occupant of the apartment was away. The lights, about 15 of them, some shaped like Santa Claus and Magic Lanterns, are valued at $8.95.

WREATH STOLEN

Another theft, which occurred early Friday morning, involved a wreath which was taken from the front door of a Lindsay St. S., home. The wreath was of the type which contains an electric candle. It was reported that the entire unit was stolen. Its value was placed at $10. by the owner, Mr Orville Purdue.

Elderly Verulam Farmer's Body Found Concealed By Cedar Brush

The body of a 78-year-old Verulam township man was found by Provincial Police on Saturday partially concealed by cedar brush not far from a half-mile private lane leading to his farm home.

Mr. Henry Sherman, whose residence was about five miles south of Bobcaygeon, had last been seen by neighbours on November 26th., but police learned that they had not been too apprehensive since Mr. Sherman had said he was preparing to move to Cannington to take up residence with his brother.

However, late Friday, Provincial Police at Lindsay were notified of the man's disappearance and a search, conducted by P. C's Harvey Cook and Clive Naismith was instigated Saturday morning

The man's body was found on the south side of the private lane and coroner Dr. W. R. Crowe was summoned. Dr. Crowe ordered the remains moved to Peterborough for a post mortem by provincial pathologist Dr. Whitesides.

The report of the findings was received in Lindsay on Sunday and they showed that Mr. Sherman had died of a coronary seizure and that there was no evidence of foul play.

TREATED LIKE KINGS AT SUTTON PARADE, SAYS BAND PREXY

"The Lindsay Kinsmen Boy's Band were treated like kings on Saturday," said band president, Mr. Lloyd McMullen, on his return from the Santa Claus Parade held in Sutton, at which the Lindsay band had been invited to play.

Mr. McMullen said that the parade, which extended from Jackson's Point to Sutton, and took about 45 minutes to pass one given point. was a sight that the organizers could be most proud of

He pointed out that the Kinsmen Band had played in Sutton before for the Fall Horse Show, and because of their performance, they had been invited back to participate in the Santa Claus Parade.

Mr. McMullen said that following the parade, every member of the band was taken to the Collegiate, with the members of the Markham Band who were also guests, and there they were treated to a delicious meal supplied by the parade committee.

"It's certainly a pleasure," said Mr. McMullen, "to travel to a place like Sutton and perform for them since they seem to enjoy our work so much, treat us like guests of the town, and generally seem to give the boys the feeling that their playing is truly appreciated."

COMPLIMENTED

Lindsay's Board of Works Dept. has been the target of many compliments since the onset of winter. The method of de-icing the pavement in downtown areas has been praised by several citizens whose compliments weren't meant to be kept secret.

Some First-hand Information About Russian People

Windsor, Dec. 17 —(BUP)— Canadians were told not to think of Russians as a race of savages and peasants.

The advice came from Alistair Fraser, Secretary to Fisheries Minister James Sinclair, who accompanied his chief on a Russian tour last summer.

Fraser, in Windsor to address the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, termed the Soviet citizens "a pretty literate race" and said, "long hours of homework and stress on scientific training are the main features of Russian education."

He said the Russian standard of living was improving although not as high as ours.

Painful Pantomime Practice

Reaboro (PNS) —Arranging lighting for a pantomime practice here proved to be a painful experience for Ralph Burke, farmer and electrician. Mr. Burke was arranging the lighting when the step ladder he was using buckled, tossing him to the floor. His left hand was injured and later required a cast to house it. The pantomime went on as scheduled.

Cars Collide At Intersection

Damage estimated at $300 was done to two cars Monday which collided at the intersection of Cambridge St. S., and Russell St. W.

One car, a small English model, driven by Mr. J. A. (Pete) McNabb of Lindsay, was proceeding west on Russell and was about to negotiate a right turn onto Cambridge, when it came into contact with a southbound car driven by Mr. E. R. Wright, also of Lindsay.

No one was injured in the mishap, but Mr. McNabb's car suffered extensive damage to the front end, including the grill and hood. The Wright car was damaged in the left-front end.

Constable Bill Bowes investigated the accident. The reporter covering the accident says the streets were icy with a light covering of snow, making vehicular travel somewhat hazardous.

ANOTHER OF THE SAME

About the same time as the above accident occurred, another took place on Wellington St. directly in front of Walkwood Ltd.

Although damage was negligible, a rear-end collision occurred between an OPP cruiser and another vehicle.

Apparently, while travelling behind the first car, the police car was unable to stop when the first vehicle slowed, because of the icy street. The government vehicle slid into the rear of the first car, causing slight damage to its grille.

ST. JAMES W.A. HOLD ELECTIONS

Wellstood; Educational Secretary —Mrs. Irene McElwain.

Local CPR Railroader's Car Collides With CNR Diesel

A Canadian Pacific Railway employee gave crossing accidents a new twist on Saturday morning when his car skidded into a northbound C. N. R. Diesel engine on Victoria Ave. at Colborne.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Harry Lywood was approaching the Victoria Ave., railrad tracks as he drove east along Colborne. Spotting the train, Mr. Lywood, who told "The Post" he was driving very slowly at the time, tried to stop his car to avoid a collision. The extremely icy condition of the street approaching the crossing caused the wheels to lock and skid, sending the car hurtling into the side of the diesel. The impact swung the car around, battered the right front portion of the vehicle and left it facing north, paralelling the Diesel. Although the car was quite extensively damaged the powerful locomotive only suffered minor damage.

Mr. Lywood's very young daughter was injured about the mouth when she was thrown forward by the force of the impact. The car had no safety belt installation.

Constables Mosley and Bowes investigated.

Famous Ballerina Shows Interest In Lindsay

The prima ballerina of the Sadler's Wells troupe, Miss Margot Fonteyn told Mrs. Helene Anderson two or three times that she was very interested in Lindsay, and asked for some of its history and colour, since she would like to acquire knowledge of the "outlying centres of Canada."

Mrs. Anderson has just returned from Toronto where she was among the select few who were invited to spend a few weeks with the Sadler's Wells and the Royal Academy, of whom Miss Fonteyn is president. Mrs Anderson told "The Post" that it was the most thrilling experience for her, since she was able to take some instruction in ballet from such personages as Michael Soames, Gerd Larsen, and Beryl Gray, all of the Royal Academy.

Mrs. Anderson, who is a Lindsay ballet instructor, was among a group of 18 who attended a special luncheon given for Miss Fonteyn where the guest of honour outlined new ideas for augmenting the syllabus of the Royal Academy, and made plans for awarding scholarships to gifted ballet students.

Say A-Fallout In Canada Not Harmful

...The Defense Research Chemical Laboratories say the radioactive fallout in Canada is nothing to worry about.

...In a report from Ottawa today they note that the radiation during 1955 was never at any time harmful to humans, animals or vegetable life.

Scientists at the chemical lab in Ottawa collected rain, dew and snow throughout the year to determine the radioactive content.

The report said that "while all precipitation includes some radioactive content, the count increases slightly when winds carry radioactive particles from nuclear explosions."

"At no time has the count reflected a yield sufficient to prove harmful to humans, animals or vegetable life. In all cases, when an increase was noted, it proved to be insignificant."—BUP

It was decided to decline the option of running the hot dog booth at the arena since the work would be too much for those members who could help and no one knows a great deal about the quantity of supplies needed to serve the crowds.

It was decided to spend $100.00 of the money on hand on something that would benefit the pupils and teachers. Several very good suggestions were made, but the majority agreed a slide projector would be most beneficial this year.

Mr. Roy Shields gave an interesting reading on the origin and historyy of Bexley Township and Coboconk. Mrs. Rbertson thanked the speaker. A delicious lunch was served and films shown.

Sledding home the tree

A site rare in these days of mechanization greeted motorists on the Kinmount-Lindsay highway Saturday afternoon.

About a mile south of the junction of the Bobcaygeon road a horse-drawn sleigh piloted by a pink-cheeked youth was jogging along at a nice clip with the family Christmas tree in the sleigh box.

As a passenger in a passing car observed, "Hor fortunate to be able to drive over to the 'back fifty' and take your choice of the finest spruce and pines, and all for just the effort it takes to cut one down. No money to pay out, no qualms of conscience about getting caught cutting a tree on someone else's property . . . lovely way to be able to do things!"

Christmas Party Is Enjoyed By Store's Staff

One of the many enjoyable functions of the Yuletide season in Lindsay was the Christmas party held on Wednesday evening by the staff of Claxton's Store.

Mr H. Thurston, General Manager of the Ross Stores of which Claxton's is a unit, graced the gathering by his presence and contributed in a very large way to the success of the evening

After the traditional "Turkey with all the trimmings" which was efficiently taken care of by Bellamy's catering service — Santa Claus himself made his appearance with gifts for everyone present

As a fitting conclusion Mr. Thurston gave a short talk on the progress of the Ross Stores since their organization and stressed their efforts to advance the standard of retail merchandising. He brought the Christmas good wishes of the management to the members of Claxton's and showed their appreciation of the employee's co-operation by presenting individual bonus cheques to every member of the staff.

This initial Christmas party was a marked success and will be looked forward to as an annual store event.

W.I. Honours Second Member With Life Membership and Pin

Nestleton (PNS) --At the Christmas meeting of Nestleton W.I. the members were pleased to present Miss Ethel Thompson with a Life Membership Certificate and Life Membership Pin. In February 1956 Miss Thompson will have been a member of Nestleton W.I. for 50 years, joining when the Institute was organized by Miss Laura Rose at the home of Mrs. Jas. Dickey with Miss Thompson's mother, Mrs Robert Thompson, the first President.

Mrs. Leonard Joblin as Miss Thompson's oldest WI. friend made the presentation and Mrs. Herbert Vine pinned the Life Membership Pin on the honoured guest. Other members including Mrs. Malcolm Emerson, Mrs. Jos. Forder, Mrs. Cecil Wilson and Mrs. Grant Thompson spoke briefly of the esteem in which the Life Member is held.

During all the years, Miss Thompson was a most interested, helpful and loyal member. Though unable to attend regularly of late years she does not forget to play her part in full measure with donations of money, food program items, flowers, of which she is a great lover, for every occasion, and hearty enthusiasm for any venture for good in the community.

In April 1955, the Nestleton W.I. members presented their oldest member, Mrs. Joseph Forder with an 82nd birthday present. A Life Membership Certificate and Life Membership Pin in recognition of her outstanding work as a member of the organization for a great many years. Mrs. Malcolm Emerson made the presentation, Miss Ruth Proutt pinned the Life Membership Pin on the honoured guest and Mrs. Grant Thompson reviewed highlights of Mrs. Forder's long years of service in Nestleton Women's Institute, having held office as President and other executive positions.

During two World Wars Mrs Forder was active in all Red Cross and Patriotic work, knitting, sewing, quilting, packing bales of clothing, jam making, parcel packing, farewell parties and homecomings. Her home was always open for extra activities, meetings or happy social occasions. Most important to the success of the Institute was her regular attendance at the meetings, regular or special and her never failing help and encouragement in any worthwhile effort. She brings a world of experience to bear on weighty questions, a staunch opinion on ticklish problems, and many of her witty remarks turn a tense situation into a joke.

Nestleton W.I. are justly proud of these two splendid examples of the organization's motto, "For Home and Country."

Bobcaygeon Winners At Exhibition Game

Omemee (PNS) — Bobcaygeon and Omemee tangled in an exhibition game at the latter's arena with the visitors eking out a 7-2 win due no doubt to their earlier training period on artificial ice.

First half of the game went scoreless for both teams until G. Nicholls from Poole lit the lamp that started a scoring spree. One penalty to Bill Gordon for boarding was meted out in the initial period with both goalies kicking rubber all directions.

Dave Caister from Lee made it two for Bobcaygeon shortly afterwards, then Laverne Thornton from Evans for Oememee scored on a hot drive to the net corner. Audience Thrills To Carols Presented By St. Andrew's

A large number attended the Evening Carol Service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with lighted and decorated Christmas trees and baskets of multi-coloured 'mums.

The service was conducted by Rev. Donald McQueen, who in a Christmas message, spoke of the joy and peace which should "fill our hearts at this season, as we realize the real significance of Christ's birthday, and how it brings home the wonder of the common things in life".

The music by the choir under the direction of Robert Cutt was a glorious rendition of solos, duets, quartettes and anthems.

The audience sat enthralled as the Christmas music of the great masters was presented by the beautifully-trained voices of the choir, accompanied by their director.

Among these artists were heard Shirley Moore, soprano in "Arise, Shine" by McDermid; Patricia Gordon and Dorothy Guest in a duet, "Holy Night"; William French Jr., in "Jesus Came Down Unto Men"; a quartette of June Waddell, Glen Burke, Ruth Kingsborough and Francis Taylor in "God Bless the Little Things"; Dorothy Dawson in a soprano solo "Little Jesus In Your Manger; Dorothy Guest in "Christ, the Star of Christmas"; Shirley and Beverley Moore in the duet, "When I View the Mother"; Catherine Dunn in a soprano solo "O Lease Your Sheep"; Patricia Gordon in contralto solo, "The Virgin in the Manger"; Ruth Kingsborough in Mezzo soprano solo, "O Little Town of Bethlehem"; Marilyn Scott, In soprano solo "The Star of Bethlehem"; June Waddell in contralto solo, "Bethlehem Dawn"; Francis Taylor in the baritone solo, "In the Black Mid Winter".

The Choral Postlude Christmas Roundelay by Mangott was a grand finale to this Christmas presentation of the highest order

THE CHRISTMAS HEART

Whosoever on ye nighte of ye nativity of ye young LORD JESUS, in ye great snows, shall fare forth bearing a succulent bone for ye loste and lamenting hounde, a wisp of hay for ye shivering horse, a cloak of warm raiment for ye stranded wayfarer, a bundle of fagots for ye twittering crone, a garland of bright berries for one who has worn chains, gay arias of lute and harp for all huddled birds who thought that song was dead, and divers lush sweetmeats for such babes' faces as peer from lonely windows... To him shall be proffered and returned gifts of such an astonishment as will rival the hues of the peacock and the harmonies of heaven, so that though he live to ye greate age, yet shall he walk upright and remembering, as one whose heart shines like a great star in his breaste.

From Ye Miracles of Ye Season — Author Unknown

In the Christmas spirit of abiding goodwill, we send our heartfelt greetings to our many friends at home in Canada and beyond her borders... remembering especially our customers, suppliers and our own faithful staff. To all of you, wherever you are, A Happy, Happy Christmas!

Country Style

Just outside of the town on the Fenelon road where the water flows over a dam all winter is frozen solid. The boys had scraped off the snow and there was a fine sheet of ice under it. They didn't get too close to the falls for fear of the ice cracking under them. It was the best sheet of ice we'd seen and they should be able to have lots of fun on it.

Many Rinks in Town

There are also homemade rinks right in town and we saw several in our travels the other day. If you hear some squeals you'll know there is a homemade skating rink closeby. It gives the smaller children a chance to learn to skate and a few floodings will soon give one a good piece of ice. We noticed two young visitors from Toronto enjoyed an afternoon skate on our town rink. They were figure skaters and had brought their skates and all for the occasion.

At Meal Time

If you didn't have pepper squash for your Christmas meal you can surprise your guests at New Year's with some especially nice pepper squash that have been imported. Squash of any kind goes well with fowl and it is so easy to prepare. Cut them in two and scoop out any loose stringyness. Coat with butter on the inside and season well. They don't need much cooking when baked in an oven, but be sure the yellow flesh is cooked enough to be tender. We also saw some avocados in our shops and these are Christmas fare too. For dessert try a delicious angel cake covered with delicious frosting and served with frozen strawberries. It's light and so very, very good.

Fruit Punch

Here is another recipe for punch in the late morning hours. The ingredients call for three cups of orange juice, three cups of grapefruit juice, four cups of white wine, ½ cup sugar, one orange and 16 whole cloves. Mix orange juice, grapefruit juice and wine. Add the sugar and stir until sugar is completely dissolved. Chill thoroughly Cut the orange into slices. Stud with cloves. Makes ten cup servings.

For Anytime

Another drink that is ideal any time is orange juice, lemon juice and grapefruit juice sugared and mixed with ginergale. It has a nip to it that is delicious and the fruit juices are wonderful for you between those turkey dinners.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge. —Proverbs 18:15.

NOISE

Scientists at the University of Oklahoma say the wise boy will avoid life in a boiler factory.

They say noise affects bright persons most.

The scientists gave a standard personality test to 150 students. They divided them into high and low scoring groups. They next put them to work in a quiet place . . . then in a noisy place.

They found that the duller students did "significantly better" than the brighter ones under noisy conditions. —BUP

Miss G. Manning Auxiliary Guest Speaker

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mrs. J. Coburn opened her home on Louisa St. for the December meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of Fenelon Falls United Church. The president, Mrs. J. E. Barrett gave the call to worship, and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

During the business period Mrs. White read a letter of thanks from Mrs. Golden for the bale. Mrs. Allan Hetherington reported on the current programme and it was decided to send Christmas boxes to the needy families. Mrs. Palmer thanked the auxiliary members for assisting with the Baby Band party and Mrs. Allen for supplying World Friends to the Mission Band.

Mrs. H. Dixon Associate Members Secretary presided for the program, which opened with a carol, followed with prayer by Mrs. Ted Jones. The worship service followed the Christmas story when Mrs. M. W. Robson read from the Old and New Testaments passages of Scripture which had a bearing on the birth of Jesus and at specific references in the scripture carols were sung by Jessie Hetherington, Barbara Patterson, Judith Hiscocks, Dorothy White, Betty Anne Smith and Dianne Jones. Mrs. Robson closed the most impressive devotional period with prayer.

A film strip in colour "The Holy Child of Bethlehem" was shown by Mrs. Dixon with Miss McIntosh giving any necessary explanatory remarks.

Miss Gertrude Manning introduced Miss McIntosh who gave a most interesting talk on "The Joys of Christmas." She started her talk on a light vein by reading two poems, "Recipe for a Christmas Pudding" and "Making Mincemeat" then on a reminiscent note "Last Year's Christmas List." She spoke of the Christmas significance associations and memories of Christmas and closed with a story "The Keeper of The Inn", which told how the innkeeper missed his opportunity, as we so often miss ours. "Always remember that "Christ" comes first in "CHRISTmas."

Mrs. Dixon thanked Miss McIntosh for her interesting talk and Mrs. Barrett thanked Mrs. Dixon and the associate members for such an excellent programme and Mrs. Coboum for her gracious hospitality.

Jessie Hetherington and Barbara Patterson with Mrs. G. Hetherington at the piano sang a lovely duet "The Gift" and Mrs. Roy Jones closed the meeting with prayer.

Special Christmas refreshments were served by the Associate members.

Mrs. H. Wilson W.I. Hostess

Manilla (PNS) The Christmas meeting of Manilla W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Wilson which was gay with Christmas decorations and provided an interesting setting for the gathering. There was a fair attendance of members, some visitors and several children who enjoyed all the festivities. Mrs. Lorne Keeler, president was in charge of the meeting which opened with the Institute Ode, and repetition in unison of the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer.

The roll call was answered with a Christmas verse and Mrs. Wilson responded to the motto "The manner of giving is worth more than the gift." The secretary, Mrs. M. Philp read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved and the treasury showed a balance of $98. Bills were presented for Institute supplies and it was moved by Mrs. Wylie Barry, seconded by Mrs. Dixon, that same be paid. Correspondence included an appeal for funds from the Hospital For Sick Children and it was moved by Mrs. Beattie, seconded by Mrs. Wilson that a donation of $10 be sent them.

Mrs. M. Philp gave an interesting demonstration of some Christmas tree decorations easily made with pipe cleaners, colored balls and colored wool. Mrs. Barry Hamill Hamill read a timely article on "Holiday Safety" outlining a number of simple means of fire-proofing the Christmas tree. A contest in scrambled words "What's in Christmas Stockings" caused lots of merriment and was won by Mrs. H. Wilson. "Legends of Christmas" was given by Mrs. Wylie Barry and told of the origin of many Christmas customs from different countries. A balloon contest created great hilarity and was won by the team of Mrs. J. R. Graham, Mrs. Lorne Keeler and Mrs. Wylie Barry who shared their prize box of candy with all present; this was followed by a draw for gifts.

Six members entered the contest for home-made Christmas Centres which were all attractive. These were judged by Mrs. Gordon Brown and Mrs. Mailon Marshall with the prizes going to Mrs. M. Phil and Mrs. H. Wilson. After the singing of the "Queen" and the "Institute Grace" a delicious lunch was served and a social time followed to conclude the enjoyable party.

JUNIORS SWAMPED 12-3 BY WHITBY, DUNLOPS USE TOP PASSING PATTERN

Whitby Dunlops outplayed and outscored Lindsay Junior Indians 12-3 at Kiwanis Arena last Friday evening as they showed good speed and an accurate passing pattern.

The Dunlops built up a ten to two lead in the first two periods, when Jack Spratt moved between the pipes replacing Cooper and the Indians held the Dunlops to a 2-1 edge in the final period.

Art Truax, home from Queen's for the holiday, paced the Indians with two of their three goals and Don Kelly scored their third period goal. The Whitby goals were shared by most of the team as they iced only two forward lines, three defencemen and the goaler.

Most of the Whitby goals came on passes to a player at the goalmouth uncovered and gave Cooper little chance. Spratt however stayed on his feet and was not as easily fooled on the draw play.

Year's Work Reviewed By Reeve Perdue

Omemee (PNS) —Nominations for the Township of Emily were held in Coronation Hall, with some 50 attending. Clerk T. W Rehill was in charge.

Reeve Peter Perdue accepted the office again and gave a good account of his stewardship for 1955, mentioning County Council matters particularly. He felt that his efforts to get the province to assume the road south of Fowlers' Corners along the Peterboro County boundary will bear fruit in the near future. This short-cut is much-travelled. Engineers from the Dept. have made tests and estimtaes already regarding this road.

Reeve Perdue also touched on the benefit that Emily would get if the Pigeon Lake Causeway was built and felt that renewed efforts would be successful. He mentioned the new park at Cowan's Bridge along the Pigeon River which would be a boon to the residents in various ways and a future link to be connected with a new highway to the north

Also nominated but declining the reeveship were W. E Faulkner, Elmer Mahood, ex-reeve Paul McGuire and ex-reeve Vincent Fee.

Nominated for council were Nelson McConnell, Edward Lowes, Lloyd Ashmore and Victor Callahan of 1955 Council who all referred to matters pertaining to the township.

Nominated for Council as a new aspirant was Harry Faulkner who did not decline or accept the chance to enter the field which leaves the chance of an election still undecided. Election Day will be Jan. 2.

Reeve Hrman Buckley of Ops was present and addressed the audience as did Wesley Wilson relief officer and ex-reeve Harry Deyell of Omemee who gave a report on Home for Aged business of which he had been chairman for seven years.

One of the major expenditures during 1955 had been the purchase of a new Ford truck at $2843.00 and the reconditioning of the old truck at a cost of $1561.00.

Heavy loss of sheep through dogs had totalled $948.70 in payments and fees; Indigent aid had totalled $976.00.

Other Township officials are Thos. H. Laidley, treasurer and collector; Walter Herlihey, Road Supt.; Simon O'Connell, assessor; Medical Health Officer, Dr. Wm. Earle, Sheep valuator, Dr. Codlin; Telephone commissioners, Albert Carroll, Harold Millen, Wilbert Thorn, Mrs. C. Whitmore (secretary); Truant officers, Eugene Downey, Roy Howden, Ed. Thurston, Cecil Casey; Relief officer, Wes Wilson; Auditor, Joseph McEnery.

He then attended Normal College in Hamilton, joining the Toronto teaching staff on graduation in 1906 as assistant master at the old McCaul Street School. In 1914 he was appointed Principal of St. Clair Ave. School, and to Brock Avenue School the following year. In 1928 he became Principal of Runnymede School where he remained until retirement in 1945 — on which occasion he was honoured by the community and former students with a presentation of his portrait painted by Allan Barr.

After retirement from the Toronto staff, Mr. Armstrong did special teaching for the C.N.I.B., working exclusively with the war blinded veterans.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered. —Job 1:12.

In times of great drought or late freezes it sometimes looks as though there would be no crop at all, but we have seen ninety percent of all peach blossoms frozen yet the remaining tenth produced fruit of most exceptional size and quality. It is not often as bad as it looks. Use what is left and do your best. (Press Radio Bible Service Inc.)

Crime Takes No Holiday At Lindsay

The breakins occurred at private homes . . . details Wednesday . . . The attempted breakin was at the CNR ticket office. A daughter of the manager . . Mr. Wm. Rabbit Industry Booms in Lakehead Area

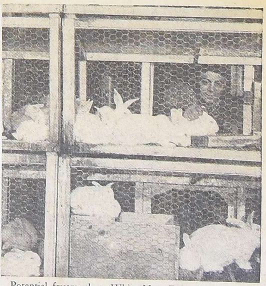
In the bustling lakehead grain port of Fort William, Ontario, a new industry has sprung up around the long-eared, powder-puff-tailed rabbit. Sparked by the Canadian Lakehead Rabbit Meat Association, 23 part-time breeders are engaged in raising rabbits for sale as pets, breeding stock, for lab research, and as meat. Two years ago, Association members were lucky if they marketed 10 pounds weekly: today, with the public palate being educated to the chicken-like delicacy, more than 100 pounds of meat is marketed weekly, with promised contracts for 500 pounds a week if the infant industry can meet growing demand.

Lab technician in Lakehead hospital injects rabbit in test to confirm suspected pregnancy. Though rabbits are finding a growing market as pets, for research, and as food, pelts are of little commercial value; low price per pelt doesn't compensate for time and effort in drying and handling fur. National Film Board Photos by Herb Taylor

Though four-year-olds still get a kick out of feeding inevitable carrot to "bunnies", rabbits are no longer fed on greens and table scraps, but are raised scientifically on prepared rabbit foods. Pellets of the prepared food, water and salt lick make up proper diet to fatten young fryers for market.

"Get The Habit, Eat More Rabbit", is enthusiastic slogan of Rabbit Meat Association, which helps promote sales of rabbit meat through sponsored picnics, Rabbit Week, and, of course, an annual rabbit meat dinner. Here, domestic rabbit meat vies with local produce at farmers' market in Fort William arena.



Potential fryers, these White New Zealand rabbits will be offered to market when they reach four pounds in weight. North American rabbit industry is growing in importance: despite size and investment of its multi-million dollar film production, California's rabbit raising industry ranks second only to fruit farming.

MINOR HOCKEY RESULTS

In the opening Squirt game last Saturday, West Zone Leafs picked up their first win of the season when they shut out the third place Hawks 1-0. D. Davies scored the game's only goal while Laidley turned in their first shut-out. Canadien Squirts were handed top spot in the League Standings when the former leading Bruins were unable to ice a team. This gave Canadiens a one point lead over Bruins.

In the Pee-Wee group, Canadiens moved from fourth place to a tie for second with Leafs, when they downed the Bruins 6-3. Ron Pillsworth regained some of his last year form when he fired four goals to pace the Canadiens. T. Davies' pair completed the margin. Ron Ellis scored all three goals for the Bruins.

Hawks kept their perfect record intact when they eked out a 2-1 win over the Leafs for their seventh consecutive win. Wayne Wicks and Ivan McCullough scored for Hawks while Harris kept Leafs in the game with his goal.

Friday night's Bantam game Hawks moved up a notch in the standings when they stopped the Leafs 7-2. Gord McLeish set up a terrific pace to score five Black Hawks goals for the winning margin. Murray Endicott and George Daynes with singles matched Leaf goals by Ivan McCausland and B. Filion.

In the Saturday morning Bantam game Canadiens 3-0 shut-out win over Bruins kept their two-point first place margin over Hawks who previously downed the Leafs. Bill White with a pair and Ken Found's insurance marker set up the Canadien win. Warden was the shut-out goaler for Canadiens.

Midget activity for Monday Dec. 26 and Monday Jan. 2nd., have been postponed until the end of the schedule due to the holiday schedule and their standings will remain unchanged until Monday, Jan. 9th.

Another slight change takes effect next Friday Dec. 30th., when the Bantam game between Bruins and Leafs has been moved ahead a half an hour. Bruins will meet Leafs at 6 p.m. Friday Dec. 30th., instead of 6:30 p.m.

Incidentally the Midget second place deadlock is almost as close as possible as both have two wins, two ties and two losses and two goals separate their for and against goal total.

Fire Destroys Home, Aided Generously

CORSON'S SIDING FATHER SHOT

Lindsay Home Gutted By Fire At Midday

A seriously hampered fire department fought several hours on Tuesday against such odds as lack of water and extreme cold to bring under control a fire which completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell, 53 Logie Street.

The fire, which started about 12.30 noon began, according to Mr. Campbell when he had placed a pail of tar on the kitchen stove to melt. He said he was going to use the tar to patch a leak in a dormer roof. The tar apparently overheated and exploded, throwing flame around the kitchen. The entire Campbell family was home at the time. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were Garry, 17, Donnalee, 16, Joanne, 11, and Patricia, three-and-a-half.

When the fire department arrived, the back of the house was burning, but since there are no hydrants along Logie St. the pumper's water supply was soon exhausted. Firemen then chopped a hole through the ice of the Scugog, about 100 yards distant, and with the aid of an auxiliary pump, brought sufficient water to fight the blaze until the pumper could be refilled.

CHIEF INJURED

The entire fire department turned out, including all volunteers, acting under Fire Chief Alex Wylie. Chief Wylie suffered a serious cut to his left hand which he sustained while smashing a window. Despite the injury, he continued to direct operations until he was urged by bystanders to have the injury treated on the scene.

THIRD FIRE

Mr Campbell told "The Post" this is the third serious fire he has had in his home, which is uninsured. The home was gutted six years ago, and only this spring the fire department quelled a blaze in the rear kitchen.

He said he felt the fire department might have saved his home this time if there had been hydrants on Logie St.

"There are water mains along the street, but no hyrants, even though we have fought a long time for them," he exclaimed.

RESCUE!

After the house had been blazing for about an hour, one fireman stumbled from the smoke-filled home carrying a small, soaked kitten which he had found huddled in a corner. The kitten was uninjured, but apparently thoroughly frightened.

SAVE FURNITURE

Before the fire consumed the entire building, the neighbours and firemen were able to save some of the furniture, including a TV set, but the Campbell family has lost all their clothing and most of their possessions.

Mrs. Campbell, who was distraught watching her house being destroyed told "The Post" "I don't know what we're going to do now"

The Chairman of the Fire Committee —Wm. McCrae— who was one of the first on the scene said that he felt the firemen were doing an admirable job in fighting the blaze which had become extremely difficult to fight, since it was burning in all quarters of the building. Firemen were seen, several times, come stumbling out of the house followed closely by a sudden blast of flame which would roar up the outside wall and disappear in a cloud of smoke.

The Lindsay Hydro Electric crew were quickly on the job to sever the hydro wires to the building and to render them harmless.

QUINTS BREAK FROM FAMILY

The father of the surviving quintuplets says the four girls have broken away from the rest of the family. Olivia Dionne adds that there is no use trying to cover up the facts. He says none of the four girls —Marie, Annette Cecile and Yvonne —spent Christmas with the family in Callander. —BUP

Lindsay Businessman Calls Son In Moscow, Call Is Not Censored

Perhaps one of the longest phone calls to be placed from Lindsay took place yesterday when the facilities of the Bell Telephone Company and its European counterparts punctured the Iron Curtain for Mr. Henry Houzer who enjoyed a conversation with his son Leonard, who is attached to the Canadian Embassy in Moscow.

Mr. Houzer said that on Saturday night he picked up his phone and told the startled operator "I'd like to call Moscow, please," and when he informed her that he was quite serious, the call was routed to the New York Overseas operator.

Since the lines into Soviet Russia are only open for a few hours a day, it was not possible for the call to be completed until Monday morning, and checking with the manager of the Bell Telephone, Mr. Bruce Symonds, it was learned that the actual transmission range was roughly 8,000 miles.

Mr. Symonds said that he did not know how the call was handled after it left New York, but that it was probably routed through several European countries to Moscow.

Mr. Houzer said that he spoke to his son Leonard at 10.15 a.m. yesterday and just as his son was on his way to supper in Moscow. Mr. Houzer stated that the conversation was very clear, and he heard every word, except that it seemed a bit wavy. This was explained by Mr. Symonds as having been caused by the radio transmission from New York to London.

Mr. Houzer reported that there was no censoring of the conversation, and that his son is quite well. He pointed out that he hears from him regularly by mail, and that his letters receive diplomatic immunity because of his governmental affiliations.

Black Total, 56 People Die Violently

(British United Press)

Canadians compiled a black total of 56 violent deaths during the long Christmas weekend.

Despite a stepped-up traffic safety campaign and nationwide warnings to motorists to make tea or coffee that last one for the road, the 1955 total surpassed last year's death toll by four.

However, it didn't approach the record 1952 total of 92.

Forty-three persons died in traffic mishaps . . . seven were fire victims and six others died in miscellaneous accidents.

Ontario's total of 25 deaths was more than double that of any other province . . . . Quebec was next with 12 . . . British Columbia 7 . . . Nova Scotia four . . . New Brunswick three . . . Alberta and Manitoba, two each . . . and Newfoundland one.

Prince Edward Island and Saskatchewan reported no deaths at all.

In Ontario, all but two of the 25 fatalities occurred on the roads. The two others died in fires.

In Quebec, nine were killed in motor vehicle accidents, one was a fire victim and two others died in miscellaneous mishaps.

In British Columbia, four were traffic fatalities, two were killed in fires, while another was recorded as miscellaneous.

Nova Scotia reported three traffic and one fire victim . . . New Brunswick, two traffic and one miscellaneous . . . and Newfoundland, one fire victim.

Alberta registered one fire death and one miscellaneous death . . . . and Manitoba recorded two traffic casualties.

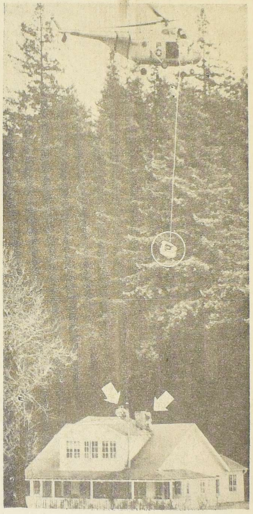
HOLIDAY SIGNS AND SIGNALS

The holiday spirit took its toll of signs and signals in Lindsay this year. Many brave souls who ventured out from their homes on Sunday evening and risked the walk to the neighborhood store must have wondered if it wouldn't have been wiser to have seen an optician before starting out. The reason: they could hardly believe their eyes.

At Kent and William streets on this particular evening, the traffic lights were the first of various signs and signals to confuse the weary motorist and pedestrian. At times there would be an exceedingly long caution period and then, as if fired by the spirit of Christmases past, the signal would go into a spin and all the colours flashed across the board in rapid succession, a most unnerving experience for those who were doing their best to get back to normal after their holiday experiences. However, the antics of the traffic lights were more or less explainable because, being mechanical, they sometimes get out of order.

It was "Open Today" signs on local stores which tended to unsettle Sunday evening callers the most. At one store the sign said a neighbouring store was open but the confusion became truly confounding when a visit to the neighbouring store produced a sign which told the caller to go back where he came from (to the other store).

Which all goes to prove that anything can happen at Christmas time and it generally does. Even signs and signals should be suspended at these times.



Basket Ride to Safety

A Coast Guard helicopter at Guerneville, Cal., hovers over a house in the flooded area as it pulls up basket (circle) carrying one of several members of a marooned family. Others cling to the rooftop as basket goes up, and wait their turn to be rescued.

Colourful Santa Claus Parade At Kinmount

Kinmount (PNS) —Santa Claus parade in Kinmount was a gala event. The main street was a pretty scene, the store windows with their trees and lights, and the hydro poles were trimmed with Christmas trees.

The streets were lined with a large crowd which greeted the two beautiful majorettes leading the parade, Miss Muriel Sheehey and Miss Robin Rettie of Burnt River, followed by the manger scene with three angels singing Christmas carols, the skaters with their beautiful costumes, the fisherman with his silver fish; Black Sambo and his fierce leopard, and the Maharajah with his Maharanee. The latter was an outstanding feature which caused many laughs. Next was a float with Old Mother Hubbard and her dog; Red Riding Hood and the Wolf; Jack Be Nimole, Three Eskimos, and the Colonial lady; Ten O'Clock Scholar, and the little white rabbit; The beautiful fairy Queen with her attendants on a float, following her was Little Miss Muffet, with her huge black spider; Jack Horner; The fat man; Mr. and Mrs. Teenager in their tuxedo and evening gown; next Cinderella and her Prince Charming arrived, followed by Snow White and her Seven Dwarfs.

Shouts went up on arrival of the biggest clown with his little clowns, next the Spacemen; Jack Be Nimble, Wee Willie Winkle; the big Christmas Box, the funny horse with his driver arrived making wee tots laugh. Old King Cole and his fiddler's three were there too.

Rudolph prancing around with three little girls, all decked out in red bows and tinsel, singing "Here Comes Santa Claus"; Jolly old Santa with his merry "Ho, Ho" arrived with his helpers, dressed in his Christmas finery, an bells jingling on his cutter. Santa was escorted to his house which was beautifully done in evergreens and coloured lights, and greeted the children and many a child was made happy when Santa requested they sing a song for him. Each child received a huge bag of fruit and candy.

It was conceded by all that the Santa Claus parade was a huge success.

Party Sponsored By Legion Ladies

Omemee (PNS) —Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion tendered some 60 children of the veterans, their annual Christmas party in the Hall.

The newly-formed band played a few selections, recitations and songs were given by some of the children and Santa Claus distributed bags of candies, etc., from a well-laden tree to the chilren.

Murder Charge Laid

A Corson's Siding woman, Mrs. E. Scriver has been charged with murder by Provincial Police upon the orders of Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan, after the shotgun death of her husband on Christmas Day.

It is reported that Mr. Scriver was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital following the shooting and died there on Monday.

Mrs. Scriver is at present lodged in the County Gaol in Lindsay.

A page one story in today's Toronto Star says that OPP allege that Mrs. Scriver shot her husband at their farm home while defending her children during a Christmas Day fracas.

Inspector Wanelle of the CID was called in by PC John Williams of the Fenelon Falls OPP detachment, and he and Crown Attorney Jordan are now at the scene.

The charge of murder was laid following Mr. Scriver's death.

Ontario Provincial police from the area placed the charge after 39-year-old Earl Scriver died in Lindsay Hospital yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Scriver was remanded until Friday for hearing.

Police said the shooting occurred in the family's farm home near Corson's Siding when Scriver, allegedly drunk, threatened to beat his wife's two children by another marriage. They were ages 12 and 15.

Police said Mrs. Scriver told them she had picked up an old sawed-off shotgun to threaten her husband so that he would not spoil Christmas by beating the children. However, she said, when she touched the hammer the shotgun accidentally discharged.

Traffic Clogs Main Route To Fire

A terrific influx of cars presented something of a traffic problem at the scene of the disastrous Logie St. fire on Tuesday. The road leading directly to the fire —Logie St. —was blocked by an abandoned car at the railway crossing. Any emergency service wishing to proceed to the scene would have two choices: a delaying detour or run the risk of cutting off the water supply by crossing the hoseline. Fortunately all essential services were on the scene before the road was blocked.

Side streets leading to the fire were extremely icy.

DANCING PUPILS ENTERTAIN

Several pupils of the Muir School of Dancing entertained at the Ross Memorial Hospital Christmas party held in the I. O. O. F. Hall last Friday.

The children taking part were Barbara McGahey, Carol Johnston, Corrinne Cormier, Pat Bailey and Sheena Muir.

Kind-hearted People Respond To Appeal In Christmas' Wake

The family of Mr. and Mrs. William Metcalfe of Cannington has been re-established in a completely furnished home, have sufficient food to last them for over a month, and have been given unlimited credit for other purchases they may find necessary . . . all within 48 hours of having lost all of their possessions in a fire which burned their log home to the ground on Christmas Day - - - and all attesting to the proverbial generosity of district people.

THE CAUSE

According to Fire Chief Harry Graham of the Cannington Volunteer Reserve, the Metcalfe home, which was located about two miles south of the village, caught fire about six p.m. Sunday due to an overheated stove-pipe in an upstairs bedroom. There was no hydro in the building, and Chief Graham says the telephone lines were out of commission, therefore Mr. Metcalfe drove to the village to sound the alarm.

When the firemen arrived at the scene, the entire home was ablaze and was soon burned to the ground. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe and their three children lost all of their possessions in the fast-spreading fire. It was learned that the house was heated with wood stoves and was partially insured.

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT

Reeve John Vessey of Brock Township heard of the tragic incident and contacted CKLY in Lindsay, requesting that they ask their listeners to give some assistance to the stricken family.

Announcer Jaff Ford made the request at 11 a.m. Monday, and as Mr. Ford later said, "the response was amazing." It was learned that phone calls and pledges began to arrive at the radio station in such volume that separate depots had to be set up, and committees organized to cope with the flood of gifts for the Metcalfe family.

Appeals for bedding, clothing, food, and furniture, were quickly responded to, and when the station became overloaded with gifts, Mr. Pete Bakogeorge of the Embassy Dance Hall offered his building to be used as a clearing house, from which the merchandise was shipped to Cannington.

A HOUSE TOO!

A house in Cannington was also donated to the family by Mr. Gordon Milton who has been residing in Toronto during the winter months. Mr. Milton learned of the plight of the Metcalfe family and offered his Cannington residence to them free of charge for the balance of the season.

Jaff Ford said today that it probably never will be known just how much was given by the people of the district in cash and merchandise, since it came from so many different points, but that he would roughly estimate the value to be well over the $3,000-mark.

Mr. Ford said that as he sees it now, the Metcalfes lack for nothing, since they have been provided even with curtains, pictures, and many other of the little items which make up a home.

The broadcasting schedule of the radio station was completely disrupted on Monday, since the campaign "snowballed" into large proportions, and the entire day's broadcasting was devoted to continuing, organizing, and acknowledging the gifts which kept pouring in via telephone and personal visits.

It is believed to have been the first time such an appeal has been made by radio following a local disaster. On numerous occasions in the past when word of a family being made homeless by fire has spread through the press and other media, spontaneous help has been forthcoming from the neighborhood. Many, many families have been given a helping hand by generous people in starting anew.

OPP Claims Motorists Well-behaved

Provincial Police at Lindsay report that motorists were exceptionally well-behaved over the Christmas weekend and that they received absolutely no complaints about drunk or impaired drivers, and that Christmas Day in the surrounding area was accident-free.

However, on Christmas Eve, about $250 damage was done to a car being driven by Clifford Hunt, of Peterborough, which struck a patch of ice on the road and skidded into the ditch.

The accident took place on the county road north of Henderson's Corners, and the front of the vehicle was reportedly badly smashed.

First in 12

This year was the first year in 12 years that a Santa Claus parade wasn't held in the village of Omemee. The reason, according to the reeve and organizer of the parades —Mr. Mackenzie— many people were willing to help finance the project but few cared to exert any physical effort toward getting it up.

24-Hour Flu

A lot of people are reported to have been ill in Lindsay over the Christmas weekend. An outbreak of 24-hour flu is said to have taken its toll although the disease is not believed to have caused more than passing inconvenience. Calls for medical attention are reported to have been numerous since no one likes to be sick at Christmas.

Almost Well

Hollywood, Dec. 27 —(BUP)— Deadpan comedian Buster Keaton of the silent movies, has almost completely recovered from a gastro-intestinal ailment he suffered on Dec. 6.

The 59-year-old comic has been released from the West Los Angeles Veterans Administration Hospital where he had been taken in "grave" condition. Doctors said he made a good recovery and now is home.

Christmas Birthday

Candidate For Double Rations

A little Fenelon Falls miss may find herself with a double ration of gifts at Christmastime. Unlike most people, she will be unable to anticipate the pleasure of receiving gifts at both Christmas and her birthday . . . since both are on the same day.

Little baby Ellery, who will be known as "Miss Christmas, 1955" henceforth, was born on Christmas Day in the Ross Memorial Hospital, to Mrs. Douglas (Dorothy) Ellery of Fenelon Falls. The baby was delivered by Dr. G. C. Johnstone also of Fenelon Falls, and was the only Christmas Day birth recorded locally.

The Ellerys it was learned, also have another young daughter, and Mr. Ellery is the recently-appointed caretaker of the Fenelon Falls High School.

Our Own and Other Opinions

SOMETHING MAY BE ADDED . . .

Television viewers in this part of the world may find something has been added to their screens any day now and the addition is likely to last for a couple of years. The little extra we refer to will probably take the form of "snatches" of programs from far away lands, telecasts from which wouldn't ordinarily reach viewers in Canada or United States.

A Washington writer has uncovered some information on this matter which may interest television owners in this area. It has to do with sun spots, a phenomenon which has plagued wireless operators for years, so just in case reception proves a bit unpredictable during the next couple of years and before someone "lets go" at the makers of TV sets, some of this writer's findings may serve to forewarn.

"The appearance of an increasing number of sunspots means that television sets in the United States may soon be picking up faint pictures and voices from foreign countries.

"Handsome caballeros strumming guitars, bull fighting Mexicans or British commercials may flash some screens in a kind of impromptu version of the television program, "Wide Wide World."

"Police radio systems and other mobile networks may be disrupted for hours at a time and telegraph and teletype messages may arrive scrambled.

"Federal Communications Commission officials said today there was nothing that could be done against the sunspots. They noted that sunspots waxed and waned through an eleven-year cycle and were now on the rise. The new peak is due the winter of 1957-58.

"The greatest interference to television reception might be expected to be on the low-numbered channels such as two and three. These operate in the lower frequencies, which are most susceptible to sunspot interference.

"When atmospheric conditions are right, programs from some foreign stations operating on low-numbered channels may be picked up here. Among the countries are Mexico, Britain, Belgium, Germany, Spain, Switzerland and Argentina.

OPTIMISM IS NOT ENOUGH

Population predictions are a favorite pastime of Canadian politicians. Unfortunately, most of those who indulge in this particular brand of crystal-ball gazing display an uncommon reluctance to equate their population prognostications with a proper sense of concern for immigration policy.

The acknowledged blessings of a larger domestic market, and less dependence upon the vagaries of export trade, will not be realized by mere optimistic peering into the future. The real key to a bigger, more prosperous Canada lies in a positive, aggressive policy to recruit New Canadians — a policy which, at the present time, appears to be entirely lacking.

The task of devising such a policy, and of having it accepted by his cabinet colleagues, lies with Immigration Minister Pickersgill. Unfortunately, evidence that Mr. Pickersgill is aware of his responsibility to promote immigration is conspicuous by its absence.

ANOTHER TINY VICTORY

There hasn't been a news item for some time bringing to public notice the activities of one of those rare birds, the individualist. Every time we find one we like to pass it on, hoping that the example set by a fellow non-conformist will encourage others of the breed to cock a snook at the Age of Conformity.

Finally one turned up the other day and we add it to that meagre group of gallants: the little men with big hearts.

A short time ago in Detroit a motorist was arrested for pasting tape over that part of his license plate which read "Water Wonderland." When he appeared in court he told the judge that it irked him to have to carry about free advertising on a marker for which he paid good money. He saw no valid reason why he should be forced to make his car a perambulating sign board, even for the Sovereign State of Michigan.

The court couldn't see it and fined him for defacing the plate. This made the citizen really mad. He appealed to a higher court and was sustained in his attitude.

It would have been so much easier to "go along." But the mass who "go along" never understand the burning sense of injustice or the proud refusal to comply with the arbitrarily silly edict or the condoned injustice. We salute this Detroit citizen and proudly add him to our collection.

HUMAN AGENCY AS AUTHORITY OVER FREE MARKET

The motives of the Bank of Canada in raising the discount rate and tightening credit, as hedges against possible inflation, are undoubtedly the best, but there is some conjecture as to the wisdom of employing these measures to the extent it has. The chartered banks are reported from Ottawa to believe the central bank has gone too far in a too-short time, and that there may be repercussions from its actions as serious as those tendencies in the economy which it has sought to correct.

Unfortunately, there is no certain standard against which to measure the validity of the Bank of Canada's actions nor the chartered banks' doubts about them. The worth of the one or the other can only be demonstrated by the passage of time. If the Bank of Canada has followed the correct course, no harm is done and probably much good. If not, it will be too late to do much about it.

The danger here is again that of establishing a human agency as an authority over the free market place, an agency which, in this instance, cannot entirely escape the suspicion of a political connection. Human judgment, regrettably, is not infallible. The free market place, whatever its faults, had at least the virtue of complete indifference to human affairs. In other instances where man has arbitrarily decreed the conditions of the market place, notably that of the Wheat Board, those who first had occasion to congratulate themselves on seemingly initial successes must now wonder if those successes have been worth the current losses.

GOD BLESS US EVERY ONE!

One of the most delightful aspects of this season of the year is the time and trouble some people are willing to invest in the happiness of others. No praise could be too extreme, for instance, by which to commend the innumerable groups — unions, service clubs, employee groups, Masonic and similar lodges, church organizations, high school clubs and YM and YW organizations, to mention only a few—who provide Christmas parties for under-privileged children, the lonely, the aged and the crippled.

The beauty of this activity lies in the fact that the joy is double-edged. It brings to those who have found life a trial or a misfortune a touch of happiness which would otherwise have passed them by. It brings to those who give the parties a worthy satisfaction which goes far beyond the ordinary run of pleasure. It is a privilege for a newspaper to be able to thank all these great-hearted people for their good deeds. What they do is a very lovely contrast to the preoccupations of ordinary existence. Things like these—rather than cold wars, hydrogen bombs and bacterial warfare—represent the real essence of human nature and its potentialities. They are also another reason why Christmas will never lose its hold on people.

SLOGAN

"A Nation's Health is a Nation's Wealth";
At least that's what they say,
So every man's wealth, is the other fellow's health
And the National Bill must pay.
Yet the question of health becomes a pawn
In a game wealth versus health;
And the Slogan falls down, where the line is drawn
So from there,—every man's for himself.

If a Nation's Wealth is a Nation's health
Then it must be a National care;
But we quibble and diddle Health and Wealth
That we all should enjoy and share.
God! why do we beg for that which is ours?
By a Nation's heart must we live,
Relieving pain and those expensive hours;
Why pray? — when our help we should give.

CHILDREN'S FILMS

The mothers who mourn the Saturday battle over what constitutes the "suitability" of a film for their grade school children can take heart with the second season of the Regina Home and School Junior Film Society. Its plans are made, its ticket campaign now under way.

The story of the Junior Film Society in Regina is an unspectacular one but proof of what a handful of mothers can do for a city on their own gumption. Last winter, half a dozen Regina mothers, realizing the need for films not strictly educational nor documentary, but designed to please the captious tastes of the young, investigated the work of the British Junior Film Society. They were also to show six films through the winter at Reid auditorium on a season's ticket basis to public school children between the ages of six and fourteen.

The experiment proved successful beyond their first timid hopes with a membership of 750. This season, they were able to interest the central executive of the Regina Home and School clubs. Because this organization is aware of the need to promote better films for children, it has taken over management of the society for the winter. Membership has been thrown open to public and separate school children. The age limit has been restricted to children between eight and twelve in grades three to six. (This was on the basis of last year's experience, when mothers found themselves baby-sitting with pre-school brothers and sisters scooped up by innocent six and seven year-olds.)

Seven films, will be shown this season, most of them products from the J. Arthur Rank studios. The films have been made especially for children and children chiefly play the main roles. Theyare packed with requisite excitement as their titles indicate: "The Secret Tunnel", story of smugglers, "Master Detective Bloomquist," thrilling story of a Swedish boy who, playing detective helps in capturing a jewel thief. Final selection in May is the famous Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney film "Boystown."

CANNOT EAT SURPLUSES AWAY

Most of us are over-fed and over-weight. Our doctors admonish us to watch our calories but our governments have given our economic rights to privileged producers, who confront us with the alternative of eating our way through mountains of food surpluses or of ransoming our stomachs and our health by surrendering taxes for subsidies and paying part of our pensions through inflation to maintain domestic prices for foods that our compulsory marketeers refuse to sell at prices that potential British and other outside customers are able and willing to pay.

While our doctors are warning us to diet discreetly, the marketeers of food surpluses are beguiling us to eat more apples, butter, red meat, white meat, wheat and other cereals, cheese, and a hundred and one prepared products made from them. It is obvious that we might destroy our health by stuffing ourselves with delicious foods in an altruistic attempt to sustain stability in a political price system that threatens the solvency of millions of producers and consumers, particularly that of self-providers with fixed incomes.

The simple remedy for deleterious food flatulence is a bitter one that our politicians and their marketeers refuse to swallow because it involves swallowing themselves and the ensuing political indigestion. It is orderly liquidation by sale in the free world market.

No Ice Boating

If you like to drive to Sturgeon Point in the winter you will have no difficulty getting there. The road is sanded all the way down and unless it snows a lot you can get right down to the lakefront. It's an interestting thing to see the lake take on its wintry garb and there were peaks of snow all over the lake. It was a great difference to what we look at in the summer. As far as we could see we saw no ice boats out on the lake. Later on we may see them when the ice is really safe.

Decked Out

If you have some pretty Christmas "stickers" left over you might like to decorate some candles for the table with them. Angels are ideal for this or holly wreaths are also nice. You could use almost any of the stickers and with a little engenuity you might work out a very decorative table setting. Some have Christmas china for this occasion but you can decorate your own.

We Should Feel Grateful

The average person may not realize it . . . but food and water still are the two most desperate wants of man. We can sit back in our own homes and enjoy both of these items and others say hunger is standard and famine continues to be a constant threat in many parts of the world. Others say they will soon solve the problem but others doubt it. So would most of us if we were in their shoes. It does give one a feeling of gratefulness to be able to sit down to three meals a day and a bounteous Christmas dinner. But we expect there are many in Canada too who have to make each dollar count, but feel they are lucky to be able to eat these three meals in comfort if not luxury.

Unusual Rush

Christmas wouldn't be right without some snow so we're hoping we can keep what we have for Christmas. One thing we hope we don't get is ice, so people can come and go without any traffic accidents. Decorations are the order of the day and most people like to get them early so they can enjoy them longer. We came across a lovely Christmas bush at Sturgeon Point that had a definite touch of Christmas. It had long red berries on and while they were frozen they made a pretty bouquet. Being frozen they may not last very long when they are thawed out. It looked so lovely against the white snow as if it had been a fairy tree for the animals there to have for Christmas. It was striking against the white snow.

Ice-Covered Docks

It was interesting to see the wharves at Sturgeon. They were thickly covered with ice that made it look like a big block of ice. It's no wonder they have their docks to repair every year for that ice could almost ruin a dock with the ice pushing up against it too It was wintry looking and to look across the lake made one shiver. We met only one car at this summer resort, so we presume the inhabitants find it a bit too cold to have jaunts in this weather.

Wild Life

The animals are still thick at Sturgeon Point and it was interesting to study the footprints and attach them to certain animals. We blinked our eyes when we saw the prints of fox tracks and we found lots of rabbit and also marks that looked like a coons footprints.

New Idea

They're decorating schools like homes these days. And for a reason.

As one leading school architect puts it, "communities are trying to give their children a gentle transition from home to school."

This, says school architect Ben John Small, is done by making schools more like homes. There are informally grouped contour chairs fr the children to sit on, and decorator colors everywhere . . . including the chalk boards, which now come in green, beige, charcoal grey, off-white, and pink.

Small says people used to think that when you left home it was good to go to school in a place that was completely different from home. He adds now many people have come to the conclusion that the institutionalized school is to abrupt a change for a child . . . and therefore is an obstacle to learning.

Pudding Or Fruitcake

So often a fruit cake will become dry and the family might skip it because they don't like it that way. If you have this happen to yours you can sprinkle it with fruit juice and let it steam in a double boiler. You will find this will moisten it and also give it more flavor. The same can be done with plum pudding that has dried out. To moisten it further you can put a tablespoon of molasses with whipped cream for a topping and the moisture will keep it from being so dry.

Winter Fitness

After Christmas when you find you feel stuffed and very inactive you might try a few exercises to limber you up. Twice a week will do the trick . . . stretching exercise and some arm and shoulder exercise such as pushups will do wonders for you. Take a brisk walk every day if you want to have that glow that is only seen in people who get lots of fresh air. It puts a bloom on your cheeks that powder and paint won't do.

Don't Be A Drudge

One professor says that ten minutes' rest in an hour will do wonders fr a woman's morale and they need not feel guilty taking this rest period. If you try it you will see how much easier your work gets finished and you haven't that fagged feeling you dc when you work all through the morning or afternoon. You'll be able to step out briskly in the afternoon if you follow this procedure and enjoy the whole day with the odd rest period.

Shop To Music

The music downtown makes it easier to do your shopping, for you can hum along with it and not get as tired. As Christmas draws nearer people get more keyed up and the music in the air is soothing to tired minds and feet. You step out in tune with the music and it is easier to shop in this way.

Save Your Boxes

Usually at this time of the shopping spree one finds they can't get boxes to parcel their gifts in. These boxes have a way of running out and it really pays to keep boxes left over from the last Christmas. Gifts look better in boxes so why not put the ones you get this year away where you can get them next year. It seems impossible for the stores to keep up with the demand.

Off Your Diet!

It could happen that Christmas coming on a Sunday and being held on Monday , . . we might get in two fowl dinners this year. With another one at New Years we may need to diet in order to get into our clothes. We might even have two big dinners at New Years even if it is cold fowl. How Christmas and New Years dinners happened we don't know but it gives one a fine chance to gorge on the finest food in the world. Those on diets forget about their reducing for these two days. Remember, too, those Christmas candies are chuck full of calories so count to ten before you eat the whole box.

Put In Water

Don't forget your Christmas tree will stay fresh longer if you stand it in water. They dry up in the warm house but a pan of water will help no end to keep the needles from falling and spoiling the effect.

Christmas Over

Our first big show is over, but there is still New Year's to enter into the season's festivities. If it goes off as wonderfully as Christmas then we can say it was one to be remembered for a long time. The decorations are still up and will stay until after the New Year comes in. We'll keep the Christmas tree up until the needles get too thick on the floor and be thankful we live in a country where we can enjoy this lovely season in our own way. There are still tragedies at this time of the year, but for most of us there is the joy of seeing another Christmas unfold itself in all its glory. We hope that there weren't too many to mar this wonderful time of the year.

Happy Ending

Don't forget the Boy Scouts will be gathering the discarded Christmas trees and for years we have wondered what to do with them Now these boys will cart it away and while we hate to turn them in after all the glamour they have given us for our Christmas, they have to be discarded. So give the Scouts a chance and they will gather them all in and it is a wonderful service they are rendering.

Wonderful Fowl

We should really be thankful for the delicious fowl our growers in the district sold us this year. Many have said that we had the best fowl ever this year. Most of us can vouch for them and they didn't skimp one bit on the tender meat that enfolded them. The Christmas dinner is so important to all of us that to have such delicious fowl was the best of all the meal. Whatever the farmers feed them made them the best turkeys we've ever eaten.

Women of 1955

The most successful women of 1955 are . . . Francis Elizabeth Willis, the U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland and the first woman career officer of the U.S. Foreign Service to achieve appointment as an ambassador. In 1955 she added another first: the rank of Career Minister. She also serves now as a senior advisor to the U. S. Mission of the United Nations.

Blond and lovely 20-year-old Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., put on ice skates in 1955 to win both the world and national women's figure skating championships. Since then she has been training for perfection on the Boston Skating Club Ice. She hopes to become the Olympic figure skating champion.

Household Hint

For a delicious holiday relish, grind together four cups of raw cranberries, two oranges and one lemon. And two cups of sugar, mix well and chilll. Serve in the orange shells from which the fruit was removed.

RAILWAY FLARES FEED BOXCAR FIRE, FIREMEN BATTLE IT FOR TWO HOURS

Lindsay Fire Department members fought for over two hours in sub-zero weather early Thursday morning to fight a stubborn blaze in a CNR freight car, which was being fed by railroad flares stored in the car.

The blaze broke out about two a.m. and was noticed by an employee, Mr. Green, who drove to the fire hall to turn in the alarm. Chief Wylie, and Firemen Watson and Tully as well as the volunteers went to the scene which was at the Durham-Victoria crossing.

It was later learned that the fire was caused by an overheated stove inside the tool car. Chief Wylie reported that the flames were extremely difficult to extinguish because of the exploding flares, and that the gases from the flares hampered firefighting operations.

However, the blaze was kept from spreading and the damage has been estimated at $400.

The committee in charge worked hard and long on the dinner preparations and decorating, but were amply repaid by the members' appreciation and enjoyment of the evening.

Each member arrived bearing a small gift to be placed under the Christmas tree, and exchanged among the group, and a gaily-wrapped gift of food to be delivered to needy families for Christmas. Mrs. L. Strachan, the Welfare convenor reported that fowl and meat would be added to these baskets of canned goods and Christmas treats before delivery.

For the annual Yuletide visit to the County Home for the Aged, Mrs. Strachan varied the type of entertainment this year and took a group of talented Lindsay children to sing and dance for the assembled group. This innovation proved to be very much enjoyeyd and the evening concluded with carol singing and refreshments.

A valued member who had recently moved to Peterborough, Mrs. C. Fry, was on hand for the dinner and was presented with an I.O.D.E. souvenir spoon by the Regent, Mrs. D. Ferguson.

Mrs. J. McQuarrie called for candy to be made for the blind of the district and also reported that the proposed redecoration of two hospital rooms at the Ross Memorial Hospital was nearing completion and would soon be ready for inspection.

The Educational Secretary, Mrs. R Harris informed the group that Christmas gifts were being purchased for the adopted school at Kearney and that a trip to the Verulam school with with Christmas treats and a film was also planned.

The Services at Home and Abroad Committee rewarded the 10 top workers in the chapter over the past year with beautiful Christmas corsages and thanked everyone for the work done in the knitting and sewing field over the year. The number of articles sewn for the hospital alone amounted to 175.

After the short business meeting the program convenor, Mrs. W. Walker arranged games, carol singing and a draw for the beautiful Christmas centrepiece. The evening was climaxed by the arrival of Santa Claus who distributed the gifts under the tree to the merriment of all.

Expect Permit System To Stay

Toronto, Dec. 23—(BUP)—Queen's Park sources said last night Ontario residents will likely have to purchase another liquor book instead of buying a one dollar identification card as recommended recently by the Liquor License Commission.

The Provincial Cabinet has taken no action on the proposal and likely will not do so before January third—the date when paper for the permits must be ordered.

The proposed identification cards would have eliminated much of the paper work now required in buying liquor and would have been valid for two years.

Preventive Education Pgm. Planned In '56 By TB Ass'n.

"It is a wonderful fact that the number of deaths from tuberculosis in Canada is now lower than it has ever been. This is in the main due to the discovery of the new drugs, but the part played by the various programmes of preventive education and X-rays cannot be underestimated, since the chances of recovery are so much higher if the disease can be arrested in its early stage. And in case we become too complacent, it should be remembered that the incidence of the disease in Canada is now higher than it has ever been!"

This statement was made this week by a representative of the Victoria TB Association, who also pointed out that "The Victoria County Tuberculosis Association has planned an extensive program of preventive education during 1956, in addition to its 12 -months a year job of TB Clinics, X-rays, care of sanatoria patients and their families, and rehabilitation. It has set a budget to $5 000 to enable it to carry out this planned programme, but to date less than $3,000 has been subscribed in the Christmas Seal drive —the Association's only source of income, and only about 25 per cent of those to whom seals were sent have contributed.

"However, with the pressure of Christmas preparations it is realized that many may have overlooked sending in their contributions, and the Association is hoping that by the New Year they will be in sight of their objective."

"RUSSIA TWISTING HISTORY"--NEHRU

BUILDING BYLAW PROTESTED BY MANVERS TWP. RESIDENT

Bethany (PNS) —A complaint has been officially recorded with the Manvers Municipal Council from a district resident who felt that the new 23-clause building by-law, passed in September, is most unsuitable for the needs of the township.

The Manver's resident addressed Council at their recent meeting and pointed out some of the points of the by-law which she believed to be unsuitable, such as the high rate of inspection fees for a rural area; the basement requirements; chimney construction; and the minimum size of a building lot and dwelling. The resident stated that these regulations would deter many people from building in the area.

Council, however, took no action.

Other motions of business of the December meeting of Council were recorded as follows:

On motion of Payne and Fallis, Lewis McGill and Robert Brown were appointed as a committee to purchase five cords of body hardwood for Township Hall heating purposes.

On motion of Payne and Fallis a recommendation will be offered to the 1956 Council to give consideration to the possibility of extending the development road from the border of Cartwright township, from Burton store to Ballyduff.

On motion of Fallis and Brown any sheep valuator will receive $2.00 per valuation.

On motion of Payne and Fallis that additional information be secured re Pedlar's licence for the 1956 council.

On motion of McGill and Brown the Clerk was instructed to place advertisements in local papers and notices in stores in Municipality that tenders be called for an Assessor, duties to commence early in 1956.

Mr Ed. Mitchell interviewed the council re using of hill near his property for fill on highway No. 35 extension. Mr. Percy Jakeman presented a claim for sheep losses.

Reeve Allan Beer expressed his pleasure for the good co-operation he had received from the other members of council. In turn, deputy-reeve John Payne and councillors McGill, Brown and Fallis each expressed their pleasure for having had the experience of Municipal affairs and the good will of fellow members.

Report Uranium Mine Townsite Already In Construction Stage

Reports of stepped-up uranium mining activity continue to come out of the Halliburton-Bancroft area. An unconfirmed report reaching "The Post" says construction is already underway at the Bicroft site and 200 houses are planned as a start on the townsite.

A report from Peterborough which is not attributed to any specific source and therefore might be interpreted to be speculative in nature reads:

"Another uranium property in the Bancroft mining district is planning a mill. Dyno Mines in Cardiff township, off the Cheddar Trail, has 1½ million tons of uranium-bearing material outlined according to drilling indications from 119 holes.

"A three-compartment shaft has been put down to 225 feet and a level established at the 185 foot horizon. Two thousand feet of lateral work will be done at this level, chiefly to cut a bulk sample to determine the ore content.

"Officials hope that the ore picture will be sufficiently advanced by the end of March to warrant application for a premium price contract from the government purchasing agency.

"A development shaft at the Faraday township property of Greyhawk Uranium (formerly Goldhawk Porcupine Mines) has been started and carried down to 36 feet. A total of 14,500 feet of drilling has been done in 65 holes; most of it confined to a favourable zone along a strike length of 1,600 feet.

"In order to meet the necessary requirements for application for the premium price contract to sell uranium precipitates, Eldorado Mining and Refining directors have authorized a program of underground development and further drilling, to the extent of another 3,000 feet.

"Halo Uranium Mines at the western side of the same general area has increased the length of its ore body by 200 feet as the result of recent drilling. One of the latest holes showed by chemical analysis an intersection of 18.7 feet containing 0.118 per cent of uranium ore.

Written Tests For Drivers In February

Toronto, Dec. 22 —(BUP)— Effective February first, Ontario residents applying for new driving licenses will have to pass written examinations.

Highways Minister James Allan said yesterday it had originally been planned to start the written exams January third, but lack of space forced postponement of the scheme.

The move followed a steady volume of complaints from magistrates in the past two months that some erring motorists didn't know enough English to be able to read highway signs.

Christmas Tree Thefts Locally Reported Nil

According to the Department of Lands and Forests and the Ontario Provincial Police at Lindsay today, there are few people in the district who have been known to be stealing Christmas trees from Crown, Provincial, or private land this year.

It was reported that many thefts of this type have been occurring in other sections of the province, but that locally the complaints are almost nil.

Police say that they are spot-checking cars and trucks on the highways which are seen carrying Christmas trees, and require the driver to produce a bill of sale, or some evidence that the trees have been acquired through legitimate sources.

However, it has been learned that although a few Christmas trees are known to have been taken from the edges of the highways, especially in the Haliburton district, the Department reports that there have been no complaints to them.

District Forester W. A. G. Thurston says that few people know whether they are on Crown or private land, and that to his knowledge there has not been any people "mean" enough to purposely destroy any reforestation projects by cutting trees indiscriminately, or to enter obviously private property to steal trees.

Lindsay OPP state that if complaints are received, and the culprit apprehended, they will lay charges of theft, but they also say they doubt very much whether there will be any such occurrences at this late date in the Christmas season.

Farm Union Locals Told Farm Income Decline Likely

A joint meeting of three locals, Cavan, Millbrook and Pontypool, was held in Cavan. Mr. Fair, president of the Cavan local, introduced Mr. Doug Mackie, Director for Durham County, who spoke briefly before introducing the speaker for the evening Mr. Albert Cormack, president of the O.F.U.

After reviewing the growth of the O.F.U., both in numbers and prestige, in the last year, Mr. Cormack gave a very interesting account of the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference, held in Ottawa recently. There was, he said, no assurance or hope that any agricultural product would rise in price next year, but rather, would there be a decline in farm income, according to the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Gardiner.

"The fact that no market was being found for the surplus western wheat, was causing ill-feeling between the western farmers who are now competing in the livestock fattening phase of farming and the eastern farmer, who sees depressed prices in Ontario because of this fact, declared Mr. Cormack.

Mr. Cormack branded as nonsense the statements of certain farm leaders, that the answer lies in cut-back production, stating that, to cover rising costs, and depressed prices, the farmer had to produce more to meet the rising costs.

The conclusion of Mr. Cormack's speech was an urgent plea to farmers to join and back their union, so that a united front could be put forward, equal to that of any other industry or group, in order that the farm industry receive the consideration it rightly deserves.

The discussion period, which is a feature of all Union meetings, covered most farm topics, from hogs to pea-growing, with most of the farm people present, expressing their opinions and views.

Following adjournment by Mr. Fair, the ladies of the local served a very fine lunch.

Jackson was present and reported on the Allocation towards a Girls' home recently built and now accomodating a number of girls near Toronto. Letters of thanks were received from Messrs. Great Landmark Goes Up In Flames

One of the great landmarks of American history went up in flames Thursday.

Fire ravaged the old Wayside Inn at Sudbury, Massachusetts. A boiler explosion is believed to have started the fire.

The Wayside Inn was built in 1686 by Samuel Howe. Then it was called Howe's Tavern. For many years it served as a way station along the old Boston Postroad for travellers on the stage coach.

It was made immortal by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in his book "Tales of a Wayside Inn." It was from Longfellow's book that the inn got its present name.—BUP.

Embarrassed By Things Said By Russian Leaders

(British United Press)

The Prime Minister of India has accused Russia of twisting history.

Premier Nehru referred particularly to the Russian charge that the Allies sent Nazi Germany against the Soviet Union in the early days of World War Two.

The charge was one of many made by Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin in their anti-western speeches during a recent tour of Asia.

Nehru voiced his objections at a closed meeting of his Congress party in New Delhi. The premier declared he was embarrassed by some of the things said by the Russian leaders.

Nehru said he regretted the attacks on Britain, but added he was not embarrassed by the Russians' reference to Kashmir and Portuguese Goa.

Editor,
"THE THURSDAY POST",
LINDSAY, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

I would keenly appreciate the privilege of bringing the following brace of items, credited to a feature column in my home paper and your Charlottetown Guardian contemporary, "Among The Farmers", to the notice of your readers in town and country, unlikely to have seen same:

(1) —"The recent sale of surplus Canadian butter to a foreign country has excited self-righteous indignation on the part of some organizations and individuals who have been contributing at the rate of less than 3 (three!) cents per year to finance the butter support programme — a programme which is at the present time the keystone which prevents the agricultural roof collapsing on the farm owner. The undeniable and uncomfortable fact of the situation is that the farmer is being paid less and less for his labor, while other segments of the economy are generally receiving more in real wages — and, in some instances, cheaper food, as the frosting on the cake. Common justice and common sense would both suggest that the time has arrived when the general taxpayer must accept the fact that agriculure is the exploited part . . ." and,

(2)—"Nearly everyone agrees on the importance of united action by the usually small population in a rural community; and yet some of the most worthy activities and organization have the effect of dividing the rural people . . . A valued possession in any rural community is a group which cuts across political, religious and social lines and includes both men and women. The rural community is too small a place to be split up in factions which have no common bond to cement them together".

Sure GM Strike Destined To Outlast Ford Record

The drawn out General Motors strike appears certain to surpass last winter's 109-day walkout at Ford of Canada.

Negotiators for the company and the United Auto Workers have quit bargaining table in Toronto for the Christmas holidays and don't plan to return until January 3rd.

By then the 17-thousand G-M workers at five Ontario plants will have been idled for 107 days.

The last word on the bitter dispute came from Canadian U-A-W Director George Burt. He charged the firm is trying to exploit the holy season by renewing its wage offer during the Christmas season when corporation bargainers think the workers may be more vulnerable than at any other time.

The company outlined its offer of three annual wage increases of five cents each in full-page newspaper ads. —BUP

Rev. Smith Delivers Christmas Message

Reaboro (PNS) —"The Christmas Story" was beautifully and impressively told by the Rev. Mr. Smith to the members of the Reaboro W. I. at their Christmas meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Soles with a good attendance of members and friends.

The president, Mrs. Clayton Smith welcomed those present and expressed her pleasure in having such a good number for the Christmas meeting. Following the singing of the opening Ode, the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Delbert Hickson and approved as read. The treasurer's report was given showing a good balance on hand in the bank. The Roll Call was answered by an exchange of Christmas presents, and the gifts were passed around for the members to admire. Mrs. Harold Fleming gave the Flower Committee report. Mrs. Kenneth Thorn gave a good Red Cross report of various articles being finished to be handed to the Society.

It was decided to give a donation of $10.00 to the Red Cross as the canvassing had not been done and the members would do some canvassing in the spring. The secretary read the correspondence which included a letter regarding the Life Membership certificates which had been sent for. Two Life Membership pins and certificates are to be presented at the next meeting to Mrs. Harry Hickson and Mrs. Ellen Calvert.

The Group leaders, Mrs. Jay Harper and Mrs. Harold Fleming gave reports regarding their groups that work would commence after the New Year. Members were asked to leave donations for these baskets at Mr. Priddle's store not later than Sat. Dec. 17th., and they would be packed early the following week. The flower collection amounted to $1.00.

Mrs. Soles in a few well-chosen words introduced the special speaker, the Rev. Mr. Smith, a pastor of the Reaboro Baptist Church who the members were so pleased to have speak to the mat their Christmas meeting. Rev. Mr. Smith chose the appropriate talk on "The Christmas Story" and took the scripture passage from Luke 2, verses 7—20 explaining the birth of Christ and the speaker in his usual capable manner stressed the full significance of the scriptural passage and what it meant to us. Mrs. Elmer Mahood tendered a vote of thanks to Rev. Smith for his inspiring talk and expressed the appreciation of the group for Mr. Smith being able to be present.

Mrs. Clayton Smith led a sing song of Christmas carols which was much-enjoyed and added to the festive occasion. Mrs. Ingram of Mount Horeb was called on to give a talk.

The meeting closed with the repeating of the Creed and singing the National Anthem. The hostess was assisted in serving a lovely lunch by Mrs. Ellen Calvert and Mrs. Guy Littlejohn. Mrs. Soles also passed around her Christmas cake which was a nice treat for all present. The members thanked Mrs. Soles for her kind hospitality. UGH! HAZY MESSAGE

BIG CHIEF above is pounding out a message to his tribe obviously enough, but the message itself (at top of drawing) isn't very clear. Certain missing lines must be restored in order to make the three words readable in English. How quickly can you determine what he's saying?

Answer: By restoring necessary lines, the message reads—"Heap Big Xmas."

For a Santa Claus Game

THERE'S an imaginary way of playing hide and seek in which this cut-out of Santa (at left) makes an amusing pawn. Someone who is "it," chooses to hide Santa somewhere in the room—up the chimney, in a candy dish, etc. For a clue, he or she places the cut-out on the opposite side of the room facing the imaginary hiding place. Seekers are given five minutes in which to find the hiding place. Then someone else tries.

Some Are Out of Place

THERE is a time and place for everything. However, some of the things mentioned below are definitely out of place. As a test of knowledge and wits take some time to determine which they are. See if you can get all six answers correct.

1. One of these is not a tree: Fir, spruce, hemlock, holly, wintergreen, mulberry.
2. One of these does not apply to horses: Thoroughbred, Morgan, Percheron, Hackney, Guernsey.
3. One of these is not among Santa's chargers: Dasher, Prancer, Dancer, Stepper, Blitzen.
4. One of these is not a kind of puzzle: Charade, rebus, anagram, spectrum.
5. One of these does not have strings: Lyre, lute, flute, mandolin, zither.
6. One of these was not a Vice President: Truman, Coolidge, Garner, Hoover, T. Roosevelt.

Answers: 1. Wintergreen. 2. Guernsey. 3. Stepper. 4. Spectrum. 5. Flute. 6. Hoover.

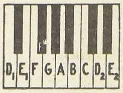
HOW quickly can you complete the drawing above? Begin at dot 1 and draw connecting lines from dot to dot consecutively. Where two numbers are beside one dot, use it for both.

YULETIDE MINI-TEST

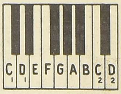
IN the U. S. we hang stockings at Christmas. In what country is it an old custom for children to receive gifts in shoes?

Answer: In the Netherlands.

HOLIDAY SONG MATES



O CHRISTMAS TREE



AULD LANG SYNE

AN appropriate and popular pastime in this season of joyous song is a game called "Musical Mates." Any number of players, young or old, may join in.

Host or hostess writes down the words, line by line, to a number of Christmas airs. These are shuffled and distributed, one to each guest.

Guests are asked to find partners—that is, other recipients of lines to their particular tune. First group to congregate and sing the song in hand wins.

Two holiday favorites are provided as a starter below. Keyboards are given above.

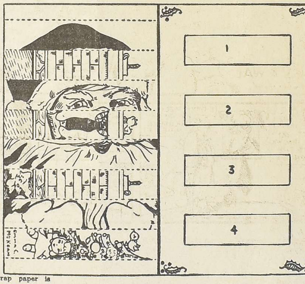
SIGHTSEEING THRU A KALEIDO-STRIP



TWO Christmas scenes are represented in the kaleido-strip at right. To see either clearly, proceed as follows:

Now cut out sections of picture finder marked 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Place picture finder over picture strip, until only one scene shows. Slide finder either left or right for the second scene.

Those who wish to color the pictures will find it a somewhat easier task if scrap paper is used to cover separate sections. Sharp crayons or colored pencils are suggested. Viewfinder may also be colored if desired.

Merry-Go-Round

MRS. JONES has four sons. She would like to give each one a bicycle for Christmas, but can only afford to purchase two bikes. Therefore, they will be able to go on cycling expeditions only two at a time. In how many different pairs can they go?

Answer the poser in one minute, if you can.

Answer: In six different pairs. Suppose they are A, B, C and D. Then they can go AB, CD, AC, AD, BC, BD.

Grandma's Prank

GRANDMA, a prankster, puzzled members of the family with her invitations to Christmas dinner. She included part of the menu in the form of anagrams. This is the way she put it:

HAND ME CRUET:
Nut Bosh
Suet or posy
Try our steak
Mink pup pie

In anagrams, letters are rearranged to form new words. See if you can decipher the dinner courses Grandma listed.

Answer: THE MENU CARD: hot buns, oyster soup, roast turkey, pumpkin pie.

A NERVE TEST

THIS test will help indicate if your nerves are holding up under the strain of this hectic season.

Take two drinking straws, a plain band ring and a two-inch nail just thick enough to fit into one of the straws.

Insert the nail in the end of one of the straws and balance the latter in the ring which you hold on the end of the other straw.

The slightest trembling of your hand will cause the balanced straw to topple, therefore, if you can do this stunt you will know that your nerves are steady.

NOT just anybody is the principal figure in the drawing at right, but someone very much in the picture today. It's possible, by careful scrutiny, to pick out several figures in the maze of lines, but a whole lot easier to make the central character appear by applying colors as follows:

B—Blue
R—Red
P—Pink
BR—Brown
BK—Black
V—Violet
G—Green

How quickly can you fill it in?

RIDDLE

What time is it when a mince pie is divided among four hungry boys?

Answer: A quarter to one.

Santa Beware

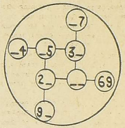
JONES, O'Reilly, McTavish and Smith live in the same row of four houses in Suburbia—the only houses in the block. All four keep dogs—Terrier, Dachshund, Spaniel and Greyhound, but not respectively.

Smith has a Dachshund; Jones has only one neighbor, but McTavish has two. The Spaniel's owner lives next door but one from the Dachshund while O'Reilly's neighbor is of English ancestry according to his name; and the Greyhound has only one "doggy" neighbor.

Name the owners of the dogs and state the order in which they live in the row.

Solution: Jones — Spaniel, McTavish — Terrier; Smith — Dachshund; O'Reilly—Greyhound.

THREE IN A ROW



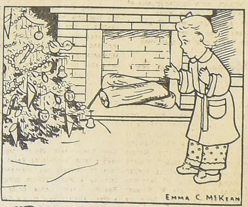
THERE usually are many reflections in a shiny Christmas ball. This one reflects only keen wits—if you solve the problem it poses, natch.

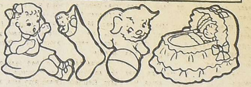
The missing digits in the circles, right, are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. Insert them so that the sum of any three numbers in a row either down or across, will equal 162.

William J. Baumgartner, who originated this poser, adds this hint: Note that the total ends in 2, therefore arranged the "unit" digits first, or 1, 3, 2 and 6. The others will be in the "tens" place.

Solution: Reading horizontally, beginning at top—57, 84, 45, 33, 21, 72, 69, 96.

CUT-OUT TOYS TO DISTRIBUTE





THIS little girl (right) expected to see a red stocking over the fireplace, and a few big special presents around her tree after Santa's visit. Can you please fix it so that her wishes may come true? Just color the picture and the things that are underneath it, using colored pencils or crayons. Then cut out the picture, carefully, along the straight outside lines, and paste it to a piece of construction paper or wrapping paper. Next, carefully cut out the red stocking and paste it over the fireplace. Carefully cut out doll present and basinet, also dog and ball and see how neatly you are able to place them in the picture. Of course, her expression will probably change to a smile, and you may want to fix that, too.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE SOLUTION

STUBBORNLY Barney Thorpe refused to leave the office or his work until the last estimate was checked and filed away. Refused in the face of the ominous warnings that blared forth from the radio at his elbow.

"Go home at once. The storm is rising to hurricane proportions. Go home at once. Quickly."

"Oh that radio," there was cool disdain in Barney's voice, "they're too nervous. Besides it'll only take a few minutes more here. Go on down like a good fellow and wait in the car for me. You know, the one behind Harry's jalopy."

Downstairs, on the street level, peering through the heavy glass door, the storm appeared worse, if that were possible.

Across the street a light, blurred and faint, showed where Harry Thorpe's cigar store stood. Harry had not gone home. Was he going to ride out the storm in his place? Or was he too just delaying?

Stubborn old fools. All the Thorpes. Just 15 years ago Harry had proposed opening the store. He was going to put all his savings into it because he was sure it would be a grand success.

Equally positive it would be a terrible blunder Barney told him profanely not to. Warned him he was courting disaster.

Harry was stubborn, opened the store and now still had his original jalopy. Barney was stubborn, swore that his brother was a fool, and bought himself a new car every year, when there were cars. Not because he needed one but because he wanted it for a purpose.

Safe on an upper landing on the side of the building, I stopped.

And that purpose? Every day he parked that car right behind Harry's jalopy just to prove how [illegible] he, Barney, was.

A heavy hand on my arm. [illegible] having heard a sound I jumped. [illegible] was Barney. "It looks kind of nasty," he said soberly.

Who waited for it to get nasty, I felt like retorting. We made a dash for the car and were soaked before we had gone ten feet. In the car Barney fumbled for the keys and I peered out into the storm.

"Damn!" said Barney, "I can't find my keys." He searched every pocket and then started in all over again.

At that instant I saw Harry sloshing toward us. Barney gave no sign that he saw him. But he did crawl over me to get out. He went out one door even as the door on the opposite side was opened. Whether by design or not they just missed each other. I looked at Harry and my irritation boiled over.

"You're both fools," I said angrily, "why don't you break down and talk to each other. I'd like to break your necks."

To Harry's credit it must be said that he looked kind of foolish. He dropped some keys on the car seat. He was soaked.

"Mine," he said, "I thought he was stuck. Tell him he can have my car. I'm staying."

Barney reappeared. He looked as if he had fallen into the Sound with his clothes on. He saw the keys. "Whose are they?" he demanded suspiciously. "Harry's," I told him, "he said to use his car."

With a face as black as the storm Barney grabbed the keys and sloshed off into the wind and rain. He went straight for Harry's store. I could see him as he opened the door. Then he closed it and came back.

"I flung 'em in his face," he growled, "he'd better mind his own business."

Then I saw it. A great wall of water rolling along the street. Straight toward us. It looked as black as ink and as terrible as night.

At such a moment one does not know what one does. One acts from instinct. And what one does is beyond all reasoning. The next thing I knew I was leaping madly up the fire escape with the water swirling about my legs.

Safe on an upper landing on the side of the building I stopped. A river of water churned about below me. Across the street the light in the cigar store still shone. The driving rain blurred my vision. But not entirely. I could see into the store and what I saw was forever after seared into my mind. A living, lightning-flash picture.

Inside that cigar store were two men, shoulder to shoulder, struggling desperately to keep [illegible] closed. Barney and Har[illegible] Brothers.

Then the lights went

$400 Parking Lot Crash, But Police Cannot Act

Not Classified

Public Highway, Crown Declares

A unique accident took place in Lindsay Friday in which an estimated $400 damage was done to two vehicles, but police say they are powerless to lay any charges or to take any official action since the accident took place on private property.

According to police, a truck belonging to Lindsay's Water Board and another car had been proceeding south in Loblaw's parking lot, each vehicle on either side of a line of parked cars. When they reached the end of the line, one car went to the right and the other to the left, and the collision occurred.

Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan explained that his interpretation of the law is that the parking lot was not a public highway, thus no charges could be laid. Chief of Police John Hunter stated that there are indications that the parking lot was being used as a short-cut from Kent to Russell St.

Talented L. Britain Pupils Present Christmas Pageant

Little Britain (PNS) —Thursday evening was chosen for the annual concert which was presented at the hall by pupils of the United Church Sunday School and the Little Britain Public School.

A goodly crowd attended and enjoyed a fine program under the M. C. Mr. C. Dawson, Supt. of the Sunday School.

Miss Lynda Chidley gave the opening address of welcome and thanked those gathered for coming to share in the happiness and mirth in honor of His wondrous birth.

Pupils of the Senior Room of the P.S. under their teacher Mrs. Mary Varcoe enacted the Christmas pageant. Mrs. Prouse's S. S. kindergarten class dressed in pyjamas with the manger scene as their setting and holding brightly shining candles gave a splendid exercise.

Mr. Sloan, minister of the Christian Baptist Church brought a gayly decorated paper Christmas tree and packages. Through them he explained the true meaning of Christmas and Eternal life.

Many pre-school children went up on the stage to give their recitations which were very sweet. Pupils of the P. S. Junior Room directed by Mrs. Marion Skitch gave the following exercises: Grade - —Hey! Diddle, Diddle!; Grade 2 —Making Things; Grade 3 —One, Two, Three; Grade 4 —Is He Friend or is He Foe; Grade 1 to 4 —The Story of a Fir Tree.

A square dance was performed by Merle Archer, Sharon Wallace, Lynda Chidley, Brenda Junkin, Ronnie Jenkins, Ross Short, Bobby Taylor and John Chynoweth of the Jr. Room.

Grade 1 to 4 Rhythm Band with little Miss Brenda Junkin as their leader gave two numbers —"All I Want For Christmas" and "School Days". Vocal Solos were given by Bob Taylor, "Little Boy Blue" and Lynda Chidley "Mamma Doll".

A tap dance, "An Apple For the Teacher" by Brenda Junkin and Sharon Wallace in plaid skirts with large red bows in their hair and carrying red apples which they gave Mrs. Skitch was enjoyable.

Piano solos followed: Dianne Webster, "Good King Wencelas"; Paul ulbert, "Silent Night"; Erin Skitc , "Bring A Torch Janette Isabell Lynda Chidley, "All Through the ght"; Merle Archer, "Friendship altz".

Instrumental numbers followed by pupils from the Senior Room who are members of the Little Britain Band, and Mrs. Skitch. Trumpet duet, "The Old Rugged Cross" by John Taylor and Bill Magill, Trumpet solo, "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White", by Merle Jenkins; Trumpet duet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" by Merle Jenkins and Mrs Skitch; Trumpet solo, "Lullaby" by Jack Thomson; Bass solo, "The Rose of Tralee" by Lorne Brown; Trumpet duet, "Bless This House" by Jack Thomson and Merle Jenkins; Christmas carols, "The First Noel", "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", and "Come, All Ye Faithful" were played by the group.

An interesting message followed by Rev. Trumpour of the United Church.

Girls from the Senior Room carrying yellow rose petals performed a drill to "The Yellow Rose of Texas" and built the petals round Joan Magill's face to make a yellow rose.

Dialogue —"Ah, Gee"! by Senior pupils proved that young men run into difficulties when they want to borrow father's car. Senior girls sang in unison "Bonnie Laddie". Marion Chynoweth, dress as a woman gave a recitation entitled "When I Was Young".

Sharon Wallace and Brenda Junkin returned in pretty full-skirted frocks and gay straw bonnets to tap to "Five Foot Two".

A very impressive song, One Little Candle was sung by Senior girls with stage lights out and spotlight on Pat Magill who was dressed in pyjamas and holding a lighted candle. They said, "It is better to light just one little candle than to stumble in the dark, and if each one would light just one little candle what a grand world this would be."

Dialogue — "The Wrong Suitcase" by Senior pupils, was hilarious.

Choruses—There'll Always Be a Christmas and Santa Claus Comes, were sung by Gr. 1 - 8.

Bags of candy were given to all children present. Santa arrived to shake hands with his little friends and give out presents.

Miss Emily Jane Cornish, a former pupil but now a Grade Niner at Lindsay Collegiate was at the piano throughout and brought the evening's entertainment to a close by playing God Save The Queen.

ICY ROADS BLAMED FOR ACCIDENT, POLICE SAY WORKS DEPARTMENT DIDN'T SAND AFTER REQUEST

An estimated $100 damage was done to two cars which sideswiped on Kent St. W. Thursday evening due, police allege, to the icy condition of the road.

The accident occurred at 6.15 p.m. about 60 feet west of Adelaide when a westbound car, driven by Miss E. Ormiston of Cresswell collided with an eastbound car being driven by Edwin B. Bracken of Cannington. Police say the cars were passing each other and at the same time were passing a parked taxi. However, an icy patch on the road caused one of the vehicles to skid and the collision took place.

Police say the department had, shortly before the accident, called the Board of Works and asked them to begin sanding the roads, since they were becoming icy. But the officer reports that the Works Board foreman told him traffic would be thinning and sanding might not become necessary. The constable pointed out that the sanders did not go into operation at any time during Thursday evening, despite the request of the police department.

Atomic Age Christmas Tree

A Christmas "tree" of fire and smoke rises above the proving grounds at White Sands, New Mexico, after the launching of an Aerojet-General Aearobee. A short time after this picture was taken the smoke-producing booster rocket had travelled more than 100 miles into space. The Aearobee is the world's most widely-used research sounding rocket.

Communists Outdo Scrooge

The Communists of East Germany are outdoing Scrooge.

The famous miser of the Dickens "Christmas Carol" limited his anti-Christmas feelings to snorts of "bah and humbug." But the Communists are seizing Christmas gifts and West German currency.

The Red People's Police — reinforced by hand-picked party agents —are taking away the gifts the East Germans bought in West Berlin. They also are confiscating western marks saved by the East zone residents to shop in the west.

And west marks are pretty hard to come by in Communist territory.

It all adds up to a very dismal Christmas without presents for some kids in East Berlin. —BUP

Claims Deer Enjoy Chaw Of Tobaccy

According to Mr. "Mac" MacKenzie, proprietor of Mac's Lunch and reeve of Omemee a sure-fire way to catch a deer is to lure it with some chewing tobacco, which he says is a delicacy that a deer or moose cannot resist.

Although the Department of Lands and Forests say they have never heard of such a method being used, they do not deny its possibility. Mr. MacKenzie says that for many years people down in New Brunswick have been catching deer this way . . . simply by placing a piece of tobacco on a stump along a runway. "Deer cannot resist the smell, and they can perceive it from a great distance," he says.

Mr. MacKenzie said that last year at Christmastime, he had a live deer in his shop, and that he kept it contented by feeding it chewing tobacco.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

Upon entering the gymnasium on Thursday morning, December 22, the school orchestra, conducted by Mr. Sutton, was playing different selections of popular music which were very enjoyable.

When all of the students arrived Mr. Eberlee called everyone to order and they sang the Lord's Prayer.

Directed by Mr. Lonie, the student body sang some Christmas songs.

Mr Jack Staples then presented Carol Gosling with the award for the highest marks in rapid calculation in Grade X. Mr Eberlee announced the winners of the essay contest. The essay was about "Lindsay". The prizes were given to the winners by the Chamber of Commerce.

Two young boys, who belong to the Boys' Band in Lindsay played two delightful selections on their trombones, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Kennedy.

The school orchestra played and the L.C.I. chordettes who are Shirley Moore, Ruth Kingsborough, Bev. Moore and Donna Bradt sang "Winter Wonderland" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas". This was enjoyed by all.

Miss Krueger said that the girls' track and field meet was very successful last fall. Miss Goldring and Mrs. Edwards presented the awards to the junior, intermediate and the senior champions. Also, bars were awarded to the team champions. Miss Krueger then led the students in the singing of the school song, "Cheer, Cheer for Old L. C. I."

Four boys who also belong to the Boys' Band played two lovely selections on their clarinets, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Kennedy. Then Lorraine Coppins invited all of the teachers to attend the Christmas Dance, Thursday night, December 22.

Comical Play

Last fall the Dramatics' Club was organized again by Miss Corneil. For the Christmas season they presented a comical one act play entitled "What To Give Father".

The actors and actresses are as follows: Mr. Hill —Gerald Preston, Mrs. Hill —Janet Martin, Grandmother — Nancy Lowry, Oldest Daughter —Sandra Cline, Youngest Daughter —Madrid Zealand, Billie Hill —Austin Curtin.

The play took place on the day before Christmas. No one in the family knew what to give Mr. Hill for Christmas, so they each got him a pipe, not knowing they all had done so.

Mr. Hill came home with a gift for Mrs. Hill and later they opened their presents. Mrs. Hill was thrilled with the furs she received from her husband, but didn't think he could afford them. Mr. Hill told his wife that since tobacco cost so much he was going to quit smoking and in that way he could pay for the furs.

The rest of the family was horrified to hear this, but they still gave him their gifts. He discovered he had been given five new pipes.

He then sat down and was surrounded by his family and the pipes.

We sincerely congratulate th members of the Dramatics Club and Miss Corneil for that wonderful and enjoyable presentation

Mr Eberlee wished everyone a Merry Christmas and reminded them that school re-opens on January 3, 1956 at "9:00 o'clock".

Says Department May Appeal 'Fish' Case

Hold 45 Bass Until Toronto Decides Course

The district forester for the Lindsay Department of Lands and Forests office, W.A.G. Thurston told "The Post" that he has no further "official" word to offer on the Department's stand regarding the decision handed down in Lindsay's Magistrate's Court on Friday, when an American tourist was fined $1.00 for having 45 bass in his possession.

Mr. Thurston says that the entire matter has been turned over to the Toronto office, and is in the hands of the Division of Fish and Wildlife there.

He says that he has received instructions to "hold" the fish that were seized, as the Department may appeal the case to a higher court.

Mr. Thurston says the decision, as he sees it, makes the work of the Department conservation officers most difficult.

"Enforcement of fishing laws is aimed at protecting that resource, so that everyone may enjoy the sport of fishing. This means that support is needed from everyone," he declared.

According to the Games and Fisheries Act, the penalty for taking more than the permissible number of fish is, "not less than $10 and not more than $100."

Attention Purse Finders!

July 18th 1955.

Editor,
Lindsay Post,
Dear Sir—

I wish to draw your attention to an ad I have placed in the "Lost" column. A party of American tourists spent a week and considerable money between Lindsay and Haliburton. Unfortunately one of the ladies lost her purse when they stopped in Lindsay and has been put to considerable inconvenience and loss.

The purse has not been turned in to either police office and I trust the ad will bring results. There was between $30.00 and $40.00 in cash in the purse and surely this is sufficient reward to the finder who can easily mail us the purse and contents.

Very truly yours,
A. Galoska,

Freakish Weather Strikes Points Continent Apart

Two points thousands of miles away -- one in the east, the other in the west -- have had a taste of freakish weather.

In Nova Scotia, a baby tornado ripped through two summer colonies Monday p.m. It damaged at least 150 cottages and left one woman injured at Seagrove Park and Jackson's Point, at the mouth of the Tidnish River.

Damage is estimated in the tens of thousands of dollars.

In Edmonton, almost at the same time, a minor hurricane spread confusion. The dust-laden wind struck just as the grandstand show was about to get under way at the Edmonton Exhibition.

Mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal was opening the show when gusts of 57 miles an hour winds blasted clouds of dust into the grandstand.

Everyone took cover but the customers. It was over a short time later.

Damage was reported to be light and there were no casualties.

Same Service Station Operator Is Charged With Violating Bylaw

Chief John Hunter of the Lindsay Police stated Tuesday that he has laid a fresh charge against service station operator E. G. Hedge for selling gasoline in hours other than when permitted by town bylaw.

Mr. Hedge had recently appeared in Lindsay Court charged with a similar offense, and was found guilty as charged by Magistrate R. I. Moore, who subsequently commented that the by-law was "absurd." However, Mr. Hedge was fined only the court costs of three dollars in that case.

Police allege that Mr. Hedge has been observed selling gasoline again during restricted hours, and as a result, Sgt. Gordon Eberts of the Lindsay P.D. has laid the charge.

It is expected by police that Mr. Hedge will appear in Court to face this latest charge some time next week.

Charges Steel Company Prices At U.S. Levels, Wages Not

Hamilton, July 19 (BUP)— The C-I-O United Steelworkers of America charged today that the Steel Company of Canada is raising its bargain prices to United States levels, but paying its workers 20 to 72 cents an hour less than men doing the same job in U.S. mills.

The union made the claim before a three-man conciliation board meeting in Hamilton. The board is hearing a deadlocked contract dispute between the company and its 78-hundred employes.

Union research director Cleve Kidd presented figures showing the wage rates at Stelco range from one dollar and 48 cents an hour to two dollars and 52 cents. This was contrasted to one dollar and 68 cents up to three dollars and 24 cents for comparable jobs in the United States.

Beside wage increases, the union wants a minimum pension of one hundred dollars a month, and elimination of wage differentials within the company's chain of plants.

Company director of industrial relations, H. J. Clawson, said today the union statements of pricing policy are inaccurate. He says Stelco sets its own prices, based on cost, and does not follow U.S. prices.

He said some prices were established three and four years ago, and pointed out that a few months ago prices were dropped on some principal products.

Starlings Return To Hamilton, Warfare Resumes

The starlings have invaded Hamilton again.

The steel city has begun an all-out war to get rid of the pesky birds.

Parents have called their children off the streets. They've locked their cars away in garages. And they've slammed their windows shut -- all to keep the starlings away at night.

Alderman W. G. Harris says it's a good idea for people to barricade themselves while the Hamilton Fire Department goes to work on the birds.

Harris is chairman of the city's so called Starling and Pigeon Committee. He has arranged to have the firemen hose the trees lining city streets in an effort to give the birds the bird. —BUP

4,000 Men Pressed Into Emergency Fire Fighting Service In Ontario

Toronto, July 19--(BUP)--Approximately four thousand forest rangers and civilians pressed into emergency service are fighting 96 forest fires in Ontario today.

Sixteen of them are still out of control, including a 50-thousand acre blaze in Township 3-A of the Sault Ste. Marie district. It is the largest fire in the province.

The Department of Lands and Forests said in its noon bulletin today that 352 fires have been put out since the first of this month. A large percentage of them were caused by lightning, but propsectors, woods operators, and smokers were also to blame.

The 16 fires still out of control are located as follows: five in the Sault Ste. Marie district, four each in the Cochrane and Chapleau districts, and three in the Kapuskasing district.

The 50-thousand acre fire in the Sault district started as three smaller fires, ignited by lightning. They burned together to make one massive fire.

In addition to the four thousand men, 50 aircraft and three helicopters are in the aerial attack force. A United States Forestry Service Norsemen with special water-bombing equipment is now dropping water on the 50-thousand acre fire in the Sault district.

The department says the weather forecasts indicate no break in the present warm, dry weather for the next three or four days, at least. And the fire danger rating in forested areas across the province is now marked down as "high to extreme."

Lindsay Couple's Son Shaken In Accident; Car-Truck Collide

A Peterborough man was injured and damage totalled $1,350 early Saturday night when a soft drink truck collided with an oncoming car outside the Fireside restaurant on the Chemong road.

Cases of bottles, both full and empty, were showered over the car and the roadway at the entrance to the restaurant. Brooms were used to help clean up the mess.

The injured man was Lloyd Lawrence, 25, of 302 King St., a passenger in the northbound car, driven by George T. Sharpe, 40, a Peterborough chiropractor. Lawrence was taken from the accident to St. Joseph's hospital in Nisbett's ambulance. Mr Sharpe is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Sharpe, Lindsay.

He had cuts on his face and an injured arm. Hospital authorities said today his condition is satisfactory.

The collision occured as the truck driver, Donald E. Schweir, 27, of 501 Aylmer St., manouevred to avoid running into a car that had suddenly stopped in front of him.

TURNED OUT

Police say that two unamed Lindsay women in a small English-model car, while driving to Peterborough, stopped to make a left turn into the Fireside. Another Peterborough car came to a stop behind them, and Schweir, driving the truck, turned out to the left to avoid hitting the vehicle ahead.

The truck collided with Sharpe's oncoming Buick causing an estimated $800 damage to the car and $450 to the grill, left fender and left front wheel of the truck.

Cases of soft drinks tumbled from the truck showering the car and road with wooden cases, bottles of pop and broken glass.

Sharpe was shaken up but uninjured, and Fred Hamblin, 16 of 768 Brown St., a passenger in the truck, also escaped injury.

OPP Constable Ken Barber investigated.

Familiar Landmarks . . .

This placidly beautiful body of water is a familiar sight to all who have travelled the road between Bobcaygeon and Kinmount. Located a few miles north of Bobcaygeon on the right hand side of the road, called Silver Lake and, up until the present moment, has never been developed as a cottage site. Owned by a former warden of Victoria County, Mr. Robt. Bradt of Bobcaygeon, the lake is not suitable for bathing by those who cannot swim, except in one or two places where wading is possible for about 15 feet out. Generally speaking the shoreline drops away rapidly and soundings are reported to have shown depths up to 60 feet and more. It is a spring-fed body of water. Mr. Bradt told "The Post" the other day he planned to develop the lake to some extent and a bulldozer used for the purpose of opening up a section of the shoreline near the highway was awaiting repairs before the work could proceed.

CLAIM "INDISCRIMINATE" DIGGING UNEARTHED NEW-LAID WATER MAIN

What is described by observers as a little "indiscriminate" digging on the part of some Board of Works employees Tuesday, is reported to have resulted in the digging up of a section of water service pipe that was laid less than one month ago.

According to an employee of the Water Board, some town employees had been working on St. Paul St. today laying a new storm sewer. It is reported that the works employees had been digging with the power shovel which had been acquired from Sunderland, and through some error, managed to dig up the water pipe that had just recently been laid.

Witnesses say the water from the burst pipe flowed along St. Paul St., until a crew from the Water Board arrived and dug up the main valve, from where the flow was cut off until they managed to get the broken pipe repaired and buried once again.

Just a few months ago, the town of Lindsay was compelled to pay a sizeable sum of money to the Bell Telephone Co., when one of their underground cables was dug up by members of the Board of Works who were doing some work in the south-west section of town.

It is reported that in today's case, the Board of Works employees had been advised to dig with hand shovels when nearing the buried pipe.

Says World Masonry Bridge Twixt Science and Religion

Toronto —(BUP)— World Masonry has been described as a bridge between science and religion.

Superior Court Judge Ellesworth Meyer, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of California, told 33-hundred Masons in Toronto last night that Masonary teaches morals and ideals need more than mere assent. He said Masonry maintains there can be no peace of mind in the absence of personal ideals.

Meyer spoke at the centennial celebrations of the Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario. He says Masonry brings a religious atmosphere to many men who otherwise would never have had that experience.

He denied that technical progress has rendered ideals obsolete. He said the majority of people believe right is greater than might

Our Own and Other Opinion

OUR TOURIST BUREAU SIGN

A tourist visiting Lindsay and seeking information would have to keep a very sharp lookout or it is quite possible the sign which now indicates the tourist bureau as one drives through Lindsay from the west would be missed. The last time we looked at it it was pointing, not across the road but down . . . . hardly the polite way to indicate where we wish our motoring visitors to go for information. And the sign is certainly not in keeping with the very attractive building which houses the information bureau nor the helpful people who staff it.

Tourists as well as local citizens would no doubt welcome the installation of a more attractive and effective sign indicating the tourist bureau and it is entirely likely that if the chairman of Lindsay's tourist committee and the manager of the Chamber of Commerce got their heads together they could come up with an idea for a sign which would do both the tourist cause and the town justice. This, on the assumption that the Dept. of Highways (Kent St. is a part of a provincial highway) and local authorities had no objection.

But it IS Comfortable

There are those among us who seem to feel that going around all muffled up in a sticky collar and moisture-laden necktie during the hottest days of the summer makes them martyrs of sorts. One of these gents gave us a bit of a verbal chastisement the other day because we were violating the unwritten, but much-adhered-to, law covering proper attire among those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow in the world of business. In his opinion, a cool if somewhat sporty sports shirt was simply not the thing to wear when one was to come in contact with the public on matters of business.

The criticism almost brought about the end of a beautiful friendship but sympathy prevented us taking any such rash action. We were moved to pity this well-meaning friend who was enduring the tortures of an earthly hades because conventions which were established in the unenlightened past forbade him relax, get into a comfortable shirt that required no strangling ribbon of silk for adornment, and go about his business.

We never really expect to convert this gentleman to our way of thinking but neither can he ever expect us to believe that convention should dictate against what common sense tells us is in our best interests. We wonder how many business people in the warmer parts of India, the various Congos, etc., would be seen whipping about all dolled up in a collar and tie with the temperature a 100 in the shade.

The Price Of Modern Packaging

There has been considerable comment lately concerning the litter which detracts from the appearance and appeal of downtown Lindsay. No one will deny that there are times when this unsightly refuse abounds in objectionable quantities but it seems we are "missing the boat" when we try to attach the blame for its presence on people's untidy habits. From our observations it would appear that the outcropping of debris and litter which is proving so annoying is a by-product of 20th century packaging which, while it is most attractive to the purchaser, becomes extremely unattractive once shed and tossed to the wind. This being the case, isn't it likely that by recognizing the problem and planning to tackle it on a co-operative basis we are more apt to keep Lindsay's streets tidy than by simply finding fault and attempting to unload the responsibility.

As a town we can see that adequate street cleaning operations are carried out, sufficient trash cans allocated, etc. As business operators we can make an honest effort to keep them tidy without, and as individuals we can co-operate by trying to dispose of waste products in unobjectionable ways.

Water . . .

Lindsay's Parks Board has made numerous improvements to our parks system . . . . they have kept the parks clean, orderly and attractive . . . they have provided some excellent tables and benches, planted and maintained some beautiful flower beds and otherwise added beauty and comfort.

On Wednesday we thought it might be interesting to ask some visiting tourists who were making use of the picnic tables in Victoria Park, if they thought the town had done all it could to make Lindsay's public parks attractive to the visitor. A spokesman for the group said he could make only one or two suggestions . . . . arrange for a water supply which would permit tourists to fill containers and possibly, as an added feature, have a fireplace or barbecue arranged so that anyone requiring heat in preparation of the picnic meal could have it.

There is water in some of the parks now but it is a tough job filling a contained from a fountain. Can something be done to make this more convenient for our visitors and at the same time would there be anything to prevent having it in a conspicuous place?

DON'T PUT IT IN THE PAPER!

Nearly everyone at sometime or another has something occur in their sphere of operations which is considered newsworthy. It may be an anniversary, an accident or any of a dozen other things which make news. Most people have no objection to these items being mentioned in the newspapers but occasionally there are those who disapprove or for some reason they do not wish publicity.

It is apparent that if the newspaper were to totally erase all items of news for which requests of "no publicity" are received, it wouldn't be long before it would have to close its doors. However, if the item of news seems apt to cause unnecessary suffering to someone it is likely that most newspapermen would try to handle it in such a way as to minimize the undesirable effect. In other words . . . treat it kindly. On the other hand kindness and understanding are two-way streets . . . . one desiring this treatment should extend it. Not infrequently this factor is disregarded entirely by someone wishing to have news "played down." Instead there is a demand that this, that and the other thing be done, failure to accede being held punishable by bringing down the wrath of all concerned upon the heads of those responsible for publishing legitimate news. Naturally this makes it more difficult to cooperate.

"The Post" is anxious to present the news in a manner which will be fair to all concerned. There is no desire to inflict any unnecessary hardship on anyone and all requests for consideration are assured of kindly reception but is it fair to request that a newspaper forego publication of news which is factual, of interest and fit for reader consumption?

Summer Is Hot But Winter Fuel Necessary

This past week we have been given a good, large taste of hot weather by Mother Nature who was probably trying to prove to us that her heating powers were only temporarily mislaid last year. Unfortunately she made up for last summer by turning on the heat in really concentrated form and had us basking, bathing and burning until we resembled, in no small degree, a bunch of half-boiled lobsters.

During such a heat wave as this one, everybody tries to get their work done in as short a time as possible with the minimum of effort so they can try to find some relief with cool clothes, cool baths, cool drinks and cooling devices.

In the so-called warmer climates, the populace seem to have the right idea. When midday rolls around with the highest temperature of the day they close up their shops, curl up for a siesta, and sleep away the hottest part of the day.

Not so we Canadians. We are more like the "mad dogs and Englishmen" who keep on at our assorted tasks even though our own perspiration leaves little trickles behind us. We continue to transact business, buy, sell, drive trucks, manufacture and in general try to pretend that we don't really mind the heat at all. We are either a very hardy race or a very stubborn one indeed.

But possibly the thought that keeps us going in all the heat is the one that enough dollars must be earned in order to pay for next winter's fuel for, as much as we may sometimes enjoy a tropical temperature, there is always the realization that there is a long, cold winter ahead. And did you remember last week while you were sizzling in the sun that Christmas is little more than five months away?

The Commons Will Be a More Pleasant Place

Whether or not the sweating through the filibuster on the Defence Production Bill had anything to do with it, or whether the membership in the House was ready for it, the expeditious adoption of the Commons of a committee report on changes in House procedure will be widely welcomed. The Press Gallery will receive it with wide acclaim; it will mean a lot less work for the Queen's Printer; and even the long-winded members will appreciate the changes in time.

The reduction of the time limit on speeches from 40 minutes to 30 minutes represents a step in the right direction. Except in the case of party leaders, however, the time could profitably be cut still further. Even thirty minutes is quite a bit of time to allow a man in which to say nothing.

Welcome is the limit placed on the time permitted for debate on the Address from the Throne and the Debate on the Budget. The former debate in particular has developed in recent years into something of a farce, while debate on the budget has brought discussion of subjects which had no relationship whatver to the subject on hand.

Perhaps in a reasonably short time, having tasted the sweets of more lucid debate and a session of reasonable length, the House will accept further revisions in procedure — which would be all to the good.

—The Financial Times.

Ed. Note:

With all due respect, it might be a splendid idea if municipal councils, particularly those in larger centres, reviewed procedure and studied the possibility of eliminating a lot of seemingly purposeless play on words.

The Picnic, Too, Goes Modern

Picnics have changed. We trust the change has been for the better in regard to pleasure. Actually, having passed the age when picnics are a real thrill, it is difficult to assess improvement, if any, in that direction. There can be no doubt, however, but that there has been a real improvement in the manner of preparing and carrying the food to the picnic, and setting up the meal once arrived at the proper location.

Carrying the picnic was once quite a problem. In the memory of quite a few it was a case of getting a big basket and lugging it the entire way on foot. In those days, the radius of possible picnic sites was limited, entirely to the ability of the youngest member of the family to leg it. Dad and Mum could push or carry him or her.

Cars, of course, changed all that for most people. The scope, from the mileage stanpoint, became almost limited. But for those first few years picnics remained quite hazardous as far as the salad course was concerned. But salads . . well, beet salad used to be a great favorite and many a lad has yielded to the temptation to wipe the waxed paper covering it over an unsuspecting miss's face with a near riot resulting!

Cakes, too, were a bit of a problem, particularly if they were piled high with that nice sticky icing which is such a favorite with any young person. Ants? Well, what are a few ants among picknickers? Ashes? Most people were quite content to have it cold in those days.

But not so today. Most picnics must have a fire, a charcoal burner, perhaps, or an oil fuel stove. No longer is it a case of sticking a wiener or a piece of bacon on a stick and "broiling" it over the open, and often, smoky flames. Rather, hamburgers are wrapped in foil and ready to go right on the coals.

Wieners and bacon are treated in a similar manner. There are various types of insulated materials which will keep foods cold and pleasant until the time comes to serve them. Drinks can be carried cold or hot in thermos bottles. A great array of paper plates, cups, etc., are readily available. And even the ants have been largely foiled as collapsible tables provide improved serving facilities.

There was a time when a picnic was the highlight in the life of most families. It is feared that, even with all these improvements, such events have lost most of their brilliance in the eyes of most young people.

WEDDING

LOCKWOOD - SPENCELY

Yelverton (PNS) — Yelverton's old white church on the hill, tastefully decorated with bouquets of delphinium and snapdragons, with ferns as contrasting background, was the setting for an unusually pretty wedding on Saturday July 9th., when Miss Mary Helen Spenceley was united in marriage to Ross Moore Lockwood in a double ring ceremony.

Mary was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Ted Spenceley, and was beautiful in her gown of nylon tulle over taffeta, fashioned with Chantilly lace bodice and portrait neckline, the sleeves trimmed with seed pearls came to points over the hands and she wore a necklace of pearls. The elbow length veil of tulle illusion was caught to a pearl embroidered headdress and she carried a cascading bouquet of pink rose sand stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Betty Preston, wore a ballerina-length gown of blue nylon sheer over taffeta, with shirred bodice and full skirt. She wore matching accessories and her headdress was a flowered satin bandeau. Miss Jean Omerod of Toronto and Miss Catherine McCrae of Lindsay as the bridesmaids were similarly attired as the maid of honor in pink and yellow nylon sheer over taffeta respectively and wore flowered satin bandeaux as headdresses. The bridesmaids all carried bouquets of mums and stephanotis with streamers to match their ensemble.

The bride's mother was gowned in pink with white accessories and corsage of white mums. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Lockwood wore a dress of navy blue with corsage of red roses.

Rev. C. Torrance of Toronto officiated at the ceremony assisted by Rev. R. Bonsteel of Bethtany. Guest soloist, Mrs. Francis Davy of Toronto capably assisted on the organ by Mr. Fred Redwood rendered the "Lord's Prayer" and later during the signing of the register -"Still as the Night". The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Wesley Lockwood, and ushers for the occasion were Messrs. Jim Spenceley and Pearn Lockwood.

The reception was held in the adjoining church hall with near 60 guests in attendance. The wedding breakfast catered by Yelverton W.A. was highly praised by the toastmaster Rev. Mr. Torrance in his remarks previous to proposing the toast to the bride. Ross, the groom replied and proposed a toast to the beautiful bridesmaids to which Wesley Lockwood responded. Rev. Mr. Bonsteel did like honours to the bride's mother and the groom's grandmother to which Ted Spenceley replied.

Mary chose for her going away outfit a pink linen weave with pale beige accessories with a beige shortie and corsage of white baby mums. Heading west for their honeymoon the newlyweds plan to attend the Calgary Stampede and call at Banff and Lake Louise.

On returning home they will set up housekeeping in Lindsay where the groom is currently employed.
